From the remotest corner of the broad confines of the Big Six, all eyes are turned this week on Memorial stadium in Lincoln where Lynn Waldorf's Kansas State Wildcats, well in the clear and riding hard, will take the field against the defending Cornhuskers in an attempt to break the strangle hold Nebraska has had on loop title for several years.

consistently thumped Tiger were turned to cheers of genuine enthusiasm in John K. Sellen's big playground Saturday as the Showmen crossed a conference opponent's goal line for the first time this year. Rated as just so much more cannon fodder, the Carideomen fought like the jungle beast who's name they bear, and forced the Huskers to shift into high gear to count two touchdowns in the last quarter for a 13 to 6 win.

While balloons scudded away on the wind into the dusk of a November afternoon over Memorial stadium, Kansas State was decisively drubbing Iowa State's Cyclones at Manhattan. Wildcat publicity men have kept studiously quiet about what the boys were doing all afternoon while football practices were going on, and that old bromide about "deeds and not words" has been demonstrated once again to anyone who pays any attention to such demonstrations in these days.

Oren Stoner tossed two passes, one to Jimmy Freeland and another to Churchill for touchdowns in the first and third periods after little Leo Ayres had set the pins, and both conversions were made by Stoner. Edwards crashed for the third marker in the fourth when the Wildcat reserves have taken over things and pushed the Cyclones up and down the field.

For the third time in the past six years, the Soomers were held to a scoreless tie by the Oklahoma Aggies. The University boys drove often and deep into Aggie territory, but the Cowboys stiffened each time and took the ball. Michigan State, defeated only by Syracuse this fall, took to the air to count a 6 to 0 win over Kansas at Lawrence. Kurt Warmbein, Spartan triple threat ace, hurling to Eddie Kleewicki for the score. Mud handicapped both teams as the Jayhawkers turned in their usual sterling defensive game.

SPORTSING By LLOYD HENDRICKS

Nebraska had a close shave when they met the fighting Tigers from the sunny slopes of Columbia. Three quarters and at the end of that time it looked bad for Nebraska. However the Cornhuskers made a strong comeback in the fourth quarter, and poured in on the Missouri lads to score twice in almost as many minutes.

Minnesota continued to sweep all foes aside as it rode rough shod over a strong Wisconsin team that had only the week before defeated the unbeaten and untitled Illini. The score of the game was 34 to 0. Lund and Kostka continued on their road of fame.

This victory places Kansas State on par with Nebraska as far as honors in the Big Six race go. Both teams have won all of their games to date. Both teams have each other yet to play. A victory will spell Big Six championship for one while it will clinch second place for the other.

The main men to watch in the coming game Turkey Day with the K-Aggies seems to be the elusive Ayres who quarters the Aggie team.

Since his debut this season as a speed merchant de luxe he has been the star of every game that Kansas State has played. It has been his elusive open field running which has enabled the rest of the team to get where it is. Of course he has a lot of good help from the line but if he is allowed to get out into an open field he is a might—mighty, hard man to nail.

Nebraska B's more or less redeemed their stock this year at par value as they tromped over Kearney State Teachers by a score of 31 to 0.

Kearney Teachers were determined to win before the game, but after it was only two minutes old one could see that they had taken on too large a task.

While the victory was nothing to crow about seeing that Kearney occupies the lowest place in its own college conference it nevertheless gave quite a thrill to various members of the B squad who had not been able to win a game all season.

The B team engages the varsity freshman on Tuesday of this week in a scrimmage contest. Reports are that the Nubbins are out for a victory and are going to fight like mad to beat the frosh.

SPORT STATIC By ARNOLD LEVINE

About this time of year, coaches, backyard enthusiasts, and confident supporters, are always trying to foresee the chances of getting a winning football team for next year. Down at Norman they will have a sizable freshman football squad available, (provided by the bye, they pass their school work), to augment the loss of such Sooner veterans as Cash Gentry, Beede Long, Red Stacy, Jeff Coker, Art Pansze, Rob Robinson and Clay Chiles.

Among the freshmen who have shown aptitude at the backfield positions are Corbett, Breeden, Corrotto, Boudreau and Robinson. Linesmen who have done the same in the line include Walker, Ball, Bolton, Barnett, Gilbert, Niece, Willis, Anderson and Smith.

When Oklahoma comes up here next year we may recognize a few of these names in the starting lineups. Woe—Woah and Woe to "Old Know all about the forecast" Knox College. Their freshmen won a football game and it's the first time that any team sponsored by the college has been victorious since October, 1931. The Siwash pre-varsity men did what the varsity has been trying to accomplish for many a year. They beat the Monmouth frosh.

Mighty Stanford tore through the California Bears from Berkeley at the southern school Saturday and swept into the Rose Bowl limelight with a 9 to 7 victory. Quarterback Alustiza and Art Robert "Bones" Hamilton were the hotshots of the Stanford attack. Stanford's All-America fullback "Batterin' Bobby" Grayson was forced to leave the game late in the first quarter with serious injuries. It was a ball game from start to finish with neither team holding a decisive edge on the other.

Now that Stanford has been selected, or will shortly be selected as the western Rose Bowl team it remains only for some eastern aggregation to be invited. This will no doubt be Jock Sutherland's Pittsburgh Panthers. They have a good record again this year except for the defeat suffered in the last quarter of their game with Minnesota.

Alabama also looms as a possible nomination but then again they have never played Minnesota and a football team that hasn't done that this year just doesn't rate. Minnesota is of course the highly logical candidate for Rose Bowl honors, but due to some highly questioned Big Ten ruling they must stay at home and accept no post season frays.

There is a team in the south that Nebraska should be playing and that is the Auburn team from Auburn, Ala. They would add color to a football schedule. We see that next year they intend to play the University of Chicago. No definite plans have been made and it is probable that Nebraska could just as easily step into Chicago's shoes. They play the pick of southern university teams. Next year they are playing teams like Duke, Tulane, Tennessee, L. S. U., Georgia Tech, Florida and Georgia. They do not intend to schedule any game on their own campus next season and only two or maybe three tilts in the state.

Among the speakers on the three day program were two university graduates, Dr. Fred J. Kelly and Dr. George F. Warren, both now connected with the national government in Washington. Dr. Kelly of the federal educational department, in his speech showed the influence of federal departments and bureaus on the nation's schools and universities. Dean Ferguson declared, The speaker pointed out that federal activities in many ways are unintentionally affecting the operations and even the objectives of many of our educational institutions. For example giving incidents relative to student employment, course of studies, matters of citizenship and choice of colleges. Dr. Warren, class of 1897, spoke to the convention of various phases of the monetary situation. Dr. Warren is a professor at Cornell university and is now connected with the government in the study of the money problem.

Presided over by Dean Ferguson, the engineering section at the meeting gave considerable attention to affairs pertaining to engineering problems. The major topics of the meetings concerned the contacts between industry and engineering colleges, discussions of which according to Dean Ferguson, showed considerable cooperation between the two factions.
