DETROIT PASTOR WILL SPEAK AT UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION JAN. 15

Edgar Jones Talks on 'He Whom a Dream Hath Possessed.'

Edgar DeWitt Jones, pastor of the Central Woodward Christian church, Detroit, Mich., will speak at an all-university convocation to be held in the Temple building at 11 o'clock Tuesday, Jan. 15. His subject will be "He Whom a Dream Hath Possessed."

Rev. Jones, who is one of the outstanding ministers of the United States, and a student of the lives of Lincoln and Washington has held a pastorate at Detroit for 17 years. Before this he held pastorates in Bloomington, Ill., and in Cleveland, Ohio. He is coming to Lincoln for the Nebraska Pastors convocation, Jan. 14 to 16.

His appearance before the university audience is sponsored by the Council of Religious Welfare, of which Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college is chairman. Dr. A. A. Reed, University Extension bureau, is chairman of the special convocation committee of the council.

First announcement of the convocation was made at the publicity staff meeting, Thursday, Jan. 15, in Ellen Smith. Members of the staff are Miss Bernice Miller, Miss Lillian Eckblad, Mr. A. A. Reed and Mr. Henry.

MARVIN WILL ATTEND EDITORS' CONVENTION

College Daily Heads Meet in Washington, D. C. Dec. 28, 29.

Burton Marvin, Daily Nebraskan editor, will represent his publication at a two day convention of editors of college dailies in Washington, D. C., Dec. 28 and 29. Thirty-four other college newspaper editors will participate in the conclave.

The conclave, first of its kind, has been organized and arranged by Stanley S. Beaubaire, Stanford Daily editor, and has been scheduled for the purpose of discussing problems incidental to publication of college dailies. William Randolph Hearst is underwriting cost of the sessions.

In a letter to Marvin, Beaubaire stated, "We are to have some excellent guest speakers, outstanding American personalities, and will probably have an audience with President Roosevelt." A complete program for the conclave has been arranged.

Editors of the nation's thirty-five college dailies hope to improve the status of the papers they represent. They will lay plans for establishment of a permanent machine for exchange of feature and editorial material and discuss publication.

NEW YEAR REVEALS CALENDAR CRAMMED WITH MANY EVENTS

Resumption of School Offers Full Schedule for Students.

While all official activity at the university is suspended at Saturday noon, December 22, for the beginning of Christmas vacation, the calendar is crammed with happenings that will occur after classes resume at 8 o'clock on Monday, January 7.

On Saturday, January 12, Nebraska will meet Iowa State college in the season's second home basketball game, to be played on the Coliseum maples. The University of Kansas will play the Huskers at Lincoln on Tuesday, January 15.

Registration for resident students for the second semester will begin on Monday, January 14, and continue thru Saturday. During the same week, the University Players will present "Yellow Jack" at the Temple theater. The monthly Barb Council party is scheduled for Saturday, January 19, to be held in the coliseum.

First semester examinations will begin Thursday, January 24, and continue through Saturday, February 2. A mid-year frolic, held last year for the first time by Sigma Delta Chi, is tentatively planned this year for Friday, February 1 by the same organization. Registration for students entering the university at the second semester will also be held on Feb. 1.

After a basketball game with the University of Missouri on Saturday, February 2, the new semester will begin as classes open on Monday morning, February 4.

Unsettled Weather With Rain Predicted For Next Weekend

Travel may not be so pleasant during the coming week end, if weather predictions for that period come true. "Unsettled with probable rain or snow in central and southeast portions of the state" the word from the office of T. A. Blair, university meteorologist. Which means that Saturday, first day of winter, will probably enter in real wintry style, and home bound students will have another disagreeable vacation beginning.

Today, Dec. 21, is not only the last day of autumn, it is the shortest day of the year, and if that old adage "When the days grow longer, the cold grows stronger," means anything, there's chilly days ahead.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE PROBES ELIGIBILITY

Possibility Changing Rules To Be Investigated by Student Group.

A thorough investigation of rules concerning student eligibility in activities will be undertaken by a student council committee, it was announced Thursday following a meeting of the group at 4 o'clock.

Possibilities of effecting a reorganization of the regulations were discussed, and members of the faculty administration as well as heads of student organizations will be contacted in an effort to ascertain what changes would be most desirable.

Marion Smith, chairman of the committee, announced that immediately following the vacation, another meeting will be held, when members will report results of the investigation, and a tentative plan will be made. No final resolution will be drawn up until complete information has been secured, Miss Smith stated.

Mr. Kirkpatrick Attends Music Conclave Dec. 26-29

Mr. Howard Kirkpatrick is attending the Music Teachers' National Association meeting held in conjunction with the annual meeting of National Schools of Music, the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity convention in Milwaukee, Dec. 26 to 29.

HAWKEYES WIN IN EXTRA SESSION GO

Cornhusker Sections Close After Holidays

All pictures for the junior and senior sections of the Cornhusker must be taken before the end of Christmas vacation. All others taken after that time will be placed in an unclassified group at the end of the sections.

