

CAMPUSOCIETY

EVERYTHING IS PLANNED FOR Saturday night this weekend, so it looks as if parties and the Park will be the only places to go tonight. Three house parties are scheduled for Saturday, one tea dance, two spring parties, one at the Lindell and one at the Lincoln, and one dinner dance. One of the two big events of the year on the Ag campus, the spring party at the Student Activities building, will be held Saturday. In fact, if you can't find anything to do tonight you can make up for it by doing the rounds tomorrow evening.

THE DENTISTS are having their spring party tomorrow night, when the members of Delta Sigma Delta will entertain at their new chapter house at 1421 H. The pledges are being honored at the affair, which has been arranged by Duward Jackson, Kenneth Kent, and George Petzold. Mr. and Mrs. Karl Arndt, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Harkness and Mrs. Anna Hyland are the chaperons.

Following the affair, which is to be from 5 until 7, the new initiates will be honored at a buffet supper at the house.

AT CARRIE BELLE Saturday evening a house party will be given. The chaperons will be Dr. Elizabeth Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoff.

A DINNER DANCE is to be held at the Phi Gam house Saturday night, when there will be 40 guests for dinner and 60 or 70 couples at the dance. The house will be decorated as an Indian village, with papooses, tepees, and the like being used to carry out the idea.

tive organizations. The predominant opinion of leaders at the Grinnell conference was that this country should join the league.
A report on Latin-American questions was given by Selma

Goldstein. She reported on the round table discussion which was headed by Raymond Leslie Buell, eminent authority on international affairs. It was the opinion of Buell that the relations between South American countries and the United States are improving because United States capitalists have no longer interests in South American projects as they once were. The point emphasized here was that the United States formulate its international policies solely along the lines of its interests.

Economic Recovery.
The third report on the evening's list was one given on "World Economic Recovery" by Elaine Fontein. She discussed a speech given by Otto Nathan, former German economic adviser. In his speech at Grinnell he expressed the opinion that this is not a time for experiments in the field of economics. He declared that what should be done immediately is the establishment of an international monetary standard. The time for experiments in economics is in times of prosperity. He gave as an example the tariff policy. His opinion is that the United States can't revise its tariff now, because one can't lose business especially when times are bad.

Joe Nuquist gave the final report of the evening, discussing Sherwood Eddy's speeches. Eddy is one of the world's most prominent authorities on international affairs and machinery of diplomacy, and knows personally most of the important rulers and leaders of the world. He spoke on the topic "Danger Spots of Europe."
In his speech Eddy outlined the virtues and defects of the various political systems which have sprung up since the war, such as fascism and communism. He also emphasized the fact that these systems clash, and that a blending of the good points in them would bring a more perfect government.

on the ticket sales campaign have been urged by the Klub to push the sale of tickets as much as possible over the week end. The show will open at the Temple theater next Monday evening.

Klub members believe that the attendance at the performance Monday evening will be the lightest of any of the six nights of the show's run. Early reservations indicate, however, that the opening night crowd will be larger than was originally expected.

Reserved seats will be available at both offices as long as they last, Gepson said. Reservations may be made by telephone to either office as well as thru the purchase of tickets from Klub workers.

the retiring president. "After that time the acting council will decide what plan to follow."

A set of rules and regulations governing use of the cabin will be drawn up before it is let to any group. A list of approved chaperons will be prepared and anyone securing the cabin will be required to select sponsors from it. Alice Geddes pointed out that the structure will be completely equipped so that groups using it can prepare meals and be comfortably accommodated for overnight outings. No rent will be charged for the use of the building. The only charge will be for janitor service.

they could not be blamed entirely for their disrespect for present institutions.

Rev. Ward explained that individual characters are the product of a balance between three primitive drives: Self preservation, sex, and the desire to be socially accepted. The absence of religion as one of the means of satisfying these drives has destroyed that balance which has been preserved for centuries, and modern individualism and cynicism result, he stated.

"These drives still function," he continued, "but are not directed toward higher ends, the result is moral chaos. Our generation stands convicted of slavery to inadequate motives."

west down to the present.

Most unusual about the 1934 pageant, the board said, is that it was written entirely by Ag college students. It is being directed by students with the assistance of Miss Bess Steele, faculty adviser. Florence Buxman is general pageant chairman.

Another innovation in the 1934 pageant will be the use of a narrator rather than including speaking in the pageant episodes. The college's 500 students will all have parts in the big production, and the university concert band and a special Ag college chorus will be included in the cast.
Pageant directors emphasized that the pageant, "American Panorama," is new in theme and in organization. It is based entirely on national history rather than on local history as was the pageant presented last year.
