ACTIVITY TAX UP FOR SECOND VOTE

Undergraduates Express Opinion of Proposal Upon Payment of Fees for Second Semester; Plan Had Large Majority Last Year.

COST OF 5 ITEMS PRESENTED FOR APPROVAL

Four Different Price Estimates Submitted for Annual; Student Union Building, Nebraskan, Awgwan, And Athletic Ticket Also Listed.

The proposed activity tax plan will be presented to the board of regents for their approval early in the spring if the majority of students favor it when they pay their fees for the coming semester, according to Byron Goulding, chairman of the student council joint committee which is sponsoring the plan. Each student will cast a vote, for or against the plan, when he pays his fees.

Tentative plans call for the inauguration of the activity tax next fall, if both the students and the board of regents approve it. The plan as it will be submitted, will include five items. They are: athletic ticket, Daily Nebraskan, Cornhusker, Awgwan and Student Union building. Space has been provided on the ballots which are now being printed, for students to write in other activities if they desire.

The items on the ballot were those receiving the greatest number of votes last spring. The vote last spring, which resulted in about a 2 to 1 decision in favor of the activity tax, gave the Daily Nebraskan, Cornhusker, Awgwan and athletic ticket majority votes in favor. Because it received almost a majority of votes in favor the Student Union building will be included in the ballot this year.

Every effort will be made, according to Goulding, to get every student registered for the second semester to record his vote in order that the strongest possible case may be presented to the board of regents. The cost of the items on the ballot this year will total anywhere from $9 to $11. The Cornhusker charge being undecided. The present plan:

MUSEUM CONDUCTS REGULAR PROGRAM

Show Films on Hunting of Dinosaurs in Alberta Badlands.

Approximately 150 people attended the showing of a three reel film entitled "Hunting Dinosaurs in the Badlands of Alberta," Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the downstairs auditorium of Morrill hall.

Miss Marjorie Shanafelt gave a short talk on dinosaurs preceding the picture. The film showed views of the badlands, famous collecting grounds for fossils, and a field party of the National Museum of Canada searching for dinosaurian remains. The party is seen quarrying a skeleton from the rock and from that time the fossil is followed until it is shown being prepared for exhibit at the museum at Ottawa.

Several scenes from the "Lost World" depicting dinosaurs as they may have lived centuries ago, were shown at the conclusion of the film.

Cornhusker Achieves Coveted Rank Among Yearbooks With First Class Rating For Fourth Successive Year

The Cornhusker, University of Nebraska yearbook, again proved itself to be an outstanding collegiate publication when for the fourth successive year it was given a first class rating by "The Scholastic Editor," high school and collegiate journalistic publication. The announcement of national ratings, which appeared in the December issue of the magazine, listed the Cornhusker among the eleven leading yearbooks of United States colleges.

"The Scholastic Editor," which conducts a yearbook contest every year among the leading universities and colleges throughout the country, also handles the ratings of the various college newspapers. This national organization of school and college newspapers, magazines, and yearbooks selects each year three All American publications from each class. Following the All American selections are the first class honor ratings.

Few Honored. The Nebraska Cornhusker was one of the few selected to receive this first class honor rating. Only eight publications were named in this class, the Cornhusker being the fifth named. In the year of 1929 the Cornhusker received an All American rating and was thus given one of

SECURE CASANOVA BAND TO PLAY AT MID-YEAR FROLIC

Sigma Delta Chi Books Popular Orchestra for January 26.

TICKETS ON SALE SOON

Innovation Offers Students Chance to Relax After Semester Exams.

Following two years as featured entertainers at the Ritz-Carlton in New York City and one year broadcasting over the Columbia network, Myron Lowther and his thirteen piece Casanova orchestra now under contract at the Lourie Hotel in Minneapolis, will play for the Mid-Year Frolic, sponsored by Nebraska chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, on Jan. 26, at the Coliseum.

The party, which has been planned as "a breather following first semester exams" offers an opportunity for university students to relax, informally, following a week and a half of strenuous examinations at the end of the first semester's work.

Tickets on Sale Soon. Tickets for the event will be on sale the first part of this week, members of Sigma Delta Chi pointed out, at one dollar, plus tax, per couple.

It will be the first time that this organization has sponsored such an affair and the Casanova orchestra has been secured to insure its success, those in charge stated. It is also an innovation in that this will be the first time that Mid-Year Frolic has been held on the campus.

EIGHT MEN ENTER DEBATE TRYOUTS; TRIAL DATE IS SET

Hold Competition Thursday Evening; Coach White Names Question.

PLAN OUT-OF-TOWN TRIP

Team to Visit Dela Sigma Rho Tournament to Be Held at Iowa City.

Eight men will compete in the tryouts Thursday evening for the second semester debate teams according to the information which has been received by Prof. H. A. White, debate coach. The tryouts will be on the question for the second semester, Resolved: That the powers of the President of the United States should be enlarged as a permanent policy.

Name Contestants. The men who notified Professor White before Monday evening were Dwight Perkins, Lincoln; Jack Pace, Lincoln; Vincent Broady, Plains, Kas.; Irving Hill, Lincoln; Charles W. Steadman, Lincoln; John F. Stover, Malcolm; Eugene Pester, Lincoln, and Quintin Wilder.

"The turnout is not what it should be," is the opinion of Professor White. "There are not enough men showing an interest in debate though the quality of the work done is satisfactory. I had wished to see more new men appear at this tryout."

Form One Team.

