

CAMPUSOCIETY

IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK AS IF the next two weeks will not be any too crowded with parties, what with nothing to look forward to but exam sessions, getting notebooks in, exams, and all of that, not to mention the red tape of registration. A few basketball games will provide a little activity and interest during the middle of the week. But we anticipate an uproarious weekend when this is over, and the Mid-Year Frolic, something new in the way of campus hops, will headline the events scheduled for that time.

SEVERAL fraternities held mid-year elections last Monday night, although all the installations have not yet taken place.

THE A. T. O. S. elected Ed Fisher as president, Bob Pilling, vice-president; Carl Erb, secretary, and Glen Mace, treasurer.

RESULTS of the D. U. election were president, Willis Stork; vice-president, Woodrow Magee; secretary, Bob Chase; and corresponding secretary, Maurice Johnson.

THE ZETAS will be guests of the Nus this afternoon when the alumnae of the Wesleyan chapter of Alpha Delta Theta will entertain for the alumnae of the Nebraska chapter of the sorority at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Burnett. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Merrill Koser, Mrs. Charles Frost,

FINALS IN GREEK CAGE SCHEDULES COME NEXT WEEK

Both Classes, A and B, Will Terminate Games Monday And Tuesday.

Class A and B intramural basketball finals were definitely decided to be played Monday and Tuesday, January 15 and 16 it was announced yesterday by Harold Petz, director of intramural athletics. This date will enable all intramural athletics to be finished before the end of the semester, and new sports will be begun at the start of the second semester.

Champs Compete. The final playoff will be an elimination affair, with only the champions of the four leagues participating. The champions of leagues I and II will play, as will the winners of Leagues III and IV. The victors of these two contests will meet for the University championship, and the two losers will play for third and fourth places. The same procedure will be taken in both classes. Schedules are ready and will be mailed as soon as the participants are determined.

League finals will be played Thursday and Friday nights of this week. Thursday night Class A leaders will battle for four league championships, and Friday night will see leaders crowned in Class B competition. Wednesday night will be given over to Class B games.

Games Wednesday. No important results are expected in Wednesday night's Class B games, unless several unexpected upsets occur. League leadership have already dwindled down to one or two teams in each league. Many of these teams do not meet until the final games Friday, so interest will never be lacking.

Tomorrow night's schedule includes: League I—Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Sigma Lambda; Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Delta Sigma Phi. The latter game will decide the league leadership as each team is unbeaten. Delta Sigma Phi needs but this one victory to win the league championship.

League II—Chi Phi vs. Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Delta Theta vs. Farm House; and Phi Kappa Psi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Pi Kappa Alpha and Phi Kappa Psi are the only undefeated teams in the league.

League III—Theta Xi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; and Sigma Chi vs. Delta Upsilon. Delta Tau Delta and Phi Sigma Kappa are the outstanding teams of the league, playing Friday for the championship.

League IV—Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Beta Sigma Psi; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Nu; and Beta Theta Pi vs. Acacia. Sigma Nu is the leading team of this league.

Present Winter Concert Sunday

The University of Nebraska band, numbering over 100 pieces, which will give its annual winter concert in the coliseum Sunday afternoon under the direction of W. T. Quick, bandmaster. Included on the special program prepared for the occasion is the march "University of Nebraska," written especially for Nebraska by the late John Philip Sousa. Chan-celler Burnett issued a special invitation to university students to attend the concert.

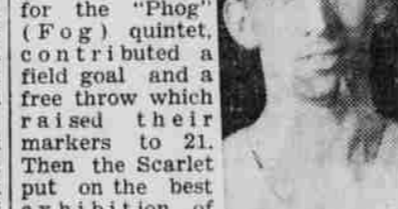

PRESENT 'GREEN PASTURES' HERE ON JANUARY 15

Production Will Be Given At Liberty Theater; Has Cast of 100.

Heralded as one of the most unique productions of dramatic art, "The Green Pastures," played by a cast of more than 100, with its famous "Heavenly choir" instead of an orchestra, will play a one day engagement in Lincoln on January 15 at the Liberty theatre.

Headed the huge cast of the Pulitzer prize play is Richard B. Harrison, who plays the negro's conception of "The Lawd." Although sixty-nine years of age, Harrison has not missed a single performance in the three year run, and has gained world prominence by his sympathetic and reverent characterization of the Deity.

Miss Howell Comments. Miss H. Alice Howell, chairman of the department of dramatic arts, views the production as outstanding and very educational. "The company presents a well trained group of actors, and the appropriate scenery with the beautiful negro singing makes this unique drama unsurpassed by current productions," Miss Howell stated.

Yenne Lauds Play. All university students interested in the theatre are urged to attend the play by Herb Yenne, assistant professor of dramatic arts. "It is one of the nicest plays of its type," said Mr. Yenne, "and the musical background is delightful. Richard Harrison, who plays in the leading role, is recognized as one of the finest negro actors in the country. The play is genuine and sincere in its nature, and not a bit sacrilegious in its theme."

Spectacular Story. Miss Polly Gellatly and Harold Sumption, instructors in the dramatic department, agreed that the story was most spectacular, adding that they were more than anxious to see it.

Written by Marc Connelly, one of the foremost of American playwrights, "The Green Pastures" is based on the whimsical Southern stories contained in Roark Bradford's popular book, "Ol' Man Adam an' His Chillun." In 18 scenes, it depicts Heaven and various Biblical happenings of the first two books of the Old Testament in a humorous, yet reverent manner. It casts the events and personages in the conception held by the untutored but deeply religious negro in the deep South.

The play has run for more than three years in New York and on tour, and has definite bookings in the South, the middle West and in Canada that assure its continuance for another two seasons. Eventually—possibly late in 1935—a return engagement will be played on Broadway.

The number of self supporting students at the University of Wisconsin has fallen off perceptibly this year, according to the secretary of the student employment bureau.

Certain professors at the University of Washington say that students who aim for "A" grades are barren of personality and that the great horde of "C" students moves the world.

Instructions given in the bulletin published recently require that the city superintendent of schools will make application for a study center in cities of 1,000 or more population. For smaller cities the county superintendent will apply. Study center directors will be hired from among the unemployed, preference being given to women and to those of superior training, says the publication. They will be paid from CWS funds on a basis of a six-hour day, five days a week, at the rate of fifty cents an hour, for a minimum of eight weeks.

Both high school and college courses will be offered. Students who complete college work satisfactorily will have their credits placed on the University of Nebraska extension division records.

Students Entering University Younger Than in Past Years

(Wisconsin Press Bulletin.) Present-day freshmen at the University of Wisconsin may seem more grown-up and serious than the young men and women who entered the State University in years gone by, but when it comes to actual years, many of them are much younger than the average
