

CAMPUSOCIETY

DUST STORMS MAY COME, AND dust storms may go, but that good old event, Co-ed Follies, goes on forever. Sponsored by A. W. S., and put on with the co-operation of "Greek" and "barb" groups of the campus, the show is the occasion of the year for style minded girls of Nebraska U. Models from each sorority wearing their own favorite costumes, ranging from riding clothes to spring party dresses, and the selection of the best dressed girl of the university are features of the Follies, and you may be sure that practically every girl on the campus turns out for the performance. If you want good, sound advice on the choosing of a spring wardrobe appropriate for every occasion, it would pay you to be at the Temple March 29 for the Co-ed Follies.

MARRIED Sunday afternoon at the Prairie Union church Adeline Morris of Stella, and Kenneth Beutler of Falls City. Attending the bride were her sister, Aleta Jane Morris, and Helen Ruth Thomas, and best man for the groom was Norman Schober. Mrs. Beutler is a former student of the university, and Mr. Beutler is a S. A. E. here. The couple will live in Falls City.

ARRIVING NEXT Monday from Chapin, Illinois to visit the local chapter for a few days is Miss Amy B. Onkin, national president of Pi Beta Phi. Miss Onkin is a past president of National Pan-Hellenic, and has been recognized as one of the ten most outstanding "Greeks" of the country. TO HONOR Miss Onkin during her stay here, the alumnae advisory board will entertain at luncheon at the University club Tuesday noon. Members of the board are Mrs. Earnest Walt, Mrs. Gordon Luikart, Miss Cynthia Tupper, Mrs. Stephen Cory, Mrs. Richard Kimball, and Mrs. Florence Bates. And Wednesday afternoon, at the chapter house, a formal tea in honor of Miss Onkin will be given. Bids to the affair have been sent to the president and house mother of other sororities and fraternities, and to prominent alumnae in Lincoln, and members of the Pan-Hellenic board. In the receiving line will be Calista Cooper, president of the chapter, Miss Onkin, Miss Anne Stuart, Mrs. Jewel Petermichel and Mrs. E. B. Ames.

AND ANOTHER prominent Greek in town for a few days is Miss Zoe Gore, province deputy of Delta Delta Delta. Miss Gore, who arrived in Lincoln last Monday, was entertained Tuesday evening by the officers council of the alliance at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Keefer.

THE CHIEF'S little red roadster and four hook and ladder trucks came to answer the false fire alarm turned in the night of the Chi Phi Fireman's ball by some more fun loving, traced the call to the chapter house, and now the brothers are eyeing Clayton Schwenk with no little suspicion.

NEW PLEDGES of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are Whitney Drayton and Eugene Showalter, both of Lincoln.

MARRIED August 23 in Bel Fourche, S. D. were Irma Mick and Emmett H. Benson of Lincoln. Mr. Benson has attended Nebraska, and is a member of Farm House.

IN TOWN during spring vacation is Arnetta Becker, former university student, and member of Alpha Phi, who has been attending the University of Minnesota.

WE MIGHT add that pseudo-pin hanging at the Pi K. A. house last Sunday night was a big mistake. She was just trying it on to see how a fraternity pin looks on the front of a dress, and with no intentions of any kind directed toward anyone. Apologies to Miss Nye from the society department.

PLANS FOR a banquet to be held April 5 will be made at the Barb A. W. S. meeting tonight at Ellen Smith. Seven girls, to be in charge of the arrangements for the affair will be elected, and announcement of leaders for next year will be made.

"ELEVEN o'clock, and all is well, there is no God like Allah, Allah," shouted pledges of a certain house nightly this week. All was well until a police car cruising in the neighboring vicinity stopped to investigate. The sending of the call to the faithful by Muezzin Smith suddenly ceased as the policeman rounded the corner to the tower in the chapter house, and quiet reigned—enforced quiet that rather cramped the style of the actives who had thought of the disciplinary measures.

TODAY DEADLINE FOR CERES AWARD FILINGS

Scholarship Applicants to Appear Before Judges March 26, 27.

Deadline for turning in applications for the senior woman's scholarship of $25 being offered by the Ceres club of the college of agriculture was set for today, according to Mrs. M. H. Swenk, 1410 No. 37th, to whom the candidates must present their applications. Blanks may be secured at the office of Dean W. W. Burr or Miss M. S. Fedde, chairman of the home economics department, on the ag campus. "This is the second annual scholarship to be awarded by the club," declared Mrs. Swenk, "and final decision of the committee on the prize will be governed by merits of the candidates. Scholarship will weigh most heavily in helping the board to choose the winner, but meritorious efforts in school activities will be given proper attention and are of importance." Between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. on Tuesday or Wednesday, March 26 or 27, applicants are requested to call at the home of Mrs. Swenk for a brief personal interview with the scholarship committee. At this time each applicant must present her university credit book for examination by the committee. Other members judging for the club are Mrs. Paul Stewart and Mrs. H. Clyde Filley.

It's an ultra-short wave radio telephone antenna—before being raised above the dunes of Cape Cod.

For some years, Bell System engineers have been studying ultra-short waves. They have developed automatic transmitters and receivers which may be connected with regular telephone lines at points far from central offices. They hope such radio links will be useful in giving telephone service to points difficult to reach by usual methods.

The installation on Cape Cod—which is now undergoing service tests—is just one more example of Bell System pioneering in the public interest.
