STUDENT COUNCIL DECIDES FATE OF VARSITY PARTIES

Body to Vote Today Whether Control Shall Be Left In Barbs' Hands.

GROUP TO HAVE DINNER Examination of Constitutions Of Organizations Will Be Continued.

A decision concerning the sponsoring of all university parties will possibly be reached by the student council when it meets tonight in the student council room at 5 o'clock.

The question as to whether the student council should take charge of varsity parties, or leave them in the hands of the barbs council is one which the council has been debating for some time. The controversy will be settled after several weeks in which after several meetings the student opinion concerning the subject.

In continuing its work of examining the constitutions of the various organizations on the campus, the student council will hear a report from the organizations committee.

Following the meeting, student council members will attend a banquet, which will be held for the purpose of giving the members an opportunity to get better acquainted.

In response to the recent attacks accusing the student council of failure in functioning as a legislative body, John Gepson, president of the council, has called a meeting of organization heads for Thursday at 5 o'clock in the student council rooms. The meeting, which has met with a great deal of approval, will be an endeavor to obtain the opinions of representative leaders in regard to the accusations.

BECK'S BAND TO PLAY FOR FIFTH VARSITY PARTY

Last Two Dances of Year Will Be Held on Ag College Campus.

The fifth All-University party of the year will be held Saturday, February 17th, in the coliseum. This is the last of these parties to be given in the university field house this year. Leo Beck's orchestra will play with additional entertainment by a girl's trio.

Burton Marvin, chairman of the Barbs council, will be in charge of the affair. The other officiating chairmen are: Wilbur Erickson, orchestra committee; Alvin Kleebe, publicity committee; Margaret Medlar, chaperons committee. The names of the chaperons selected will be announced in the near future.

The last two parties of the year will be held in the Student Activities building on the Agricultural college campus, March 10, and 21, respectively. Of the number held so far, the largest crowd attended the Dad's Day party on Oct. 28th.

Leo Beck's orchestra has been playing thruout Nebraska in addition to a regular winter engagement at the Chermont ballroom in Omaha and summer appearance at Antelope park.

GRADUATE STUDENT GETS APPOINTMENT

Charles D. Williams, graduate of Wesley University, has been appointed Superintendent of the Consolidated School of Madrid, Nebraska.

Mr. Williams has been taking graduate work in the physics department of the University of Nebraska, and was working on his masters degree.

Psychological Tests Conducted by Teachers College Prove Valuable Experiments to Superintendents

The work in tests and measurements as conducted in Teacher's college is becoming a valuable experiment to superintendents and teachers throughout the state.

The psychology tests are given, under the direction of Dr. Charles Fordyce, to pupils emotionally maladjusted as to be unable to do work in the grades in which they are placed. Various abnormal ties are given as the reasons for failure and these tests are used by the teachers in showing what remedial results are essential for improving the scholastic work in these schools.

Classes in Tests. The classes in tests and measurements last year made an educational survey of twenty-four rural schools in Lancaster county. The classes this year are conducting a series of mental tests in the state reformatory for men. The results show that the average mentality of the prisoners is 20 per cent below normal, and they are used by the prison authorities not only in treatment of inmates but in guiding them as they are released on parole.

SECOND PRIZE IS GIVEN BY KOSMET IN PLAY CONTEST

Klub Awards Ten Dollars to Authors of 'Old Hoax At Home.'

A second cash prize of ten dollars was awarded to the authors of another play submitted to Kosmet Klub for consideration for its annual spring comedy. Members of the Klub said yesterday. Decision to award this prize was made at the meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon.

The play, entitled "Old Hoax at Home" is a story of modern plantation life in the old south. It was written by two students, Chauncey E. Barney, arts and science junior from Lincoln, and John O'Neill, another arts and science junior from Lincoln.

Work Starts Soon. Work on the production of the play selected for use for the spring show will begin probably next week, according to word from Frank Musgraves, president of Kosmet Klub, and chairman of the production committee. Work will begin with a call for workers and tryouts for parts.

The musical comedy to be produced this spring will be "The Campus Cop," a two act play written by Herb Yenne of the dramatics department, and author of several past Kosmet Klub hit shows. Yenne was awarded a cash prize of fifty dollars for his entry in the contest.

A call for workers for the spring production will probably be issued the last part of this week or the first of next week. Students who applied last fall will not be required to file again. Committee appointments will be made as soon as the eligibility of applicants is checked.

