

MAY ISSUE PRAIRIE SCHOONER COMES OFF PRESS TODAY

Forum Editor Sends Note Congratulating Staff on Last Edition.

26 AUTHORS CONTRIBUTE

Late Spring Edition Contains Work of Five Writers of University.

With recent acclaim for literary excellence and for a true representation of midwestern life to its credit, the Prairie Schooner, university quality magazine, will be off the press in its late spring edition some time Wednesday afternoon.

The recent honor accorded the Schooner staff for its last issue was given by Henry Goddard Leach, editor of Forum. In a letter to Professor Wimberly the Forum boss writes, "My hearty congratulations on the splendid piece of editing which the Prairie Schooner represents. I have a copy before me at the moment, and am sending it on to one of my assistants with abundant notation."

Moore Acknowledges Work. Others high in literary circles to acknowledge the winter edition of the Nebraska magazine, were Clyde B. Moore, acting director of the graduate school of Cornell, and the staff of the Modern Thinker, philosophical reprint magazine.

In the current issue, Editor Wimberly states that besides the diversified contents ranging from a satire on the fine art of murder to a serious discussion of the 1934, the May number (Continued on Page 3).

NEWCOMER ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT BARB INTERCLUB TUESDAY

Vice President Office Goes To Unaffiliated Council Chairman.

Bill Newcomer, bizad college sophomore was elected Tuesday evening, to head the barb interclub council during the 1935-36 school year. He succeeded John Stover, retiring president. The office of vice president, according to Stover, will not be filled until the barb council chairman, who will automatically take the office, is named. Other officers elected at the meeting include Victor Schwartz, secretary; Wilbur Beesley, treasurer; Jim Riisness, social chairman; Dick Nims, athletic chairman; and Bill Kuticka, organizations chairman, a new office.

Schwartz, a junior, replaces Joe Ruzicka; Wilbur Beesley, sophomore will fill the office held by Schwartz last year. Riisness takes over the duties formerly handled by Newcomer, and Nims, a sophomore, replaces Derwood Hedgecock. The new officers are the nucleus about which the interclub council will be formed next fall. Stover pointed out, activities of the council will begin next September when a mass meeting of unaffiliated will be called.

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY TO PICNIC SATURDAY

Phi Lambda Upsilon Plans Steak Fry at Auto Park.

Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry society, is completing arrangements for the annual picnic Saturday afternoon, May 25, at the Auto Club park, Don Sarbach, the society president has announced.

Following a steak fry at noon, an afternoon sports program gets underway with a softball game as the feature event. Two teams, one composed of the chemists who will return to school next fall and the other of those who are employed or leaving school next fall, will play. Horseshoe is also to be played. Sixty are expected to attend, Sarbach stated. Invited to attend are members of the chemistry faculty and their families, graduate students, and Phi Lambda Upsilon members.

WEAVER LECTURES AT ALBION TUESDAY

Dr. J. E. Weaver, professor of plant ecology, lectured Tuesday night at the Albion soil erosion station on "Relation of prairie to run-off water and soil erosion."

PROF. MORSE SPEAKS AT TASSEL MEETING

Women's Pep Society Convenes Tuesday Evening.

Charles K. Morse, assistant professor in the extension division, outlined the value of Tassels, women's pep group, in an address before the group at a meeting held Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall.

Professor Morse stated that Tassels is the organization which makes personal touch with the people in the state and gives the citizens a contact with the university.

Elizabeth Shearer, president of the organization, read letters from the pep group at Lawrence, Kas., which told of the progress made by the society. Elsie Buxman gave a report of the Tassels rush tea held recently.

DEFENSE ACT HAS AIDED PEACE HOPE OF U.S.—BELGRANO

National American Legion Commander Speaks Here Tuesday.

A step forward in the promotion of the country's peace has been taken by its recent adoption of an adequate "National Defense" program, Frank N. Belgrano, jr., of San Francisco, national commander of the American Legion, told a large audience late Tuesday afternoon in the coliseum.

Following the regimental parade of more than a thousand cadets, in honor of the visiting commander, students and outstate members from Legion posts assembled to hear Mr. Belgrano's only university address this year. Nebraska university was chosen as the school for the national commander to inspect this year in accordance with the annual custom of the American Legion of selecting a corps for inspection.

"I am happy to report to you that our long fight for an adequate national defense has been concluded victoriously," declared the Legion leader proudly. "A law is now on the statute books bringing our army up to the strength established by our Miami convention mandate as the minimum necessary for defense."

Invasion Danger Lessened. With a sane national defense, he explained, one of the greatest dangers of war for this country has been greatly lessened. That is the danger of invasion. Advocating the immediate and full cash payment of the bonus, the (Continued on Page 4.)

OLDFATHER ASKS MEN TO SEEK SCHOLARSHIP

Saturday Set as Last Day to Apply for Simon $100 Freshman Award.

