JENKS, SUMPTION STAR IN PLAYERS' LAST PRODUCTION

tony" and "Brutus." Marcus Brutus, played by Hart Jenks, is an outstanding character. His henchman, "Cassius," played by Irving Hill, is also a figure of fiery declamation.
"Marcus Antonius" is effective, as portrayed by Armand Hunter as the handsome and wily soldier. Sid Baker as "Octavius" is the young general with the forces of "Marcus Antonius." Altho this is primarily a man's play, the two girls in the leading roles do effective bits of work in their very brief appearances. Mary Kay Troop McDonald as "Portia," wife of "Brutus," is made up more matornly, and attired in a Nile green gown. "Calpurnia," the young wife of Caesar, played by Dorothy Zimmer, is dressed in a white gown with silver trimming. Each of them plead with their husbands for their own good, "Calhurnia" begging "Caesar" to remain home from the capitol on the fatal day, and "Portia" imploring "Brutus" to confide in her, his problems.

UNDER A STRAIN?...

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

FREDERICK HEATH—MEDICAL. Heath says: "I'm in first year of medical school now, with the idea of specializing in neuro-surgery. Anatomy 'lab' takes three afternoons a week. Tuesdays and Thursdays—embryology. I spend three mornings a week on bio-chemistry, three on physiology 'lab' and lectures. And I have to face an exam in about one subject per week. I relieve the strain by smoking Camels. I prefer Camels, because when I'm feeling tired or distracted they unlock my supply of energy—soon refresh me. Camels are extremely mild. Not just mild-tasting, but really mild. They never tire my taste or get on my nerves. Camels taste so good 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'"

SOCIAL LEADER. "The minute I begin to feel tired, I stop and smoke a Camel," says Mrs. Ludlow Whitaker Stevens, of New York. "Fatigue disappears. It's remarkable the way Camels renew your energy."

STAR PITCHER. "I like Camels, and I've found that after a hard game a Camel helps me to get back my energy," says Carl Hubbell, star pitcher of the N. Y. Giants. "Camels are so mild they never ruffle my nerves."

MILLIONS MORE PAID FOR FINER TOBACCOS!
