ELECT DR. CONGDON TO FOURTH TERM AS FRATERNITY OFFICER

Chosen Phi Delta Kappa Treasurer; Dr. Koch Is Representative.

Dr. A. R. Congdon, professor of the pedagogy of mathematics, was re-elected to his fourth consecutive term as national treasurer of Phi Delta Kappa, national educational fraternity, at the fifteenth biennial convention of the organization held Dec. 27-30 in Chicago.

According to Dr. H. C. Koch, chairman of the secondary education department, the re-election is a distinct tribute to Dr. Congdon's ability in managing the finances of a large nationwide group, a reserve of $20,000 in investments having been built up for the organization, largely during Congdon's terms of office. In addition so wise has been his investing of the fraternity's funds that not a dollar has been lost through bank failure.

University Museum Secures Specimen Of American Bison

Bill Buffalo, who lived at the University of Nebraska experimental substation at North Platte for several years, will soon take up his permanent home in the university museum in Morrill hall at Lincoln. The immediate future for Bill includes his being shot by Dr. T. J. Kerr of North Platte, his mounting by a Denver taxidermist, and finally being mounted near the Cape buffalo and the muskox on the ground floor of Morrill hall.

Bill, who is considered a very excellent specimen of the American Bison of today, was donated to the University of Nebraska in 1925 by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the U. S. department of Agriculture at the request of Chancellor E. A. Burnett. His mate, Lucretia, was donated by the same bureau to the city of North Platte at the request of Mayor M. E. Coosby. The pair of yearling calves, born in the spring of 1924, arrived at North Platte Feb. 10, 1926. There are now seven in the family.

Bill and his mate were selected by Mr. A. P. Chambers, reservation warden, from the best blood lines in the Wind River, South Dakota, herd with the purpose of founding a herd of exceptional merit.

Prof. Kirkpatrick Predicts Cultural Influence of Opera

The weekly broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera company were hailed as a valuable adjunct to the study of the history of opera by Howard Kirkpatrick, director of the school of music, in an interview yesterday. The possibility of a Saturday afternoon class for study and discussion of these programs arose when Professor Kirkpatrick announced that a class could be arranged if there is sufficient demand.

77 Stations Broadcast.

Seventy-seven key radio stations of the National Broadcasting company will carry the programs this winter, in which internationally famous artists including Lily Pons, Nino Martini, and Rosa Ponselle will take part. The first of the series, "Hansel and Gretel," was broadcast on Christmas day, and thirteen others will be heard during the duration of the opera season.

Each opera is broadcast direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera house during the regular Saturday matinee performance. Usually two and one-half hours of radio time are required for the complete opera. Throughout the broadcast, explanatory remarks are contributed at intervals by Milton Cross and John E. Kennedy, who speak from a strategic point in the opera house.

Cultural Effect Expected.

A marked cultural effect upon the country at large was foreseen by Professor Kirkpatrick as the result of the operas. "They will be of a high educational value to the people of Nebraska from a standpoint of familiarity of operas, and should raise the standards of musical appreciation to a new plane," he predicted.

REDECORATE MAIN LIBRARY

Ceiling Receives Coat of Light Paint; Available Thru CWA Grants.

After many years the old familiar dark oak ceiling of the main library's large reading room is receiving a new coat of light paint. Workers have been busy for the past week brightening its interior.

C. W. A. funds from the federal government have made possible this improvement which has long been desired by the administration.

FOOTBALL DRILL LOT UNDERTAKING NEAR COMPLETION

Work Is Made Possible Thru CWA Grant Purposing to Provide Employment.

SOD GROUND IN SPRING

Laborers Revising Track; Will Finish Project by February 15.

Work on the stadium practice field CWA project is about two-thirds completed, according to John Selleck, director of the enterprise.

Laborers commenced work on the project two weeks ago, and Feb. 15 is the deadline date for completion. About a week before vacation the government made a $10,000 grant for this work under the CWA. The purpose of the undertaking is to give employment to laborers, and to provide more practice facilities for the Nebraska football team.

Seats Will Not Be Built.

According to previous announcement a tier of cement ten rows high, was to be built along with development of the project, but this phase of the work has been cancelled, due to the fact that only 10 percent of the funds may be used for materials.

In place of the erection of cement seats, the workers are revising the stadium track. It will be 400 meters long instead of 440 yards, which means that it is shortened about 2-3 yards, and the chute from which the 220 yard, 440 yard, and half mile races have started is being filled in to make room for the practice grounds. Hereafter the above-mentioned races will be run around the full curve, starting from the middle of the west side of the track, and being completed in front of the east stands. The track is being widened to a width of seven lanes (Continued on Page 4.)

TABER, NATIONAL GRANGE HEAD, GIVES TALK

Declares That Farmers Have Lagged Behind Changing World; Is Out of Sympathy With Collective Farming; Wants Rural Education.

Organized Agriculture sessions on the College of Agriculture campus today mark the end of what agricultural leaders, both on farms and off, consider a successful series of meetings. The 1933 sessions opened Jan. 1 and continued Tuesday and Wednesday, closing with a final general session today.

More than a thousand farm people have hurried to and from among the buildings on Ag campus attending discussions on every possible aspect of agriculture and home economics. According to faculty members at the college, farm people attending the meetings display far more optimism and confident spirit than had been displayed at farm gatherings during recent years.

Meetings Well Attended. Crisp winter weather kept few people away from the College of Agriculture campus, for, according to faculty leaders, the meetings have been well attended. Early sessions on New Years day saw more people in attendance than early sessions last year, according to college officials.

Speaking at the opening meeting of the week, Louis J. Taber, National Grange master, sounded what he considers the three most (Continued on Page 4.)

National Music Convention Held Here Recently Considered Success By Those Who Attended; Hansen Praises Chorus

A general feeling of satisfaction prevailed among Lincoln musicians following the convention of the National Association of Music Teachers and the Association of Music Schools held in Lincoln last week.

That the convention left a happy feeling and a fine influence for every one was the opinion of Howard Kirkpatrick, director of the school of music and one of the hosts at the convention.

Convention Considered Good. All the guests attending the meeting, many of them notable musicians, professed to regard the music and the convention of a very high order.

The high spot of the four day gathering was the concert Friday night at the coliseum. The program featured the Lincoln Symphony orchestra with Dr. Howard Hansen as guest conductor; the Great Cathedral choir under the direction of John M. Rosborough; and Philip Abbas, cellist from Kansas State Teachers college, Pittsburg, Kas.

Dr. Hansen, a former Wahoo boy and outstanding American composer at the present time, conducted the Lincoln orchestra in playing a composition of his own entitled "Symphony No. 2—Romantic."

Hansen Praises Choir. Dr. Hansen paid high tribute to the Great Cathedral choir by stating that in his opinion the group is one of the very best in the coun-
