Myron Lowther

and his 13-piece

CASANOVA

Orchestra

There's really no end to the good things that can be said about Myron Lowther and his 13 piece Casanova orchestra. Didn't reservations talk at the Lowrie Hotel in St. Paul? And didn't they at the Ritz-Carlton in New York City? They had to come tumbling in, in order to continue the long engagements at each. And they stayed, and stayed, and stayed!

But best of all, they're coming here! For an extremely fortunate routing made it possible to get a band whose tour of the country is winning for it a "big-time" name in American music. Their delightful rhythms, their captivating harmonies—equal to the best. Even the Columbia Broadcasting Chain recognized that Myron Lowther's interpretation of modern jazz was comparable to those orchestras for whom time alone and good music has won for them the place they now hold.

You may not have heard of this band. But give it time. And after all, you'll be dancing to the MUSIC—not to the NAME.

It's going to be a grand affair. The first of its kind, nothing is being spared to assure its success—even expense takes second place for once. But expensive to you? No—one dollar plus tax. Tickets will be offered in a few days. But above all, plan on going, and get a date today!
