

FACULTY GRANTS PERMISSION FOR CORN COB FROLIC

Committee Sanctions Plans For Pep Group Party October 13.

HOUSES CANCEL DANCES

Student Council, Innocent Society Urge Campus to Support Affair.

Permission was granted the Corn Cobs to hold their frolic, planned as a highlight of the fall social season, by the faculty committee on student affairs Monday afternoon.

Meeting with representatives of Corn Cobs and members of the Innocent society, the committee decided that their sanction would be given the pep club to hold its previously announced student party on Oct. 13. The affair is to be held in the coliseum.

Red Perkins, past performer in Cornhusker circles, and his twelve piece orchestra have been secured to play for the Frolic, Irwin Ryan, publicity director for the organization, announced Monday.

Fraternities and Sororities Co-operate.

Co-operation of the fraternity and sorority houses on the campus was secured despite the short notice given them by the pep organization. "Practically all the houses have responded generously by postponing their affairs until later dates," Irving Hill, president of the organization, said.

"With faculty consent secured preparations for the party are now moving forward rapidly and the major arrangements have already been taken care of," Hill commented.

Frolic Given to Raise Funds. Deprived of their sale of football programs and threatened with extinction, the Corn Cobs scheduled the Frolic as a means of maintaining their existence. Permission for the date was secured from the Barb council which very graciously offered to cancel the Varsity party scheduled for the same evening.

The pep club did not, however, secure the sanction of the faculty committee and so the special concert was arranged Monday afternoon.

Asking for co-operation from Greek houses, Owen Johnson, president of the Innocent society, declared that the esquire men's honorary was throwing its full support behind the event. "The Innocent are behind the Corn Cobs 100 percent," he said, "and would like to have the cooperation, not only of the sororities and fraternities, but of all student societies."

"I feel that the various houses should lend this event the same support as if the night were closed. The future of the Corn Cobs is dependent on the success of the party and the club is an asset which the campus cannot afford to do without. I heartily endorse the vent."

"Permanent decorations have been secured for the Frolic," Ryan added, "and prices have been fixed at a popular level."

Health Department Cares for 246 Daily Dean Lyman States

After a strenuous rush during the first two weeks of school the student health office is once again resuming a normal pace. 3,457 students were taken care of during the last two weeks of September.

"This is a great increase over the number taken care of in the first two weeks of last year," declared Dean Lyman. "The 3,457 students were taken care of in 14 days. This averages about 246 students a day or about 31 an hour. This seems to be rather fast handling, and it was only through the fine co-operation of students and the admirable work of the office members that we were able to do it."

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS OFFERED IN MUSEUM Show at 10 and 2:30 Each Saturday to Be Given Rest of Winter.

Children's programs in the university museum in Morrill Hall began Saturday, Oct. 6, and will be presented each Saturday throughout the winter. Programs are given at 10 o'clock in the morning and repeated at 2:30 in the afternoon. The museum staff plans to offer another group of interesting films for children this year. Miss Marjorie Shanafelt, instructor in visual education, who is in charge of the programs hopes to interest the boys with a series of rescue stories.

For Sunday visitors the museum is presenting programs that are very informal, according to Miss Shanafelt.

P.B.K. COMMITTEE TO PLAN YEAR'S PROGRAM

Guilford, Hicks, Give Report Of National Council Held Sept. 10-12.

215 ATTEND CONVENTION

Phi Beta Kappa officers met Monday in Social Science to elect a committee to plan the year's program, which will probably be announced some time next week. J. P. Guilford and Clifford Hicks, president and secretary of the organization, gave a report of the National Council, held in Cincinnati, Ohio, September 10-12, which they attended as delegates of the Nebraska chapter.

Among the important results of the national council, which was attended by 215 delegates, was the appointment of a constitutional committee to draft a revised constitution for the United States chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Hicks was elected to preside over the secretaries conference which was attended by 100 chapter members. He was also elected secretary of the North-Central district.

Other officers of the Nebraska chapter of Phi Beta Kappa are Ruth Odell, vice-president; Matilda Peters, treasurer; and Mrs. A. W. Williams, historian.

