

FINAL EDITION OF AWGWAN WILL GO ON SALE MONDAY

Humor Magazine Features Page of 'the Dully Nebraskan.'

JOHNSON WRITES VERSE

Gore, Editorials and Usual Variety of Subjects Fill May Issue.

Searing satire, gory gossip and humor are packed in the pages of Awgwan's final issue, the May number which will be on sale Monday morning.

A two-page spread of "The Daily Nebraskan," rapping the newspaper's trite expressions by ridiculous parodies, is hailed as the magazine's salient feature by Editor Alice Beekman.

Editorials, features, and even the cover reflects the staff's sorrow in suspending publication for the year. The tintype cover, drawn by Alan Parker, illustrates the Awgwan family, caricatures of staff members as stage troupers, making their farewell appearance.

Transmigration of campus souls is illustrated in a page of animal cartoons, depicting various well known characters as they would appear after death.

"Brothers in Mu Lambda Mu," pathetic blank verse by Maurice Johnson, describes the death of Henry Whipple, victim of nefarious probation practices.

"Be Your Own James Joyce," by Maurice Johnson and Weldon Kees, and "There Is No Place Like Nebraska," by Howard Dobson, are the two fiction contributions. "Faculty Minds at Work," this time edited by an accredited alias, has devoted a special column to Dr. Elda R. Walker, entitled "Botany Bon Mots."

"Do It In Style," the latest in feminine fashions, is contributed by Lois Rathburn. "Gore," and a column of editorial comment conclude the contents of the May issue.

GOV. ROY L. COCHRAN STRESSES VALUE OF ENGINEER'S TRAINING

Speaker at Banquet Friday Discusses Relief Project.

Stressing the value of an engineering education not only as a technical subject but also as a fine mental training in any line of work, Gov. Roy L. Cochran addressed those attending the engineers' banquet Friday evening at the Lincoln hotel.

Principal speaker at the final event on the engineers' week program, Governor Cochran pointed out that "engineering courses teach a person first to determine all the facts of a certain problem, and second, knowing these, he can reach a conclusion very close to being correct. An engineering education gives the student something more than just a technical education, in conditioning and developing his mind to a practical extent."

The speaker also discussed the part of the engineer in the present campaign in bringing work to the unemployed. Of the $4,800,000,000 being spent by the government for relief, the engineer is handling over fifty percent of the funds for projects. According to observations made during his public career, Governor Cochran stated money handled by the engineering profession was most wisely and most

NEXT SEMESTER REGISTRATION TO OPEN TOMORROW

Students Must Confer With Advisors by Noon May 11.

Early registration for the 1935 fall and winter semester for all students enrolled in the university during the current semester will start on Monday, May 6. The spring registration requirements must be complied with by all students expecting to take work at Nebraska next fall on pain of paying the late registration fee, according to information from the registrar's office.

The period designated for conferences with advisors is from Monday, May 6 until Saturday, May 11 at noon. The procedure consists in obtaining of identification cards and in presenting these at the advisor conference for arranging schedules. Completed applications for registration must be left with the deans of the respective colleges for approval. Students who do not meet this routine before noon on May 11 will be charged the late fee.

The university bulletin states that fees may be paid either by mail or in person; and must reach the finance secretary before September 5, 1935. The deadline date is extended to Oct. 5 for graduate students and Lincoln city teachers. Students whose fees are not paid by Sept. 5 will also be required to consult the assignment committee. Since the statement of fees will be mailed to each student during the summer, the registrar's office urges that all students give their vacation addresses. Students not receiving these fee notices before Aug. 14 are asked to notify the finance office, in order that the matter may be taken care of without the imposition of the late date fine.

Golf Enthusiasts Decide About Tournament May 7

Maxine Mundt, in charge of the newly organized golf club, has announced a meeting of the members and others interested Tuesday at 5 o'clock, in the golf room in the armory. The purpose of the meeting is to decide whether or not a golf tournament will be run off. The girls will also use the time in practice. Ten girls have joined the organization, Miss Mundt announced.

OPERA COMPANY TO SING 'AIDA' IN COLISEUM MAY 6

Barbara Darlys to Appear in Titular Role of Verdi's Drama.

350 MEMBERS OF CAST

John Pane-Gasser, Chicago Tenor, to Portray 'Rhadames.'

With the presentation of Verdi's opera, "Aida," in the university coliseum at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, Lincoln audiences will have an opportunity of seeing and hearing grand opera produced on a larger scale than has ever before been realized in the city, according to John K. Selleck, director of student activities. Between 300 and 350 persons will take part in the performance, with six world-renowned artists singing the leading roles.

John Pane-Gasser, the young Chicago-Italian tenor sensation of the Chicago Grand Opera, will appear here as "Rhadames" in "Aida." He returned from Italy in 1932 when he played the part for the first time at the opening performance of grand opera at the Chicago stadium. After the close of the Chicago Stadium Opera company, he entered into a performance of "Il Trovatore" at the newly decorated Auditorium theater. In 1933, with the formation of the new Chicago Grand Opera company as successor to the Chicago Civic Opera company, Pane-Gasser was one of the first stars to be signed.

