By ARNOLD LEVINE

Johnny Williams no more than got thru with having his appendix out than the medics had him under observation for a sore shoulder. It seems he collided all too vociferously with a Missouri footballer last fall. John left the game, and that shoulder hasn't healed yet. If it isn't one thing, it's another, but he claims he'll be in there pitching next fall.

Husker baseballers turned the tables on Kansas State last Saturday and retaliated for an unmerciful, one-sided pounding with a one-point victory. Which just goes to show that a Husker isn't down until he's dead and Big Six foes are still looking for a dead one.

Coach Henry Schulte has been worrying and worrying over prospects for a winning squad this spring, and the weather has added another cause for misery. The Husker scantyclads just can't get out to do any work, and with a triangular meet coming up Saturday, there's cause for worry in Nebraska cinder circles. The Jayhawks aren't looked to for much opposition, but the defending Big Six indoor champs, Kansas State, look like in the money.

OL' MAN WEATHER STILL TROUBLING PA'S TRACKSTERS

Outdoor Training Hindered by Elements; Drills Continue.

MEET SCHEDULED MAY 4

Huskers Trek to Manhattan For Triangular With Wildcats, Jays.

The gods of the weather domain certainly don't intend to grant Henry F. Schulte, the man who guides the destiny of Nebraska's track machine, any concessions. Following an entire spring practice session in which track operations on the Memorial stadium oval were hampered by chilly weather unsuitable for sensitive running muscles, the ruler of the Scarlet track fortress had hoped for a more agreeable week in which to prepare for Kansas State and Kansas university Saturday afternoon at Manhattan.

But when the Husker cindermen returned from the Drake relays and started to work again Monday afternoon, Old Man Weather started right in with his meddling. And Tuesday the unwelcome guest gave the Schulte scantyclad regiment another dose of chilly winds, preventing them from working out to best advantage.

Practice Goes On.

Nevertheless, spike slinging operations on the stadium oval and field performances on the practice turf south of the playing field go with their usual enthusiasm. The recollection of a five-point defeat handed to the Huskers by a Wildcat relay team after the score had been tied at 49-all in a Husker-Kaggie indoor meet last March is still calling for Kansas State blood. And if some twenty Cornhuskers have their say, Wildcat and Jayhawk are going to depart from Manhattan this Saturday nursing a Husker victory.

Kansas university, minus Glenn Cunningham, seems destined for a grip on the lower end of the scoring with outstanding threats confined to the shot putting arm of Elwyn Dees and the pole vaulting ability of Noble. Dees copped the shot competition at both the Kansas and Drake relays, shoving the iron ball out 51 feet 3 inches at Laurence for a new carnival record.

Francis, Rist Shot Putters.

Giving the Jayhawk a race in the shot will be Owen Rist, Humboldt, and Sam Francis, Oberlin. Kas. Rist finished third at the Kansas relays with a mark of 47 feet 1-2 inches, his best performance this year. Francis, who stood third in the money at Des Moines Friday, was unable to better his mark of 47 feet 8 1-2 inches, and fell to fourth place in the finals.

Noble brought home the pole vaulting competition at the Kansas Relay festival, skimming the bar at 13 feet 5 inches to win. Sherman Cosgrove, Nebraska's vaulting delegate, finished in a five-way tie for third place at 12 feet 6, but elevated his altitude to 13 feet at Des Moines. A half dozen competitors cleared the bar at 13-2 however, and Sperm was shoved from the money.

K-Ags Favored in Hurdles.

Leon and Linus Carroll, Standley Haight, Lloyd Cardwell, and Kenneth Chapman comprise the Husker hurdling artists who will fight it out with Joe Knappenberger of Kansas State in the high and low sticks. Knappenberger dropped a hurdle in front of Linus Carroll in the 120 yard high sticks at Laurence, and was forced out of the Drake competition. Whether he will be able to run in the tri-meet this Saturday will have a good deal to do with Kansas State's final recording. The Wildcat ace swept both the highs and lows in the Big Six conference meet at Columbia last March.

Scarlet hopes in the sprint events center around Harold Jacobson, Trenton, Mo. speed merchant. Jacobson will be competing in the open hundred for the first time this season, an injured leg muscle keeping him out of the century in the relays. Other speedsters counted on to shine in the dashes are Lester Pankonin and Leonard Rall in the 440, and Chapman and Cardwell in the two shorter races.

It's Funk, O'Reilly in Mile.