BEAUX ARTS BALL OPENS EXHIBITION IN MORRILL HALL

'Round the World' Cruise Provides Motif for Annual Affair.

The seventh Beaux Arts ball, opening the forty-fourth exhibition of the Nebraska Art association which is being held from Feb. 13 to March 18 was given last night in Morrill hall. The first prize for the cleverest man's costume was won by Paul Edmiston, and the second by Dr. J. E. M. Thomson. The first prize for the cleverest ladies' costume was won by Mrs. John Champe.

The motif of the ball was "Round-the-World" cruise, and the music was furnished by a Lincoln orchestra. The exhibition consists of two different groups of pictures, one gallery containing pictures by Lincoln artists, the best pictures of the permanent collection, and the F. M. Collection, and the other containing paintings by contemporary American artists from all over the country.

Members of the Nebraska Art association can hear lectures on art every Sunday afternoon in Morrill hall. The first lecture will be given by George Buehr from the Chicago Art Institute at 4:15 in the afternoon on "Forty Great Compositions in Color."

WESLEY DIRECTOR SPEAKS

H. D. Bollinger Addresses Meeting of Methodist Ministers Here.

Dr. H. D. Bollinger, national director of the Wesley foundation, spoke on the compulsory military training question in a discussion at a meeting of Methodist ministers Monday morning at St. Paul M. E. church.

In discussing the Wesley foundation at Nebraska, Dr. Bollinger said in part, "I believe that you ministers have an unlimited possibility in developing the Wesley foundation here." He called religion the art of complete living and said that education could be made a part of that complete living.

WILL CONTINUE INFLUENCE

Prof. R. C. Moley to Take Leading Part in 'New Deal' Activities.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (C.N.S.).—Professor Raymond C. Moley, formerly of Columbia University, will continue to be a strong influence in the "New Deal," despite the fact that he is no longer assistant secretary of state, according to Paul Mallon, noted Washington newspaper correspondent and columnist.

Mallon made this statement during a talk before a group of Columbia University students.

WALDO SAYS THAT DANCE TO FOLLOW ANNUAL FUN SHOW

Display of Home Talent To Feature Presentation of Coll-Agri-Fun.

CURTAIN ON SKITS AT 8

Full Rehearsal for Friday Night's Entertainment Is Called.

More fun for Coll-Agri-Fun goes Friday night was promised by Chairman Bill Waldo Tuesday in the form of an after-the-show dance. The chairman said that following the last act of the Ag college home talent fun show Friday night, the affairs would be shopped off the floor, the music started, and the guests and entertainers would dance together.

Wednesday night the committee has set for final rehearsal according to Waldo. He pointed out that every student having any part in the show will need to be there in costume Wednesday night so the costume will be timed and arranged in sequence.

The Coll-Agri-Fun show will include songs, dancing, skits, and an interesting array of home talent entertainment, committee officials report. The show opens at the Ag college activities building Friday night at 8 o'clock. Jim Warner, ticket sales chairman, said Tuesday that both campuses were being thoroughly covered by a large student committee.

Jim Metzger, Ag college senior, who has been selected master of ceremonies for the show, has played and sung with Ag college groups every year he has been in school, Waldo said. His impersonation of a small town minister at Coll-Agri-Fun last year was considered by the crowd one of the (Continued on Page 3.)

FIVE SENIOR PHOTOS REMAIN TO BE TAKEN

Pictures for Yearbook May Be Taken Without Appointment.

The senior section of the Cornhusker is rapidly nearing completion and only five more seniors will be able to be pictured in this section, according to Owen Johnson, senior editor of the annual.

"The pages in this section have larger panels and are more attractive than ever before," he said. "No senior will want to be omitted." Pictures can be taken at any time without appointment at the Rinehart Marsden studio. If any senior has overlooked having his picture taken, he must take care of the matter immediately in order to get one of the five remaining places.

Invite Students to Thursday Reception

University students, members of the faculty, alumni, and friends of the institution are invited to be guests at a reception to be held at Raymond hall from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Feb. 15. The honor guest will be the English author, Miss Phyllis Bentley, who will give the convocation address at 10 o'clock in the morning. The administration of the university is particularly anxious that students may have this opportunity to meet the famous author. No invitations will be issued, but all students of the university, both men and women, are invited to call during those hours.

