LAST DRAMA OF YEAR IS OPENED MONDAY EVENING

Beth Langford and Conway Have Leads in 'The Curtain Rises.'

SCENE LAID IN AUSTRIA

Play to Present Special Matinee on Saturday Afternoon.

With Beth Langford and Clifton Conway in the leading roles, the University Players presented the opening performance of the year's final production, B. M. Kayes "The Curtain Rises," at the Temple theater Monday night. This comedy hit will run thru the week, with the final production being staged Saturday evening. A special matinee will be presented Saturday afternoon.

The scene of the entire play is laid in the historic Austrian city, Vienna, known as the center of Europe's cultural centers of the world. The plot is centered around a stage-struck young woman, Elsa Karling, who fears she is on the verge of being an old maid, and sets out to win Wilhelm Meissinger, matinee idol of the continent.

Plot Develops Rapidly.

The plot develops rapidly from the time when Fraulein Karling, a wilting flower, begins to learn the dramatic art from Kernmann. She learns rapidly, finds herself in a quandary as to whether or not she loves her instructor, who is the first man to kiss her. She still retains the dream of Meissinger as a lover.

At the end of three months instruction, Elsa Karling's friend, Thona Landorf (Blanche Carr), declares that Elsa has developed into a fine actress, and is quick to follow in stating this opinion are Thoma's sweetheart, Rudolf Dortmund (Armand Hunter); Poldy Zander (Irving Hill); and Arnie (Marjorie Filley), Elsa's maid.

TODAY'S NEWS Briefly Reviewed

NRA administrator Hugh S. Johnson, yesterday met with delegates of the automobile industry, in an effort to iron out difficulties between automobile manufacturers and their laborers. The meeting took place in New York City. The delegates had been conferring for five hours in a secret session to bring peace to the troubled waters. If the conference fails tomorrow the industry will be paralyzed when 250,000 workers are scheduled to strike.

Declaring that the persons of the country's underworld are more heavily armed than the combined army and navy, United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, issued a rather startling statement Monday. His statement came during an appearance before the senate judiciary committee dealing with anti-gangster and anti-racketeering bills.

Samuel Insull is still in trouble. Reports recently indicate that he is still at large, but has expressed fears of being kidnaped in Mediterranean waters, and by American gangsters at that. He has asked influential friends in this country to seek aid from the president.

Governor Bryan has sent his message to Secretary Ickes. His message indicated that he is nearing an agreement on the Columbus and Sutherland water projects. He has asked that the agreement between himself and Ickes be changed somewhat, however.

SCHOONER SALES PASS 200

Literary Magazine Salesmen Schedule Pep Meeting For Wednesday.

Checkup Monday afternoon showed that a total of 201 subscriptions to the Prairie Schooner had been sold to date. Frances Kalin continues to be high salesman and the team headed by Bash Perkins is still in the lead.

LAFARGE DECLARES STATE'S CAPITOL IS GREATEST TRIUMPH

Architects Are Escaping the Renaissance Influence Asserts Speaker.

Declaring the Nebraska state capitol the greatest triumph in American architecture, C. Grant LaFarge, New York architect, addressed a capacity audience in Social Science auditorium yesterday.

"I differ with those," affirmed Mr. LaFarge, "who claim that American architects are conservative and bound over and influenced by tradition and former styles in architecture, indicating as proof the Nebraska state capitol."

Mr. LaFarge, designer of many famous buildings, indicated important points in the development of the modernistic mode to the architectural and fine art students who gathered to hear him. With the use of selected slides of famous modern dwellings, office buildings and schools, the development of the modern style was forcefully emphasized. He declared that American architects are gradually escaping from the influence of the Renaissance style.

The speaker, the son of the late John LaFarge, celebrated mural painter and stained glass designer, is sponsored by the American Institute of Architects and has visited the larger universities of the eastern and western coast. His son Oliver II, has written several novels including the Pulitzer prize winner, "Laughing Boy." Mr. LaFarge thoroughly inspected the capitol which impressed him deeply.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett to Deliver Address of Welcome.

Members of Nebraska Well Drillers' association from Nebraska, Kansas and western Iowa will convene in Nebraska hall for the sixth annual short course and convention on Wednesday and Thursday, March 21 and 22. A number of representatives from well drilling supply houses will also be present.

The two day program that has been planned for the members of the association will be opened Wednesday morning by the address of welcome by Chancellor E. A. Burnett. Andrew Olson, president of the association, will deliver the response.

CORN COBS TO PLAN SPRING INITIATION

Final Arrangements Will Be Made at Meeting on Thursday.

Final arrangements for initiation of new members into Corn Cobs, men's pep organization, will be made at a meeting of the group in the Temple Thursday evening at 7:30. Initiation will be held on Thursday, March 29, according to Henry Kosman, president of the organization.