MRS. MERLE T. RICE VESPERS SPEAKER

Former Student, Recently Returned From Orient, Addresses Meeting.

Mrs. Merle Thomas Rice, recently returned from India, will speak at the weekly vesper services Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Mrs. Rice was a member of Y. W. C. A. before she was graduated from the university in 1912.

Since leaving Nebraska Mrs. Rice has spent several years in Domah, Central Province, India. She will speak on what it means to be a member of the Y. W. C. A. in school, in your home community, and in the world about you.

The vesper service tonight is known as the "Membership Vespers." It opens the month of the Y. W. C. A. membership drive, and is held in order to show the new girls what membership in Y. W. C. A. really means.

INTER CLUB COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT

Petz Sets Sixteen Teams as Goal for Competition in Touch Football.

A schedule of Barb inter-club touch football will be formed at the Barb Inter-club council meeting to be held in University Hall Tuesday evening. Director of Intramural Athletics Harold Petz has set a goal of having at least sixteen teams in the competition.

John Stover, President of Inter-club council, requests that all Council members be present, and issues a special invitation to all Barb students forming, or intending to form clubs, and to any who were unable to attend the mass meeting last Thursday night.

Committees will be appointed for the all Barb party November 2, and for the Barb A. W. S. Inter-club picnic to be held October 21. Also announcement will be made of an hour-dance to be held this week-end.

WINTER CONCERT TICKET CAMPAIGN WELL UNDER WAY

Orchestra Associations of Lincoln Sponsor Musical Program.

DUCATS NOW AVAILABLE

Students Given Special Rate For Series of Six Showings.

Ticket sales campaign for the winter concert season sponsored by the Lincoln Civic Music and Symphony Orchestra associations opened this week and will continue until Oct. 13, according to Prof. Howard Kirkpatrick, director of the university school of music.

Six concerts are to be given during the season with students receiving a special rate of $2.50. Tickets are on sale at the University School of Music office, Schmoller and Mueller Piano Co., and Wesleyan University Conservatory office.

Three symphony concerts will be offered and three guest artists are scheduled to appear. The first concert will be a symphony concert on Nov. 12. Paul Althouse, Metropolitan tenor, will be guest artist at the second program on Dec. 3. Dec. 10 will be the second symphony concert and Jan. 21 Bartlett and Robertson, pianists will give a combined piano recital. Feb. 24 will be the third and last symphony concert and March 28 will close the season with the appearance of Nathan Milstein, violinist. Howard Hanson of the Eastman School of Music is scheduled as the first guest conductor for the symphony concerts. A different conductor will direct each program.

"Students are expected to take advantage of these programs, as they are an educational feature and part of the musical program offered by the university," stated Director Kirkpatrick, "regular season tickets sell for five dollars, but this special rate has been offered all university students.

DR. POYNTER NU-MED SPEAKER OCTOBER 10

Society Holds First Banquet Of Year in Lincoln at University Club.

Dr. Charles Poynter, dean of the university medical college in Omaha, is scheduled to speak at the first Nu-med banquet of the year Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 6:15 p. m. at the University club.

Following the talk there will be an opportunity to ask Dr. Poynter questions, and it is likely that there will be time for a short discussion. There will also be a short business meeting at the close of the program.

"But Dr. Poynter will be the main program," stated Dr. Otis Wade, pre-med advisor. "We want all Nu-meds to take advantage of this opportunity to hear him."

It is too early yet to estimate how many members will attend the affair, since tickets just went on sale Monday, declared officers of the group. Those students who have not joined are requested to do so at once.

Membership cards are obtainable from Dr. Wade in Bessey hall. Tickets for the dinner are on sale in the offices of Dr. Wade and Dr. H. W. Manter.

Students May Apply For Orchestra Jobs

A Lincoln restaurant wishes to employ a small orchestra to play four nights a week. Students able to play piano, saxophone, or drum apply at the Student Employment Bureau at 104 Administration hall. Any one able to play a banjo or accordion may also apply. J. D. EPP, Director Employment Bureau.

Dr. Vras of University States Praise of Yesterday's Capitalism Has Turned to Skepticism and Distrust

By Victor E. Vraz. (Assistant Professor of Personnel Management.)