F. J. GUNTHER SPEAKER AT SIGMA TAU DINNER

Lincoln Man Tells Members Outlook for Engineers Better Than Ever.

SOCIETY INITIATES 13

Declaring that the future outlook for the engineering profession offers bigger opportunities than ever before for the young engineer, Fred J. Gunther, Lincoln, addressed members of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society, at their annual initiation and banquet, Thursday evening at the Lincoln hotel.

"Altho the engineering profession has been suffering the effects of the current depression, a turn for the better will soon arrive which will create a great demand for engineers," Mr. Gunther, assistant manager of the Iowa-Nebraska Power company, prophesied. "When business conditions swing back to normalcy, the first to go back to normalcy, those to lead in recovery will be the engineers, since industry without them can't operate."

In discussing his topic, "The Young Engineer," the speaker spoke of desirable traits and characteristics that the beginner in the profession should acquire in order that they might work more efficiently. Engineers should have a better understanding of our civic affairs and be better acquainted with our governmental functions, he related.

Additionally appearing on the evening program with extemporaneous speeches were L. W. Chase, '04, a charter member of Sigma Tau, and members of the faculty and of the society. Hugh Gray, Sigma Tau president, presided.

Y NEWS SHEET MAKES SECOND APPEARANCE

Students May Obtain Copies At Convenient Places On Campus.

The Y Husker, mimeograph news and editorial sheet of the Y. M. C. A., made its second appearance on the campus Thursday morning. Two hundred copies of the sheet were printed and will be available for students at convenient places on the campus. Copies were mailed to the larger Greek and boarding houses. The Y Husker, which contains Y news, editorials, book reviews, and potent quotations, is published for the purpose of reflecting the spirit of the Christian association.

The Y. M. program for the rest of the current semester was announced for the first time. Dr. R. A. Lyman will speak on "Men and Women Relationships" on Jan. 9; on Jan. 16, Dr. W. E. Walton will follow with "Mental Hygiene;" and Manuel Brown will close the series with a talk on the topic, "A Psychologist Looks at Religion," on Jan. 23.

The Y Husker staff includes Manuel Brown, editor; Grant McClellan, assistant editor; C. D. Hayes, Joe Nuquist; Lee Inouye, Charles Hulag, and Byrle Shuck aides.

Iowa University Quintet Conquers Huskers in 31-24 Battle.

2,700 FANS WATCH GAME

Iowa university displayed two great forwards to Nebraska Thursday night, played a hard, fast basketball game and trundled back to Iowa City the victors by 31 to 24 score. But not until a great Nebraska second half rally tied the score at 24 all when the final gun banged did Rollie William's Hawkeye hoop artists turn full heat on the Huskers. In the resultant five minute extra period, however, Iowa's Black and Old Gold struck swiftly for seven points and their win. The lads in the Red and White jerseys strove to overcome that lead, but their shots were hasty and wild where Iowa's had been precise and sure, and, scoring better than a point a minute, Iowa came away from Huskerland with their victory. Approximately 2,700 fans flocked to the coliseum to watch the first home game of Nebraska's current schedule.

A summary of the work of Johnny Barko and Sid Rosenthal, playing forwards for the Hawkeyes, is about a summary of what Iowa did to Nebraska. Add the work of Ivan Blackmer, lanky center, and the story is complete. To-

FOREIGN STUDENTS TO BE HONORED AT PARTY

Y. M., Y. W., Extend Special Invitations for Christmas Affair Tonight.

EVERYONE MAY ATTEND

All foreign born students in the university have received special written invitations to attend the Christmas party which is being given by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. in Ellen Smith hall Friday evening from 8 until 11 o'clock, according to Evelyn Diamond and William Newcomer who are chairmen of the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Miss Diamond also stated that all other university students who will be in Lincoln Friday evening are invited to attend.

Varied forms of amusement will be provided for the guests. The first hour will be spent playing table games. From 9 until 10 those present will be entertained by the presentation of skits of different foreign countries and during the last hour of the party the group will gather around the fireplace, sing Christmas carols, exchange small gifts and be served refreshments.

Guests will be greeted and introduced to each other thruout the evening by Dorothy Beers, Iris Knox, Edna Lee, and Alice Terrill who compose the hostess committee.

Students who attend are asked to bring a ten cent Christmas wrapped present, the exchanging of which will add to the gaiety of the occasion. Reservations for the affair can be made by calling either the Y. W. C. A. or the Y. M. C. A. offices.

THREE INITIATED INTO DRILL ORGANIZATION

Fall initiation of Pershing Rifles, national honorary basic drill organization, was held Thursday at 5 o'clock in Nebraska hall at which three new members were taken in. These men are R. Nollhamper, E. Real, and A. Stein.

The tryouts for admittance for freshman drill students will take place probably the first week after vacation, according to Elton Stedman, captain. The initiation was presided over by officers of the company assisted by the active members.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL from The Daily Nebraskan
