

UNION CAMPAIGN SPONSORS SET UP DRIVE DEADLINE

Extension Follows Failure To Enroll 3,000 Signers.

BOARD MEETS THIS WEEK

Wilson to Complete Plans For Submission to Regents.

Failure of members of the student union committee to submit all petitions for final compilation necessitated an extension of the already badly pressed deadline so that the goal of three thousand signers may be obtained.

Of the fourteen teams formed at the start of the union drive, to secure petition signers, Corinne Clafin's group has retained its lead, now having 305 signatures.

Following is the standing of the various committees as designated by their chairmen: Don Shurtliff—148; Jack Fischer—144; Bonnie Spangard—94; Burton Marvin—93; Lorraine Hitchcock—73; Dwight Perkins—72; Dick Fischer—57; Vi Cross—51; Lee Young—43; Virginia Sel-

UNIVERSITY FRENCH GROUP REORGANIZES

Annie Laurie McCall Named New President Tuesday.

Plans to reorganize the French club, announced earlier in the year, were carried thru Tuesday evening at a meeting at the home of Faith Arnold.

A new constitution was submitted by Evelyn Diamond and was accepted by the club and will be presented to the student council for endorsement soon.

Other officers of the club are Enid Gillet, vice president and program chairman; Jean Walker, secretary; Grace Lewis, treasurer; and Faith Arnold, publicity chairman. Sponsors of the project are Prof. Harry Kurz, head of the romance language department, and Prof. James Wadsworth, of the French department.

"Attempts will be made to create more popular programs, of interest to both elementary and advanced students," said Miss Arnold. An extensive schedule has been worked out for the club next year and great interest is being taken in the organization which has been greatly missed since its abandonment. The meeting Tuesday was the second of the group. Plans were begun at a meeting held last week at the home of Professor Kurz.

Bizad Council Election Scheduled for Thursday

Officers for the coming year will be elected at a meeting of the Bizad Executive Council Thursday at 5 o'clock in the Men's Commercial club rooms, it was revealed Wednesday by Hugh Rathburn, president of the organization. It is imperative that both old and new members be present if they wish to receive their membership certificates, Rathburn stated.

Little Gods Galley

EVELYN DIAMOND, BARB A. W. S. LEAGUE PRESIDENT.

By Eleanor Clizbe. Remarkable that "most of us who appear in this corner should feel like big fish rather than little gods, Evelyn Diamond took charge of Barb council voting and managed to chat about the over-emphasis placed on activities by the average college student.

Since she has been head of the Barb AWS league for two years, it has been her consuming interest in activities, but a glance at honors convocation pamphlets for the last three years will show that she considers scholarship of primary importance.

Devoted to Barb activities, Evelyn has made it possible for girls to eat lunches at the "Y" this year at cut rate costs. As chairman of the Y. W. C. A. social

CHEMISTRY SOCIETY TO PICNIC SATURDAY

Outgoing Seniors to Play Undergraduates for Ball Title.

Sixty chemistry faculty members and students are expected to attend the annual picnic of Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society, Saturday afternoon, May 25th at the Auto Club park, according to Don Sarbach, the society's president.

A steak fry at noon opens the picnic after which will be held a softball game. Teams battling for the championship of chem hall will be composed of the chemists who will return to school next fall on one side and on the other those who will not be in school next year. Horseshoe is also listed on the afternoon's sports program.

To attend are members of the chemistry society, faculty members and their families and graduate chemistry students.

FINE ARTS BALL OPEN TO PUBLIC FOR FIRST TIME

Affair Opens Annual Exhibit Student Artists Work Friday.

All students are invited to attend the Fine Arts Ball which will be held Friday evening, May 24, at 8 p. m. in Morrill hall, which will open the annual exhibition of student work.

Tableaux showing famous persons in action and quarter length murals will decorate Morrill hall and dancing will be the main diversion of the evening.

Decorations for the ball are being arranged by Rufus Harris, with Virginia Larson, in charge of entertainment, and Joan Rindour in charge of ticket sales.

