Battle of Debate Team Reported in Debater's Annual

They've got to be good—to see their stuff in print. For the second consecutive year, the university debate team has had at least one of its battles reported word by word in the University Debater's Annual...

One reason why the Husker arguers were particularly good at this particular debate: The subject concerned the AAA, and the team had just completed a tour of open forum debates in Iowa...

Harold Soderlund and Herbert Kaplan are the speakers who will go down in history as the authors of the two speeches on the question—Resolved: That the Agricultural Adjustment Administration of the federal government should be abandoned after the crop season of 1935.

This year Prof. H. A. White, debate coach, expects a large number of university men to turn out early in November, perhaps encouraged with the hope of similar honors.

LINE LACKS FIRE; BACKS BRILLIANT

Cardwell Goes Over Twice for Biblemen; Benson, Dodd, Scherer Score in Order; Francis Boots Four Extra Points After Touchdowns.

JERRY LANOUÉ FORCED SIDELINES BY BRUISE

Frosh Line Stands Up Well Under Heavy Scarlet Pounding; 'Wild Bill' Callihan, Andreson Scintillate in Yearling Backfield.

By Dick Kunzman.

Ed Weir's freshmen will have to do a lot of improving before the even battle which they will give the varsity by the first of November becomes a reality instead of a dubious prophecy.

Noticeable in the last half was Marv Plock, Lincoln high sophomore who is playing his second term on the first year team. Plock and Mills dished out some satisfying lateral exchanges before the final gun and the former ran rings around the veteran line twice before finally being stopped.

Francis kicked off for the varsity, sending a 65-yard spinner down the field to Hoffman, who returned it to his own 15-yard stripe. The prep graduates couldn't do anything with the ball and Andreson kicked from his 10-yard line to the varsity 44.

Two New Combinations. Two new combinations manned the breaches in the second quarter. Coach Bible putting McDonald and Hale at ends, Mehring at center, Holmbeck and Ellis at tackle, McGinnis and Glenn at guards, and Howell, Douglas, Eldridge, and Dodd in the transportation department.

A kicking splurge paved the way for the next varsity counter. Douglas and Tucker getting off some nice spirals in the middle arena. Ralph Eldridge, stopped in his tracks on Tuckers last boot, got vengeance on the next play.

Varsity Line Dull. But while LaNoue's ball carrying pals were more than holding up their end, the linemen fell down on the job. Considering that the line opposing them was about as experienced as a minister in a night club, the varsity front fence fell down noticeably from the pedestal of improvement which had been built up for them earlier in the season.

Callihan, Andreson and Tucker were the names to remember in the yearling backfield. All displayed an excellent kicking ability, and when the ball went any place against the varsity it was usually one of the three who took it, or helped take it there.

Charlie Breck did the best work in the losers' line, but Bob Mills at end was all that could be desired of an inexperienced flankman.

Bernie Scherer did about the best job of catching Henry Bauer's floaters of any of the wingmen.

Paul Amen snagged a 50-yard heave from Jack Dodd in the third quarter, and Elmer Dohrmann completed a number of creditable lateral jugglings in the fourth, but both Dohrmann and McDonald missed flyers that they should have terminated in touchdowns.

BOOKS, BRIEFCASES, COEDS, AND FOOTBALL SIGNS OF SEPTEMBER.

As the season progresses. By the last of October such trivialities as unemployment and new deals may exist or they may not. Who cares? We're playing football! By Thanksgiving, it's mark of poor citizenship and almost a punishable offense if you don't have an All-America selection of your own.

It was about 1740 when Sir Thomas Paine philosophized to the effect that "Bowling is to be abjected of entirely, as is football, which is a brutal contest, and offensively abusive." We don't know anything about bowling, but the lusty young males of the two centuries since have failed to heed his preaching in regard to football.

Perhaps the English philosopher was a little too ardent in his condemnation. He was an active politician; perhaps the standards of that calling influenced his viewpoint in other matters. But granted that football is not quite as dangerous as a World war or a political brawl there is still much to be said for Sir Tom's criticism.

Nor does leather armor help very much when twenty-one huge fellows in a hurry to arrive at the same spot at the same time, and you happen to be the spot. And even when there's only one opponent charging toward you at full speed, especially if he happens to be a 200 pound, 10 second fullback spurred on by forty or fifty thousand voices pleading for a touchdown, the three things which might happen to you are none of them fun.

Former Student Calls for Power Information

Wayne Kinsey, former student in the college of agriculture, and at present living at Naponee, Neb., called at the agricultural engineering department to obtain information useful to the rural electric public power district in his home community. Mr. Kinsey is one of the directors of this district.

Zoology Department Gets Lizard. A recent addition to the zoology department is a restless collar lizard, found by Mrs. Margaret Munger in Colorado this summer. It is interesting because of its peculiar color arrangement.
