KAGGIE-HUSKER RALLY TONIGHT HONORS SENIORS

Drizzle Forces Committee To Postpone Tuesday's Demonstration.

FORMS IN FRONT TEMPLE

Event Will Be Staged Despite Weather Nicklas Stated; Bible Will Talk.

Chilly drizzling rains Tuesday evening caused the student rally committee to postpone plans for a "Beat Kansas Aggies" pep demonstration, scheduled for 7 o'clock. At the same time it was announced that the rally would be held Wednesday night and at the same hour.

In honor of senior members of Coach Bible's Cornhusker grid team, Corn Cobs, Tassels, R. O. T. C. band and other students will assemble in front of the Temple for the pep show. Negotiations are being made to secure Grant Memorial hall for the rally, but committee members in charge were unable late yesterday afternoon to state definitely just where the rally would be held.

"We plan to form in front of the Temple and follow the usual route to 16th st., north to Vine, and west to the campus, providing weather conditions are good," stated Fred Nicklas, committee chairman. "If tomorrow night offers the same weather we have had today students are asked to meet at the Temple and we will go from there to Grant Memorial or Social Science auditorium," he said yesterday.

Planned originally for Tuesday night because many students expect to leave Lincoln during the day, tonight's rally is expected to draw a large crowd of Cornhusker football enthusiasts. This will be the last spirit campaign of the season.

Seniors who will be honored during the brief pep demonstration this evening are: Franklin Meier, Bud Parsons, Russell Thompson, Willard Horschem, Glen Justice, Neal Mehring, Walter Pflum, Glen Skewes, Ray Toman, Ed Uptegrove and Wally DeBrown.

D. X. Bible is to be principal speaker for the affair, but his senior players will each be called upon in their last appearance before their final collegiate competition.

Fraternity and sorority houses will be called this noon, to announce more definite plans for tonight's rally, it was learned. Every student who is still in Lincoln is urged to attend the bi-demonstration.

Kansas Aggie students have been stoking pep fires on their campus all week. They are intent upon wresting Big Six championship laurels from Nebraska. "If we want our team to retain the crown we've got to show them. Let's everybody turn out for tonight's rally," Irving Hill, committee member stated yesterday.

The rally will be finished before 8 o'clock, it was pointed out, so that it will not interfere with other plans for the evening.

No Frosh A.W.S. Meeting On Wednesday, Nov. 28

There will be no freshman A. W. S. meeting, Wednesday, at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall, according to Alaire Barkes, board member in charge of the group.

General Pershing Little Dreamed 42 Years Ago That His Picked Company Was Later to Become a National Unit

Forty-three years ago when General Pershing, then a second lieutenant in the Sixth Cavalry and professor of military science here, formed a picked company of men of the R. O. T. C. unit, little did he know that this was the beginning of a national honorary basic drill organization which would extend from New York to California and from Minnesota to Tennessee and would be named after its originator, "Pershing Rifles."

The following year, this company won a drill competition at Omaha, and in 1893 it became a fraternal organization bearing the name of "Varsity Rifles." The next year the group changed its name to Pershing Rifles in appreciation of the initiative and co-operation of Lieutenant Pershing.

When Pershing left Nebraska in 1895, he gave to the company a pair of his cavalry breeches. These breeches were cut into small pieces and were worn on the uniform as a sign of membership. These "ribbons" were the first service ribbons ever worn in the United States.

As the first Nebraska Volunteers thirty members of the Pershing Rifles enlisted during the Spanish-American war. W. H.

THANKSGIVING DECLARATION.

Each recurring year since that first day in 1620 when Governor Bradford issued the call bringing the Pilgrims together for prayer and thanksgiving we have been called together to give thanks for our many blessings. From the poverty and want that surrounded our pilgrim fathers we have come to opulence and wealth. We may not be individually wealthy, but we share the bounties of a society rich in material goods and rich in opportunity.

We may enjoy the comfort which invention and modern industry has provided for all, the culture of a modern city with its libraries, its churches, its magnificent capitol, its university. We have friends whom we enjoy, a family circle dear to us.

Most of all we have courage, optimism and buoyant youth, with which to face the future. The door of opportunity stands open to all who intelligently seek its portals. This is a land where by strenuous endeavor we may achieve. We have cause to thank God for all these blessings.

SCHOONER EDITOR TO ISSUE AUTUMN NUMBER MONDAY

Bookstores, Downtown News Stands to Handle Sale of Fall Issue.

FINISHES EIGHTH YEAR

Wimberly Announces Contest For Best Advertising Campaign Slogan.

The fall issue of the Prairie Schooner will make its first appearance next Monday afternoon, completing the eighth volume and year of publication, according to Prof. L. C. Wimberly, editor of the magazine. Copies may be obtained at college bookstores and downtown newsstands.