Miss Darlys in Title Role.

Barbara Darlys, dramatic soprano of the Chicago Grand Opera company, will sing the title role of "Aida." She belongs to the interesting group of American artists who have had their entire musical education in this country. She made her debut with the Chicago Grand Opera on Jan. 23, 1934, in the title role of "La Gioconda," on but a week's notice. She had been scheduled to sing the title role of "Aida" on Chicago's Italian day, when the Italians preferred to hear their own beloved Raisa. According to their request, the management asked Darlys to sing "La Gioconda," and Mme. Raisa to sing the "Aida" performance. Music lovers will thus hear her in the role she gave up to Mme. Raisa.

Reinold Werrenrath, the world famous Danish baritone, will head the cast, singing the role of "Amonasso, King of Ethiopia." He has been a favorite of the musical public for about twenty years and was for several seasons one of the first stars of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York. For a decade he has been acclaimed as the dean of recital artists, appearing upon practically every major concert series in the entire world. For the past two seasons he has been on Broadway, as the star of "Castles in the Air." This is the first time that he has toured in opera outside of New York and Atlanta, Ga., with the Metropolitan company, having been secured for a special engagement by the festival forces.

PROF. JOHN D. CLARK TO BE AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEWS MONDAY

Economist to Resume Full Time Schedule Here Next Fall.

Dr. John D. Clark, who will resume his full-time work as professor of economics next September, will arrive from his home in Cheyenne on Monday, and on that day only will be available for consultation with students with reservations to his courses.

Dr. Clark will offer three regular courses next fall. One is a survey of economics offered for seniors in the arts college and other colleges who have had no courses in political economy, and it will differ from the customary beginning course in the amount of attention which will be given to the economic principles which are involved in the more important current political problems.

A course upon economic planning will be offered for those students with an adequate preparation. Particular attention will be given the NRA. A third course upon Soviet Russia will be of more general interest, including more history than economics. The hours of this course will be from 2 to 4 on Tuesdays and from 2 to 3 on Thursdays.

Dr. Clark is an economist, lawyer, and business man, and according to Dean J. E. LeRossignol, of the bizad college presents economic theory in a realistic way. After his trip to Chicago, where he is to speak before the Chicago Rotary club, Dr. Clark will go to Washington where he is at present a member of a committee of the American Bar association which is studying the legal aspects of the New Deal.

ADVERTISING GROUP TO MEET THURSDAY

Head of Gamma Alpha Chi Cancels Sunday Meeting.

Gamma Alpha Chi, national advertising sorority will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 in Ellen Smith hall. The meeting, according to Virginia Selleck, president, will be held instead of a special meeting originally scheduled for Sunday afternoon. Today's meeting was called off, she explained, because several members of the organization would be unable to attend.

Business at Thursday evening's meeting will include a report from the committee in charge of Gamma Alpha Chi's ad contest, sponsored for selection of the best advertisement appearing in a Nebraska newspaper between March 1 to April 1.

Y.W. CABINET ISSUES INVITATIONS FOR MAY MORNING BREAKFAST

Members of the freshman Y. W. C. A. cabinet have issued invitations to the annual May morning breakfast, which will be held this year on the Chi Omega lawn, Sunday morning, May 12, at 8 o'clock.

Lorraine Hitchcock, in charge of the arrangements, announced that reservations for the breakfast should be made at the Y. W. office in Ellen Smith.

Guests of honor at the traditional affair will be the mothers, and Caroline Kile will open the program of toasts with a greeting to the mothers. The response will be given by Mrs. Roy D. Kile. Elaine Fontein, retiring president, will review the highlights of the past year, after which the cabinet and staffs will be introduced.

Group singing will be led by Mrs. Harold Stebbins, and Miss Ruth Hill will play a harp solo. The vespers choir, under the direction of Margaret Phillippe will sing "The Lord Is in His Holy Temple," and "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes." Lorraine Hitchcock, Y. W. president, will preside.

This is the first year that the breakfast has been held outdoors. The theme of this year's entertainment will be spring, and decorations will be in spring colors, carried out in the programs, table covers and flowers. Assisting Miss Hitchcock with the arrangements are Jean Palmer, in charge of invitations, Beth Taylor, in charge of the program, and Elaine Fontein and Mildred Holland, in charge of decorations.

MUSEUM SHOWS TWO NEW FOSSIL MOUNTS

Newly mounted and placed on display in the museum in Morrill hall are the fossil skeletons of two pre-historic animals about the size of fox-terrier dogs. Known to scientists as water-loving oredonts, these beasts were numerous in the Nebraska region in what is called the lower Miocene age. Their skeletons have been mounted on a panel and cement background. They were found by museum field men in Morrill county, and are a part of the collection of Charles H. Morrill.

GODDESS OF AGRICULTURE AND ATTENDANTS

GRADUATES PUBLISH ARTICLE ON FOSSILS

C. Bertrand Schultz and Loren Eiseley, graduates of the university, are co-authors of an article on Nebraska paleontology in the recent issue of American Anthropologist, publication of the American Anthropological association. Schultz is now studying at the American Museum of Natural History in New York; and Eiseley is studying at the University of Pennsylvania. Their article is called: "Paleontological Evidence for the Antiquity of the Scottsbluff Bison Quarry and Its Associated Artifacts."

