11 BARB STUDENTS TO GET SEATS ON COUNCIL APRIL 24

Date Is Postponed Due to Necessity of Checking Regulations.

NO CHANGE IN BALLOT Seven Already Selected to Serve as Holdover Members.

Election of new members to the Barb council will be held next Tuesday, April 24, according to announcement made Thursday by Burton Marvin, chairman of the organization. Original plans called for the holding of the election at the same time as the annual spring election of Student Council members on Tuesday, April 3, but due to the necessity of checking regulations the balloting was postponed.

Eighteen barb students representing the four undergraduate classes and the graduate college filed late in March for positions on the barb council. Eleven of them will be named to posts at the election next Tuesday. The total membership in the council is eighteen, seven of next year's members having been selected as holdovers by the council for the present year.

The function of the barb council is the operation of all-university parties, and the handling of social functions for barb students.

Eleven Posts Open. Two sophomore positions will be filled, four juniors will take places in the council, three seniors are to be elected, and two graduate students will receive seats in the Tuesday election.

No change is to be made in the slate which filed previous to April 3, the filings having definitely (Continued on Page 3.)

ENGINEERS LEAVE FOR CONFERENCE SATURDAY

Inspection Trips, Technical Sessions, Forum Feature Chicago Meeting.

Inspection trips, technical sessions, and an open forum will feature the second annual Midwest Student conference of mechanical engineers to be held in Chicago on April 23 and 24, which eleven men from the Nebraska mechanical engineering department, including Prof. C. A. Sjogren, honorary chairman, will attend. They leave early Saturday morning by auto for Chicago.

Students making the trip are: A. O. Taylor, L. Krist, R. A. Rice, H. E. Simonson, E. C. Mantor, R. Pilling, O. L. Romberg, W. W. McCaw, E. Beachler and L. Short.

The conference will open Monday morning with a technical session at which Rice, the official delegate of the Nebraska group, will read his prize-winning paper on "Diesel Engine and Its Future Possibilities." Another of these sessions will be held Tuesday morning.

The two afternoons will be devoted to (Continued on Page 4.)

TODAY'S NEWS Briefly Reviewed

An outbreak of bank robberies occurred again Thursday as one in Illinois, one in Kansas, and one in Oklahoma were victimized. An estimated amount of $30,000 was taken from the Pans, Ill., bank by what was thought John Dillinger and his gang. The entry was made before employees had opened the bank for business in the morning.

Governmental housing activities were given a push Thursday as President Roosevelt met with recovery experts in an effort to co-ordinate all housing programs. The silver question, stock market, and the air mail inquiry also came in for a good share of the president's attention during the day.

Joseph McKame, Plattsmouth "honor slayer," was acquitted by a district court jury after six hours of deliberation. McKame was brought to trial after freely admitting that he killed his wife's "lover," and the decision of the twelve married men serving on the jury came as the climax to one of the most sensational cases in Cass county.

Under pretense of buying a watch, two bandits slugged Bert Olsky, Lincoln jeweler, over the head early Thursday morning, then in a escape took the car of G. B. Hodges, proprietor of a restaurant near the campus, which was later recovered.

Approximately 1,000 Nebraska livestock farmers will be in town Friday for the annual livestock feeders day, sponsored by the animal husbandry department of the university. According to Prof. H. J. Gramlich both state and out-state speakers have been secured for the event.

MUSIC DUO PRESENTS JUNIOR YEAR RECITAL

Rose Steinberg, Herbert Moore Offer Program At Four Thursday.

Junior music recitals were presented at the Temple theater on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Miss Rose Steinberg and Herbert Moore. Miss Steinberg is a student with Herbert Schmidt and Mr. Moore is a student with Carl Steckelberg.

The program included the following: Grieg, Sonata for violin and piano, Op. 8, Allegro con trio, Herbert Moore; Beethoven, Sonata F Major, Op. 10, No. 2, Allegro, Allegretto, Presto, Rose Steinberg; Debussy, Concerto, Op. 104, No. 9; Allegro maestoso, Mr. Moore; Moussorgsky, Pictures at an Exhibition, The Gnome, Promenade, Chicks Coming Out of Their Shells, The Market Place, Miss Steinberg; Chopin, Nocturne, B Major, Op. 32, and Waltz, A flat, Op. 42, Miss Steinberg.