Note: Dr. Vraz has this year joined the university faculty. He has lived three years in Europe, visiting nearly every country. He was secretary to the Spanish consul at Prague, and for one year was visiting professor at the University of Prague.

The economist, like the layman, is bewildered by a complexity of causes he is unable to unravel. Since the trouble cannot be isolated like the bacteriologist's germ, the conclusion frequently is that it is the "system" which is at fault. Only yesterday we had extravagant words of praise for American capitalism; today there is nothing but skepticism and distrust. Generalizations are substituted for clear thinking, and the various "isms"—fascism, socialism and communism—come into vogue.

Fascism is admittedly the last stand of a capitalist society. Private property, right of individual enterprise, and the profit motive are retained but so closely controlled by government that both in Italy and Germany these tenets are largely theoretical. Men are not entirely free to choose their vocation or trade, they cannot discontinue business without paying large indemnities to employees, banks are not permitted to refuse loans when "public policy" dictates otherwise.

All Last Year's Pharmacy Grads Receive Places

"Students in some colleges may not always feel sure of securing work after graduation, but in the Pharmacy college we seldom worry about that," declared Dr. Lyman, dean of the Pharmacy college. "As far as we know every one of last year's graduates have secured a position."

Only once did it seem that Pharmacy graduates might have rough sledding. That was in 1932, when many people were losing work, and it seemed that it would be impossible to place the graduates. However, by the first of September of that year every graduate had succeeded in obtaining a position.

This is indeed an enviable record, which can be equaled by few other colleges on this or any other campus, declared Dr. Lyman, and indicated that the increased number of students in the Pharmacy college this year might be due to this record. The Pharmacy college now has a hundred students enrolled, a twenty-five percent increase over last year.

COMMITTEES FOR KLUB FALL REVUE POSTED MONDAY

Davies Announces Members Recently Appointed to New Posts.

Committee appointments for the Kosmet Klub fall revue were announced Monday by Tom Davies, president of the Klub, after the semester's first regular meeting of the organization.

Only Klub members were selected at this time however, Davies pointed out. The remainder of the committee appointments will be made from those applying for work after each applicant's scholastic eligibility has been checked by the office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

Applications for positions must be in before 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, Davies stated. Blanks for those filing for work will be available at the Klub office in the basement of University hall every afternoon until the deadline Wednesday. Members of the Klub have been assigned office hours to take applications.

Tom Davies will head the production committee for the show, and assisting him will be Charles Flansburg, Owen Johnson and Charles Galloway. The business end of the show will be handled by a committee composed of Henry Kosman, chairman; Bill Garlow and Carl Wigenhorn.

Plans for the presentation of the Nebraska Sweetheart will be arranged by Art Bailey, who is in charge, and Bob Pierce. The election of the Nebraska Sweetheart will be handled by Frank Crabill, and Duncan Sowles.

George Holyoke will handle the publicity for the show with Charles Steadman assisting him. Clayton Schwenk has been designated to handle all contacts in connection with the production. Dick Schmidt and Taylor Waldron are in charge of all commercial advertising for the show.

Humor Publication Appears Next Week

Girl of the Month Makes Appearance in Second Issue of Awgwan.

Awgwan's girl of the month will make her appearance for the first time this year in the October issue of the humor magazine scheduled for the stands sometime the first of next week. Other campus bright lights will not be neglected for snapshots of Nebraska's four hundred will stamp the pages of the coming issue as something different.

With a bright attractive cover, a Gore section with pages of the latest scandal, and a large collection of the latest in quips and sallies will keep the publication up to past standards. "The magazine," Editor Alice Beekman said, "should appeal to everyone this month with its variety of contents."

The magazine will be sold at the booth in Social Science building and mailed to regular subscribers. The new policy of the publication is to give an issue of Life magazine with each Awgwan at a yearly rate little higher than the price of the Nebraska publication alone.

Students May Apply For Orchestra Jobs

A Lincoln restaurant wishes to employ a small orchestra to play four nights a week. Students able to play piano, saxophone, or drum apply at the Student Employment Bureau at 104 Administration hall. Any one able to play a banjo or accordion may also apply. J. D. EPP, Director Employment Bureau.

