

'NO POLITICS' SAYS HONORARY

THREE NEBRASKA SONGS SELECTED FOR SOONER TILT

Chenoweth, Jungbluth Pick Winners From Field of 35 Entries.

STUDENTS FINAL JUDGES

$20 Prize to Be Awarded by Senior Honorary Societies.

Announcement of the three Cornhusker songs selected as best out of thirty-five submitted in the contest which ended Wednesday will be made in Friday's Nebraskan by the judges, Eddie Jungbluth, and Wilbur Chenoweth.

The winning selections will be played by the university band before the Nebraska-Oklahoma game so it is hoped by the song committee that every student will cooperate and learn the words to each number by Saturday.

Hill Answers Letter. In commenting on the student pulse article "Why a New Song," Irving Hill declared, "Deficiency in the songs, not in the student body, will sell itself; a catchy rhythm will be naturally and spontaneously sung and sung again, without urging and without force. None of our songs yet approach this standard of excellence."

The contest was sponsored by members of Innocents and Mortar Boards, senior honoraries, with the cooperation of The Daily Nebraskan. A prize of twenty dollars will be awarded the writer of the winning song, which will be chosen by a vote of the students, after the three chosen scripts have been played by Billie Quick's band at the game Saturday between Nebraska and Oklahoma.

MISS MOOMAW TALKS ON COED COUNSELORS

President Explains Society To Frosh A. W. S. Wednesday.

"The Work of the Coed Counselors" was the topic which Elizabeth Moomaw, president of Coed Counselors explained at the regular meeting of the freshman A. W. S. members held yesterday afternoon at Ellen Smith hall at 5 o'clock.

The manner in which the group will work was explained by Moomaw as a part of Miss Moomaw's discussion. Various projects sponsored by the group such as the freshman party held at the opening of the school year and hobby groups now open to the girls of the university were listed by the president as a part of Coed Counselor activities.

COUNCIL RATIFIES NEW AMENDMENT FOR MEMBERSHIP

Delinquency Clause Comes Before Students Oct. 29.

Ratification of the proposed amendment concerning eligibility for council membership and regular committee reports occupied the time of the student council when it met at 5 o'clock Wednesday.

The amendment, which strikes out the delinquency clause for council membership, will be submitted to the student body at the election Oct. 29.

No one can vote in the coming election without an identification card; it was decreed at the meeting. There will be no exceptions to this rule, the eligibility committee emphasized.

Frank Landis, co-chairman of the bookstore committee reported the groups appearance before the regents committee for consideration of the project. Landis stated that Operating Superintendent L. F. Seaton is writing letters to various schools to find out the success of bookstores in colleges throughout the country.

"It is the hope of the council committee that students will have a bookstore the second semester of this year," stated Landis. June Keefe, chairman of the committee on junior class organization reported that also the group has been considering a junior prom, members do not favor it as a means of uniting the class. Miss Keefe also recommended that the junior president be made an ex officio member of the committee.

Irving Hill, president of the council, read a letter from Dean T. J. Thompson concerning the student rally spirit and asking the council to cooperate in preserving order in the following rallies.

An Open Letter To Mortar Board.

THE Mortar Boards of 1935 have reiterated the stand taken by their predecessors last year in outlawing politics and alliances from women's activities.

The Mortar Boards are to be commended for repeating this move which last year worked marvels in cleaning up an unwholesome condition which had plagued women's activities for years.

The Mortar Boards are not all-powerful. If they are to succeed again they must have the support of every women's organization in their campaign, and this we have every confidence in their ability to do.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Proposed amendment to the student council constitution regarding eligibility rules for council membership reads as follows: "Each candidate shall have a scholastic average of at least 75 percent."

STUDENT DIRECTORY MAKES APPEARANCE ON CAMPUS MONDAY

Editor Leonard Dull Advises Early Purchase of Publication.

The 1935-36 Student Directory will make its debut on the campus Monday morning Oct. 28, when it goes on sale in Social Science Hall and on the ag campus.

Remaining copies which are not sold on the opening day will be obtainable in the Temple, ag college, and all book stores.

The current edition of the annual bulletin boasts several new features which make the directory a decided improvement over preceding publications.

TRIBUNAL REPLACES SPANISH CLUB HEAD

Language Society Changes Organization of Officers.

Inaugurating a new type of leadership, that of a tribunal instead of the usual president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer, the Spanish club, sponsored by the Romance Language department, will hold its first meeting of this semester in Social Science hall, room 208, tonight from 7 until 8 o'clock.

The tribunal, composed of Elizabeth Anderson, Frances Suchy, Josephine Ferguson, and Walter Fitch, was established in order to lessen the responsibilities of the president.