Mrs. Carl F. Steckelberg was the accompanist.

KIRSHMAN DECLARES BUSINESS ON UPTURN IN APRIL ALUMNUS

Finance Instructor States Some Adjustments Yet To Be Made.

"That business is on the upturn but that some adjustments must yet be made before complete recovery is in the belief of Professor J. E. Kirshman, instructor in finance, as stated in an article entitled "Business Recovery" which appears in the April number of the Nebraska Alumnus, issued yesterday.

Prof. Kirshman attributes recovery in part to the reconstruction of our banking system and points out that "not a bank within this system has failed since January 1." Another factor in recovery, according to Prof. Kirshman, is "the confinement of the currency question within narrower limits with the result that much of the prior uncertainty has been removed."

"As important as anything else is the growing optimistic sentiment throughout the country. This will grow provided other favorable developments appear or no major unfavorable factors are introduced. In the meantime we may hope for an early settlement of the plans for the regulation of the stock exchanges of the country," states Professor Kirshman.

Also in the April Alumnus O. J. Ferguson, dean of the college of engineering, pays tribute to John Edwin Almy, professor of experimental physics, and Gayle C. Walker, director of the school of journalism, tells something of the growth of that school. The A. W. Van Anda and Gilbert Doane, university librarian, comments upon the latest books.

FIFTEEN ENTER INTERSORORITY SING CONTEST

Fifteen Greek letter groups have entered the intersorority sing contest which is sponsored by A. W. S. board as part of the Ivy Day program which will take place on May 3 this year.

Alaïre Barkes, a member of A. W. S. board, Thursday announced the complete list of entries: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta, Pi, Alpha Delta Theta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Mu, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Jane Boos, member of Mortar Board, and A. W. S. board member, in charge of sing, expressed satisfaction with the number of sororities entering the contest. Since this year's total exceeds the number of entries last year, it indicates Greek women are taking a greater interest in the Ivy Day activities, was the belief of Miss Boos.

Alpha Chi Omega last year won the silver cup which is awarded to the sorority taking first place in the sing. Judges for this year's event have not been selected yet according to Alaïre Barkes, who is co-chairman with Jane Boos in making arrangements for this part of the May Day activities.

Episcopal Pastors Label Students As Cynically Indifferent Toward Religion as a Part of Education

Cynical indifference is the attitude of the average college student toward religion, according to interviews conducted among twenty-two Episcopal college pastors at their second annual conference, held this week at the University Episcopal church. The survey was made by Chilton Powell, a student at Carlton college in Northfield, Minn.

"Students hate commercialism as well as the social show-off, even though four out of five of them will have an elaborate church wedding. They dislike handshaking and backslapping in the church that isn't going to be continued on the outside. In other words, they hate an artificial religion," Powell told the conference. That their contempt for denominational strife is very great was also disclosed by Powell.

Counsellors Needed. Dr. D. A. Worcester, professor of educational psychology at the university, advised the pastors that counsellors were needed for the event.

SPONSORS EXPECT 2,000 ATTENDANCE FOR FEEDERS DAY

Ag College Host Nebraska Livestock Association Annual Meeting.

PLAN WOMEN'S PROGRAM Speakers Include Outstate Men and College Workers For Conference.

Farm people numbering 2,000 are expected to attend the annual Feeder's day program which will be held on Ag campus today. Indications late Thursday were that this meet would be one of the largest ever held at Nebraska. In co-operation with the Nebraska Improved Livestock Breeders and Feeders association the animal husbandry department at Ag college is sponsoring the event.

List of the day's speakers includes outstate men and college workers. Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the home economics department, will preside at a special program for women which will be held during the morning. A talk by Dr. C. C. Wiggins of the horticulture department on the "Home Beautification program" will be a feature of the program.

Prof. H. J. Gramlich, head of the animal husbandry department, announced Thursday noon that C. A. Cobb, chief of the cotton section in the AAA at Washington, will discuss the Bankhead cotton bill and accomplishments in the cotton reduction program.

Prospects for livestock feeding in 1934, grinding of corn for cattle, gains on grass against gains in the dry lot for half-fat and feeders steers, use of atlas sorgo silage compared with corn silage are some of the discussions scheduled for the day. W. H. Brokaw, state (Continued on Page 4.)