"Though we had tentative plans for a second tryout this semester," said Professor White, "there do not seem to be enough possible engagements to warrant the formation of more teams. The lack of money for debate work at Nebraska prevents the team's making many trips this year and the same is true of other schools in this territory who are potential opponents."

Arguments are already scheduled with Morningside College, Grinnell, and Iowa State College during the early part of February when these schools will send their speakers through Kansas and Nebraska.

Attend Only Trip. Probably the only trip the Nebraska team will make.

FEATURING INNOVATIONS

Tassels Plan Pep-Instilling Stunts Today on Eve of Hard Battle.

"Konker Kansas" is being echoed around the campus today by the Tassels while they enthusiastically root for the Huskers as they prepare for the annual basketball game in the Coliseum with Kansas. The girl's pep organization is developing unprecedented innovations in regard to the Tuesday evening game, and promises wholehearted backing to the team, according to Anne Bunting, president.

The Tassels will conduct rallies preceding and at all games in the Coliseum this winter, and in addition will present skits between the halves of each contest. The first basketball rally of the season is to start from the Temple building Tuesday night at 7 o'clock, and proceed thru sorority and fraternity rows, and down to the Coliseum, where Coach Browne's cagers are to do battle with the champion Jayhawks.

Boost Team. "Although the team has lost most of the games so far this winter," stated the president of the pep club, "the Tassels feel that with student backing the boys will come thru with a fine record, and we are boosting them for the conference championship. After all, they won their first game, and played good basketball doing it."

Between halves of the Tuesday evening game with Coach Allen's five, the Tassels will present a skit. They will march on the floor, form a K. U., give a few Kansas yells, and then form an N. U., and present some Nebraska songs and yells.

GOAT STOLEN FROM HOUSE

Chi Phi House Broken Into Early Sunday Morning by Unknown Thief.

Theft of a topcoat valued at $35 from the Chi Phi fraternity house at 1806 D st., was reported to police Sunday by Dick Moran, senior in the university. Moran reported that the coat had been taken some time during the night, the thief evidently having entered the house thru a rear door.

Dr. Condra believes the contest will disclose many facts of historical value which men have spent their lives trying to discover. The state contest will close Feb. 22 and the winner will be announced on State day, March 1. Teachers in the county schools will also be rewarded for verifying the facts.

Barb A.W.S. League, Organized Late In November, Is Developing Rapidly Into Active Group; Plan Party Soon

Through the efforts of the A. W. S. board, and especially of Margaret Buol, a member of that organization, the Barb A. W. S. league has been organized this year, and at present is developing at a rapid rate and with considerable success.

Appointed to head the committee in charge of developing the organization was Carolyn Van And, and the members of the committee, who are all Barb women, are Margaret Medlar, Marjorie Filley, Bonnie Spangard, Evelyn Diamond, and Marjorie Smith. This committee has been functioning for about two months in developing the league, the movement having started in the middle of the fall under the auspices of the A. W. S. board.

Women to Enter Activities. The purpose of the league is to acquaint Barb girls with activities on the campus in which they may participate. The aim is to bring every unaffiliated woman student into at least one extra-curricular activity in which she is interested, by the end of the year. A special effort has been made on the agricultural college campus to develop girls' activities there. Some fifty activities are listed on the schedule which has been drawn up by

Last Year's Big Six Champs Favorites in Opening Conference Fray.

RATE KANSAS STRONGER

Allen Will Send Squad of Six-Footers Against Nebraska Team.

Playing their first game on the home maps the Nebraska basketball team will entertain last year's Big Six conference champions when the Huskers meet the Kansas Jayhawks tonight at 8 o'clock in the Coliseum. Dr. "Phog" Allen's sensational flippers will be making their first play in conference circles this year against the Brownemen in tonight's tilt.

Opening their Big Six conference race with an overtime victory over the strong Iowa State Cyclones the Husker basketball stock has risen considerably. Having previously been undefeated this season, Coach Louis Menze's Ames hoopers suffered a loss at the hands of the Brownemen who came out on the long end of a 37 to 31 score.

Kansas Stronger.

This season the Kansas quintet is reputed to be even stronger than last year's champions. Paul Harrington, last season's scoring ace for the Allen team, has been shifted to guard this year because of the excellent sharpshooting ability of some newcomers.

Vanek, rated last season as one of the best guards in the conference is not even listed on the first and starting five because of the ability of "Phog" Allen's new material. Vanek, a letterman and senior, played at K. U. first in the 1931-32 season and the first semester of the 1932-33 season, but was declared ineligible at mid-year. He was considered the spark plug of the Jayhawk attack. Fast and aggressive, according to reports, Vanek stands 6 foot high and weighs 163 pounds. Outclassing such as he gives the K. U. outfit quite a sensational ball club.

Newcomers Outstanding.

Raymond Ebling of Lindsborg is the most outstanding cager to come up from last year's Jayhawks freshman team. Winning a regular forward berth, he has scored thirty points in the four pre-conference games played by Kansas to date. He possesses an (Continued on Page 3.)

Condra, head of the department of soil conservation at the University of Nebraska, has been selected as one of the final judges of the "Know Your County" contests which are taking place in schools over the state. Interesting facts and legends of pioneer days in Nebraska will be ferreted out by the contestants and their place of happening marked on outline maps furnished by George F. Koehnke, one of the sponsors of the contest.

Dr. Condra believes the contest will disclose many facts of historical value which men have spent their lives trying to discover. The state contest will close Feb. 22 and the winner will be announced on State day, March 1. Teachers in the county schools will also be rewarded for verifying the facts.
