HUSKER CAGEMEN PREPARE TO HALT VICTORIOUS JAYS

Kansas U. Invades Coliseum Friday in Attempt to Repeat Win.

Returned from their disastrous invasion, or rather, attempted invasion, of the south country, Coach Harold Browne's Husker cage artists forgot the occurrences of the past Wednesday and turned to the task of preparing for the basketball business which holds the floor of the coliseum this Friday evening.

The Huskers, who left the capitol city last Thursday on their final road storming trip of the season, departed with a fifth-place combination with a possibility of improvement in their Big Six foothold. But the Brownemen failed to accomplish the necessary, and returned to their stronghold in a lower ranking than when they started. Losing two heart breaking games which spelled the difference between a fourth place position and the spot in the basement of the conference house, the Huskers were forced to accept the penalty for winning only one game in six league engagements and face Nebraska maples fans shamefacedly from the lowest position on the conference ladder.

Now Kansas, who took the wind completely out of the Scarlet basketball sails Monday night after Oklahoma had begun the operation the Friday evening before, returns to the Husker combination this Friday evening to threaten the Husker position once more. But this time the malintentions of the Jayhawk basketballers are doomed to certain failure, for there is no lower rung on the conference crossbar to which the Huskers may be relegated.

That is, there is no rung lower if the Brownemen lose; but there is no telling, as the history of the Nebraska standing this season indicates, just how a Nebraska team is going to act or react. The Huskers' quint which now guards the cellar spot of the Big Six, commenced the business of the year on the topmost height of the scaffold. Whether the Scarlet will continue to repose in the most undignified and undesirable position of the league is a matter of speculation. Suffice it to say, however, that the path of the Scarlet to higher strata is an extremely rough and difficult one and seems almost totally out of reach of the grasping Nebraskans.

The present status of the Big Six teams casts Kansas in first position, and gives Iowa State possession of the second rank by virtue of her overtime victory over the previously second place Oklahomans Monday night. Oklahoma holds to the third position and Missouri, Kansas State and Nebraska follow in order in the lower half of the recording.

Coach Browne directed his attention Wednesday to preparations for the arrival of the Jayhawks Friday night. The Husker cage mentor formulated an entirely new offense since the Husker degradation and familiarized the Scarlet maple men with the system in chalk talk before running thru it on the floor. After a session of free throw practice—a phase of the game which was a large factor in the undesirable outcome of the recent barnstorming tour—Coach Browne ran his Scarlet cagers thru defense and offense drills against the frosh, who used the Kansas defense against the veteran performers.

Professors Place Tax on Use of Book By Their Students

"I hope this doesn't make you poor. It's a cinch it won't make us rich." Few apologetic explanations given by professors-authors to their students—the potential book buyers—can surpass this comment of Prof. N. L. Hill, co-author with Prof. Harold Stoke of a new collection of readings in political science.

The book, published three weeks ago by Farrar and Rinehart, is titled "Background of European Government," and required for use in political science classes. Due to the limited size of its edition and the nature of the work, the price was necessarily out of the reach of the ordinary student. The authors met in conference, and decided that the only way the book could be brought into popular usage was the library method of finance, where each student contributes a sum to use one of the fifty copies on file in reserve.

Now two political science professors, with embarrassed grins on their faces, are saying, "I hope this doesn't make you poor. It's a cinch it won't make us rich."

CROWD EXPECTED AT CHARTER DAY PROGRAM FRIDAY

Dr. Avery received his bachelor of science degree from the university in 1892, a master's degree in 1894, and a doctor's degree from Heidelberg in 1896. Since that time he has been connected with the school almost continuously. He became head professor of chemistry in 1905, and in 1908 he was made acting chancellor, a position which he held until 1927 except for a few months' leave to take part in chemical warfare service. He is now chancellor emeritus and professor of research in chemistry, and continues actively at work.

Banquet Planned.
Plans have also been made for a banquet honoring Chancellor Emeritus Avery in connection with the celebration. It will be held at the University club at 7 o'clock on Feb. 15.

About fifty alumni clubs of the university located in Nebraska towns, and principal cities thruout the United States, have also made plans for charter day celebrations. Several members of the present university faculty are scheduled to speak at these celebrations.

TRICOLOR TRACK MEET HIGHLIGHTS CINDER TRYOUTS

Orange Team Takes Honors With Total Score of 74 1-2 Points.

DAWSON GETS 17 TALLYS

The center of attention of the Husker track universe was diverted Wednesday from the feats of the varsity scantlyclads and focused the spotlight on the tricolor cinder meet which took place on the dirt oval under the east stadium. Altho the disconcerting report came to Huskerland that Ayres, Kansas State's flashy half-back, who provided Nebraska with no end of football worry last fall, surpassed Carl Nichols' 13 feet 4 inch pole vault record with a 13 feet 5 inch vault in practice recently, and that Kansas State has an exceptionally good track team in general, Coach Henry F. Schulte decreed that the stadium track should feature the first tricolor meet of the season.

And it turned out to be a very successful track meet for the Orange, who took the high scoring from the two other teams of freshmen and non-fraternity performers and won the meet despite the efforts to the contrary of the Red and Green teams. When the final event was run off, the Orange stood triumphant with 74½ points to 65 for the Greens and 70½ for the Reds.

Altho the fray on the whole produced excellent times for an early season meet, several marks were outstanding. Turner's first place clocking of 5.6 seconds in the final heat of the 50-yard dash was exceptional, and Dawson's winning jump of 21 feet 4 inches was nothing to sneer at in a tricolor field. After the regular event was run off Gleisberg set the bar at 5 feet 10 inches and made it to take first place in the high jump field.

Dawson amassed 17 points, taking first place in the 440 yard run and broad jump, and second place in the 50 yard lows to lead the high scorers. Frank compiled 15 points to run Dawson a close second, beating the latter to the tape in the lows, taking another first in the 50 yard highs, and placing third in the high jump. Dodd gathered 14 markers in the pole vault, skimming the bar at 11 feet 11 inches to take first honors, adding a second in the broad jump and a fourth in the lows. Andrews stood fourth in the list with 12 tallies as a result of first place in the mile and half mile.

First places were good for six points, seconds for five, third for four, fourth for three, fifth for two, and sixth for one. The meet was the first of a series of seven which will be held thruout the semester to determine the winners of the tricolor medals. The second will be held in two weeks.