FAIR PAGEANT BASED ON NATIONAL HISTORY

Seven Episodes Show March Of Events in 'American Panorama.'

Farmers' Fair board and the episode directors in joint session yesterday selected a title for the 1934 pageant—"American Panorama." The title was suggested by Ruth Wolfe, who will direct one of the episodes.

American Panorama is a seven-episode presentation of the march of events in American history from its beginning down to the present. It takes its audience back to a scene in the courtyard of Queen Isabella of Spain, across the ocean to the new land that was to be called America, through the colonization and revolution, through the plantation-dotted south, and through the development of the (Continued on Page 4.)

MU PHI EPSILON TO CELEBRATE FOUNDING Faculty Members, Alumnae Are Honored Guests At Occasion.

To celebrate the founding of Mu Phi Epsilon, the local chapter will entertain 50 guests Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. Phil Easterday. Honor guests will be faculty members of Mu Phi Epsilon and 25 out of town alumnae.

Velman James, Lillian Koudell and Ruth Burkholder are in charge of arrangements for the annual event and have planned a short program to be given by active members of this national honorary music sorority. Esther Kreucher, Lillian Koudell and Eunice Bingham will take part in the program.

Faith Arnold Shows Pictures of Europe

Motion pictures of England, France, Holland, Austria and Italy were shown at 7:15 Thursday evening at the meeting of Le Cercle Francais at Ellen Smith hall. Faith Arnold, who has recently returned from a six months trip thru Europe, furnished the pictures.

The pictures included scenes from battlefields of France, Vienna, Venice, Genoa, Trafalgar Square, Thames river, and also scenes from the Island of Marken by the Zuyder Zee, which is the only place in Holland today that still upholds the old style of dress.

A large crowd attended, and refreshments were served afterwards. Margaret Seeley managed the affair.

Former Instructor Adds Drawings to Art Exhibit

Louise Austin Kelley, former instructor in the Fine Arts department of the university, has entered four drawings in the former student exhibition in Gallery A at Morrill hall. Two of the drawings are charcoal and two are pastels. Both were done during Mrs. Kelley's stay in Germany in 1933.

Controversial Armory Proposal Is Given New Life as Representative Burke Asks Congress for $400,000

The much talked about proposed new armory, turned down by the public works board at Washington last fall, was given new life this week when it was made known that Representative Burke was drafting a bill to be introduced in the present session of congress.

The bill which Congressman Burke is preparing would be a general one affecting all land grant colleges in need of better R. O. T. C. unit accommodations. Included in the bill is a provision for the construction of a new armory at this university. $75,000 of this sum would be spent in purchasing a site, which has already been tentatively selected.

Petitions War Department. Early in November of the present school year, the university administration petitioned the war department for a grant of $400,000 for the erection of the Pershing Memorial armory. While the pro-

PSYCHOLOGY SOCIETY INITIATES FOURTEEN

Psi Chi Members Hear Dr. O. C. Irwin Following Ceremonies.

Fourteen students were initiated into Psi Chi, national honor society in psychology, preceding the annual banquet of the organization Thursday evening at the city Y. W. C. A. Following the downtown dinner, Dr. Orlin C. Irwin, research associate professor at the University of Iowa, talked at the Social Sciences auditorium on the subject "How Young Infants Develop."

Rosina Initiated into Psi Chi are: Rosina Initiated, Lucile Evans, Frances Hornady, Margaret Hunter, Kathleen Jeary, Alleen Miller, Elizabeth Rowan, Grace Spacht, Helen Still, Jean Taylor, and Rev. John J. Fieran as active members, and three, Clarence Paine, Ada Petrea, and Mildred Wohlform as associate members.

Illustrating his lecture by means of the stabilimeter, an apparatus which accurately records reactions by means of photographs and devices, Dr. Irwin illustrated within a few minutes the changing responses and reactions of the infant in the entire period of his first year of life.

More Than 2,000 Ending Work in Study Centers

With all the Nebraska Relief Study Centers scheduled to formally conclude their work Friday, Dr. A. A. Reed, director of the university extension division, Thursday summarized certain facts about these civil works projects.

A total of 111 study centers have been in operation in eighty-two counties in Nebraska, he pointed out, 25 of whom conducted two sessions and the balance one session each. A total of 100 centers were in the first session and 36 in the second session.