REVISIONS MADE IN POINT SYSTEM BY A.W.S. BOARD

Members of Barb League to Receive One; Leaders Get Two.

NONE FOR HONORARIES

Junior and Senior Women Are Not Allowed More Than Fifteen.

Several revisions have been made in the point system for women it was announced Monday by the A. W. S. board. Members of the board believed the changes, which were made according to the amount of work connected with the various offices, were in order since the rules had not been gone over for some time and so did not adequately meet the requirements.

The new system provides for members of the Barb League, recently organized by the A. W. S. board, to receive 1 point, while group leaders of the association will receive 2 points. Members of the freshman A. W. S. activities group will hereafter receive 1 point instead of 1/2 as was previously the case. Heads of sports clubs sponsored by W. A. A. will receive only 2 points.

Office for Tassel Head.

Nine of president of Tassel's now carries 9 points with it instead of 8, while the League of Women Voters has been removed from the list since it no longer exists. The chairman of the judiciary committee in the student council (Continued on Page 2.)

AFFILIATION OF PHI SIGMA KAPPA, SIGMA PHI SIGMA REVEALED

Groups Announce Completion of Arrangements for Immediate Union.

The second fraternity disappeared from the campus this year when it was officially announced Monday that members of Sigma Phi Sigma had affiliated themselves with Phi Sigma Kappa, with the former immediately taking up residence in the Phi Sigma Kappa chapter house.

Affiliation came as a result of negotiations which had been carried on between officers and alumni of the two groups for some time. Officers indicated that they believed the affiliation was another forward step in fraternity life on the university campus.

Sigma Phi Sigma was organized on the campus in 1928 when a local fraternity Kappa Rho Sigma was taken into the national organization.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS AUTHORITY WILL DISCUSS EUROPE

Alden G. Alley to Address University Groups Wednesday.

IS SPONSORED BY CLUB

Frequent Trips to Germany Give Him First Hand Information.

Alden G. Alley will address university and Nebraska Wesleyan groups on "What Is Happening in Europe and What it Means to America" when he appears before the League of Nations association at the Y. W. C. A. and before the Methodist students Wednesday, March 21.

Authority on Europe.

Mr. Alley is a well known student and speaker on foreign affairs and comes as an authority on the subject, having been for many years professor of history at Dana college in New Jersey. His travels have carried him frequently to Europe where he has attended sessions of the League of Nations.

His talk will follow a dinner at the Y. W. C. A. which is open to the public. At the Grand hotel at noon Wednesday, Mr. Alley will speak to the International Relations club who secured him for their fourth regular meeting.

Mr. Alley's frequent trips to Germany have acquainted him with the various political aspects of the Hitler regime, and his visits to the other European countries have made him familiar with the important problems facing these nations.

ASSOCIATION HEARS PAUL H. GRUMMANN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Former Fine Arts Professor Traces Trends of Art Modernism.

Tracing the trends of modernism in art, Paul H. Grumann, addressed an open meeting of the Nebraska Art association at Morrill hall Sunday. Mr. Grumann spoke particularly concerning the exhibit of contemporary American paintings which the association sponsored.

The speaker, author of several articles, books and translations, is well known by Lincoln citizens thru his connection for thirty-one years with the university as professor of literature and director of the school of fine arts. Since 1931 Mr. Grumann has served as director of the Joslyn memorial in Omaha.

The Nebraska Art association will hold an exhibit for two weeks on "Two Centuries of American Paintings" which will contain the work of many famous artists of the past and present century. This policy departs from the society's accustomed single exhibit season, the paintings to appear immediately following the close of the contemporary exhibit.

Bald Eagle Latest Gift To University Museum

From the taxidermist to Morrill hall and the university museum has been sent a bald eagle shot near Bassett by Cecil McCullough. Not mounted, the eagle is made up into what is known to museum workers as study-skin. It will be placed in the case with the other birds of prey.

Mrs. Rice to Speak Before Church Club

Mrs. Merle Thomas Rice, who has for several years been a missionary in India, will speak at the meeting of the Church Relations club Wednesday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Her topic will be "Hinduism and the Religion of India."

REVISED RUSHING RULES ACCEPTED BY PANHELLENIC

Three Changes Are Made in Council's Constitution At Meeting.

NEW IDEAS ON PLEDGING

Matter of Summer Rushing Left by Group Until Later Date.

In an effort to remove all rules in connection with rushing and the constitution which have become obsolete the by-laws committee of the Panhellenic council submitted a list of revised rules to the council at a special meeting held in Ellen Smith hall Monday at 5 o'clock. All of these revised rules were accepted.

Three changes were made in the constitution. The title of vice chairman was changed to president of the panhellenic council because it was felt that this title was more representative of the duties of the officer. The definition of rush party was revised to read as follows: Any mixed gathering is a rush party where four or more members of a single sorority are present.

New Ideas in Pledging.

