Purpose to Help Those Taking Military Science to Secure Uniforms.

ONE SEMESTER AWARDS

Selection of Applicants Will Be Entirely in Hands Of Department.

Announcement of a loan fund created by the Innocents society to aid students taking military science in securing uniforms has been made by Henry Kosman, treasurer of the senior men's honorary organization.

Advanced military science students received the loans this fall, Kosman stated, but basic men only will be considered for the second semester awards.

The society feels that there is a definite need for a fund of this type on the campus, Kosman added. "Often students have neither the money to purchase uniforms or the required deposit when school opens and there are so many other charges. It is to aid such students that we have created the fund."

The money for the fund was realized through the sale of freshman caps, it was announced. Officers of the military department were well pleased with the fund and declared that it was a move to fill a long-felt need.

Demonstration Will Begin Promptly at 6:45 at Temple Theater.

ON AIR FIFTEEN MINUTES

Committee Expects Largest Turnout in Years for Pep Meeting.

With radio station KFOR broadcasting the main portion of Friday night's rally, members of the rally committee are expecting the largest pep gathering in recent years, when Nebraska football fans meet on the eve of the Husker-Hawkeye game.

Because the broadcast could be arranged from 7:15 until 7:30 only Friday evening, it will be necessary to start the rally promptly at 6:45, the committee announced. A special fifteen minute program has been planned for the broadcast. Members of the committee in charge of the rally, who met yesterday, declined to reveal all of the plans for the demonstration, but there will be some new ideas for the brief, snappy pep meeting.

Tassels, Corn Cobs, the R. O. T. C. band and members of Innocents are co-operating to make the rally a success. Fraternities and sororities will be asked to cooperate with the organizations sponsoring the demonstration.

The rally will assemble at 6:45 at the Temple. From there it will follow the usual route to 16th and R sts., north on Sorority Row to Vine and then west to the stadium. A speaker's stand will be erected on the track in front of the east stand. Committee members stressed the fact that the rally will start promptly on scheduled time.

It was indicated that possibly the rally will continue from the stadium to the hotel where the Iowa team will be staying. Announcement of the complete plans will be made this afternoon or Thursday, it was learned.

In addition to McBride's talk, which will be directed to some particular phase of professional journalism, members of the organization will explain to their guests the activities and purposes of the professional journalism fraternity.

The yearly smoker is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi in an effort to contact journalism students and to seek prospective members of the organization. THROOP SPEAKS TO JOURNALISM CLASS TUESDAY

Optimism for the future of the American newspaper was expressed by Frank D. Throop, publisher of the Lincoln Star, who spoke to the students of the Survey of Journalism class at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mr. Throop stated that he does not believe the radio will be able to displace the importance of the newspapers because the people need the concrete evidence which the printed word affords.

An example of his belief, Mr. Throop said, many people coming from a football game will buy the newspaper containing the account of the game which they have just seen. In the same manner those who listen to the World Series over the radio will buy a newspaper in order to read about the game.

Mr. Throop stressed the importance of a general cultural background for those in the field of publishing. He reviewed his thirty years of experience as a publisher and outlined the organization of the daily newspaper, explaining how the various divisions operate and function together.

THURSDAY FINAL FILING DATE FOR KLUB FALL SHOW

Davies Issues Warning to Organizations Planning Enter Morning Revue.

Warning that Thursday, Oct. 11, is the last day on which skits for the Kosmet Klub's fall revue may be entered was issued Tuesday by Tom Davies, president of the club. All houses and organizations must file their application with the Klub by that time or their skits will not be considered, Davies stated.

"We are particularly anxious to see as many organizations as possible enter skits this year," Davies said. "All campus organizations are eligible to participate in the revue and the Klub hopes to have a large field from which to make its selections. Ideas for skits may be obtained from members of the Klub."

Stressing the fact that work on all acts should start at once, Davies asked that skit masters be appointed by all groups. No limit as to time required for the various acts has been set and probably will not be decided upon until after all acts have been judged, it was learned.

Preliminary reviews of skits by the Kosmet Klub will probably be held early in November. Davies intimated that as many as twelve acts might be selected for the revue.

Organizations who have entered the contest to date are Kappa Kappa Kappa—Alpha Tau Omega; Sigma Chi—Phi Kappa Psi; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Kappa Alpha Theta; and Alpha Delta Theta.

A silver loving cup will go to the winning skit. Gamma Phi Beta received the award last year.

BARBS PROGRESS IN ORGANIZING COUNCIL

Members Make Reports on Social Programs at Tuesday Meeting.

Further progress in organization of the Barb Inter-Club council was made at the club's Tuesday night meeting, according to John Stover, president of the unaffiliated men's club. Representatives of between 15 and 18 barb clubs of ten or more men each were present. Stover said, which represented an increase over last year's total.