More than 2,000 Nebraskans took work thru the facilities offered by the university extension division thru these study centers. A total of 1,605 were enrolled in the first relief study center session and 530 students are now enrolled in the second session that closes tomorrow. These people ranged in age from 15 to 37 with most of the students between 18 and 21 years of age.

Most of those taking work in these study centers were high school graduates. Of the 1,606 taking work in the first session, about 1,500 were high school graduates of whom about 300 had some college work. In the second session 401 are registered for college courses and 129 are registered for supervised or high school courses.

English I proved to be the most popular course, according to Director Reed, having a registration of 396. The psychology courses and the commercial arts courses were the second choice of the registrants.

These centers, operating with the co-operation of local authorities, were headed by a local director who supervised the work of the students. The preparation of lessons and the grading work was done by the extension division in Lincoln.

Students Witness Shooting Fray as Thief Takes Auto

A brief chase after a stolen car was experienced Thursday by Dick Moran, Omaha senior, who together with G. B. Hodges, attempted to catch a gunman who had driven off with Hodges' car a few minutes previous.

University students witnessed the shooting that took place when Hodges, after seeing his car removed from its parking place behind the Temple theater, overtook it at the corner of 12th and R. Hodges opened the door, and demanded that the intruder get out. The thief replied with a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver, and drove north on 12th.

Hodges hailed Moran who was in his car, and together they gave chase, losing track of the thief when he turned west on the road behind the stadium. Hodges' car was later recovered on the cinder track in the stadium.

SCOTT TO BE LEADER SUNDAY NOON CLASS

Philip Scott, graduate student in philosophy, will lead a discussion on the book of Ecclesiastes in the University class at the First Baptist church, 14th and K Sunday morning from 12 noon to 12:50 p. m.

Dr. J. P. Guilford, chairman of the psychology department of the university, will begin a series of discussions on the subject "Understanding Ourselves" in the Young People's meeting at 6:30 p. m. All interested students are invited to participate in these discussions.

POLITICAL SEERS OF AWGWAN LIST INNOCENTS-TO-BE

Ivy Day Theme April Issue Humor Publication on Sale Friday.

The cover of the April issue, are features of the current issue of the humor publication which goes on sale this morning at booths in Social Science, Andrews hall, and Mechanical Arts hall. Ivy Day furnishes the theme for the new Awgwan and various Ivy Day events are featured throughout the number.

The cover of the April issue, done in black and white, and prepared by Robert Pierce, represents the May Queen with her bouquet and train, proceeding to the throne.

A special Ivy Day poem with appropriate art work by Pierce is included as part of the Ivy Day theme. A page of five past May Queens in their Ivy Day gowns is another feature.

Pencil sketches of three men and three women prominent in campus activities furnish an innovation in the April number. Popular spring styles in both men's and women's clothes are portrayed by four students in the two style (Continued on Page 4.)

Crowded Weeks Ahead, Ending With Traditional Commencement Day, Are Indicated By Activities Calendar

Crowded weeks are ahead for the university, it is indicated by an activity program, recently issued from the office of Dean T. J. Thompson. Fourteen traditional and outstanding events, culminating with the sixty-third annual commencement exercises Monday, June 4, offer a colorful climax to the year now drawing near its end.

Ivy Day, with crowning of the May Queen, Ivy Day oration, fraternity and sorority sings, tapping of innocents and masking of Mortar Boards, caps them all when the traditional ceremonies take place Thursday, May 3. The program begins at 9 in the morning and all classes have been excused for the day.

That same evening the engineers have set aside for open house. Engineering students will place on display the devices and contraptions by which they pursue their profession.

ELEVEN PLEDGED TO ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA Scholastic Distinction Is Awarded by Freshman Honorary.

Eleven girls were pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic society for freshman women, Thursday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall.

Those pledged were Helena Apperson, Genevieve Dowling, Gertrude Leavitt, Frances Major, Ruth Pierce, Ruth Schober, Leatha Shankland, Elaine Shonks, Ellen Srb, Lenore Teal, Harriet Walker.

Barbara Barber, president of the organization, opened pledging ceremonies with an explanation of the organization. Evelyn Diamond, vice president, explained the significance of pledge ribbons.