The matter of pledging was given much attention by the committee and several new ideas in regard to pledging were brought in. Panhellenic considers a girl pledged whenever a group pins its ribbons on her or by any similar device announces to the campus her preference for the group.

Other rules adopted were as follows:

1. Rushing will begin the week before school starts and the preferential party will take place (Continued on Page 2.)

SENIOR WOMEN TO NOMINATE MORTAR BOARD CANDIDATES

May Queen, Attendant Will Also Be Chosen at Election.

Members of Mortar Board will be in charge of the polls on both the downtown and agriculture college campus on Wednesday, March 21, when senior women vote for Mortar Board candidates and with junior women select the May Queen and her Maid of Honor.

The voting place on agriculture campus will be Ag hall while balloting on the downtown campus will take place at Ellen Smith hall. Polls will be open from 9 to 5 o'clock.

Committee Counts Votes.

Students voting for candidates for senior women's honorary society must designate not less than five nor more than twenty choices or her ballot will not be accepted. Votes will be counted by the faculty advisory committee of Mortar Board and the 30 junior women who receive the highest number of votes will be considered for membership by present members of the organization.

Membership, which rests upon scholarship, service, and leadership, fluctuates between 6 and 20. Lists of senior women eligible for May Queen will be posted in both balloting places. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be queen while the person who receives the next highest number will become maid of honor. Last year's May Queen was Delores Deadman, Fairbury, while the Maid of Honor was Margaret Upton from Odell.

ORCHESTRA APPEARS AT FINAL CONCERT OF WINTER SEASON

Program of Five Groups Is Played Under Direction of Steckelberg.

Last concert of the winter season was presented by the university concert orchestra at the coliseum Sunday. A crowd estimated at more than 2,500 persons heard the concert which was under the direction of Carl Steckelberg.

The concert was the climax of the season for the orchestra, which already had appeared in other towns in the state.

The orchestra played a program made up of five groups. A favorite with the audience was the Tschalkowsky "Sixth Symphony" (Pathétique) allegro con grazia, allegro molto vivace, adagio lamentoso (finale); Gershwin, Rhapsody in Blue. At the piano, Gene Ellsworth and Wigfus Eberly; Tschalkowsky, Valse des Fleurs; Rimsky-Korsakov, Dance des Bouffons (Dance of the Clowns).

PHI BETA KAPPA, SIGMA XI HONOR STUDENTS TODAY

Societies to Reveal Names in Joint Convocation At 11 O'clock.

SCHOLARSHIP IS BASIS

Program in Temple Theater Features Short Talks, Music Numbers.

New members of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi will be announced this morning at eleven o'clock. In a joint convocation of the two societies in the Temple theatre secretaries of the organizations will reveal their names at the close of the morning meeting.

Prof. H. J. Kesner and Prof. T. A. Kieselbach, presidents of the two groups will precede announcement of the new honorees with brief remarks. The custom of recognizing scholastic achievement in joint session was established last year by Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa.

Play Dvorak's Compositions.

Emanuel Wisniew, Dorothy Holcomb, Lee Hemingway, Betty Zabriske, and Ernest Harrison will feature two of Dvorak's compositions during the morning's program.

Selections to Phi Beta Kappa are made on a basis of scholastic standing. Only those in the upper tenth of students who have completed Arts and Science group requirements are eligible for membership. Rarely is the scholastic average of that group below 85.

Emphasis on Research.

Sigma Xi memberships are not based entirely on scholastic attainment, special emphasis being placed upon interest in scientific research. Neither is membership confined to college students. Two divisions provide for active members, those who have graduated, and associate members, undergraduate students.

Candidates for membership in Sigma Xi must have written recommendations from three members of the honorary and must show promise in two scientific departments. To become active members undergraduates must have completed valuable research work.

A list of students to be honored this morning will not be available until after the eleven o'clock convocation.

AG EASTER BREAKFAST IS SET FOR MARCH 25

Annual Event Is Sponsored By Student Church Leagues.

The Ag college Easter breakfast, a tradition on the Ag campus, has been announced for Sunday morning, March 25. The breakfast will be served promptly at 8:00 a. m. and will be followed by a program, according to the announcement.

An annual event on Ag campus, the Easter breakfast is sponsored by the student leagues at the Warren and Epworth Methodist churches. Milan Austin, graduate student, has charge of the program for the morning and Irene Leech, Ag sophomore, is chairman of the committee in charge of the menu.

The speaker for the Sunday morning breakfast will be Dr. Roy Spooner, superintendent of the Lincoln district Methodist churches. Chairman Austin has announced. Ward Bauder, Ag junior, will be master of ceremonies.

The attendance at these annual pre-Easter gatherings has been growing every year, members of the committee say. Last year nearly 125 students attended, and the committee this year expects to serve 150. The breakfast and program, they say, last a little more than an hour.