Tickets to the affair are thirty-three cents and may be purchased from students in the department or in the fine arts office. This year the student exhibition will be open until commencement and may be viewed by the public from 8 to 6 daily and from 2 to 5 on Sunday after the ball Friday evening.

'PERSHING RIFLEMAN' RELEASED WEDNESDAY

May Issue Contains Article On 'R.O.T.C. as Part of National Defense'

Distributed to twenty-three Pershing Rifle companies, the May issue of the "Pershing Rifleman," official organ of the national honorary basic drill organization, was released from the national headquarters here at the university Wednesday, according to Nathan Allen, editor.

George H. Dern, secretary of war, told in his feature article on "R. O. T. C. as Part of National Defense," that from answers to questions sent out by the secretary to former students of the University of Nebraska and other universities, it was shown that they were highly in favor of compulsory drill. The article also contains much discussion of military policies.

An article and letter of General John J. Pershing is one of the highlights of the publication. A large number of illustrations include Secretary Dern, General Pershing, new companies, and the local officers and crack squad.

A discussion by Tom Naughtin, national student commander from Nebraska, appears on the commander's page.

Committees in charge of the affair are as follows: Tickets: Virginia Keim, Marjorie Hiatt, Alice Soukup, Madeline Bertland, Eleanor Green, Donald Joy, Ogden Riddle, Frank Svoboda and Wilson Andrews; entertainment: Elsie Buxman, Elinor McFadden and Margaret Deeds; food: Ruth Henderson, Viola Johnson, Dorothy Stoddard, Barbara Barber, Lois Allen, Bonnie Brown, Esther Schenleiber, Valeda Davis, Ogden Riddle, John Clymer, Raleigh Pilster, Don Madigan, Don Radenbaugh, Glen Klingman, Arnold Reid, and Eroyl Fadie.

When asked again about activities she declared "I think they have a place certainly, but it's a lot of silly twaddle to say they are necessary to learn how to get along with people. Many people lose sight of the fact that they can't continue the over association built up in the university. They forget that they must have enough in mental store to live with themselves."

Evelyn believes that activities should be a recreation during the week, instead of a dominating force. "Getting to know human character is the most important thing a person can do, but it is wrong to become so interested in developing personalities, that developing the mind is forgotten," she declared. Pausing in her tale of philosophy, Evelyn admitted that she has two pet dislikes, "Voltaire and Rousseau" and elaborate poetry. Her objection to them both is the same; "they satiate too quickly."

W. R. Hearst Nominated for Post of Public Enemy No. 1

By Ed Murray.

America's recently established high office of Public Enemy No. 1 constantly draws a number of talented contenders from various categories of endeavor. Huey Long and Father Coughlin have vied for the insecure honor recently, but they are comparatively neophytes on the ballot when ranked with William Randolph Hearst, who holds the undisputed title of the world's greatest yellow journalist.

With his successful climb in the newspaper world based on the gullibility and lack of memory of the public, Hearst today controls 23 newspapers whose total circulation is upwards of 4 million daily. The fact that his editors are puppets and not individuals is evinced by a statement of one of his own employees, Mr. Charles Wheeler of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, who said, "We just do what the Old Man orders. One week he orders a campaign against rats. The next week he orders a campaign against dope-peddlers. Pretty soon he's going to campaign against college professors. It's all the bunk, but orders are orders."

With the College Press thrust into the land opposing Hearst on every opportunity, many readers have wondered just why everything Hearst published was questioned as propaganda or colored news. An

PI MU EPSILON HOLDS SPRING PICNIC FRIDAY

Mathematics Fraternity To Give Affair at Pioneer's Park.

Pi Mu Epsilon, professional mathematics fraternity, will hold its annual picnic Friday evening at Pioneer's park, weather permitting. The group will meet at the Mechanical Arts building at five o'clock, and proceed from there to Pioneer Park.

New members of Pi Mu Epsilon will be initiated during the picnic, and the winners of a recent examination in mathematics sponsored by the fraternity will be announced at that time.

