Proposal Made That Several All-Student Dances Be Held Each Year in the Coliseum; Approval Is Given Plan by Governing Body.

GEPSON NAMES COMMITTEE ON INFORMATION

Plans Call for Placing Revenue From Campus Parties in a Fund Which Would Eventually Pay for Long-Waited Student Union Building.

Varsity parties in the coliseum at various times during the school year will be a new addition to campus social life if a proposal introduced into the student council and received favorably Wednesday afternoon at its regular meeting is adopted.

The student council expressed approval of a proposal that the council sponsor a series of varsity parties in the coliseum each year and a committee was appointed by President Gepsion to secure pertinent information on that subject at the council's regular meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Those named on the committee are: Woodrow Magee, chairman, Tom Davies, Howard White, and Martha Hershey.

Revenue derived thru the proposed functions would be placed in a fund towards erection of a student union building which is a major aim of the council. The practice of having varsity parties of some sort at various times during the year is quite prevalent in other camps. Magee, who introduced the proposal, declared, and on this campus would inaugurate a concentrated campaign for a student building.

Bill Eddy, reporting for the committee on reorganization, submitted a third plan of membership to the council for consideration. The new plan would provide fifteen men and fifteen women members of the council to be elected at large by students. Opposition to the plan was advanced during its discussion.

Eddy declared that the committee was sending out a form letter to fifty major universities of the country in an effort to learn what systems are in effect as to membership and election of their student governing bodies. After due consideration by the council of various proposed plans, a new constitution will be drawn up and submitted to the student body for approval or rejection some time before the spring elections, he added.

Organization of a new Student Forum committee to be composed of members of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. council of religious welfare, etc. or more members of the faculty, and a student council representative, was recommended in a report of a special committee on student forums. The committee report stated that it did not feel that the Forum speakers dealt with both sides of the questions which they discussed and thus were deemed.

HUSKERS LEAVE THURSDAY MORNING AMID CHEERS OF ENTHUSIASTIC STUDENTS

1700 Yelling Students Meet At Bonfire Rally Behind University Coliseum.

CAPTAINS GIVE SPEECHES

Raving Mob of Pepsters Fills Down-Town Streets Early Wednesday Evening.

Student spirit reached its highest pitch of the year Wednesday night as more than 2,000 enthusiastic students paraded about the campus, stopped to cheer for their team at the first bonfire rally of the year, and then stampeded thru Lincoln's downtown streets in a huge display of pep on the eve of the Huskers' departure for Pittsburgh.

It was a rally such as has seldom been seen at Nebraska in recent years and was in direct contrast to the meager display of spirit two years ago when a great Nebraska team left for Pitt, only to be defeated 40 to 0 for the worst loss in Husker history.

Three hundred students had gathered at the Temple by 7:30 as the rally got under way under direction of Tassels and Corn Cobs and led by the R. O. T. C. band.

Under direction of cheer leaders the crowd gave several yells, sang the fight songs while the band played, and then broke into an uproarious cheer as George Sauer and Clair Bishop, game captains for the Pitt tussle were introduced.

Leaving the scene of the fire, Corn Cobs and Tassels formed a snake dance and led the procession down 12th st., followed by the band and a multitude of cheering students and shrieking automobiles.

A Nebraska victory over Pitt Saturday would probably mean the mythical national championship eventually," Loomis declared.

A send-off rally for the team was scheduled to take place at the Burlington station at 6:45 this morning. Despite the earliness of the hour, indications Wednesday night were that a large crowd would be in attendance.

Attendance records are being broken this week by the University Players' presentation of the George S. Kaufman-Edna Ferber Broadway hit of last season, "Dinner at Eight," which is running throughout the week at the Temple theater.

The opening night found an unusually large crowd on hand to view the first local appearance of this play. The Tuesday night audience passed the opening night mark, and advance sales point to capacity houses for the rest of the week.

As a means of handling the large number who wish to see this play the production will be given Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. Tickets for this matinee are placed on sale at fifty cents, and reservations are being made in the Temple theater at the players' business office.

Four more All-University parties are scheduled to be staged by the Barb council during the present school year. Two of these affairs will be held in the university coliseum on the city campus, and two of them in the Student Activities building on the agricultural college campus.

Dec. 9 is the date set for the next of these parties, the one following that is scheduled for Feb. 17, and the last two are to be held on the ag campus on March 10 and 31.

