

FROSH TO WRITE END OF TRICOLOR MEETS TUESDAY

Orange Squad Leads Team Scoring With Three Victories.

DAWSON HIGH POINT MAN

Bob Morris Expected to Add Excitement in Distance Events.

Coach Henry F. Schulte's freshman cinder warmers will write the grand finale to the 1935 tricolor track competition Tuesday afternoon, staging the last battle of the season on the Memorial stadium arena. As in previous meets, three teams of Red, Orange and Green cindermen will compete for supremacy. The Orange-jerseyed unit sponsored by Francis Ayres has a margin on first places in the six contests thus far, possessing three against two for Harold Petz Red Shirts and one for the Green-colored squad championed by Ed Weir.

Banquet Follows Meet.

After the meet the six high point men in each event will be guests at a banquet in their honor in the Grand hotel. Medals will be awarded to the tricolor winners, and addresses will be given by Dana X. Bible, Harold Browne, John Selleck and the track coaching staff composed of Coach Schulte, assistant coaches Weir, Petz, Ayres, and Trainer "Doc" McLean.

The high point men in the competition thus far, and their totals, follow:

Dawson High Scorer.

Harwin Dawson, North Platte, leads the scoring column with 101 1-2 points, followed by Floyd Gleisberg, Seward field event man, with 89. Eldon Frank, St. Edward timing skipper, takes third with 70 tallies, and Wilson Andrews, distance man, is fourth with 54.

The meet Tuesday should produce the most hotly contested battle this season. If Monday's weather, the first really suitable for track maneuvers this spring, holds out, the freshman track adepts will be given an opportunity to really "go to town." Thus far cold and wind have forced poor turnouts and mediocre efforts. With a dose of sunshine and the enthusiasm stirred up in the last combat of the year, the stadium track site promises to resound with excellent performances in both track and field.

Morris Back in Suit.

Bob Morris, Lincoln high freshman who has not been in suit until recently because of a heel infection, will cause plenty of excitement in the distance races. Bob, who holds the state high school mile record, will have as competition, Wilson Andrews, high point man in the mile and half mile events this season.

Harold Gish and Eldon Frank are slated to throw in the gun in the hurdles, having broken even on the highs and lows in the recent mixes. Sherm Turner holds the 100 yard dash dope, while Harwin Dawson, with a monopoly in the broad jump and 440 yard dash, is out for the 220 yard spoils. The furlong has been on the program only once this season, and Dawson won it on that occasion.

Floyd Gleisberg, who has a cinch on the high jump event with marks of six feet, Jack Dodd, Gothenberg, and Louis Christianson, Cordova, will be in the midst of a three-way battle in the pole vault, with Dodd given odds by virtue of a 12 foot 2 inch mark last winter.

TICKETS GO ON SALE FOR Y.W. BREAKFAST

The response will be given by Mrs. Roy D. Kille after which Elaine Fonten, retiring president, will review the activities of the organization for the past year. Cabinet members and staffs who have served under her for the past year, will be introduced to the assembled guests.

Missouri Valley Speed King

HAROLD JACOBSEN

IN THE BIG SIX MEET LAST YEAR, HE RAN SECOND IN BOTH THE 100 AND 220 YARD DASHES

He was nicknamed "Speed," and last Saturday he proved it as he clipped off a hundred yards in 9.8 seconds at Manhattan, Kas. Slow getting started because of a bad knee, which is still kept in a brace when on the track, Harold Jacobsen is just finding his track prowess. Not only did he win the 100 yard event in the annual triangular meet, but he eclipsed the record made by his old rival, Kansas U's great star, Ed Hall.

made his hair curly, though it has not always been that way. While in high school he was also a member of the Lincoln high Links staff in 1932, was a member of the honor society, and played the violin in the high school orchestra when it took first place in the national high school orchestra contest. He was also treasurer of the Forum in high school.

A One Time Musician.