Only one application had been filed late Tuesday afternoon for the $100 Simon scholarship which is being offered to a freshman man for the coming semester, although several inquiries have been made, according to a report from Dean C. H. Oldfather's office. The deadline for submitting names is noon Saturday, May 25. Harry and Charles Simon originated the scholarship last summer in memory of their brother, the late Joseph Simon, and the first man to use it will be selected from the list of applicants by the university committee. In the group of judges are Dr. C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences, chairman; Dana S. Bible, director of intercollegiate athletics, and Dr. E. M. Corey of the teachers college. Applicants must be male freshmen. (Continued on Page 3.)

Campus Cop Recalls No Crime Wave at Nebraska Since 1927

Reglar Disclosed as a Police Escort to Greek Sidewalk Sign-Painters.

By Sancha Kilbourn.

Nebraska students cooperate better today with the police force in maintaining a quiet and orderly campus than they have for many years, stated Sergeant L. Reglar, as he leaned back comfortably in the desk chair in his tiny office in the back room of Social Science Annex and began a reminiscence of the many and varied experiences he has had during his eight years as campus cop.

"In 1927 conditions were bad," the blue uniformed, alert appearing officer declared. "The trouble with Lincoln, is it doesn't have a central public park, so all the people in town think that the campus is a place to collect. Since we have been stationed here we've managed to make them change their minds." He reached for a key and unlocked a yellow police tag and labeled with a compartment in his desk. His blue eyes twinkling, he displayed pictures of men who have caused so much trouble that they have been

EXECUTIVES CALL FOR ALL STUDENT UNION PETITIONS

Fischer Urges Students Sign Before Deadline at Five Today.

SHORT OF 3,000 GOAL

Workers Make Final Effort To Reach Established Mark.

Urging all students who have not affixed their signatures to the union building petitions to do so immediately, Jack Fischer, chairman of the council executive committee, announced Tuesday night that all requests must be in the Daily Nebraskan office by 5 o'clock today. Altho Tuesday's efforts of the committee swelled the total number of signers considerably, the petitions still fell short a few hundred names of the 3,000 goal set at the start of the drive several weeks ago. As the deadline approached, workers redoubled their efforts to gain supporters of the project and it was hoped that the necessary number of signatures would be gained by tonight.

Walter Wilson of the architectural firm of Wilson and Davis which is drawing plans for the proposed structure, stated that he expected to have the plans complete by the end of this week. The drawings, along with the signed petitions and data concerning construction and labor cost, will be presented to the board of regents at their next meeting, which is believed to be scheduled for the last of this week. Book store petitions, which have been circulated with the building petition, will be presented to the administration at the same time.

TRI-K CLUB SPONSORS JUDGING CONTEST FOR AG STUDENTS MAY 25

Eight Classes of Seeds, Four Identification Events On Program.

A seed judging contest sponsored by the Tri-K club, honorary and professional agronomy organization, will be held on the Ag college campus at 8 o'clock Saturday, May 25 in the Agronomy laboratories building. Divided into junior and senior divisions, all interested students will compete for the engraved loving cup to be presented to the highest ranking individual members of the club announced.

The senior group of contestants will consist of those students who have completed the course in Agronomy 5 while those who have not taken the subject will enter the junior division. In addition to the cup which goes to the high point man regardless of his classification a gold medal will be presented to the high ranking junior, sponsors stated. Several other prizes not yet announced will be awarded in the contest.

The events in the judging contest consist of eight classes of seed judging and four classes of identification. The entire meet is under the supervision of last year's crops judging team whose members are: Roland Weibel, Robert Cushing, Ray Person and James Westrich. The team has been coached by Mr. Elmer Heyne and Mr. Philip Henderson, under the supervision of Dr. F. D. Keim. "The Tri-K organization," Marion Jackson, a member of the club, said, "is working to make the judging contest a success."

THETA SIGMA PHI TO BANQUET THURSDAY

Dr. Harold Stoke Speaker At Annual Spring Affair.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority, will hold its spring banquet on Thursday, May 23, at 6 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. Dr. Harold W. Stoke will be the speaker.

Actives, alumnae, and new pledges will be present. At the time, the officers, who were recently elected for the coming year, will be revealed.

Jane Cleary is in charge of arrangements for the banquet, and Doris Sanborn is in charge of invitations.

PLAYERS OPEN IN 'LADIES OF JURY' FOR TWO DAY RUN

Fred Ballard Comedy Stars Miss Howell; First Show Tonight.

University Players will be seen in a post-season production when "Ladies of the Jury," a comedy by Fred Ballard, is presented on the stage of the Temple theater Thursday and Friday, May 23 and 24.