APPLICATIONS FOR FEDERAL CWA AID REACH HIGH TOTAL

Response to Call From the Dean's Office Comes From Hundreds.

NEW STUDENTS REGISTER Committees Work Over-Time Checking Eligibility, Finding Jobs.

Several hundred applications for part time work were received Tuesday at the office of the dean of student affairs. These requests for CWA student funds came in answer to the 980 letters written to former students who were forced to leave school this year because of lack of funds as well as from the many others eligible for help.

Dean T. J. Thompson's office is considering first those applications of new students as their needs are more acute. Several faculty committees are working over time to register the new students and find work suitable to their schedules. One of the difficulties confronting the university authorities is that of lack of work.

Since the semester is already three weeks under way students registering now will have difficulty making up missed work. An applicant for federal aid can take as many hours as he can carry over the minimum of ten. Where there is a choice of persons for jobs, character, ability and need will be considered. All applicants are checked as to eligibility under the terms set up in the contract.

The information blanks which must be filled out cover a wide range of information both personal and financial and determine together with the committee reports (Continued on Page 4.)

PLAYERS START WORK ON ELMER RICE PRODUCTION

Boadway Success Will Be Presented in Temple Week of Feb. 26.

Elmer Rice's "Counselor-at-Law" has been chosen as the next production for the University Players and will open Monday, Feb. 26, for a week's stand in the Temple theater.

A cast headed by Harold "Pete" Sumption, who will appear as George Simon, the counselor, has been selected and is at work at the present time rehearsing for the play's opening.

First opened in New York in the fall of 1931, the play thrilled Broadway audiences for more than a year with Paul Muni, in the leading role. When he left New closed only to reopen a week later York to go to Hollywood for work on a motion picture the play with Otto Kruger in the lead. This cast continued the production until Muni returned from Hollywood when he again stepped into the lead role.

Concerns Attorney. The play deals with the life of an attorney, a "son of the gutter" who rises to fame and fortune through untrusting and unceasing work.

Other principals in the cast, who combine to make the play one of the better productions of the Players for this season, include Armando Hunter, Dwight Perkins, Frances McChesney, Dorothy Zimmer and Veronica Vilnave.

Motion pictures bought the rights to the production early last spring and brought the play out early in the fall with John Barry. (Continued on Page 3.)

SCOTT ADDRESSES PHI BETA KAPPA TUESDAY

English Professor Discusses Culture of Ancient Ireland in Talk.

"Most of the culture of ancient Ireland has been handed down to us by the monks who copied the great works of the time," stated Dr. R. D. Scott, professor of English drama, in his talk on the "Culture of Ancient Ireland" at a dinner of the Nebraska Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the University club last night.

"One of the most noted manuscripts written by the monks in the 9th century is the Book of Kells, an illuminated book in Latin, to be found in Trinity college in Dublin," declared Dr. Scott, "and their culture is also exemplified by the intricate gold developed work in chalices and brooches. Their poetry is also remarkably developed in (Continued on Page 4.)

YW GROUP WILL TOUR CITY Trip Around Lincoln Starts From Ellen Smith Hall At 4 O'clock.

Under the direction of Lois Rathburn, chairman, the "See Lincoln First" interest group of the Y. W. C. A. is planning the first of its ten trips around Lincoln for Thursday at 4:00. The group will visit the capitol, city jail, state hospital, Morrill hall, observatory, Veterans' hospital, reformatory, and Gooch's mill. All girls who are interested will be welcome at the 4:00 meeting at Ellen Smith hall tomorrow.

WORK ON CAMPUS CWA PROJECTS TO CLOSE TOMORROW

All Scheduled Improvements Are Practically Complete Before Deadline.

With the deadline for completion of CWA work on the campus set at Thursday, Feb. 15, jobs on the campus have been practically completed by workmen. Numerous projects have been undertaken by the administration in order to give unemployed men work, and bring about some improvement necessary on the campus.

The largest bit of work was that in revising the stadium landscape, so that it now includes three football practice fields at the south end instead of only one as it has heretofore. In grading the three fields it was found necessary to fill in the chute from which the dashes and hurdle races started. The track has been shortened to a 400 meter length instead of the old 440 yard distance. The new length is two and one-third yards shorter than the old. Steam pipes have also been laid under the field to heat the west stadium stores department.