Musician as well as business man, Schmit played in the university orchestra when he was a freshman. Now he laughs at the thought of it, and seems to have given up the fine art entirely. He is also a member of Kosmet Klub.

Dick is a firm believer in activities as a means of developing a person's character to the fullest extent. He believes that everyone should choose one or two activities and go into them with all their heart and soul, rather than dabbling in all of them.

"Equally as important as knowledge in a college career," states the business manager, "are contacts with people." Both, he believes, are necessary when one gets out of school.

"My greatest desire," declares the newly elected president of Innocents, "is to see the day when every student may receive copies of the Daily Nebraskan." He feels that it has a place in every student's life and that it exerts a greater influence than any other student publication.

LITTLE GOD GALLEY

Pasted securely just inside the cover of a green-back notebook, the possession of this managerial genius, is a token which shows another and entirely different side of his nature. It is his constant reminder of how to keep fit day by day; one of Riply's illustrations, of a physical monstrosity from Sioux City with a chest expansion of 10 3-4 inches (lung inflation only, not muscular enlargement). This is the business manager's idea of physical perfection and it perhaps accounts for his conscientious performance of the daily dops and may also be responsible for the structure of his feet.

Feel One Foot Long.

The latter merit special attention for they are exactly a foot (twelve inches) in length. His shoes are eleven and one-half double A! Could this be the reason for his continuous association with a certain Miss Cross? Her shoes are also four, so together they should make up two perfectly normal sets.

In speaking of Schmit's personal characteristics, one cannot pass over his curly hair. The suggestion of permanent insults him, and he swears that nature alone

FRATERNITY TEAMS BEGIN SECOND WEEK OF BASEBALL MEET

Five Nines Compete for Intramural Crown Monday.

The intramural baseball tournament entered into the second week of play Monday afternoon, passing the halfway mark as five outstanding teams appeared on the horizon. The nines, tens, to be exact, out for victory are Beta Sigma Psi, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Phi Gamma Delta.

Last week's games were featured by a "once in a lifetime" play executed by Paul Wenke, Sigma Phi Epsilon. The piece for the books came late in the game, when Wenke, playing second base, completed a triple play unassisted, one of baseball's few and far between. With men on first and second, and none out, the Beta Theta Phi batter flied to short center field. Wenke, playing behind the keystone sack, made a wild grab at the whirling sphere and just managed to reach it. But the effort was a trifle too great for maintaining normal equilibrium and he stumbled and fell over the base, still clutching the ball.

The man on second was automatically out, having left his base when the ball was hit. The runner on first had started to second and was almost on top of the sack when Wenke sprawled on it with the ball. Wenke thrust out his hand, tabbed him, and the side was retired, the inning over, and Wenke the star of the afternoon. The Sigs took the contest with a last minute rally, when Brackett smashed out a three bagger to clinch the game 4 to 3.

In Monday's games, Beta Sigma Psi won by forfeit from Zeta Beta Tau. Alpha Gamma Rho turned the sixth inning into a trackset and walked all over Sigma Chi, 11 to 1. Kappa Psi kept an undefeated record free from blemish in locking Kappa Sigma out in the cold, 15 to 1. Phi Gamma Alpha surprised Pi Kappa Alpha, 12 to 3, and Phi Sigma Kappa departed from the walkaway tradition of the day, barely nosing out Theta Chi 12 to 11.

Latest developments at the state PWA offices in the manner in which the loans will be handled will be disclosed at this meeting, it was announced by Charles Bursik, secretary of the union committee. Letters have been written to state authorities requesting full information on the new PWA set-up which was announced last week by Secretary Ickes, and what further steps should be taken.

Any students interested in circulating the petitions or unable to obtain one to sign may call at the local Nebraska office. Bursik stated, where extra copies are available. Dean LeRossignol Finds Economists And Educators Have Business Hopes

It is the belief of leading educators of business and of economists that business prospects for the future are somewhat hopeful, especially in view of the probability of considerable modification in the Roosevelt administration program, citing particularly the NRA and AAA, according to Dean J. E. LeRossignol who just returned from New York City where he has been attending the convention of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

"Business is just waiting for some assurance from the New Deal administration that the government is not going to do anything too radical that would upset business," stated Dean LeRossignol upon his return.