PLAYERS SCORE SUCCESS IN FIRST DRAMA OF YEAR

'The Shining Hour,' Gotham Hit, Presented Monday To Capacity House.

SUMPTION HAS DUO-ROLE

Veronica Villnave, Armand Hunter Play Leads in Production.

By Meredith Overpeck. First production of the fall season, "The Shining Hour," late Broadway hit by Keith Wheaton, opened at the Temple theater last evening before a capacity house. Staged under the supervision of Miss H. Alice Howell and directed by Harold "Pete" Sumption, this current drama given by the University Players should enjoy a highly successful run.

Armand Hunter, veteran actor of numerous university plays, interpreted the difficult part of David Linden with dramatic intensity. As Mariella, Veronica Villnave gave an excellent reading of the script with sophisticated poise. Playing a duo-role, that of Henry Linden, the husband of Mariella, and play director, warrant three rousing cheers for "Pete" Sumption. Margaret Carpenter was cast convincingly as Hannah Linden, and portrayed the character admirably. As the swaggering, twenty-one year old brother, Mickey, Dwight Perkins added the necessary lighter touch to the production. Genevieve Dalling as Judy, gave a sympathetic reading of a rather unusual part.

The living room of a comfortable manor house of an English gentleman-farmer, c. l. a. s. family was the setting for all three acts. Henry Linden, the eldest of the three brothers who had been away for a number of years, returned with his wife Mariella. From the first, Hannah, the spinster sister, disliked the newcomer. THROOP SPEAKER FOR JOURNALISTS TODAY

Interested Students Are Invited to Attend This Meeting.

Frank D. Throop, publisher of the Lincoln Star and veteran in the field of journalism, is to be the speaker at a special session of Section I of the Survey of Journalism class in Social Science auditorium at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Any student taking a journalism course or interested in this type of work is invited to attend this meeting.

Throop is owner of the Lincoln Star and is identified with the Lee syndicate. He is a native of Iowa and has spent his life in newspaper work. In 1930 he was connected with the Muscatine and Davenport papers. He takes an active interest in civic affairs and at present he is the president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Erickson Chosen Head Lutheran Club for Year

Maurice Erickson was chosen to head the Lutheran club for the coming year at an open meeting held last week. Other new officers of the group are Marvin Trautwein, vice president; Jeanette Baker, secretary; and Emery Johnson, treasurer. Regular meetings of the group are scheduled the first Friday night of every month.

COMMITTEE HOPES FOR RECORD RALLY FRIDAY

Nicklas Promises Innovation In Program of Iowa Pep Gathering.

ANNOUNCES PLANS TODAY

Although plans have not yet been completed for the student rally next Friday evening, it was indicated yesterday by members of the committee in charge that efforts are being made to assemble one of the biggest pep gatherings ever brought together for such an affair at Nebraska.

The answer to the question "Can we get the students to turn out for rallies, and make them big demonstrations of football spirit?" has been seen in the turnout for the first two rallies of the season, committee members declare. The Wyoming rally crowd, it is said, equaled any in recent years, and the numbers who turned out for Friday night's sendoff indicates that record attendance is in store for future pep meetings.

"Several new ideas are being worked out for the Iowa game rally," Fred Nicklas, committee chairman, stated yesterday. The committee will meet today to complete arrangements. Something new and different is promised for Friday night's demonstration. It was also indicated that one of the local radio stations would broadcast the main part of the program.

Definite plans for Friday's big pep meeting will be announced this afternoon, after arrangements have been completed by the committee.

M'BRIDE ADDRESSES JOURNALISTS OCT. 11

Sports Writer Will Speak at Annual Sigma Delta Chi Smoker Thursday.

Gregg McBride, Lincoln Star sports writer, will address school of journalism students at the annual Sigma Delta Chi smoker Thursday evening. It was learned from members of the journalism fraternity yesterday. The smoker, to which all male journalism students are invited, will be held in the N club rooms in the Coliseum at 7:30.

Altho McBride has not announced the topic for his talk, he will speak to the young journalists on some phase of their profession. Each year Sigma Delta Chi sponsors such a party as its rush party, in an effort to acquaint journalism students with the purpose, function and work of the professional organization. A member of the fraternity will speak briefly about the details of the organization.

Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Chi Omega will meet Friday at 5, and Alpha Omicron Pi will play Kappa Kappa Gamma. Officials expect the first round of the tournament to be finished by the end of the week.

FACULTY DIVISION REACHES GOAL IN CHEST CAMPAIGN

Leaders of Drive Delighted At Record Breaking Results.

AWARDS GIVEN LEADERS

LeRossignol Confident Last Year's Total Will Be Surpassed $200.

With their goal of $5,861 passed, leaders of the faculty division of the Lincoln community chest drive were delighted at the outcome of the campaign Monday. Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the Business Administration college expressed his pleasure at the generous contributions by all members of the university staff and felt confident that last year's total would be surpassed by at least $200 when final tabulations were completed.

"Assigned our last year total of $5,861 as our minimum for the present drive," Dean LeRossignol said, "we have lived up to our past record with all departments giving liberally to the Lincoln welfare project."

He further explained that every member of the faculty had been given the opportunity to contribute under the captain plan in which a member of the university staff was put at the head of every building on this and the agricultural campus.

"It is the plan," LeRossignol explained, "to give each building or department that reached its goal, a gold service star to indicate the part it played in supporting Lincoln's welfare, religious and education program. These stars may be obtained by any captain who wishes one and may be displayed on the department's bulletin board."

LeRossignol in Charge. The leaders of the university drive were Dean LeRossignol for the city campus and Prof. J. M. Bish, professor of agricultural chemistry and chemist for the experiment station, who headed the agricultural college subscription drive. Those captains who assisted the other sections of the "Community chest were:

L. E. Gunderson, Administration; H. A. White, Andrews Hall; R. J. Pool and D. D. Whitney, Bessey Hall; Townsend Smith, Tracy Laboratory; B. Clifford Hendricks, Chemistry Hall; John H. Selleck, Coliseum; Dr. G. A. Grubb, Dental College; Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Ellen Smith Hall and Carrie Belle Raymond Hall; A. C. Morton, Employees; A. A. Reed, Former Museum; Miss Mabel Lee, Grant Memorial Hall; M. H. Merrill, Law College; Miss Nellie J. Compton, Library; W. C. Brenke, Mechanic Arts and Electrical Engineering; Erwin H. Barbour, Morrill Hall; Fred S. Bukey, Pharmacy and Infirmary; School of Music; J. O. Hertzler, Social Science, Sociology and Political Science; J. L. Sellers, Social Science, history, philosophy and psychology; C. E. McNeill, Social Science, Economics and Business Organization; D. A. Worcester, Teachers College; Ray Ramsay, Temple and Gayle Walker, University Hall.

Instructors in charge on the Agricultural campus; J. L. Thomas, Agricultural Hall; M. P. Brunig, Agricultural Engineering; M. A. Alexander, Animal Husbandry; P. A. Downs, Dairy building; M. D. Keldon, Experiment Station; Miss Louise Leaton, Home Economics; D. P. Whelan, Plant Industry; F. E. Muesel, Rural Economics, and C. A. Fulmer, Vocational Education.

Publication Staffs Prepare for Great Football Classic

Epithets, threats, and accusations flew thick and fast in the basement of University hall Monday afternoon as the Daily Nebraskan and Cornhusker football squads made ready for their crucial game to decide the publications athletic championship.

Both camps were accusing the other of proslavery as managers were seen to confer quietly with members of the Awgwan staff. The humor publication workers, however, gave a new turn to the whole affair as they showed ambitions to challenge the winner to another game.

Prospects of a postponement were seen as the Cornhusker team asked that the game be put off for a week due to the fact that their business manager and editor would be out of town this week end. Members of the newspaper outfit, however, viewed this as a sly move to gain more time to prepare for the battle and were reluctant to grant the extra week.

1934 Yearbook Available Due to Cancelled Orders

A limited number of 1934 Cornhuskers are now available, as a result of orders cancelled by students last spring. The Cornhusker office announces that students who failed to purchase a year book last year and wish to do so now may have these copies for $4.50 at the Cornhusker office in the basement of University Hall.