In the center of the old part of the campus north of the Administration building and south of U hall a new sprinkling system has been laid out, and new water mains to carry water to the Administration building have been set in. CWA workers are now completing the settling of the dirt in the ditches.

One tennis court in the group of seven south of Bessey hall has been removed in order that a better terrace may be arranged for that building, and a complete view of the coliseum might be available.

On the ag college campus much CWA work has been done, especially in the removing of a grove of cottonwoods in the southeast corner of the campus.

Besides the jobs performed by workmen, a number of functions in the campus libraries have been undertaken by women working for CWA funds.

REV. WEATHERLY IS VESPERS LECTURER

Choir for Second Semester Will Be Organized This Week.

Rev. Arthur Weatherly spoke at vespers Tuesday on "What Constitutes Each Race." This organization is aiming to promote a better understanding of racial differences.

Devotionals were led by Roberta Coffey, former leader of the international staff and new social director at the C. W. A. community center.

Violet Vaughn, director of the vespers choir announced that the choir for the new semester will be organized this week. Tryouts for membership will take place on Friday, Feb. 16, from 4 to 5 at Ellen Smith hall. All girls who are interested in singing are invited to try out.

New York Times Thinks Carefree College Man Soon to Be Replaced With More Serious Minded Type

"Is the wild, drinking, smoking, carefree college youth slowly disappearing to be replaced by a more-serious minded type of student with a definite aim in life and an intent interest in politics and the future?"

According to an article in the January 28th issue of the New York Times such a decided change is not yet apparent but is just around the corner. Soon we shall see a rally of the youth of the nation—especially the college youth. Perhaps the million students will take a stand and have an actual word in the government of the country.

Praise for Students. "Recently pleased college presidents have praised their student bodies on their interest and response to daily events. Also, not-so-pleased college presidents have had to down definite uprising in their student bodies against required attendance in classes or military train. Such incidents as these show that youth has finally gained self consciousness."

"Now we should see the appearance of a new American who likes to practice while in college a high type of political activity, becoming locally and nationally articulate. The beginning of this type of American can be found on the Emory university campus where eight campus leaders have formed an organization to take part in country politics or on the Harvard campus where Harvard Liberal club members contact with Massachusetts reform groups for whose bill they lobby in the state house." "If the plan suggested by Secretary of Commerce Roper is carried out the students' interest in politics will be a nation wide one. He plans to bring to Washington annually for three months 100 to 200 juniors to study at first hand the workings of the government. Hugh McCall and a commission from the National Student Federation are working now to bring this proposed plan into effect in 1933. "Now let's see what happens!

DELEGATES FROM STATE COLLEGES MEET HERE TODAY

Conference Will Deal With Common Problems of Education.

REPRESENT 20 SCHOOLS Round Table Discussions to Be Important Part of One-Day Conclave.

With some forty representatives planning to attend from the twenty Nebraska colleges and universities Nebraska educators will meet Wednesday in the first conference of Nebraska universities and colleges to discuss and examine their many common problems. The university is acting as host to the conference.

Dean F. E. Henzlik of the university teachers college presides over the morning session which is scheduled to begin at 10:30 a. m. with an address of welcome by Chancellor E. A. Burnett. Following this will come a conference and round table discussion on questions submitted by presidents of the various institutions represented.

Discuss Education's Aims. Under the topic, aims and significant phases of higher education, delegates will talk over their problems concerning the philosophy of education, with the idea of discovering if a real philosophy has been formed in the field, and if a new or different one is needed.

Further round table speaking will apply to the philosophy in practice in the educational institutions, as to whether schools are in harmony with the problems and trends of the times. At 12:15 the Lincoln chamber (Continued on Page 3.)

DR. PFEILER TO LECTURE BEFORE RELATIONS CLUB

Franco-German Problem Will Be Subject of General Discussion.

The significance of the Franco-German situation, with Dr. W. K. Pfeiler presenting the aspects of the Hitler regime, will be the subject of discussion at the third meeting of the International Relations club which will be held Thursday, Feb. 15, at 7 o'clock, in Social Science 101.

Francis Cunningham, a political science student, will outline the French point of view emphasizing their desire for security. Vaughn Shaner, a senior in the arts and science college, will then bring up the German side of the question and will point out the German demand for equality. W. K. Pfeiler, German department head, will close the discussion with (Continued on Page 2.)
