Former University Students Have Unusual Adventure When They Tour Countries of Europe on $20 Bicycles

Touring the countries of Europe on a $20 bicycle and alternating in a Corn Cob sweater was the unusual adventure experienced by two former students of the university, Byron Cherry and Norman Malcom.

"An outstanding feature of the trip," Malcom said, "was the intense curiosity of the German people concerning the American attitude toward the new developments in Germany. They appear to be very self-conscious, due perhaps to the fact that they feel themselves surrounded by unfriendly peoples."

According to Malcom the young people are particularly devoted to Dictator Hitler and regard him almost as a demi god. "Their statements concerning him were influenced in no way by coercion as in the opinion commonly shared by a great many persons in the United States," he declared.

Stay at "Youth Hotels." During the major part of their trips the two travelers stayed at "Youth Hotels," camps erected throughout the continent to provide accommodations for the European youths who travel about a great deal. These hostels, at which one can room for an average of 12 cents a day, were first started

BARBS TO LAUNCH PROGRAM DURING MEETING TONIGHT

Inter-Club Council Urges Unaffiliated Students Attend Assembly.

LANTZ, PETZ TO SPEAK Officers to Explain Nature of Organization; Starts 7:30 This Evening.

With the mass meeting of Barbs in Social Science auditorium Thursday night, this year's program for unaffiliated men will be inaugurated. The purpose of the meeting is to outline the year's program and explain to new students the nature of the organization.

Eligibility is made clear by the statement given by John Stover, president of the Inter-club Council. "New students are especially invited to attend the mass meeting and join in the work of the Inter-club organizations. Students need not have attended Nebraska previously to be members or to represent barb clubs. Every barb man who wishes to participate in athletic competition or get into some campus activity should realize that this is his opportunity."

That the Student Council is solidly back of barb organization is evidenced by the statement of Jack Fischer, president of the Student Council: "Activities of the Barb Inter-club council are fast becoming a most important part of the college life of the unaffiliated men students in the university. The council has made rapid strides in the little over a year of its existence and the advantages it now offers to barb men are many. I heartily encourage the participation of barb men in the various activities of the Inter-club council."

Portray Activities. A complete portrayal of the council's activities and program for unaffiliated men is planned for tonight's meeting under the direction of the council officers. Social, athletic and activity advantages of the organization will be explained by members of the faculty and barb leaders.

Prof. E. W. Lantz, faculty sponsor of the council, will be on hand to explain the Inter-club system and outline opportunities which the organization offers. Intramural Director Petz will outline the competitive sports program, which according to present plans will be broadened this year to include other sports besides basketball and softball.

A boost was given to barb activities this week when Dean of Student Affairs T. J. Thompson declared that there are many opportunities for barb work to bring about the desired amount of participation in extra curricular activities.

Officers of this year's council in addition to Stover are Wilbur Erickson, vice president; Joe Ruzicka, secretary; Vic Schwarting, treasurer; Bill Newcomer, social chairman; and Durwood Hedgecock, athletic chairman.

FREE HOURS OFFERED FOR SWIMMING POOL

Minor Urges All Students To Take Advantage of Open Times.

Swimming Instructor Jack B. Minor has issued a call for all swimmers and non-swimmers to take advantage of the free hours of swimming now offered at the new tank at the coliseum. A schedule has been arranged for those taking swimming as a subject or class, and certain hours have been left open for both men and women to use for their own enjoyment.

"There is not enough interest shown in swimming here at the university," Minor stated, "and for the size of the enrollment, there ought to be many more interested than there are at the present time. It is for this reason that the free hours have been added to the schedule—to draw out those students who are interested in swimming as a sport."

Those students who are enrolled in swimming classes are to receive instructions in swimming, diving and in elementary and advanced life-saving. Instructions, however, will not be given during the free hours.

The following schedule of free hours is given below for the benefit of those who are interested in swimming. All students are requested to make use of these free hours. Men: From 12 to 2 every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday; every Saturday from 3:30 to 5; every afternoon from 5 to 8. Women: Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon from 4 to 5; every Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30. Women members of the faculty have from 7 to 8 every Monday evening. No mixed swimming hours are being offered. Those interested should see Minor at the intramural office in the coliseum.

'Arrangement in White' Recently Added to Gallery

"Gee, I like that picture of the red table out there," said a messenger boy recently while waiting for an answer from the fine arts office. The picture he was referring to, "Arrangement in White," is a recent addition to the F. M. Hall collection in the university art gallery and has demonstrated a wide appeal to visitors.

Luigi Lucioni, the artist, has painted a still-life subject in the "superalist" style. The models consisted of a small red table somewhat nicked, a wrinkled lunch cloth, a pitcher, and four or five samples of fruit. A passing art instructor explained that the reason visitors can scarcely refrain from lifting the pitcher from the table is due to a process commonly used by the older masters known as glazing which involves a series of transparent coats in which the colors blend thru and resolve into an appearance of extreme naturalness.

Simultaneous with the Lucioni purchase, is the acquisition of John Stewart's "Roadmender's Camp" being exhibited at present at the Century of Progress gallery. Curry is a native of Kansas but has received a great deal more recognition outside of his home state.

This recognition of Curry by the university formed the basis for a recent article in the Art Digest, in which both Curry and Lucioni were discussed as artists coming definitely into the foreground with the increased popularity of their paintings.

