KLUB CALLS FOR MANUSCRIPTS ON MUSICAL COMEDY

Offer Prize of $50 for Best Plan for Kosmet Spring Production.

COMMITTEE READS PLAYS

Individuals Connected With University May Compete; Will Start Practice.

Saturday, Jan. 20, has been set by Kosmet Klub as the deadline for submitting manuscripts to the Klub for its annual spring musical comedy, according to an announcement made yesterday by Frank Musgrave, president of the organization.

As has been the custom in the past, a cash prize of $50 will be awarded to the person submitting the play decided upon by the production committee as one to be used in the spring show. The committee will start reading the plays as soon as they are submitted.

Students Eligible. Any student in school now or any individual connected with the university is eligible to enter a play for consideration in the contest. Members of the faculty of the dramatics department will assist members of the Klub in deciding upon the winning play.

Musgrave emphasized the fact that all entries in the contest will receive careful and equal consideration by the committee before a final selection is made. He said that several persons were now working on plays or indicated they would submit manuscripts before the deadline.

Work on the spring musical comedy will start immediately after the selection of the play, the president stated. The cast will be chosen as soon as possible, and work on the music and choruses will get under way at the same time. The show next spring will be the eighteenth annual musical comedy presented by the Klub.

FOURTH VARSITY PARTY ATTENDED BY 600 STUDENTS

Frank Hodek, Billy Meyers Orchestra Plays for Saturday Dance.

With the floor surrounded by the new permanent decorations, and Frank Hodek's and Billy Meyers' orchestra offering the music, about 600 students attended the All University party Saturday evening in the Coliseum. The dance last night was the last varsity party scheduled for this semester, and the fourth of seven to be held this school year.

Aksarben Band Plays. The orchestra which played for the event was the eleven piece band which played for the Aksarben ball at Omaha early this fall, and has been featured over both the NBC and CBS broadcasting chains a number of times.

Chaperones at the affair were Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Corey, Prof. and Mrs. Lawrence Lindgren, and Prof. and Mrs. Charles Nutting.

Barb Council Holds Party. Chairman of the Barb Council, which was in charge of the affair is Burton Marvin, Marjorie Filley, is vice chairman, and Wilbur Erickson is secretary-treasurer.

The All University parties remaining on the schedule for the year are to be held on Feb. 17 in the Coliseum, and March 19 and 31 in the Student Activities Building on the Ag campus.

Student Council Renews Effort to Secure Blanket Activity Tax; Name Group to Obtain Campus Opinion

BY FRED NICKLAS. The Student Council, which last week renewed its efforts to secure for Nebraska a blanket activities tax, appointed a committee to prepare a report of the opinions of the various organizations, the alumni members and campus leaders, to be presented to the Board of Regents when they consider the matter next spring.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS

Musical Selections Featured At Delian-Union Program Held Friday Night.

The Delian-Union Literary society held its regular weekly meeting Friday night, in Delian-Union hall, Temple building.

The larger part of the program was used as a music appreciation hour. Numerous musical selections were played and each person was to try to recognize and name the selection played, included in the literary half-hour was a book report of "Miss Bishop," written by Bess Streeter Aldrich, by Miss Lucille Todd, and a group of favorite poems read by Miss Ruth Kuehn. Miss Joan Bicknell, Miss Eunice Bingham, and Leland Marshall were in charge of the program.

MORTAR BOARDS BOOK BAND FOR ANNUAL AFFAIR

Announce Selection of Jack Crawford to Play for Party Dec. 15.

STAGE PROGRAM DANCE Reverses Order of Social Procedure; Women to Arrange Dates.

Announcement of the selection of Jack Crawford and his Victor recording orchestra to play for the annual Mortar Board party to be held at the university coliseum Friday, Dec. 15, was made by Lucille Reilly, member of Mortar Board in charge of orchestra arrangements for the affair Saturday.

Crawford and his band, heard recently by many university students at a local theater, has played engagements at many of the leading hotels and resorts throughout the country, including the Lowry hotel in St. Paul, the Atlantic City Steel Pier.

Tickets on Sale. Tickets for the affair, which will be an informal event, were placed on sale last week in charge of Tassels, Mortar Boards, and members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary organization.

A new feature for the party this year will be in the nature of a program dance. Programs will be attached to the tickets, according to Jane Boos, chairman of the ticket committee.

