Sage of San Simeon Battles To Defend the Constitution

By ED MURRAY.

In a little noticed journalism book of a decade ago in probably a less read chapter a statement is made to the effect that if the American public possessed the faculty of remembering just a very little of what it reads in newspapers, William Randolph Hearst would have ballyhooed himself into obscurity upwards of a score of years ago.

John Strachey, English writer upholding communism, who attempts to answer the question "Should I be deported?" in this month's Scribner, says that as a national, grown men and women of the American public should be allowed to examine our present system, to study all the various theories which have been put forward to explain the workings of that system, and decide for themselves whether or not the system will in future serve their needs.

Under the direction of Margaret Philippe, the vespers choir will sing the processional, and a special Lenten hymn, suggested at the young people's meeting at Kearney last month, will be sung in union at the close of the meeting. This is the fourth of a series of addresses given weekly throughout Lent.

SENIOR GROUP TO MAKE PLANS FOR CLASS FUNCTIONS

Organization Leaders Name Committee Members Tuesday.

The senior committee on class organization will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the student council rooms in University hall to make further arrangements for the plans discussed at the senior mass meeting which was held last Thursday, according to Don Easterday, class president.

The main business that the group will undertake will be the appointment of certain sub-committees to aid in the work at hand, it was announced. It was intimated at the all-senior gathering that these committees, if appointed, would probably consist of representative from various campus organizations and fraternity and sorority houses.

"If we are to take definite steps toward the attainment of complete unification," President Easterday stated Monday, "we must begin working immediately. If this year's senior class is to have a prom, a banquet, and such other activities as it desires, we cannot waste any time. After all, there are only two months left in which we can stage our functions. Our first step will be to outline the plans we are considering and then to prepare a means by which we can secure the cooperation of every senior in the university."

CORN COBS TO HOLD SECOND INITIATION Ceremony Will Be Held For Members of Nine Groups.

Because they did not initiate men in the recent Corn Cob initiation, several fraternities will be declared inactive in the organization, Irving Hill, pep club president stated yesterday afternoon, Strachey explained that he believes his case involves the whole issue of freedom of speech irrespective of his personal problem of deportation. He admits that his account of the capitalistic system is critical, but he says that at present it is not a crime to criticize the present system in the United States or England. Along with the majority of writers on the subject, Strachey sees in Hearst's action the attempt to Hitlerize the American people.

SPECIAL COUNCIL GROUP DISCUSSES M. I. T. BOOK PLAN

Massachusetts Institute of Technology Submits Its Set-Up.

Furthering the quest of a plan suitable for a Nebraska second hand book store, the special committee of the student council yesterday analyzed the method that has been successfully employed by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the past twenty years.

The M. I. T. book exchange is operated by the Technology Christian association on the Cambridge campus. According to a letter received by the council from the Massachusetts book exchange, used books are placed on sale by the store for a price named by the student selling them. The price asked must not exceed two-thirds of the original cost of the book.

Students call at frequent intervals to see if their book has been sold and if the sale has been made the student is paid that amount with a certain deduction if the department is self supporting. If the book fails to sell the student may reclaim it or allow the book to be sold at the annual sale held by the bookstore.

HONORARIES NAME MEMBERS TODAY

Dean Boucher, Chicago U, Speaker Joint Convocation Of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi This Morning In Temple Theater Auditorium.

ANNUAL BANQUET TO BE HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

Boucher Discusses College Curricula and Chicago Plan In Speeches Here; Has Published Extensively In Historical and Educational Fields.

Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, national honorary scholastic and achievement fraternities, will announce their new members at a joint convocation Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in Temple theater, Dean C. S. Boucher of the University of Chicago will be speaker for the occasion, his theme, "The Form and Content of the College Curriculum."

Prof. J. P. Guilford, president of Phi Beta Kappa, will preside over the convocation, which is being sponsored by the two honor societies. The program will include a statement of the purposes of each organization by Professor Guilford for Phi Beta Kappa and Prof. D. A. Worcester for Sigma Xi. The announcement of new members will be made by Prof. Emma N. Anderson, secretary of Sigma Xi, and by Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, secretary of Phi Beta Kappa.

Selections of new members of Phi Beta Kappa has been made on a scholastic basis primarily, the lists usually being taken from the range of one-sixth to one-tenth of the members of the senior class who have completed the group requirements of the Arts and Science college. Sigma Xi membership places special emphasis upon interest and ability in carrying on independent scientific research, in addition to high scholarship records.

Another address to be given by Dean Boucher will be before the annual Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi joint banquet to be held Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the university club. The University of Chicago dean will discuss "The Elements of the 'Chicago Plan,'" a recent college curriculum system which he helped to formulate and which has received considerable attention and discussion by leading educators. Several members of the faculty of the university have discussed the possibility of introducing the system here, and it is asserted his discussion of the plan will be of considerable interest.

Boucher Publishes Much. Dean Boucher has published works extensively in both the historical and educational fields, serving as professor of American history at the University of Chicago. (Continued on Page 2.)

NATIONALLY KNOWN ARTISTS TO DIRECT MUSIC CONVENTION

Round Table Discussions Will Be Featured at Teachers Meet.

Several artists of national fame will be in charge of the various sessions of the Nebraska Music Teachers' association which is to be held in Lincoln Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 3 and 6. At this seventeenth annual convention, an open forum plan of round table discussion is being introduced.

Under this plan, any member of the organization may submit any question of general interest to any speaker on the program. The questions must deal with the address being given. A sifting committee will sort these questions and give them to the special leader. The questions will be answered during or after the given address.

If no questions are handed in, the leader may prolong his address according to his pleasure. All questions must be handed to the secretary, Hermann T. Decker, the day preceding the address, and must be typewritten. No discussion from the floor is to be permitted.

Among the outstanding speakers will be Hans Barth, a pianist from New York City, who will present a recital and will discuss piano music for the early grades. Madame Maia Bang, violinist of New York City, who was for twenty-five years violin assistant to the celebrated Leopold Auer, will speak. John Wilcox, from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago will talk at the vocal section meetings, and Gail Martin Haake, also of the American Conservatory, will conduct three daily sessions.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL VOTES ON RUSH RULES

Fall Rushing to Begin Sept. 12; No Definite Summer Plans Arranged.

Dates and hours for the fall rush parties were voted on at the regular meeting of the Panhellenic Council, Monday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. With rules for the fall rushing determined, the council began the discussion of summer rushing rules. Miss Kate Field, Panhellenic secretary, announced that a special meeting of the council would have to be called before the summer rules could be definitely determined.

VOTE SCHOLARSHIP CUPS

With the fall rush week beginning September 12, the council voted on the hours for the parties, with the following results: Thursday, Sept. 12, one party from 3 to 5 o'clock; one from 6 to 8 and one from 9 to 11; Friday, Sept. 13, one from 3 to 5; from 4 to 6 and from 8 to 10; Saturday, Sept. 13, one from 9 to 11, and another from 12 to 2, with the preference party in the evening. Out of the eight parties allowed during the week, each sorority can give seven, and each rusher is allowed to attend eight.

The council also voted to change the size of the bids from the larger size used for several years to a smaller size. Among the changes in the summer rushing rules which were proposed was a rule to limit summer rushing to one month.