P. B. K. TO HONOR PROFS. BARBOUR, VIRTUE TUESDAY

Honorary Makes Instructors Members at Annual Banquet.

Honoring the long term service of two members of the university faculty, Phi Beta Kappa will present Prof. Erwin H. Barbour and Prof. George O. Virtue as honorary members of the scholastic fraternity Tuesday evening at the annual banquet of the organization to be held at the University club.

Dr. Barbour came to the university in 1891 as professor of geology and director of the museum. He has built up the museum and geology department to the extent that they compare very favorably with any within the United States, and has, during the period, made many valuable contributions to scientific knowledge.

Since coming to the university he has served as state geologist, geologist of the Nebraska state board of agriculture, and at present is a fellow in the Geological Society of America, a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Nebraska Academy of Science, the Paleontology society, the Seismology society and the Association of American Museums.

Receiving his A. B. degree from Yale university in 1882, Dr. Barbour was professor of geology at Grinnell college from 1882-1889.

HOFF GUEST SPEAKER AT PEACE CLUB PICNIC

Kansas Peace Chairman to Outline Work Students May Do.

Paul Hoff, chairman of the Kansas Peace Action committee at Friends' University at Wichita, Kan., will be guest speaker at the picnic to be held by the members of the university peace organization in place of the regular meeting Tuesday, May 7, at Pioneer's park. Any one interested is invited to attend the affair which will be held from 5:30 till 8 o'clock, according to Elaine Fontein, member of the steering committee.

Mr. Hoff, who is working for Paul Harris of the National Council for the Prevention of War in New York City, recently attended and one in Baldwin, Kas. In his talk to members of the university peace group he will outline the work that students may do along the line of peace action during the summer, and will stress the need for critical action.

"This lecture will be of special interest to students," stated Miss Fontein, "because Mr. Hoff is so young himself and has graduated only a short time ago from Friends' university. He has met with the outstanding pacifists of the country and is well versed on national conditions.

Grace Lewis is in charge of refreshments and reservations for the picnic and those who wish to go should make their reservation at the Y. W. or Y. M. offices or with members of the steering committee by Monday evening. The group will meet in front of the Temple theater at 5:30 Tuesday evening.

COUNCIL SUBMITS PWA APPLICATION FOR UNION FUNDS

Committee Asks Combination Of Loan, Grant Basis On Project.

SEEK 4,000 SIGNATURES

Book Store, Building Groups Will Consolidate Two Petitions.

A formal application for the Nebraska Student Union project is being drawn up and will be placed in the hands of the Public Works administration at Omaha early this next week, according to Charles Bursik, secretary of the student union committee. Information concerning the preparation of an application was received Saturday from State PWA Engineer, John Latenser, jr., and immediate steps which will definitely include the Student union in the list of university projects, has been taken.

Up to the present moment, the committee has been marking time, awaiting the announcement of the rules and regulations of the new PWA set-up. A week ago Secretary of Interior Ickes gave out information concerning the non-federal projects, and the union committee immediately set about to further its position and campaign. An application will be made on a part loan, part grant basis, for a $350,000 or $400,000 project.

At a joint meeting of the union and book store committees, it was decided to consolidate the two petition campaigns and organize an intensive drive for 4,000 signatures. The campaign will be closed May 11, at which time it is believed that a sufficient majority of students will have signed the petitions. Virginia Selleck, member of both committees stressed the importance of signing both petitions.

Book Store, Union Combined.

"It will be difficult to have the book store without a student union, because the book store would have to be located in the union. There is no other place where a used book store could logically be operated to

University Cadets Prepare For Regimental Inspection

With the call, "Inspection!" university cadets will this week click their heels together more smartly, and salute with the snap learned in long hours of drill. It is national inspection for the huge university R. O. T. C., May 8 and 9, Wednesday and Thursday, bring the climax of weeks of marching and parading for the cadets as they come to attention before the national inspecting officers, who rate them on their ability to handle duties of military men.

Maj. John H. Van Vleet, training inspector, will watch the regiment parade in front of the coliseum beginning at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. More than 1,500 student cadets and cadet officers will march, and the R. O. T. C. band will be dressed in full uniform to lead the parade.

Following this exhibition they will go to the "flats" north of the coliseum, for further inspection. They will present close order drill by squad, platoon and company; and extended order drill by platoon. They will go thru mass calisthenics; then conclude the day with tactical exercise, for which one war strength company will be formed.

Class Inspection.

As administrative inspector, Col. Richard H. McMaster will visit military classes on Wednesday and on Thursday until the class schedule is broken at 3 o'clock for parade. Classes will be taught by members of the university staff: Capt. E. J. Connor, Maj. John P. Horan, Capt. L. E. Lilley, Capt. W. T. Scott, Maj. Charles E. Speer, and Capt. E. W. Spoerry. Also for