If due to weather conditions the picnic is postponed, it will be held next Wednesday, according to an announcement made late yesterday.

STUDENT BOOK STORE COMMITTEE EXTENDS PETITIONS CAMPAIGN

Tentative Plans for Project Given to Regents at Next Meeting.

With the deadline for petitions extended, the student council book exchange committee continued the drive for signatures Tuesday in an effort to obtain a maximum number in time to present the requests along with the plans drawn up for management of the exchange to the board of regents at their next meeting which is believed to be scheduled for the end of this week.

Tentative management plans for the project will be placed in the hands of the administration following weeks of work by the executive committee attempting to form a plan which will include the most desirable features of plans in operation at other schools.

The plans now provide for a store to be run in much the same way as the Regent's bookstore is operated and suggests eventual cooperation with that organization.

Virginia Selleck, chairman of the executive group, urged students to sign the petitions being circulated.

"It is only with the fullest support of the student body that we can hope to see a second hand book exchange on the Nebraska campus," Miss Selleck stated.

FIVE FRESHMEN APPLY FOR $100 STUDENT AWARD

Simon Scholarship Filings Closing Date Set for Saturday.

Five applications for the $100 Simon scholarship award to a male freshman student were received Wednesday in Dean C. H. Oldfather's office, it was reported late yesterday. Total number of applications to date is five as the one filed Tuesday has been withdrawn. Final date for applying is Saturday noon, May 25.

Considerable interest was shown Wednesday as many inquiries concerning the scholarship has been made at Dean Oldfather's office. About six application blanks have not as yet been turned in.

Many students were said to have been puzzled by the athletic requirement of the scholarship and it was reported from Dean Oldfather's office that this term is intended to mean interest and activity in some sport, whether it may be baseball, tennis or swimming. An athletic major is not required, it was pointed out.

The scholarship fund was donated the university last summer by Harry and Charles Simon in honor of their brother, the late Joseph Simon. The university committee to select the winner is composed of Dr. C. H. Oldfather of the arts and sciences college, Dana X. Bible, director of the intercollegiate athletics, and Dr. S. M. Corey of the teachers college. Dean Oldfather asks that those students interested hurry to file their applications since less than two and a half days are left.

METHODIST CHOR TO GIVE CONCERT MONDAY

William G. Tempel Directs Student Musical Assemblage.

When the members of St. Paul choir present their spring concert in the auditorium of St. Paul church Monday evening, May 27, at 8:15 o'clock, Emmanuel Wishnow, violinist, will be featured as guest artist. The choir is made up of university students and is directed by William G. Tempel, instructor of voice at the university.

"Pater Noster" by N. Kedroff will open the program and will be followed by "Evening Hymn," also sung by the choir. They will continue with "Ye Sons and Daughters of the King" by Volckmar-Leisinger and "Nunc Dimittis and Gloria," arranged by Aschenbrenner. Gounod's interpretation of the time honored and beautiful poem, "By Babylon's Wave" will conclude the first group of selections to be presented by the choir.

Mr. Wishnow, who is an instructor in violin, will open his group of selection with "Nigun" by Bloch and will continue with "La Fille Aux Cheveux de Lin" by Debussy and "Romance" by Wieniawski. His concluding selection will be "Danse Espagnole" from "La Vida Breve" by DeFalla-Kreisler.

When the choir appears for its second group of selections, it will open with "Let Thy Blessed Spirit" by Tschesnokoff. Presenting "O Brightness of the Immortal Father's Face" by Voris, "Sing to the Lord (Gloria)" by Haydn, and "Lord of Spirits" by Reisinger, the choir will conclude the concert with "Sent Forth Thy Spirit" by Schuetky.

Paul W. LeBar, organist, will accompany the choir and Ernest Harrison, pianist and professor of piano, at the university, will accompany Mr. Wishnow. Tickets to the concert are thirty-five cents and may be purchased from members of the choir or at the door. The public is invited to attend.

CORRECTION.