The organization has as its purpose, the promotion of high scholarship among freshman women. An average of 90 must be made the first semester or one of 90 for the entire freshman year before a girl is eligible.

PETITION URGING U.S. ENTER WORLD COURT IS SENT TO NORRIS

Document Signed at Joint Meeting of Relations Club, Y Groups.

Signing a petition urging that the United States enter the world court, the International Relations club members met with the Y. W. and Y. M. in a joint meeting Wednesday night at the Temple building. Those present at the gathering heard reports on the Grinnell international relations conference given by Burton Marvin, Selma Goldstein, Elaine Fontein, and Joe Nquist.

The petition, which was mailed to United States Senator Norris in Washington, expressed the opinion that the United States must enter the world court in order to do its part in world recovery and the establishment of peace machinery.

Tells History of League. First report of the evening was presented by Burton Marvin on the topic of the League of Nations as it was dealt with at the conference. He outlined the history of the United States' attitude toward the league since its origin in 1919. The reasons it has kept out of that body, and the probable future of United States' policy in connection with the covenant and other forms of international co-operation (Continued on Page 4.)

ACTIVITIES HALL DRESSED UP FOR AG SPRING PARTY

With the activities hall decorated with spring blossoms and colored lights, refreshments served for everybody, no checking charge, and a number of faculty guests present, Ag college students will have their annual spring party Saturday night.

Manager Howard White announced Thursday that the ticket committee had reported the tickets practically all sold and the decorations committee had reported definite plans to dress up the building for the party.

The spring party is coming to be one of the big affairs on the campus. White said, and the committee has made the best possible preparations.

He emphasized that the spring party is more than a mixer and pointed out that refreshments are being served to all those there and that there will be no checking charge.

Chaperons for the Saturday night party are Dean and Mrs. W. W. Burr, Prof. and Mrs. William Loeffel and Prof. and Mrs. H. L. Gramlich. The guests include Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Keim, Dr. R. M. Gibbons, Miss R. E. Sperry and Miss L. L. Leighton.

The Ag college spring party is sponsored by the Ag executive board. It has only become a feature event on the campus in the last two or three years, White said. It is now the "Farmers Formal" of the spring semester, except that "farmers" costumes are not worn. The party Saturday night starts at 8:30.

W.A.A. EXECUTIVE COUNCIL REVEALS PLANS FOR CABIN

Alice Geddes, Retiring Head, Announces Project at Mass Meeting.

Building of a new cabin which will be open for use to all women on the campus was announced by Alice Geddes at the mass meeting Thursday night as the project which W. A. A. executive council has been sponsoring this year.

Plans have been completed for this structure and construction will begin as soon as a definite location has been selected. Miss Geddes announced that work on the building would probably start the first week in May and would be completed in about two weeks time.

Maxine Packwood, member of W. A. A. executive council, and Selmar Solheim, both students in the architecture department, have drawn up plans for the structure. Cabin will include bunks to accommodate sixteen people, large fireplace with dutch oven and crane for cooking.

Short impromptu speeches were given at the banquet which followed initiation, by Col. W. H. Oury, commander of the cadet corps at the university, Col. C. J. Frankforter, and Capt. G. W. Spoerry. The speeches were all concerned with military affairs.

Friends and Social Affairs Draw Many Here to University

Why do we come to college, Nebraska university in particular? The answers to this question are many and varied. At least one, however, is being found out. Molesters have been finding out.

Some of the answers are sensible, others half humorous, and others rather pathetic. One senior girl said that she had been wondering herself during the last four years just why she is here. Another said she came to get away from her home town because she fought with her boy friend. But on the other hand, a third girl here so she might be near boy friend.

One boy said that his parents had sent their first child here because they believed Lincoln to be a good clean town where he would get in no bad company. The rest of the children have automatically followed in his footsteps here.

A large number came because they had relatives here or because members of their family had previously attended the university. A great many came because it is "close to home."

Several candidly admitted they came for the social life offered, and a number of boys are here for football or other forms of athletics. Then there are those who came for an education. They gave as their reasons courses offered in law, business administration, fine arts, physical education, music, medicine, and journalism.

Among the other reasons listed are because of the school's reputation, the size of the university, the size of Lincoln, the reputation of the school, C. W. A. jobs, family influence, the educational rank of the university, admiration for a high school teacher who had attended Nebraska, and friends already in school.
