FATHER TIME WILL BE SCOURGED AT A. A. U. SPORTS WRITERS SAY

National Track and Field
Champions to Gather
Here July 3, 4.

World record-breaking performances, especially in the sprints and hurdles, were being freely forecast by sports experts for the national A. A. U. track and field championships to be held in Memorial Stadium July 3-4, after a weekend that witnessed outstanding track achievements throughout the country.

While no world or national records were broken as winds hampered entrants at the National Collegiate A. A. U. meet at Berkeley and divisional A. A. U. championships in various sections of the country, brilliant individual performances by Jesse Owens, Sam Allen, and others presaged a different story for July 4 if the weather breaks right.

Nebraska Has Fastest Track.

With Nebraska's reputation for one of the fastest cinder paths in the world combined with the fact that many ace athletes will meet each other in their specialties for the first time this year at the A. A. U. games, every indication points to a beating for Father Time in at least one or two of the running events while new records may also be hung up in the field.

Especially hot battles are in prospect for the sprints and hurdles where a galaxy of stars will fight it out for honors.

Ohio State's phenomenal Jesse Owens, four times winner in the Big Ten meet where he broke world's records for the 220 yard dash, 220 yard low hurdles and broad jump, and tied the record for the 190 yard dash, repeated with victories in these events at the National Collegiate meet without extending himself and is expected to try for further records here July 4.

Owens and Metcalfe Compete.

The A. A. U. will bring together for the first time this year Owens and Ralph Metcalfe, last year's three-time champion in the sprints, in what is expected to be the feature races of the day. Metcalfe, nursing a bruised muscle, copped honors in the central A. A. U. 100 meter dash Saturday at Evanston, Ill., but lost by inches in the 200 meters to Bob Packard, Illinois high school sprint sensation.

With a duel in the offing between these two dusky sprinters to say nothing of the possibility of upsets by California's George Anderson, western title-holder;

Dr. Senning Tells How Redistricting State For Legislature Accomplished

A score of maps displayed in the hall of Social Science are but an indication of the magnitude of the task undertaken by Dr. J. P. Senning as special advisor to the legislature in making plans for the redistricting of Nebraska according to the new unicameral plan. Dr. Senning, as chairman of the department of political science, was chosen by the state law making body to compile the tremendous amount of data necessary for the drawing of new district lines.

"The question was," Dr. Senning stated. "What did the legislature of the last bicameral session want? Between the extremes of thirty and fifty members as outlined in the constitutional amendment lay a large number of possibilities. In order to take care of any contingency I had to assemble material for twenty redistricting plans. In this task of several months use was made of a staff of assistants in doing research work

OPERA STAR WILL SING FOR SUMMER CONCERT

Noted Baritone, Violinist,
And Pianist to Appear On Program.

On Friday, July 19, students and faculty of the summer school will hear Madame Leone Kruse-Huke, Metropolitan opera star from Chicago, as a featured vocalist in a musical program including artists of the concert stage, according to R. D. Moritz, director of the university summer session.

Assisting Miss Kruse-Huke, soprano, will be the prominent baritone, Ricardo Schreiber, and Samuel Porgeze, concert violinist. Madame Lela Hamniere, noted concert pianist, will play for the concert.

Leon Kruse who is becoming one of the favorites of the Chicago opera season according to critics, will stop off in Lincoln for the musical on her way to San Diego for a series of operatic engagements.

Chicago critics say of Madame Kruse, "Here is a fine artist, and a wonderful singer, and all that we are now asking is that we be allowed to hear her more;" also, "Miss Kruse has captured the fancy of our public, and well she might, for her combination of talents make her a valuable addition to the personnel of any major company."

According to Moritz, the program will probably be held in the coliseum, altho arrangements are as yet indefinite.

and in arranging material for presentation to the legislature.

Thirty maps in all were prepared and submitted by Dr. Senning. No matter what size house the body decided upon, a map was ready with the voting districts laid out. Although all the districts were arranged according to population distribution as required in the state constitution, other factors such as political history and economics played an important part.

"All district lines were made to follow county lines," Dr. Senning explained, "not because of constitutional demands but because of the requirement that only counties with two or more representatives may be divided. As Lancaster and Douglas were the only ones falling under this category there was no possibility of cutting up any other counties and in the case of these two there appeared no need for

ENROLLMENT TOTAL WILL EXCEED 2,000

Registration Expected to Be Highest in Last Three Years.

Official registration figures issued Monday by the registrar's office indicated that the enrollment would be well over 2,000, largest summer school attendance in three years. In 1934, the final enrollment figure was 1,176 and in 1933 it was 1,853.

The official figure Monday was 1,906, which included a Saturday registration of 150 persons. In addition, about ninety registrations are expected from the school of nursing and the college of medicine in Omaha. Stragglers are expected to bring the total well over the 2,000 mark.

Figures on the number registered in each college were not available Monday, but indications seemed to show a considerable enrollment in the graduate college. Work is offered in twenty-nine departments during the long session, and in twenty-one for the short session.
