CAMPIUS OBSERVES FOUNDDING

Council Approves Varsity Parties

PLAN IS FINALLY GIVEN APPROVAL

Student Governing Body Takes Action to Provide Social Functions Attractive to Barbs and Greeks Alike Wednesday After Long Delay.

COMMITTEE OF EIGHT WILL CONDUCT PROJECTS

Affiliated and Non-Affiliated Organizations Will Have Equal Representation on Group; All Members Of Dance Board Must Be Seniors.

Completing action on a long-delayed project, the Student Council Wednesday voted to institute a series of varsity parties on the campus throughout the year under the direction of a special committee of eight members to be chosen equally from Greek letter and barb organizations. The move, taken at the council's regular meeting, brought to a successful close a campaign inaugurated last fall to provide a number of social functions at regular intervals during the school year which would be of equal attraction to Greeks and Barbs alike.

A motion that a committee be chosen at once in order to conduct varsity parties yet this spring was adopted. All nights on which varsity parties occur will be closed to other student social functions, and the number of parties to be held this spring and during each year will be left to the discretion of the individual committees, the council decided.

Eight on Committee. The plan as adopted by the council Wednesday, provides that the committee shall be composed of two representatives from each of four organizations, the Pan-Hellenic Council, Interfraternity Council, Barb A. W. S. League, and Inter-Club Council. All members of the committee are to be seniors. Each of the four organizations will nominate four candidates from its membership for places on the committee, and the Student Council will select two from each group. The committee, with equal representation of Barbs and Greeks will choose its own chairman.

After much discussion, the council ruled that no member of the student council may be a member of the varsity party committee. A standing committee of the council will be appointed, however, to inspect and review activities of the party committee and act as the official organ of the council in matters of minor importance concerning the parties.

75 Cents Top Charge. The exact determination of prices to be charged at the various parties will be left to the discretion of the party committee, the council decided. A maximum price of 75 cents per couple was prescribed, however. Any profits from the project will be placed in a sinking fund as a reserve until the parties are well established, the council ruled.

Many minor details of the plan, brought up in the council, will be decided by the party committee itself. (Continued on Page 2.)

TODAY'S NEWS Briefly Reviewed

Civil war continues all over Austria as the government proceeds with desperate measures to stamp out socialism. Women are now taking part in the conflict, in which the government appears to be gaining the upper hand. Wholesale hanging of socialists will increase the list of casualties.

The senate yesterday approved the latest relief measure and sent it to the White House for the President's signature. The measure, which had a stormy ride through Congress, appropriates nearly a billion dollars for CWA funds and other forms of relief. CWA projects will continue work.

Administrative explanation of President Roosevelt's action in general cancellation of air mail contracts is expected soon. The answer to many criticisms is expected in the form of an open letter from Postmaster General Farley, disclosing the findings of the investigating committee.

While Admiral Richard E. Byrd left his camp for a brief voyage of exploration, members of the Little American colony prepared to move in for the winter. Several of the portable buildings were erected, and new houses for library, radio, mess hall and observation trucks were started.

A Russian icebreaker, locked in for nearly five months in the Bering straits, was finally crushed in an ice jam yesterday and sank. Occupants of the ship endured pain.

Chancellor's Statement

Sixty-five years ago today, within the short lifetime of many persons with whom you are acquainted, the governor of the state of Nebraska signed the bill that created the University of Nebraska. During those sixty-five years the university, together with the entire state of Nebraska, has gone forward with a broad educational program, working for the welfare of the state and its citizens. Our students and faculty have taken an active part in the progress and intellectual development of the state and the nation. The economic use made of new discoveries and improved industrial methods in the past has inspired research workers to believe that they also may contribute largely to the well-being of their generation.

Chancellor's Statement

Today is the sixty-fifth birthday of the University of Nebraska. Today groups are meeting within Nebraska and in other states to celebrate the founding of this school, the school that without doubt has contributed much to their success in life. While we celebrate the development of the University during these past sixty-five years we must not forget the decades of the future. It must come from you who are now students in the University, but who in a few years will be the leaders in the social, economic, and political life of the state. The answer to the question, "After sixty-five years, what?" E. A. Burnett, Chancellor