The idea of this event started in 1932 when the Mortar Board society gave a leap year party. It is now a traditional event and is held annually. The affair is informal.

ILLUSTRATES LECTURE WITH COLORED SLIDES

Dwight Kirsch Is to Give Program on Chicago Fair at Museum.

Century of Progress exposition will be shown in color today at the Sunday program sponsored by the university museum. The pictures were taken by Dwight Kirsch, chairman of the fine arts. On this program sponsored by his department, Mr. Kirsch will describe the fair and illustrate his talk with a series of natural color slides which he has taken.

Many of the exterior color and lighting effects of the exposition buildings will be shown, since the shots have been photographed through a color plate that registers directly as the eye would picture the scenes. Some unusual views have been snapped from sky-ride towers, and many of the slides were taken at night to show fireworks and electrical displays.

Student Council Renews Effort to Secure Blanket Activity Tax; Name Group to Obtain Campus Opinion

BY FRED NICKLAS. The council began its campaign last spring when a survey of student opinion on the matter was made. From interviews with campus leaders it was found that that particular group of students approved, but a few of the obstacles were pointed out. The approval of John K. Sellock, secretary of athletics, was also obtained.

Questionnaires, under the direction of the council were sent to all of the large colleges and universities in the United States, to discover how many of the big institutions used the tax and to gather information concerning its advisability and workability. Results of the survey showed that the plan is generally becoming popular, throughout the country.

A cast headlined by Dorothy Zimmer, Armand Hunter, and Dwight Perkins, will interpret the Rose Franklin-play in much the same manner as Broadway audiences saw it in the more than ten (Continued on Page 4.)

CHEMISTRY AUTHORITY WILL ADDRESS JOINT MEETING ON TUESDAY

Lecture Topic Is 'Super-Aromatic Properties of Furan.'

Professor Henry Gilman of Iowa State College, nationally known authority on organic chemistry, will address the joint meeting of the American Chemical society and the Chemical Engineering society in the general lecture room of Chemistry hall Tuesday evening. He will lecture on the "Super-Aromatic Properties of Furan."

Professor Gilman was formerly assistant instructor in chemistry at Harvard, and later instructor at Illinois. In 1923, he became assistant professor at Ames. His researches in the field of organometallic compounds have been recognized by "American Men of Science" and several authorities.

Open to Students. The joint meeting is open to all students. A business meeting of the Chemical Engineering Society will be held after the lecture, according to Prof. H. A. Pagel, assistant professor in chemistry at the university and secretary and treasurer of the local division of the American Chemical society.

CHANGE CONCLAVE DATE

Postpone Convention Until January; Will Present Award at Time.

The Engineers' convocation, originally scheduled for Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, has been postponed until some time in January, according to Stanley Jameson, in charge of arrangements.

Mr. R. A. Kirkpatrick of the Union Pacific railroad, who was to have presented an illustrated lecture on Boulder Dam, was forced to cancel his engagement. The Sigma Tau freshman award will not be presented until the convocation in January.

ATTEND DELEGATE ASSEMBLY

Teachers College Faculty Members Go to Omaha For Gathering.

Dr. K. O. Broady, Dean F. E. Heuzick, and Dr. W. H. S. Morton were among the teachers college faculty members who attended the state delegate assembly of the Nebraska teachers association in Omaha last week end.

This assembly performs the official business, naming officers and policies for the association. Doctor Morton is a member of the executive council, and Doctor Broady is chairman of the committee on special studies.

Health Department Records Indicate Few Students Ill

Only twenty hospital days have been spent in the University of Nebraska infirmary by students during November, reports from the student health office show. Such a low record for cases of serious illness is due to mild weather which caused a minimum of colds and "flu," health workers believe.

Statistics prepared by the office for last month indicate that students have been in good health, with 1,477 calling at the health department during that period. Included in this number are treatments given to 608 men, and to 457 women. Swimming examinations have been given to 123 students, and intramural sports examinations to 108.

Ag Students Report. Agricultural college students have begun to report more frequently to the service on that campus, the health records show. After a campaign by the university doctors to get ag college people to visit the health department on their own campus rather than being treated by city campus workers, 109 students have reported to ag doctors for November.

