Off Again

By ARNOLD LEVIN

It won't be long before the men of Nebraska will again be toying with footballs. . . Sept. 10, to be exact. On that day Dana X. Bible will call together his trusty cohorts in the making of a 1935 Cornhusker gridiron machine.

The four will issue a call for grid candidates, and a hundred men, asked beforehand to report on Sept. 10, will respond. This hundred will have, as its nucleus, seventeen lettermen.

From end to end, the Huskers of 1935 will be stronger than their immediate predecessors. There's a letterman for each position, in some cases more than one—a situation conspicuous by its absence last year.

A tentative lineup, of course, is always subject to revision before fall, but here's one for the 1935 Cornhusker grid team: Ends: Lester MacDonald, Grand Island, and Elmer Dahmann, Staplehurst.

On the ends are the two tall boys of the team. Lanky Les MacDonald is coming up for his second year of varsity competition.

to miss those that require a healthy stretch. James Heldt, a converted guard, is fast, aggressive, and tough at one tackle post.

Johnny Williams played in the backfield for the past two years, and will spend his third mowing down opposition as a running guard.

Paul Morrison, who played in 1926, '29 and is back for his last year of varsity competition, is a direct contrast to Franklin Meier at the center post.

The quarterback nomination goes to "Chief" Bauer, a third year pilot, or to John Howell, a freshman. Both are sure fire shots on short passes.

Sam Francis is the fullback, the big Kansas southpaw whose accuracy on points after touchdowns accounted for two Husker victories last fall.

There will be dissenting opinions but this is my bet for next fall, and I'll stick to it.

ma Psi will entertain at a house party. About twenty-five couples are expected to be there, and Paul Minpken is in charge of arrangements.

TABLEAUX snowing famous persons, and quarter length murals will decorate Morrill hall for the Fine Arts ball tonight, and for the pleasure of all university students, there will be dancing.

SATURDAY night at the chapter house, Zeta Beta Tau will give a house party. Chaperoning the affair are Professor and Mrs. J. Ogilvie and Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Friend.

forty couples will be there, and spring decorations will be used.

AT THE Alpha Xi Delta house last night Miss Beryl Black, head of the book department at Ben Simon's and an Alpha Xi Delta alumna, reviewed the book, "Time Out of Mind" by Rachael Field, for the members of the active chapter.

YESTERDAY afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Widener, the Chi Omega mothers club held a hobby tea. Mrs. Widener exhibited 900 pitchers which she has collected and Mrs. John Schnell displayed a collection of salt and pepper shakers.

WEDNESDAY evening the Alpha Xi Delta alumnae entertained in honor of Miss Eileen Easton whose marriage will take place in June. The affair was held at the home of Miss Marjorie Bailey and sixteen guests were present.

AT A meeting of the Sigma Kappa alumnae Tuesday evening officers were elected for the coming year. Those chosen were: Miss Louise Van Sickle, president; Miss Ruby Schwemley, vice president, and Triangle correspondent; Mrs. Norman Hoff, secretary; Mrs. Phillip G. Johnson, treasurer; Miss Louise Lyman, senior pan-hellenic delegate and Mrs. Evar Anderson, junior pan-hellenic delegate.

SUNDAY afternoon Fredricka Mathieson, Lucille Hunter and Mrs. Mary Ream will entertain the active Tri Delta chapter at a shower for Miss Barbara Sperry whose marriage will take place in June.

of contents are: "Revival of Murder as a Fine Art," which was written by Harry West, senior in the law college; "Reflections Upon Rejections," by Maude Sumner-Smith, and "The Drouth of '34," by Rudolph Umland. An informative article on the functioning of the petit jury was submitted by Edward Frank Stepp under the title of "Twelve Good Men and True."

Weldon Kees who wrote the short story, "Frog in the Pool," for the current issue is a senior in the school of journalism. In his editorial page commenting on the contributors, Professor Wimberly states that besides being a former contributor to the Schooner, Kees has been enjoying increasing favor with American editors as well as with those in England.

ANNUAL FINE ART EXHIBITION OPENS AT BALL TONIGHT (Continued from Page 1.) will present several harmonica numbers. Virginia Hall will close the program with a ballet.

Decorations for the ball are being arranged by Rufus Harris, with Virginia Larson in charge of entertainment, and Joan Ridnor in charge of ticket sales. Tickets to the affair are thirty-three cents and may be purchased from students in the department or in the fine arts office. This year the student exhibition will be open until commencement and may be viewed by the public from 8 to 6 daily and from 2 to 5 on Sunday beginning tomorrow morning.

PALM BEACH WHITE

FOR DAY OR NIGHT

These softly draped, superbly tailored Palm Beach Suits are the swankiest white washable garments we have ever shown.

The new weaves certainly put wrinkling and mussing to flight. They stay smooth, fresh and clean so much longer than you'd expect. What's more, they're quick on the come-back. . . a hang-up overnight is almost as good as a pressing.

We're showing them in new distinctive models, both single and double-breasted.
