Francis, Richardson, Dodd Score in Order for Biblemen.

The Huskers against the freshmen Wednesday evening weren't as impressive as the Huskers against Chicago university last Saturday.

The Scarlet and Cream heavy artillery didn't wheel into action in the last heavy workout before the Iowa State tilt.

Wind Hinders Kicks. A breezy north wind swept thru the stadium and hindered the offensive team when it aimed at the north goal.

The starting varsity eleven advanced the ball to the frosh 20-yard line, only to lose it and their scoring advantage.

vided his squad into two parts, offensive and defensive. Whenever the varsity carried the ball, the defensive specialists took the field.

With Cardy out of the picture for the time being, a couple other ball carriers did a little shining of their own.

After Dodd carried the ball from mid-field to the 10-yard line on three successive runs, the varsity lost possession and the freshmen punted to the 30-yard line.

Coach Bible's starting unit had several changes in the usual lineup. Elmer Dohmann and Bernie Scherer were at ends; Fred Shirey and Jimmie Heldt at tackle; Paul Morrison at center, and Kenneth McGinnis took Ladas Hubka's usual guard berth.

The frosh offensive team was composed of Shindo and Smith, ends; Hutcherson and Boschult, tackles; Sauer and Reichstadt, guards; Brock, center, and Andre-son, Hoffman, Plock and Callihan, backs.

The starting varsity eleven advanced the ball to the frosh 20-yard line, only to lose it and their scoring advantage.

show, Douglass ripping through the line for 22 yards on four plays and tossing a pass to Bernie Scherer which netted eight more.

After Pat Glenn, substituting for McGinnis, recovered Howell's punt on the frosh 17-yard line, a new lineup came in, consisting of McDonald and Richardson, ends; Ellis and Holmbeck, tackles; McGinnis and Peters, guards; Mehring, center, and Bauer, Andrews, Eldridge, and Francis, backs.
