HAROLD JACOBSEN,
HEYE LAMBERTUS GO TO NCAA TRACK MEET

Records Likely to Tumble
Before Nation's Best Cinder Teams.

That the university will be well represented at the National Collegiate track and field championships to be staged in Los Angeles Friday and Saturday, was assured last week with the announcement that Heye Lambertus and Harold "Speed" Jacobsen will run under Husker colors.

In Lambertus, the Cornhuskers possess one of the fastest low hurdlers in the nation. The Gothenburg trackman is holder of both the senior and junior A. A. U. 220-yard low hurdle crowns. He placed second to Glenn Hardin of Louisiana State when the latter broke the world's record in the event at the Chicago collegiate championships last summer. Hardin was clocked in 22.9 seconds with Lambertus right at his heels in 23 seconds flat. In addition to these meritorious performances, Heye established a new world indoor mark of 6.7 seconds for the 60-yard lows during the last winter season.

Not so well known as Lambertus, but a very promising competitor in his own right is Harold Jacobsen, the number two dash man among Big Six sprinters. Only a sophomore, Jacobsen nevertheless has the speed to become a high ranking performer among the nation's best in the short events. He is credited with a record of 9.7 for the 100-yard dash and has been timed in 21.4 seconds for the 220 in actual competition. Jacobsen has been defeated on few occasions this spring, and those were administered by the fleet Edwin Hall of Kansas, Big Six champion.

Conclusions can thus be logically reached that the Nebraska contingent should turn in good marks at the California meet. However, it cannot be assumed that the Scarlet athletes will find it easy to place in the scoring column. Lambertus not only will face Hardin again but will match his speed against John Herring, a Texas A. & M. man who has consistently battered Hardin's efforts during meets this spring. Jacobsen will find the going even harder, because such speedsters as "Bullet Bob" Kiesel of California, Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, Hudson Hellmich of Illinois, Ed Hall of Kansas and various other stars will be out to give their best.

Due to the strenuous battle forecast between such teams as Louisiana State, Stanford, Southern California, Kansas and Indiana, most meet records are likely to tumble before the onslaught of the cream of the country's track and field men. Apparently, the fight for the team championship lies between Louisiana State and the powerful Stanford aggregation. The giant Jack Torrance and Johnny Morris head the Louisiana group, while John Lyman and Allen Blackman carry the scoring burden for Coach Dink Templeton's Stanford boys. Southern California also presents a strong outfit and may cut in on points doped for the two leaders. It should be a great contest all the way.

An investigation of publications was made recently and a number of proposals, suggested by the committee, were adopted by the Publication council. Ability alone, with unbiased consideration to both men and women, is to be the basis of selections to staff openings. A complaint against any editor or business manager may be made by any staff member with the signatures of two other staff members. The Publications council is to act as a judicial board for the complaint. This is to insure staff members against injustice or undue partiality. Provision was made that no amount exceeding $750 be given to any editor or business manager.

A demonstration was recently performed upon a volunteer student at Purdue university by Dr. H. H. Remmers, university director to education reference.

"Harvard should be open to any man of unusual talents, rich or penniless?" President J. B. Conant said recently.