University physicians have taken twenty-four X-ray pictures during the month, and have made ten house calls. Prescriptions filled by their department have numbered 187 according to the report.

YEARBOOK EDITOR URGES GREEKS TO FINISH SECTIONS

Request Organized Houses To Have Pictures Taken Before Vacation.

Fraternity and sorority sections in the 1933 Cornhusker must be completed by Christmas vacation, according to Woodrow Magee, editor of the yearbook. Reports released Saturday indicated that a majority of houses had a good representation, with a few groups lagging behind.

Proofs of photos already taken are also due before vacation, according to the official photographers. They stated that prompt action would avoid the usual last minute rush and that much better accommodations could be furnished now.

The following sororities have completed their sections to the percentage indicated:

Alpha Chi Omega	90
Alpha Delta Theta	70
Alpha Omicron Pi	70
Alpha Xi Delta	87
Delta Delta Delta	94
Delta Gamma	84
Gamma Phi Beta	80

PROFESSORS TO TALK BEFORE IRRIGATION ASSOCIATION MONDAY

Feature Trip to Experiment Farm; Five Members to Deliver Lectures.

Deans Condra and Burr, and Professors Russel, Engle, Hedges, and Brackett of the university will drive to North Platte Monday for the forty-first annual convention of the Nebraska State Irrigation association. On Tuesday five of the men will give addresses. Professor Russel, college of agriculture, will talk on "Phosphate Deficiency and Irrigation Agriculture." Also going from the agricultural college, Professor Engle's subject will be "Some Causes and Control Methods for Yellowing in Plants."

Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering has prepared a paper on the "History of the Nebraska Irrigation Association" which will be read to the convention by Professor Brackett. As chairman of the agricultural engineering department, Professor Brackett will, Tuesday afternoon, speak on his own subject: "Pumps and Power for Irrigation."

Dr. Condra Speaks. Harold Hedges, university rural economics department, will give the address "Government Control of Farm Production." Speaking in the afternoon, Dr. G. E. Condra, director of the conservation and survey division of the university, will talk on the subject "Conservation of the Drinking Water Supply of the Irrigation Areas."

Also speaking on the two-day convention program from Lincoln are Attorney General Paul F. Good, and Nebraska State Engineer R. L. Cochran.

Among the features of the meeting will be a trip to the North Platte experiment farm, where numerous experiments are being carried on in pump irrigation.

YMCA SPONSORS PROGRAM

Squad Sent to Beaver City by Deputations Committee; Discuss Subject.

The deputations committee of the university Y. M. C. A. sent a team to Beaver Crossing Friday to give a program before the high school student body. Members of the team were Roberto Mario, William Molden, Charles Hulac, and C. D. Hayes. The general topic was "What Religion Might Mean to Boys."

The same group will make the trip again today to speak before a meeting of the high school boys. The team intends to organize a Hi-Y club at the high school there.

ELEVEN ENTRANTS WILL COMPETE IN LONG CUP DEBATE

Trophy Is Awarded Annually To Best Arguer in Class; Invite Public.

NAME JUDGES THURSDAY

Expect Each Speaker to Do Individual Work in Both Arguments.

Eleven entrants will compete in the Long trophy contest Thursday evening for the possession of the cup awarded annually to the first year man considered the best debater of his class. The contest which will be open to the public will be held in room 126 in Andrews hall at 7:30 on Thursday, Dec. 14.

The cup given by E. H. "Red" Long has been awarded for the past five years to the winner of this annual competition which is sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity. The past winners are Lloyd Pospisil, Hugh Gray, Woodrow Magee, Beverly A. Finkle, and I. Irving Hill.

Expect Individual Work. Each speaker in the discussion will be expected to do entirely individual work both in his constructive and rebuttal arguments. There will be one speech of eight minutes for each contestant, to be split up as to constructive and rebuttal work as the individual chooses. The first affirmative and first negative speakers will give two speeches, one of five and one of four minutes. One speech will be later in the discussions to allow them to have an opportunity for rebuttal.

The judges for the contest will be chosen from local alumni who were varsity debaters. Their names will not be announced until Thursday night. The drawings for place in the order of speaking will be made the afternoon of the debate. The affirmative arguers will be (Continued on Page 3.)

STUDENTS TO VOTE ON NIGHT CLASS COURSES

Indicate Which Classes Are to Be Added to Curriculum.