Plans for an extensive advertising program for the Schooner begin with this issue, including a subscription sales drive in charge of Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising sorority, and a prize slogan contest to be used in advertising.

A $7.50 cash prize will be offered for the slogan of about six words that best describes the purpose and place of the Schooner on the Nebraska campus. Contestants were warned by Wimberly to omit the word "literary" from their slogans, as it inferred that the magazine is of the "highbrow" type. He added that the slogan must be suitable for use in advertising.

Contributors from every part of the world as well as the Nebraska campus are featured in this number of the Schooner. A feature story describing Hollywood is contributed by Eleanor Alexander, a native of the movie capital. Rudolph Umland, of Eagle, formerly a student here, is the author of an article entitled "The Blessed Sweet Singer."

Weldon Kees, a senior in the school of journalism, contributed "Saturday Rain," and an article, "The Mountain Ballad," written by Prof. James M. Reinhardt of the sociology department is included in this issue.

In addition, Mary K. Rhodes of New Orleans, Warren L. Van Dine of Illinois, and K. C. Shelby of Tulsa, Okl., all add their talents to (Continued on Page 4.)

Make Up Important Says Charm School Lecturer Tuesday

"Charm consists of personality and personal make-up," stated Miss Agnes Schmidt, of the Agnes Beauty Shoppe, in her talk on proper coiffures and the proper use of cosmetics at charm school Tuesday night at Ellen Smith hall.

"Make-up has been used for 25,000 years. However, much progress has been made in improving the quality of the products used."

Miss Schmidt demonstrated the types of coiffures suitable to certain coeds at the meeting. Brilliants, beads, and metal ornaments will be popular this fall in evening hairdresses.

A night trip through the capitol is the tentative plan for the next meeting of charm school on Dec. 11.

Jean Doty, Dorothy Bartos, Jean Marvin and Hazel Bradstreet elected as chairmen of the charm school for the coming year will plan programs for the organization and preside at meetings. Ann Pickett and Muriel Hook will supervise the group with Miss Elsie Ford Piper as sponsor.

Instructor Speaks On Thanksgiving at Tuesday Vespers

Reading from Newton's "The Builders," and from "The Prophet" by Kahlil Gibran, Miss Pauline Gellatly brought thoughts on Thanksgiving to the vesper audience Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith.

From these quotations Miss Gellatly showed the meaning of Thanksgiving, and of a sense of giving, as well as of friendship, which motivates giving, and true education, thru which is seen the beauty of simple things. She was introduced by Dorothy Caters, who led the devotions.

Violet Vaughn led the congregation in several Thanksgiving hymns, and the choir sang a professional and recessional which blended in with the theme of the service. Announcement was made that the next vesper service would be held the Tuesday immediately following Thanksgiving vacation. At this time the vesper staff is planning to present the subject of "Peace."

3 AG TEAMS TO ENTER CHICAGO COMPETITION

Judges From 20 Mid-West Schools Will Vie for Honors at Contest.

ANNUAL MEET IS DEC. 1

Intercollegiate judging contest will draw three teams from the Nebraska Agricultural college to Chicago Saturday, Dec. 1, to take part in the annual contest. Teams in livestock, crop, and meat judging will try for honors with undergraduates from twenty mid-western universities.

The crop judging team sponsored by the department of agronomy will leave for Chicago Wednesday noon with the men from the animal husbandry department, entraining Thanksgiving evening. The team won second place at the annual Kansas City meet held this year.

The animal husbandry department decided Tuesday to send a livestock judging team of six members to the show. The men who will make the trip are Owen Rist, Louis Schick, Lyman Fowler, Walter Larson, and Neale Hall. The meat judges will be Howard White, Lyman Fowler, and Walter Larson, the latter two serving on the livestock team as well. The teams are expected back sometime Tuesday.

The agronomy club team composed of Roland Weibel, Roland Nelson, Robert Cushing, and Ray Pearson will compete Saturday in the Chicago contest. Dr. W. F. D. Keim, chairman of the agronomy department, is now in Washington, D. C., attending a conference on crop production, and will meet the Cornhuskers in Chicago the day of the judging contest. Other faculty members making the trip are R. H. Stewart, state extension agent in agronomy, and his assistant, D. L. Gross.

BARAGER TO ADDRESS PHYSICS COLLOQUIUM

Arnold E. Barager, research associate in the home economics department, will speak at the physics colloquium tonight on the efficiency of gas stoves. In his talk he plans to discuss the theoretical basis on which the stoves are judged commercially. Prior to his recent work in the gas field, Mr. Barager spent three years experimenting with electric stoves.

WILDCATS BRING SERIOUS THREAT

Huskers, After 19 Consecutive Big Six Victories, Make Final Defense of 3 Years Conference Supremacy Thursday as Kansas State Hopes for Crown.