Success of the enterprise is guaranteed due to the fact that three of those who appeared in the cast of the play when it was seen on the Players' stage several years ago, will again be seen in this presentation. They are Miss Pauline Gallaty, of the speech department, Nora Ausburn, and Miss H. Alice Howell, chairman of the department of speech.

Others cast in "Ladies of the Jury" are: Harold Sumption, Armand Hunter, Dwight Perkins, Molly Carpenter, Veronica Williams, Sidney Baker and Era Lown. All of these persons have been in several university productions during the year and are well known to Lincoln audiences.

Hart Jenks, nationally famous actor who was seen recently in the role of Brutus in "Julius Caesar," will also be cast in one of the roles of the play. Others who will appear are as follows: Dorothy Zimmer, May Posey, Bob Reed, Marjory Browne, Melville Fielder, Don Bull, Art Wolfe, and Dwight Loder.

When the production was seen on the stage of the Temple several years ago it had a popular run, according to Miss Howell. The play was originally written for Mrs. Fiske, one of the greatest actresses of the last generation. Miss Howell will take the part that was taken by Mrs. Fiske when the comedy made its debut.

The humor of the play is realized by displaying jury scenes in which various women show their reactions to the red tape of arriving at a jury verdict. In one scene the twelve jurors, both men and women, are required to stay cooped up for two days because the two balanced factions cannot agree. Some of the women's reactions provide excellent comedy, according to Miss Howell.

FIVE NAMED TO POSTS ON BARB A. W. S. GROUP

Evelyn Diamond Says Voting Tuesday Heavier Than Expected.

Barb women elected Mary White, Rowena Swenson, Ruth Fulton, Catherine Cahill, and Fern Bloom to fill the five offices on the Barb A. W. S. league when they went to the polls Tuesday. Evelyn Diamond, president of the Barb A. W. S. league stated that balloting was much heavier than was expected and expressed pleasure at the interest shown in the activity for unaffiliated women.

The polls were located in Ellen Smith hall and in the Home Economics building on the Ag campus and were open from 9 o'clock until 5.

Gretchen Budd was in charge of the polls at 9 o'clock, and Jean Marvin was on duty at 10 o'clock. Elizabeth Edison was at the polls from 11 to 12, Evelyn Diamond was in charge of balloting from 12 until 3 o'clock, and Ardis Graybiel oversaw voting from 3 until 5 o'clock.

ENGINEERING SENIORS HEAR FERGUSON TALK

Dean Discusses Chances for Graduates to Obtain Employment.

Seniors of the college of engineering were entertained by Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock when he presented his "final chat" in room 206 of Mechanical Engineering building. Informally discussing the engineering outlook, Dean Ferguson spoke of the basis for the engineering student's growth, the wide variety of things involved in getting established in the profession.

ARCHITECTURE GROUP SHOWS WATER COLOR PAINTINGS BY MACKIE

Seventeen Pictures to Be Exhibited for Two Weeks.

Colors combined in rare and fascinating way are the keynote of the water color paintings on display for two weeks in the department of architecture. The seventeen pictures are the work of David Mackie, a young practicing architect of Kansas City, Mo.

Mackie has studied much in the United States and was a student at Yale. He has also spent two years studying abroad, and the paintings which make up the exhibit were painted on the New England coast during the summer of 1934.

Outstanding among this collection, which is praised very highly by Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the architecture department, is "Off Our Starboard Side—Rockport," "Low Tide—Rockport," and "Pig Farm—Rock Neck" are others which are especially attractive. "Guinea Docks—Gloicester," "Last Roundup—Rockport," "Rainy Day—Gloicester," and "Sunday Morning—Gloicester" are subjects of other of the paintings on display. Characteristic of New England is "Old Burial Ground—Rockport" as well as another charming color combination, "Peaceful Spot—Rockport."

Others included in the collection are "Fishing—Shacks—Lanesville," "Outhouse—Willows—Lanesville," "Bagnant Pool—Rockport," "Rock Quarry—Pigeon Cove," "Off Our Port—Side—Rockport," "Color Fight—Dining Saloon—Shrew," and "Doric House—Rockport."

When Propaganda Gets Under Way, Danger Lies Just Ahead

Viscious War Talk Makes Prospect of Class Imminent On European Soil.

By Loraine Campbell.

The world—apparently—moves on. Scholars, pedagogues, merchants, farmers—all generally consider that the social order in which they exist has triumphed over the weaknesses of the group preceding them. Professor Santyana, Harvard university instructor in philosophy, once said: "Those who cease to remember their past, are condemned to forget it." In these words lie at the same time the ultimate hope of social stability and economic peace.