With the purchase of these two pictures, ten paintings have been acquired thru the F. M. Hall bequest including works by Henri Twachtman, Child Hassam, Robert Spencer, and Eugene Savage.

"Roadmender's Camp" will be returned to the university with the closing of the Century of Progress

ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY BEING PLANNED FOR GOPHER-HUSKER TILT

Committee Meets Today to Make Arrangements for The Affair.

Plans for a rally to serve as a sendoff for Coach Dana X. Bibbe and his Cornhusker gridders when they depart for Minnesota Friday evening are still in a tentative state, but there will be a rally, and plenty of enthusiastic "backers" as the team pulls away for its crucial game.

For student interest, apparent even when the Huskers opened their season with a crushing victory over the Wyoming Cowboys, is mounting higher and higher as the clash with the Minnesota Gophers nears.

The rally will reach its peak just before the team takes off from the railway station early Friday evening, and plenty of students and fans are expected to be on hand to send the gridders off to the northland.

Formulate Plans Today. But except for the fact that there will be a rally, plans are rather vague, and members of the student rally committee are expected to meet some time Thursday to formulate definite plans for the affair.

The committee includes Howard White and Fred Nicklas, innocents; Irving Hill and Eugene Pester, Corncoobs; and Louise Hossack and Elizabeth Shearer, Tassels.

Meanwhile, countless Nebraska students and fans are expected to follow the Huskers as they travel to Minneapolis to meet their highly touted foe, rated as Big Ten conference favorites and possible national champions this season.

400 Fans to Make Trip. Some 400 Lincoln fans alone will probably make the trip, according to a statement by John K. Selleck, business director of athletics at the university. Selleck made his estimate Thursday morning, basing it on the advance sale of tickets made through his office for Saturday's conflict.

Countless others from Omaha and throughout the state will also head toward Gopherland, to watch the Huskers in their attempt to spoil the national championship hopes of Coach Bernie Bierman's veteran crew.

Others, who must remain at home while the gridders travel, will huddle around radios and scoreboards to follow the play-by-play account of the battle.

A.W.S. DROPS OLD RULE PROHIBITING WOMEN SMOKING

Regulation Will Be Left In Hands of Houses Say Officials.

NO OTHER BIG CHANGES Governing Board Affirms Panhellenic Stand in Decision.

Rule prohibiting smoking in organized women's houses was dropped this year from the list of regulations governing women students which was issued by the A. W. S. board. According to officials, regulation of smoking will be left up to each house. Little other change was made in the rules.

The rules will be explained to housemothers and house presidents at a meeting on Monday at 5 p. m. at Ellen Smith hall. At this meeting the A. W. S. board will be introduced.

Concerning the rules, Marion Smith, president of A. W. S. board, said, "The rule about smoking was dropped this year. It was a national Panhellenic ruling and the local Panhellenic dropped it last spring. A. W. S. had merely been cooperating with Panhellenic on this, as it seemed best we drop it. Regulation will be left up to each house."

Heads of various other women's groups refused to comment while Dean Amanda Heppner could not be reached for a statement.

As early as the fall of 1930, student interest had been aroused on the subject of smoking in sorority houses. The general argument has been that the code should be given the freedom of smoking in the sorority houses, instead of being forced to leave the house to smoke in a public place.

Regulations to Houses. Now that the local Panhellenic and A. W. S. board has dropped the ruling forbidding smoking, regulation will be left to the individual sorority houses.

The rules as released Wednesday are: 1. The residence of men and women in the same lodging house is not permitted unless the circumstances are unusual. In this case permission must be granted by the dean of women.

2. University women shall not be received in men's lodging or fraternity houses unless a house mother or a chaperone is present and receives them.

3. A rooming house for women students shall be provided with a reception room for student use, which is properly lighted and warmed. All entrance ways shall (Continued on Page 4.)

Two Students Embarrass Skeptical Psychology Professor by Amazingly Accurate Character Analysis Test

By SARAH LOUISE MEYER. Since it is the heartfelt prayer of any enterprising cub reporter that he be on hand for that "once-in-a-lifetime" event when the proverbial man bites the proverbial dog, the thanksgiving was great when two students were permitted the revenge of psychologically questioning a psychology professor.

Of course this "character analysis" fad which has hit the female portion of the campus may not be based upon strictly scientific psychology. Such was the contention of the "dog bitten" man in the case, one of the younger professors of psychology, who staunchly maintained that all of the well-known methods of delving into persons' pasts, presents, and futures were "so much hokum" until a small volume entitled "I've Got Your Number" analyzed his character to a blushing degree of accuracy.

For about six years Mr. Professor has been earning the blind flogging of all contention-tested freshmen for his activities in propagating this form of mental torture. He even confesses to giving instruction in the "fine art of giving psychological tests. Moreover, he freely expresses the opinion that acute questioning as to personal mental quirks and idiosyncrasies brings accurate insight into personality and character.

So accurate indeed was the analysis that it is believed by the students that in the future psychologists will more closely question the classical warning, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Bill Fisher was named chairman, to be assisted by Elizabeth Busbee and Irwin Shutt. Junior and senior class presidents were to be named at the first election.

Unanimous approval was given to a resolution endorsing the Corn Cob party set for October 13 at the Coliseum, urging attendance of the student body, and commendation on behalf of the campus or (Continued on Page 2).