VISITORS LAST STUMBLING BLOCK 1934 SEASON

Turkey Day Game Pits Two Strong Teams as Scarlet Foe Presents Formidable Opposition; Tarpaulins Protect Field From Continued Rains.

BY ARNOLD LEVINE.
Nebraska makes its final stand in defense of three years of unbeaten Big Six football Thursday, with Lynn Waldorf's Kansas State Wildcats, the pilgrims knocking on the gates for admittance to the magic room—the one reserved for champs. For three and one-half years Coach Bible and his Cornhusker crew of hope shatters have stormed their way through sixteen consecutive wins—a record for any conference.

The Kaggies from the south are a last stumbling block in the Husker's search for a new title, but they loom formidably in the path. They, too, are unbeaten in league competition, and won most of their games handily, but Nebraska is as determined to prove their superiority to the 1934 Big Six teams as is Kansas State to enjoy a title. The Kaggies have never partaken of the sweet fruit of a championship, and it usually has been Nebraska that kept them from it. As competitors, they are greatly respected by the Scarlet, whom they have held closer and more consistently than have other valley schools. It was a Kansas State team that, in 1930, knocked the Nebraskans out of participation in the title by plastering a 10 to 9 defeat on them at home. That was the last defeat suffered by a Nebraska football squad in Big Six games, although some Kansas State players have come mighty close to making history.

Kaggies May Make History.
Next Thursday, when the rest of the world is thinking about that big turkey just consumed, Lynn Waldorf's men may make history, according to the dope bucket. But where the dope bucket points against the Huskers, it has often been kicked about, and all those nicely propounded theories about who should win splashed about the gridiron. That has been the case too often this year for Nebraska fans to take any stock on what the experts say.

The Wildcats will yowl their way into Lincoln favorites, however, more on their showing against Iowa State while Nebraska was held to a single touchdown win by Missouri than from any previous prowess expressed. Their howls will be for Cornhuskers blood before the referee calls his men together, and after those two hours of pushing and shoving on the greensward they will be either silenced except for a few organized yelps when an over-enthusiastic (Continued on Page 3.)

FIVE MEN TO WORK ON VARSITY DEBATE TEAM

First Step of New Group to Be Preparation for Meet Jan. 7-8.

11 APPLY FOR POSITIONS

Five men were selected to work the second proposition for the varsity debate team, thru tryouts held at 8:30 in Andrews hall. The following men won places from a field of eleven contestants: Charles W. Steadman, Dwight C. Perkins, Herbert Kaplan, Harold C. Perkins, and Francis B. Johnson.

Each of the contestants spoke eight minutes, arranging his subject matter as to constructive and rebuttal material as he saw fit, the proposition being: Resolved: That the federal government should abandon the agricultural adjustment program after the crop season of 1935. Sides of the question and speaking order were determined by lot.

Judges, each a former debater or debate judge, were: Prof. T. J. Fitzpatrick of the department of botany; John A. Skiles, attorney at law; and Byron A. Yoder, realtor.

The first step the newly chosen team will take in preparing itself for the first debate Jan. 7-8, will be a meeting Tuesday, Dec. 4, to which the members will bring their briefs of argument used in the tryouts for criticism by the debate coach.

TASSELS PLAN AFFAIR FOR KANSAS PEPSTERS

Emily Spangaard in Charge of Special Luncheon Thursday.

Tassels will give a luncheon at the Ag college cafeteria Thursday noon for the forty-four Kaggie Purple Pepsters, who will arrive on the 11:15 train Thursday morning. The Purple Pepsters will be met at the train by the N. U. Tassels.

All Tassels who have cars are asked to call Janice Campbell, chairman of the transportation committee.

Emily Spangaard is the chairman of the committee which will have charge of the luncheon. She is assisted by Sancha Kilbourne and Mary Edith Hendricks.

Tassels will take part in the rally Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at Temple. They will meet at the south gate of the stadium at 1:30 p. m. Thursday to march in behind the band, and then will lead the Pepsters to their side of the stadium.

Condra Completes Paper On Drouth, Water Supply

Dr. G. E. Condra of the conservation and survey division has just completed a paper on the relation of drouth to the water supply in the state of Nebraska. This paper will be published in the near future as Bulletin 12 of the conservation and survey division.

Further announcement will be made of the place to which these things are to be brought.

The committee in charge of this campaign is Kathryn Winkulst, chairman, Doris Burnett, Mildred Holland, and Virginia McAdams.

GIRLS ASKED BRING ARTICLES FOR POOR

Y. W. Freshman Cabinet to Sponsor Christmas-Giving Drive.

All girls are urged to bring some article back with them after Thanksgiving vacation which they would contribute to the Christmas-giving campaign to be sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. freshman cabinet. Old toys, clothing, books, were suggested by committee members.

Further announcement will be made of the place to which these things are to be brought.
