

CAMPUSOCIETY

WHEN THE KOSMET KLUB GAVE "The Campus Cop" in Omaha last Friday, it seems that everything did not go as smoothly as it might have. In the first place, when George Sauer was supposed to give his talk over the radio he was some place between Omaha and Lincoln, and Herb Yenne was forced to speak for him. They say that Herb gave a very good imitation of the Sauer "line." Then, Ivy day must have been too much for most of the members of the cast, who were either worn out or too something else to appreciate the artistic aspect of the play. All in all, it was a rather gay week end for the Klub.

CANDY BUSINESS HIT a new height last night when four couples decided to chain their respective pins. John Gepson, Phi Kappa Psi, and Elizabeth Shearer, Kappa Alpha Theta, from Omaha, passed the cigars and candy. Another member of the Shearer family, Bill Shearer, former student at Omaha university, hung his pin on Louise Harris, a Delta Gamma from Omaha.

One more Omahan who was affected by the lazy, spring weather is Helen Baldwin, Alpha Phi, so cigars were given out at the D. U. house by Willis Stork, from Enola.

And the Chi Omegas were treated Monday night when Faye Johnston, from Wauneta, passed the candy with Lamone Bible, Phi Sigma Kappa, from Monroe.

ANOTHER FRATERNITY honoring mothers last Sunday was Acadia. Its members accompanied their mothers to the morning services at Westminster Presbyterian church and entertained them at a 1 o'clock banquet at the chapter house. Tables were centered with tulips and other spring flowers and the mothers were given red roses as favors.

Herbert Yenne acted as toastmaster, introducing Mrs. W. A. Brown, Mrs. L. C. Rankin, Franklin Meier and Oz Black. Eugene Ellsworth entertained with piano selections, and Barbara Perry presented some readings.

KAPPA SIGS also entertained their mothers Sunday at the chapter house at a 1:15 dinner. Decorations were carried out in the fraternity's colors, scarlet, green and white. Mothers from many parts of the state attended.

Last Minute Decision Wins in Dress Designing Contest for Miss Passmore

—Courtesy Sunday Journal and Star. DOROTHY PASSMORE.

A last minute decision brought to Miss Dorothy Passmore, fine arts senior of Lincoln, a $25 certified check and a promise of a new dress as a prize for winning ninth place in a coast-to-coast costume contest.

The entries had to be post-marked by midnight, one day this year and Miss Passmore mailed hers at 11:30, after first having it "okayed" by Professor Kirsch for an assignment.

The judges, fashion editors of the leading American publications, were: Edna Woolman Chase, editor-in-chief of Vogue; Julia Coburn, fashion editor of Ladies Home Journal; Rhea Seeger, fashion editor of Chicago Tribune; Helen Sisson, head of fashion center at Marshall Field's; Carmel Snow, fashion editor of Harper's Bazaar; Walter Darwin Teague, internationally known fashion designer, and Miss Austin Young, fashion editor of Chicago Herald-Examiner.

There were 5,000 entries so it was as much of an honor to place twentieth as first, and all of the winning dresses will be made according to specifications to be sold in leading department stores over the nation.

The dress designed by Miss

Passmore is a skirt and jacket combination with a contrasting blouse of dotted silk. Without the linen jacket it has been dubbed the "Lady Bird Dress." It has a wide collar, and a row of buttons parading up and down the cut-up jacket front.

Miss Passmore, who has been designing her own clothes for several years, submitted a dress which is unlike any that she has ever made. The winning dress and the first drawing that she completed.

"I will travel around quite a bit," Dorothy stated, "for every one of my dresses will be labeled 'Miss University of Nebraska, designed by .....me.'"

—they age good grapes to make rare wines

— and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