Unfortunately, a typographical error in yesterday's Nebraskaan caused a quotation of Professor Santyana of Harvard university to read: "Those who cease to remember their past are condemned to forget it." The statement actually read: "Those who cease to remember their past are condemned to repeat it."

H. ALICE HOWELL STARRER IN FRED BALLARD COMEDY

Players Open Tonight in 'Ladies of the Jury.'

JENKS PLAYS 'MACKAIG'

Last Post-Season Offering Scheduled for Two Day Run.

When the University Players open in the Temple theater this evening for a two day run of "Ladies of the Jury," it will be for their second and last post-season production. Fred Ballard, former Nebraskaan, is author of the play which will star Miss H. Alice Howell, chairman of the speech department.

"Mrs. Livingstone Baldwin Crane," a society matron, is the role in which Miss Howell will be seen in the play which centers around the courtroom, with the members of the jury taking character roles.

Hart Jenks, another former Nebraskaan and famous Shakespearean actor who was seen recently in the role of "Brutus" in Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," will play the part of a Scotchman, "Andrew MacKraig," one of the members of the jury.

LEGISLATURE TAKES UP BIENNIAL BUDGET AT SESSIONS TODAY

Conference Committee to Report Out Bill for Appropriations.

Biennial budget bill for the university and other state institutions will be presented to both the house and senate this morning, following the final report of conference committees which was worked out Wednesday. The bill, house roll 381, will probably include most of the increases for educational institutions, recommended in the governor's overtures.

No agreement had been reached in the committee discussion by Wednesday noon on the main items of controversy, which included appropriations for the maintenance of the university, four normal schools, and eighteen institutions under the board of control.

One chief point of friction was a $25,000 appropriation for a building to house criminally insane. Another item inserted by the senate, an additional $30,000 for use in defending rights of Nebraska waterways, will probably be extracted before the report is presented.

MU PHI EPSILON GIVES FINAL RECITAL MAY 22

Musical Sorority Presents Program in Ellen Smith Hall.

Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical sorority, presented its final musicale of the year Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Members of the active chapter participated in the program, and patronesses and alumnae were special guests.

The program opened with a piano solo, "The Midnight Tide," by Bridge, played by Violet Vaughn. Henrietta Sanderson sang "At Morning," by Boyd, and Betty Zetterstrom played a violin selection, "Ava Maria," by Schubert. "Etude in D major," by Liszt, was next on the program, with Marian Miller at the piano. "Ma Curly-Headed Baby," by Clutsum, sung by Margaret Jane Kimmel, followed.

The string quartet played two numbers, "Irish Cradle Song," by Pochon, and "Rondo," by Mozart. The quartet is made up of Eunice Bingham, violin, June Goethe, violin, Marian Dunlevy, viola, and Ruth Bibbey, cello.

The program was in charge of Marian Jelinek and Marian Munn. It was the last performance in which the seniors, Inez Dovel, Marian Miller, Henrietta Sanderson, and Violet Vaughn, will participate.

NORMAN HANSEN GETS HARVARD SCHOLARSHIP

Assistant in Architectural Department Receives Award.

Norman E. Hansen, assistant instructor in the department of architecture at the university, has recently been granted a graduate scholarship to Harvard. Mr. Hansen has received a grant of absence from the faculty and will study for a year as a graduate student at the eastern school in the department of architecture which is headed by G. H. Degell.

Graduated from Nebraska in 1932, Hansen has been active in various campus projects. On several different occasions he has been instrumental in the planning and execution of prom girl and honorary colonel presentations. Hansen plans to return to Nebraska after his period of study at Harvard.

PSI CHI ELECTS NEW HEADS MONDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Helen Nelson Named President for 1935-36.

Mrs. Helen Nelson was elected president of the local chapter of Psi Chi, national professional psychology fraternity, at their regular meeting Monday evening at the psychology department rooms in Social Science.

Other officers elected were F. J. Foy Cross, vice president, George Thorton, secretary, and Ray Hackman, treasurer.

Besides the election of officers several graduate students in the psychology department made special reports concerning independent investigations within the field which they are working.