The Cornhuskers face their most serious test thus far against Pittsburgh. Both teams are abundantly supplied with veterans and have shown themselves to rank among the nation's best.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers, unbeaten and untied through six hard games, leave Thursday morning on the great adventure. They're heading for Panther hollow in Pittsburgh where they meet Jock Sutherland's Pitt eleven Saturday afternoon.

That's the question that has followed brows in this community since the Huskers have continued along the unbeaten path.

We're going line and bobber for the Huskers, if Lee Penney were available we would go hook, line and bobber.

Nebraska came within an ace of walloping Pitt last year. Our opinion is that the Nebraska eleven is more improved this year than the Panther, despite the fact that Pitt has been beaten but once all season, and that reverse coming early in October at the hands of a fine Minnesota team.

We look for a toe to toe classic that should find two sets of fast backs trying to puncture impenetrable defenses. Somebody will make a mistake before the sixty minutes ends and that will probably mean the ball game. Maybe a (Continued on Page 4.)

Altho Bothered by Injuries Bible Squad Determined To Down Panthers.

VETERAN ELEEVENS CLASH

Huskers Haven't Beat East Team Since 10 to 0 Victory in 1921.

A determined squad of twenty-six players was selected by Head Coach Bible to make the long jump to the Pittsburgh camp in an attempt to defeat the powerful Panthers on their own home field and emerge with the Nebraska united and unbeaten record unscathed.

Both teams are veterans, leaders in their respective sections and both teams rank among the best outfits in the country. The Biblemen, in meeting the nationally known Panthers in one of the big intersectional tilts of the day, will not only be representing Nebraska but also the Big Six and will be responsible for Big Six ratings when the season is over.

Lee Penney, veteran end who sustained a broken arm in the Jayhawk battle, will accompany the squad as a reward for his services as a varsity member during the past two years and in previous games this season. In addition the party will also include Head Coach Dana X. Bible, Assistant Coaches Henry F. Schulte and W. H. Browner, Dr. Earl N. Deppen, team physician; M. J. McLean, trainer; John K. Sellsch, business manager; Floyd Bottorff, equipment man; Bill Day, Pitt scout for Nebraska; Dr. E. L. Hooper, who handles the movie camera during the contest, and Rex Clemons, student manager.

Thus far Nebraska has been able to down the Pitt Panthers but once, that being the first battle between the two schools in 1921 and only two years ago, when practically the same squads participated. Nebraska's eleven gave the Huskers the most severe beating that has ever been administered a Nebraska team. The score at the end of the game stood 40 to 0 in favor of Pittsburgh.

With this overwhelming detail still haunting the Nebraskaans the team is going there with the sole purpose of upsetting the Panthers at any cost. If this can be accomplished then the present seniors on the squad will feel that they have been partially satisfied at least. This will be the Huskers' last opportunity.

Franklin Meier, spirited and spectacular center, will be in the starting lineup this week-end. A steel splint has been shaped for his little finger, injured in the Kansas scrap, and with his entrance into the fray, Husker chances look considerably brighter. Meier's perfect timing and his accurate passing are important factors in the Husker's smoothly clicking offense.

Because of the constant tear of the injury jinx which overtook the Huskers last week-end in such a thunderstorm style, Coach Bible merely sent the regulars thru a light workout Wednesday evening instead of their usual mid-week scrimmage open to the public. The drill was secret.

The Biblemen seriously felt the effect of the Kansas game but they are gradually coming out of their stiffness and with the exception of Penney, all will be available for the Panther tilt. Nevertheless the Jayhawk contest put a crimp into the Bible camp and (Continued on Page 4.)

With 'Beat Pitt' Battle Cry Students Display Spirit in Series Huge Rallies

With "Beat Pitt" as their battle cry, Nebraska students Wednesday night gave the Big Six champions a huge send-off in their journey east to battle with the Panthers.

Nebraska spirit and enthusiasm generated by rallying students went east Thursday morning with a trainload of "Dana-mite."

That great game a year ago when Pitt held the Scarlet and Cream to a draw and the awful beating of two years ago will be long acclaims of loyal Nebraskaans those two hours in the Pitt stadium only a day after tomorrow.

Student spirit and enthusiasm reached a peak last night when a huge bonfire, chanting Nebraska songs and shouting Nebraska yells,