According to the dean of the College of Business Administration, leading opinion among educators and economists at present is that labor troubles that are causing strikes and threatening many others within the United States is one of the chief causes of apprehension upon the business world now, and is having its effect in retarding recovery.

European troubles and war prospects are also having bad effects upon business and recovery, according to a viewpoint which was found to be held by those attending the New York meeting, which represented all sections of the United States. With the impossi-

SPORT STATIC

By ARNOLD LEVINE

Gordon Clarke, a slugging Oklahoma first baseman, believes he established a record when he was hit by pitched balls three times in the recent Missouri-Oklahoma game. Clarke is still wondering if maybe the pitchers didn't like him or what.

In the same series Tiger twirlers gave statisticians additional exercise by giving Oklahoma twenty-five bases on balls and hitting five batsmen.

Jim Thorpe, who is rated one of the world's greatest athletes of all time, has at last done the common thing for football heroes and joined the movies. But instead of crooning, which seems to go hand in hand with gridiron prowess, the former Carlisle iron man is throwing spears and things around in the manner of long, long ago.

A dead arm came to life in the Oklahoma Amateur track and field meet at Norman when Gene Janz, former Sooner, flipped the javelin out 200 feet 8 inches to win with only a day's practice. During his varsity career, Janz's best was 175 feet, due to a sore arm.

Jack Davis, Oklahoma swimmer, underwent the unique experience of winning his heats in both his races at the National College Swimming meet at Cambridge, Mass. recently, yet failing to place in either because of time compari-

KANSAS NEWSPAPER HALL OF FAME ADDS MR. MORGAN'S NAME

Portrait to Be Placed on Wall in News Room of University Paper.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—The name of William Yost Morgan, late editor of the Hutchinson News, today was admitted to the Kansas newspaper hall of fame, in the department of journalism at the University of Kansas. Results of a poll among the "Quarter Century club" of Kansas editors, conducted by Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, disclosed an almost unanimous choice of Mr. Morgan for the honor.

A portrait of Mr. Morgan will be added to the collection of ten predecessors, in an honored place on the walls of the news room of the University Daily Kansan.

The Kansas newspaper hall of fame was instituted in 1931, when, by vote of the veteran editors of the state, the names of Dan Anthony, Leavenworth Times; Joseph Hudson, Kansas Farmer and Topeka Capital; Solomon Miller, Troy Chief; M. M. Murdoch, Burlington Chronicle and Wichita Eagle; Noble Lovely Prentiss, Topeka Record, Lawrence Journal, Junction City Union; and Kansas City, Mo. Star; and Daniel W. Wilder, known best for "Wilder's Annals," were first selected.

Others added have been: 1932, Edward Wallis Hoch, Marion Record; 1933, John A. Martin, Atchison Freedom's Champion; 1934, Moses Milton Beck of Holton Recorder, and William Elmer Blackburn, Herington Sun. And now is added the name of W. Y. Morgan, former lieutenant governor, first chairman of the present board of regents, and newspaper leader of the state. He died at his home in Hutchinson, Feb. 17, 1932.

Mr. Morgan learned the printers' business on his father's paper, the Chase County Leader. Shortly after his graduation from the University of Kansas, he bought the Strong City Republican. In 1902 Mr. Morgan moved to Emporia and bought the Emporia Gazette for what was then considered a great sum—$1,500. After three years he sold the paper for twice that amount to William Allen White, its present publisher. From Emporia he went to Hutchinson and bought the News, which he continued to expand into the important property it was at the time of his death.

The Quarter Century club nominated the following for next year's election: T. B. Murdoch, George W. Marble, John Mack, John S. Gilmore, D. A. Valentine, George W. Martin, John Speer, Jack Harrison and W. T. Yoe.