Reports on the recently-drafted barb social and intramural programs were made. Included on the social schedule is an hour dance for Friday night, a joint picnic with the Barb A. W. S. League on Sunday, Oct. 21, and an all-barb party, tentatively set for Nov. 2.

Bill Newcomer, social chairman, Jim Rianess, Joe Ruzicka, and Alvin Kleebe, are in charge of arrangements for the picnic.

COBS ANTICIPATE HUGE CROWD AT SATURDAY PARTY

Pep Club to Use Permanent Coliseum Decorations For Affair.

RED PERKINS WILL PLAY

Fraternities and Sororities Cancel Dances Planned for That Date.

With arrangements completed to use the permanent decorations in the Coliseum for the Corn Cob Frolic, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 13, officers of the pep club anticipate the largest crowd that has attended a university social function this season.

Red Perkins and his twelve colored musicians have been contracted for to play for the Saturday night frolic. The orchestra, which has been heard by many Nebraska students, has met very favorable response among university circles, members of Corn Cobs stated. The Dixie Ramblers, as the band is known, stated Irving Hill, president of the organization, "has been popularly received by Cornhusker students wherever it has entertained formerly."

Difficulties encountered with the faculty senate because proper reports of the party were not submitted were ironed out Monday when official sanction of the affair was granted.

Also several fraternity and sorority parties had been scheduled for the date of the Corn Cob Frolic their co-operation has been solicited, and despite the short notice given them by the Cobs, practically no other parties will be held on the campus that night. Originally the Barb council had planned an all-university party for that date, but plans were postponed to favor the Corn Cob party.

Use of the permanent decorations and the lighting effects facilitated in the Coliseum transforms the hall into a ball room equal to the finest in the middle-west, officers of the pep club stated.

DIRECTORY WILL NOT APPEAR ON SCHEDULE

Editor Postpones Publication Date Until Monday, October 16.

DELAY DUE TO PRINTING

Postponement of the publication date of the student directory was announced Tuesday by Robert Funk, editor and business manager of the publication. The book originally scheduled for release today will not be put on sale until Monday, Oct. 16 because of additional time required in printing and binding.

The cover of the directory as well as fraternity, sorority and faculty sections have already been run off, however, and the press and the advertising sections have been set up.

Typographical errors will be reduced to a low point this year, as a corps of expert typists has been employed to classify and correct the lists of names, Funk declared. In past years it has been the custom of the student directory to have student workers compile the list of student names but the use of trained stenographers is believed by the editors to be a decided improvement. By having workers on duty all the time it will be possible to have the names of the late registrants included.

The student section will include names, addresses, phone numbers, class year and fraternal affiliation of every member of the student body. Faculty section will give in addition to names and addresses of professors, their scholastic degrees. A special section will give lists of members of each Greek letter group.

"Those fraternities and sororities who have not called for their classification refunds must do so immediately," Funk said, "as it will be difficult to obtain them after Friday."

FIRST STUDY CENTER APPROVED ON MONDAY

Reed Announces Applications For Classes Coming In Rapidly.

Approval was given Monday to the first study center in Nebraska this year at Hardy, according to a statement made yesterday by Dr. A. L. Reed, director of the extension division of the university.

This is the second successive year that Nebraska has maintained these study centers supported by FERA funds. Cooperating in the enterprise is the Nebraska federal emergency relief administration, the state superintendent's office and the university extension division.

Dr. Reed stated that 200 centers will be established with an enrollment of about 2,000. Applications are coming in every day and centers are being organized as rapidly as possible.

Classwork is to be given in local schools and is especially arranged for those unemployed persons who might, under other conditions, find it possible to attend school regularly.

Returning from a visit with government heads in Washington, Dr. Reed reports that the study center arrangement is called the "Nebraska plan." Officials there said they have recommended the plan as desirable for all states.

PROF. STUFF TO OPEN Y. M. FIRESIDE FORUM

Speaker's Topic to Be What One's Value Standard Should Be.

Professor F. A. Stuff of the university English department will open the Y. M. fireside forum Wednesday evening at 7:15 with a talk on what one's standard of values should be. After analyzing several of the most prevalent ways of life in relation to the criterion of value on which they are based, Mr. Stuff will explain some of the modern standards of worth. In closing he will give his answer to the question which students confronted with Reed reports of the philosopher's ask, namely, "Which band wagon should I ride?"

Because the forum of a week ago brought out a number of diverse opinions on "What Is Truth," from among the forty listeners, the fireside hour tonight is to be spent on the related topic of values according to Mr. C. D. Hayes.
