

CAMPUSOCIETY

WE COULD TALK ABOUT EXAMS—but we won't. Here's a better idea—something to do to help yourself recuperate from the strain of the next two weeks. It's been rumored that there would be a Mid-Year Frolic for some time but now plans are all made and all that's left for you to do is attend. Sigma Delta Chi has been fortunate in being able to obtain a well known NBC and CBC recording orchestra—none other than Ralph Bennett and his seven aces—"all eleven of 'em." This nationally famous band has played at the Cosmopolitan hotel in Denver, at the Muehlebach hotel in Kansas City, in Washington, in Chicago—in fact all over the United States. So it seems to us that you'll really be missing something if you don't plan to attend the Mid-Year Frolic.

MU PHI EPSILON, national honorary musical sorority, will entertain patronesses and guests at a tea and musicale this afternoon from three until five o'clock at the Alpha Xi Delta house, Irene Remmers, Betty Zatterstrom and Mrs. M. C. Lefler will take part in the program. Appointments at the tea table, over which Elizabeth M. Tierney will preside, will be in orange and yellow. The receiving line will be composed of Mrs. M. C. Lefler, Marjorie Shanafelt, and Marion Miller.

ZETA TAU ALPHA entertained at a house party at the chapter house Friday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. Byron Yoder, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bieberstein chaperoned. The committee in charge of the arrangements, of which Winifred McCall was chairman, was composed of Ruth Hutchinson, Geraldine Hunt, and Olive VanBoskirk.

THE MARRIAGE of Hilma Arma Anderson of St. Paul to Itoy Welsh took place January 16, Mrs. Welsh attended the university where she was a member of Delta Zeta and Phi Chi Theta, honorary business sorority. Mr. Welsh is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma. The couple will live in St. Paul.

SIXTY ORCHIDS, arranged as centerpiece for the several dinner tables at the Delta Upsilon formal dinner preceding the chapter's dance at the Cornhusker hotel Friday evening, were later given as favors to the girls. On the committee in charge of the arrangements were Gene Pester, John Jenkins, Dwight Perkins, and Charles Bursik.

TRI DELT'S will hold a buffet supper at the chapter house this evening at six o'clock at which their dates will be the guests of honor. About fifty couples are expected. Mila Bald is in charge of making the arrangements.

AN INFORMAL dinner was held Thursday evening at the Phi Mu house in honor of Harriet Cruise Kemmer, former university student and Phi Mu and now a nationally famous singer. About fifty pledges, actives, and alumnae attended. Table appointments were in rose and white. At the informal gathering following the dinner, Miss Kemmer sang a number of songs and visited with the girls.

RECENTLY Professor Lester B. Orfield of the college of law was appointed a member of the summer school faculty of the University of Michigan law school for

Among the many successful engagements to Bennett's credit are those at the Chase hotel in St. Louis; the Netherlands Plaza hotel, Cincinnati; the Book Cadillac hotel, Detroit; the Hotel William Penn, Pittsburg; the Muehlebach hotel, Kansas City, and appearances at the Iriquois Gardens, Louisville; the Alamo club, San Antonio, and the Adolphus hotel, Dallas.

Tickets on Monday. Tickets for the Frolic will go on sale Monday morning, according to Bob Bulger, chairman of the ticket committee. Tickets will be available thru all members of Sigma Delta Chi and also through representatives in the various organized houses and groups who will be announced Monday. Admission has been set at $1.10, including tax.

"The Mid-Year Frolic will truly be an event no one will want to miss," Nicoll declared. "It is the only informal major event between the Military ball and the Prom, and Sigma Delta Chi is making every preparation to make it the best event of the year."

TRACKSTERS GO THRU EXTENDED TRYOUT SESSION

Chapman, Haight, DuBois, Pankonin Lead Scarlet Cinder Trials.

PERFECTION IS THE GOAL

Schulte Grooms Speedsters For Style, Accuracy in Cyclone Meet.

Husker track prospects for the coming indoor season hit a new high Saturday afternoon as Henry F. Schulte sent his cinder charges through extended tryouts over the dirt track under the east stadium. Led by Kenneth Chapman, the former Wymore high hurdler, Standley Haight, DuBois sticstepper, and Les Pankonin, Louisville distance man, the squad of Scarlet scanty-clads turned in exceptional performances for their second tryout of the year.

Not all events were timed, and considerably more work was done than was recorded. Accuracy and style are the goals of Coach Schulte as he grooms his men for the opening meet with Iowa State here Feb. 9.

Chapman Captures Honors.

Chapman left the track with most of the individual honors of the tryout. In two races he flashed down the 50 yard stretch in 5.6 seconds, and took first place in the times made for 50 yard low hurdles with a 6.2. The latter is record breaking time.

Pankonin sailed over the 440 yard run in 54.9 seconds for a new seasonal record in this event and bearing lots of promise for the future. Haight was the busiest man of the afternoon, running two races against Chapman in the 50 yards, taking the highs, and lapping the oval in 39.1 seconds. Against Chapman, he ran second, but in the high hurdles beat Griffin in 6.9 seconds, placing himself as an outstanding candidate for varsity honors.

Funk Wins Half-Mile.