Second semester night class students at the University of Nebraska now have a chance to vote on the courses which they wish offered, according to a bulletin recently issued by the extension division. From the opinions of prospective students the department will make its choice from subjects for which there is the most demand.

Interested persons are asked to fill out a blank indicating which of the more than 70 classes now being taught they would like to have repeated, and what subjects they would like to have added to the curriculum.

University Heating Plant Serves All Campus Buildings and Capitol; Manager Makes Future Prediction

"Every fraternity and sorority house near the campus will probably be connected to the university heating plant, the most efficient for its size in the world, sometime in the future." This prediction was expressed by Jacob Schmall, manager of the plant that serves every university building and the Nebraska state capitol with steam heat.

Mr. Schmall usually isn't found in his office, because he's downstairs amidst generators and furnaces, armed with a wrench and attired in a greasy jacket, helping his crew of nineteen mechanics see that nothing gums up the works. Furnaces that burn three hundred carloads of coal yearly to generate steam for a network of miles of pipe lines, in addition to electricity for all the state institutions in Lincoln, must be complicated. These bright search lights along the pipe-stentary walls aren't kept burning by some sparkling waterfall. Those warts originate in that new, compact, light brick structure on north Fourteenth street.

Heating Bills Cut. Nice weather we've been having, isn't it? Mr. Schmall has noticed it, too—his heating bills were cut down two hundred dollars this month. But that's a drop in the bucket compared to the $40,000 needed every year for operation costs.

Favors Armory Plan. An enthusiast for a new armory can be found in Mr. Schmall—for he has found that Nebraska hall and the other campus antique, University hall, require much more heat than any of the newer and larger buildings. And efficiency must be stressed in his plant, which has no equal in the world for efficiency in producing so large an amount of steam heat for human comfort.

ANNE BUNTING IS NAMED HONORARY COLONEL AT BALL

Shatter Previous Attendance Records; Art Kassel and Band Play at Event.

PRESENT GRAND MARCH

R. O. T. C. Band Plays for Presentation Designed by Marvin Robinson.

Miss Anne Bunting, Lincoln, senior in the college of arts and sciences, was presented as honorary colonel to a record-breaking throng of over 4,000 at Nebraska's twenty-fifth annual military ball held in the Coliseum Friday night. Miss Bunting is a member of Pi Beta Phi, vice president of Mortar Board, president of Tassels, vice president of the A. W. S. board, and president of Phi Sigma Chi, national pep organization.

With Art Kassel and his Kassels in the Air, popular broadcasting orchestra, playing for the event, the ball shattered all previous attendance records for both dancers and spectators and was pronounced by members of the military department, one of the most successful ever staged. Approximately 2,200 of the huge crowd were dancers, while the balconies were filled by an additional 1,800 who came to watch the traditional ceremonies and colorful fashion parade which ushered in the university formal season.

Feature Proposed Armory. The new honorary colonel, clad in a uniform of bright red and cream gray, appeared through the door of a representation of the proposed Pershing memorial armory which occupied the background of the stage, and was welcomed by Roma DeBrown, regimental sponsor. Members of Pershing Rifles stood at attention as a bodyguard on either side of the door as Miss Bunting appeared while coed (Continued on Page 4.)

FORMULATE PLANS FOR CORN-HOG SESSION TO BE HELD DECEMBER 18

Call Meeting to Organize Information to Be Sent To Farmers.

Setting of the date for a state wide conference of county agents and emergency agricultural assistants to be held at the agricultural college for the purpose of formulating plans for disseminating information of the corn-hog program in Nebraska comprises the first positive step in preliminary work of completing the setup for administration of the corn-hog plan in this state.

Set Date for Dec. 18. Conference date is set for Dec. 18 by W. H. Brokaw, administrator of the plan for Nebraska. This program is sponsored thru the efforts of the agricultural extension division of the university as an attempt to formulate details of the proposed corn-hog campaign.

The meeting will be in the nature of a school of instruction for the county agents and agricultural assistants. Fortified with voluminous details of administration of the program, they will return to their local communities to begin arrangements for a community gathering where they will tell farmers of the benefits to be gained by concurrence with this plan.

Copy Wheat Plan. In order to organize accurate details for the setup, Brokaw is employing the benefits of experience (Continued on Page 3.)
