once, for to delay longer will make it impossible for students to complete with success courses for which they may register.

Every facility will be utilized to aid new students and former students in completing their registration with a minimum of effort.

No late fee will be charged those students whose registration is made possible by a student relief allotment, according to a ruling of L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary.

Applications Sent. Applications were sent to the 360 students now taking work at the various CWS study centers throughout the state, and special effort is being made to contact former students and secure their return to the university.

Points of Selection. In considering the individual applications, four points outlined in an order by the federal relief administration, will constitute the basis for selection. They are:

1. Need. The student's financial status shall be such as to make impossible his attendance at college without this aid.

2. Character and ability to do college work. The students shall be of good character and judged by the usual methods of determining ability employed by the particular college.

3. Status as to present attendance. Not more than 75 percent of the funds allotted to any institution shall be paid to students who were regularly enrolled in some college during January, 1934.

4. Equitable division between sexes. Jobs shall be allotted between boys and girls in proportion to the enrollment of each in the particular school.

Those Who Will Be Aided. Twenty-five percent of the total number receiving aid must be recruited from among three classes:

(1) former students not registered since Sept. 1, 1933; (2) Persons registered in Study Centers, eligible to give assurance that they will do high grade work in college.

(3) New students including high school students and adult specials.

Seventy-five percent of the total number receiving aid may be (1) Those persons registered in the university or other colleges last semester but unable to enroll this semester; and (2) Students registered for current semester but who may have some claim for relief for the following reasons:

(1) inability to pay any of required fees; (2) payment of only part of fees; (3) self-supporting but doing so under very adverse circumstances; and (4) living conditions due to financial state warrant it.

Check Eligibility. A special faculty committee consisting of Dean Thompson, Dean Heppner, Prof. T. B. Robb, Prof. S. M. Corey, and Prof. Clara Conklin, has been busy checking the eligibility of applicants as provided in federal relief specifications.

The following students appeared on the regular Thursday afternoon recital held in the Temple theater at 4 o'clock each week: Elsie Mansfield, Howard Stark, (Mr. Kirkpatrick); Lillian Koudele, (Mrs. Smith); James Fitch, Laura Kimball, (Miss Wagner); Grace Kellogg, Helen Uilery, (Mr. Witt); Rose Steinberg, Vance Leininger, (Mr. Schmidt).

FEDERAL RELIEF FOR 330 IOWA STUDENTS

State College Will Offer Part-Time Employment To Those in Need.

AMES, Ia., Feb. 12.—Part time employment for 330 Iowa State college students, many of whom will be newly registered, has been made immediately available through funds from the federal relief administration.

The funds will be used to hire two classes of students—those who have been unable to register in college because of lack of money, or those who would have to leave college for the same reason—on work for the college which present appropriations are insufficient to cover.

The rate of pay has been set at 30 cents an hour, with a maximum employment of 30 hours in any one week per student, and a maximum pay of $20 in any month per student.

Special arrangements have been made by the college for immediate registration of students not now in college, so that they may take advantage of the fund allotment. Applications for work and requests for registration information are being received at the office of M. D. Helsler, dean of the junior college.

From the Quincy college catalog of 1930: "Boxes of eatables and candies should not be sent to students. They are fruitful sources of gluttony, sickness, and dissatisfaction."

Winifred Wilson and Violet Vaughn, students with Herbert Schmidt, appeared on a program given by the Mortar Board last Sunday at Ellen Smith Hall.

Mr. Chenoweth's two newest ballads, "Love Everlasting" and "My Lotus Bloom," an oriental number, have recently been published. There are orchestrations of both numbers.