Glenn Funk, Central City, and Justice O'Reilly, Kansas State's crack miler, are slated to wage a vendetta all their own in the distance events. Funk, who has competed in only one race this year, poor starts in the distance relay events giving him no chance to run the anchor lap, took a second in the 1500 meter run at Laurence. Chet Beaver also looks well in the 880, but will find O'Reilly, and Nixon, another Wildcat marathoner, tough assignment.

Lloyd Cardwell and Bob Warnke, Milford sophomore, reeled off final performances in the broad jump last week, which however, were not quite good enough to place. Cardwell spanned 24 feet 2 3-4 inches to barely miss qualifying, while Warnke followed close by with 23 feet 10 1-8 inches. Warnke managed a third at the Lawrence contest, which Pitts of Kansas won with a jump of 23 feet 10 3-8 inches.

Ray Toman and Lester McDonald, who is also being groomed for the weights, cleared six foot in the high jump at Des Moines, but failed to place.

Fanning of Kansas State will furnish Francis and Rice the main competition in the discus, while Fred Chambers, Minatare javelin hurler, is expected to sweep the spear event. Chambers made over 200 feet early last spring, but an injured shoulder failed to respond to treatment and his mark of 182 feet at Drake was not good for a place in the finals.

BETA THETA PI LEADS IN INTRAMURAL RACE FOR SCORING HONORS

Track Victory Places Beta Ahead; Sig Alphas Hold Second Position.

Beta Theta Pi amassed a sufficient number of points in the track events to emerge victorious in the fraternity intramural track meet and add enough points to its present sport total to become the all-sport leader in tabulations thus far. They took advantage of a fair Sigma Alpha Epsilon showing in track to replace them as all sport leaders.

The Betas amassed a total of 17,201 1-2 points in track and field to lead over a two thousand point lead over the A. C. R.'s second place winners who totaled 15,058 points. These two fraternities were followed by the following fraternities in the following order: Farm House, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Xi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Phi Delta Theta.

The best individual performance was Dick Fischer, Pi Kappa Alpha flash. Fischer won the 220 in 23.3 seconds, and the broad-jump with a leap of 20 feet 7 1-2 inches. He was second in the 100 doing it in 10 seconds flat.

The outstanding performance of the meet however was Noble Ayres 9.9 performance in the century, a notable achievement even with the aid of a wind at his back. Gish of the Beta house won the 110 low hurdles in 13.3. In the field events the high jump had a three way tie at 5 feet 7 inches. Watkins of Pi Kappa Alpha, Ewing of Alpha Tau Omega, and Jenkins of Tau Kappa Epsilon tied. Nelson of A. G. R. won the discus throw with a best toss of 112 feet. Shirey of Acacia put the shot 39 feet 1 inch.

"It is my hopes that sufficient determination can be instilled in you students so that after graduation, you can be called upon to help the school in any manner in years to come," said the energetic alumni head. "When I see students signing pledges not to take up arms for our country, I pray that the militant spirit shown in some European countries might be displayed here. It is impossible for a government to survive unless the people are willing to work and cooperate," he declared.

Urging that the fraternities seek out those students who are not financially able to participate in social and fraternal life and invite them to dinners and social activities, Dean T. J. Thompson stated in his remarks, which open the speakers' program, that the only justification for taking part in enterprise is the satisfaction gained from doing others good. He commended the fraternities upon their improved position financially and actively, and the members upon their loyalty and enthusiasm.

Dean Thompson was introduced by Ramsay as the "kind of man you would like to go to," and as the man "who was dean of men but didn't like to be restricted."

The setup of the Alumni Board of Control, organized only a year ago but already deemed a successful experiment, was discussed by Claude S. Wilson, prominent Lincoln lawyer and head of the board. He stated that the purpose of the group is to put the fraternities on a sound financial basis and that this can be accomplished only by co-operation.

"Do your part, and we'll do more than ours," the prominent Lincoln attorney emphasized.

That the fraternities should try to improve the product that they have to sell in all phases, socially, actively, and financially, was the suggestion offered by Dean W. C. Harper in his talk.

With figures showing that 88.5 percent of the fraternity men have participated in intramural competition this year, Director Fetz discussed the greatly improved health of intramural athletics, and the value that is derived from participation in the way of group cooperation as well as individual physical condition. He stated that the Jack Best award to the fraternity gaining the most points in intramural contests could not be awarded until the completion of this year's program on which remains horseshoes, baseball, and golf.

The following trophies were presented: Touch football, Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Class A basketball, Phi Kappa Psi. Track, Beta Theta Pi. Basketball free throw, Delta Tau Delta. Handball, Sigma Alpha Mu. Rifle shoot, Beta Theta Pi.