Those who read each morning's black headlines with trepidation are looking backward. Those who study with anticipation the proximity of a world clash, are looking forward. Thus is an old optimistic doctrine evoked. That is, those who look backward constructively are weighing the import of Santyana's declaration. They are reviewing the causes of wars in the past, from the first organized combat in an era of social

Filings Due for Posts On Summer Nebraskan

Applications for editor and business manager of the Summer Nebraskan will be received in the office of the School of Journalism until noon Saturday, May 25, it was revealed by Prof. Gayle Walker Tuesday. The publication is issued free to all students attending the summer session and is published twice a week during the six weeks term and weekly during the remainder of the long term session.

FISCHER ELECTED INTERFRATERNITY GROUP PRESIDENT

Heldt, McKerney, Ross Fill Other Positions for Next Year.

Jack Fischer, arts and science senior, will head the interfraternity council next year. He was elected Tuesday evening to succeed Joe Rhea, retiring president. Other officers include Jim Heldt, vice president; Bernie McKerney, secretary; and Burr Ross, treasurer.

Fischer has served during the past year as undergraduate member of the interfraternity alumni board of control. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Heldt fills a vacancy as the new vice president, created early this semester when president Bruce Nicol turned his office over to vice president Joe Rhea. He is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta. McKerney, a Sigma Chi, replaces Bob Smith, past secretary of the interfraternity council. Burr Ross, a student in the college of agriculture is a member of Farm House. He follows Pat Minier in office.

Don Shurtleff and John Landis were elected at the meeting to serve as council representatives on the alumni board of control. They replace Jack Fischer, new council head, and Maynard Miller. Fischer, Ross and Landis are progressive, while Heldt, McKerney, and Shurtleff are Green Togas, opposing political faction.

REV. BLOCH TO SPEAK AT LUTHERAN DINNER

Former Missionary Worker In Africa Addresses Group May 24.

Rev. Fred Bloch, formerly a missionary working in Liberia, Africa, will be the guest speaker at the annual Lutheran Fellowship Dinner to be held Friday evening, May 24 at the First Lutheran church. Rev. Bloch, who is now acting as field secretary of Midland college in Fremont, will come to Lincoln under the auspices of the Lutheran Student association.

On the program, which will begin with the fellowship dinner at 6:15 p. m., are a number of university students. Presided over by Frederick Warner as the toastmaster, the entertainment includes solo numbers by Maurice Erickson and Dorothy Schoenleber. Dramatic readings will be given by Beatrice Ekblad. Others on the program are Marvin Trautwein, Melinda Anderson, Hugo Welchert, Ann Christianson, Al Weickamp, and Paul Peterson. The program committee invites all Lutheran students and reservations may be made at Room 103 in the Temple.

Unaffiliated Students Fill Seven Vacant Council Posts Tuesday.

AG COLLEGE VOTE HEAVY

New Group to Elect Heads, Draw Up Schedules at Meeting Friday.

Barb students went to the polls in record numbers Tuesday and filled seven vacant positions on the Barb council in the largest unaffiliated voting turnout of campus history.

Especially heavy was the balloting at Ag college, where Holdrege campus students swamped the polls. A grand total of 292 votes was cast.

John L. Bishop and Marion Jackson were elected the two senior members to the council from a field of five candidates. The three juniors chosen were LeRoy Hansen, James Riisness, and Lenore Teal, selected from a list of twelve candidates. Gretchen Budd and Burle Schuck received the positions of sophomore members on the council, elected from a group of five.

Five senior and one junior writings were recorded. There were none on the sophomore ballots.

The new council will hold its first meeting Friday at four o'clock in University Hall Room eight. Officers will be elected, and schedules of barb activities for the coming year will be drawn up.

A tentative list of varsity parties will be made by the group, and will be submitted to the Student Council for approval. Annual barb picnic plans are to be made. Complete election results:

CHOIR SPRING CONCERT TO FEATURE WISHNOW

Violinist Appears With St. Paul Group in Program Monday.

Emanuel Wishnow, violinist, will present one part of the spring concert of the St. Paul Choir, which will take place Monday evening, May 27, at 8:15 at St. Paul church. He will play four selections and the choir, which is under the direction of William G. Tempel, will sing two groups of five numbers each.

Paul W. LeBar, organist, will accompany the choir and Ernest Harrison, pianist, will accompany Mr. Wishnow, whose first selection will be "Nigun," by Bloch. It will be followed with "La fille aux cheveux de lin" by Debussy, "Romance" by Wieniewski, and the "Danse Espagnole" from "La Vida Breve" by De Falla-Kreisler.

In the first group of selections of the choir will be N. Kedroff's "Pater Noster." It will be followed by "Evening Hymn" by Balfour Gardiner, "Ye Sons and Daughters of the King," by Volckmar-Leisinger, "Nunc Dimittis and Gloria," arranged by Ascherbrenner, and "By Babylon's Wave," by Gounod. "Tascheskoffs" "Let Thy Blessed Spirit" will be the first number sung by the choir in the second group. (Continued on Page 3.)