Glen Funk and Chet Beaver started the proceedings with a half mile race which Funk captured easily in 2:03.2. Funk started strong, piled up a lengthy lead, and then coasted in to the finish. Chapman captured the one heat in the 50 yard dash, with Dick Cockburn second and Les Pankonin capturing third honors.

Four heave yard low sticks were run off, Chapman and Haight staging two, and the Carroll twins combining on the other two. Chapman won both, Haight second, and Griffin third in the first race. He did not run the second. Linus Carroll didn't have much difficulty edging his twin Leon in their heats.

Haight, Griffe Take High Sticks.

The high stick races were staged in two heats, two men in each. Haight easily captured the first from Griffin, but the latter came back in the first to beat Linus Carroll.

Pankonin won a 440 yard race with Jack McGarraugh. The San Antonio lad was given a 10 yard lead at the start, and held it until the last 30 of the race, when he wilted and Pankonin came on in a big rush to win.

The field events didn't show the improvement noticeable on the track. The high jump was a draw between Ray Toman and McGarraugh at 5 feet 10 inches, same height reached in last week's tryouts. Martin was third at 5 feet 6. Three men topped twelve feet in the pole vault, Nichols, Cosgrove, and Willey all skimming the cross bar at 12-3. It was the first time for Wiley over 12, but Nichols and Cosgrove hit 12-6 last week.

Harold Jacobsen, with a slightly disturbed appendix, was out for drills and ran a few races but not against time. No changes were being taken with his welfare, and he was limited to two spurts down the straightaway and some training work around the track.

University Museum Receives Meteorite From Mrs. Doyle

Last month Mrs. E. L. Doyle of Heartwell in Kearney county read in the newspapers of the search for a meteor that had exploded over southeastern Nebraska on Dec. 12. She could not help in finding that one, but she did know of another which Mr. Doyle had found when he was shucking corn. So she sent it to the university museum for exhibit in Morrill hall.

Mr. Doyle found the meteorite several years ago, but as it was frozen in the ground he had to wait until the ground thawed. It had fallen some time after he had planted the corn, because the disc and lister would not have passed over such a large object, and the land had been under cultivation for forty years.

Very heavy for its size, the meteorite is composed of nickel and iron. It is in the shape of a pyramid, and the only eight by seven inches it weighs more than twenty-one pounds. On its surface are pits and holes, giving it the appearance of a chunk of slag or cinder. Probably this meteorite was complete during its fall because metallic meteorites do not explode, C. Bertrand Schultz, field man for the museum revealed. The molecules in these meteorites are so close together that the change in temperature does not bring the explosion, it was pointed out.

Explosion Heard 200 Miles.

Dr. E. H. Barbour, director of the museum, with Mr. Schultz recently published a bulletin on Nebraska meteors and meteorites in which they describe one which exploded over the panhandle region during the summer of 1933. Noise of the explosion was heard and smoke was seen as far as 200 miles away. Houses were shaken, dishes fell, and farm animals bolted and ran away. A small piece was discovered by searchers.

Homer Yohe, living southwest of Glen in Sioux county found a small meteorite that summer. He and his brothers were working in a potato patch when they thought they heard thunder. They noticed streaks of smoke, and heard "a stone strike the ground." Later Homer found the meteorite in the patch. This specimen is now in the University museum.

10-50 Miles a Second.

According to the bulletin "meteoric bodies of all sizes, from specks to large masses, are traveling thru outer space at velocities as high as 10 to 50 miles a second. Outer space in which they travel is as black as night, is intensely cold, being about 459 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, and is practically a vacuum.

"When one of these celestial visitors traveling in its regular and orderly course in space plunges into our atmosphere, there is instantly engendered a heat so intense that it burns off thin outer films of the meteoric body and causes the holide itself to explode, on the same principle that a cold tumbler plunged suddenly into hot water may snap. Small meteors are generally burned up and so do not strike, but the larger ones are not wholly consumed," the writers note.

Athletic authorities at Notre Dame have, on the other hand, tightened eligibility requirements for college athletes.

F. K. MOSTOFI TALKS ON MOHAMMEDANISM

Persian Student to Speak at Baptist Discussion Group Tonight.

All young people are invited to hear Fatullah K. Mostofi speak at the meeting of the Sunday evening discussion group at the First Baptist church, 14th and K streets, at 6:30 p. m. Sunday evening.

Mr. Mostofi, whose home is in Tabriz, Persia, will, in his address, speak about outstanding Mohammedan leaders and the effect of that religion.

This will be the second in a series of talks on the general subject of the influence of a person's religious beliefs in planning their life.

Devotions will be led by Miss Evelyn Whitnah and special music will be furnished by Robert Burdick who will play a piano solo.

Following the meeting a special social hour will be held during which Miss Elizabeth Cornell and Mr. Myron Jenkins will serve refreshments.

Another religious activity especially for university students is the meetings of the University class which are held every Sunday morning from 12 until 12:50 o'clock at the First Baptist church, with Rev. W. D. Bancroft as teacher. Today the subject under consideration will be, "The Beginnings of the Kingdom."

Enrollment at Los Angeles Junior college was so large this year, that police reserves had to be called out to keep students in line during registration.