Several short speeches will introduce the plans and programs for the following meetings. All those wishing to attend Admiral Byrd's lecture in the coliseum will be free to leave whenever they desire.

CONVENTION FOR STATE TEACHERS OPENS THURSDAY

Ruth Bryan Owen Honored at Dinner Preceding First Meeting.

Following registration and a dinner honoring Ruth Bryan Owen, United States ambassador to Denmark on Wednesday, the Nebraska School Teachers' convention will formally open with a general session at the coliseum on Thursday morning, Oct. 24 at 8:45 o'clock.

In correction to a previous announcement made in the Daily Nebraskan Chancellor E. A. Burnett of the university will today give the address of welcome at the opening convocation rather than Wednesday as formerly published.

Dr. William E. Warner of Ohio State university, Dr. W. R. McConnell of Miami university in Oxford, Ohio and Mrs. E. P. Langworthy, president of the National Congress of Parents-Teachers association will also be principle speakers at this morning's assembly.

The afternoon period will be devoted to division meetings in various sections. The division to discuss language will meet at Temple Theater, the mental hygiene and character education group is to assemble in the Social Science auditorium, a vocational division will convene at St. Paul's church and the division concerning administration will gather at the First Baptist church. In addition to these group convocations various section meetings pertaining to academic subjects are scheduled.

CHEMISTRY GROUP TO GIVE SCHOLASTIC CUP

Phi Lambda Upsilon to Name Freshman Winner of Honorary Award.

Winner of the Phi Lambda Upsilon freshman scholarship cup will be decided by members of the honorary chemistry society at their next meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5, Don Sarbach, president of the society has announced.

The freshman chemistry student who last year attained the highest average will be presented the award, Sarbach said. The winner's name will be engraved on the cup which is presented each year to the leading freshmen chemistry student.

At the chemistry honorary's meeting, all freshman students who made outstanding progress will be considered and the winner selected. The date for the annual fall banquet and the presentation of the award will also be set, the president stated.

A discussion of the society's program for the winter meetings will follow. Because of the importance of the meeting, Sarbach urged all members to attend.

Home Economics Member Drive Gets 110 Affiliates

With one hundred and ten new members, officials of the Home Economics association expressed themselves as very pleased with the membership drive which started Monday and closed Wednesday.

Initiation for the new members will be held at 4 o'clock Monday at which time the program for the coming year will be given out.

DEADLOCKS FALL AS BOTH PARTIES AGREE ON SLATES

Nominations Are Complete For Progressive Slate.

NO INDEPENDENTS SEEN

Nearly Six Filed in Race For 'N' Sweetheart; Expect More.

By Politicus VI.

Threatened break between barb and fraternity forces in the Progressive faction failed to materialize Monday night when the coalition met, broke the delaying deadlock, nominated two candidates, and advanced into the full political campaign with a united front.

Little contest is seen in the undecided Green Toga nominations, Innocent Jim Heidt holding final odds over Innocent Henry Whitaker for the senior office. Because Heidt received a party nomination last spring, and because Whitaker's lodge demonstrated at the same time that party ties are not too strong, this fact seems hard to justify.

MEET THURSDAY

Green Toga forces have set tomorrow night as the date for final settlement, and no serious difficulties in reaching agreement are anticipated. The only possibility for splits or realignments in either camp will probably present itself in case the Green Toga meet de-

RICHARD E. BYRD ARRIVES LINCOLN ON LECTURE TOUR

Capacity Crowds Will Greet Famous Explorer in Coliseum.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who will lecture in the university coliseum tonight, is expected to arrive in Lincoln at two o'clock today, according to Dwight Bedell of the Lincoln chamber of commerce, in charge of Byrd's program.

With the breaking of all advance ticket sale records, the famous explorer will be greeted by a capacity crowd tonight when he makes his first Nebraska appearance in Lincoln. Newspaper information from the cities where Byrd has appeared, indicate that he is breaking all box office records.

When Admiral Byrd tells of his antarctic experiences he will show his audience 9,000 feet of film on the largest motion picture projection apparatus ever used in Nebraska. The projector is built to fit the 175-foot distance from the projection room to the screens, compared with 120 foot projectors usually used by movie houses. The talk will be carried to all parts of the coliseum by a public address system.

Alexis to Address Student Lutheran Fellowship Club

Prof. Joseph Alexis will address members of the Lutheran Student Fellowship club at a monthly meeting of that group to be held in the Temple Friday evening. The talk will begin at 8:30 p. m. after which plans have been made for an hour of social and fellowship activity.

MORTAR BOARD RESOLUTION

We the undersigned do resolve to take the lead in maintaining the present situation in women's politics on the campus of the University of Nebraska. To accomplish this we reaffirm the following stand:

- 1. To forbid any alliances and forbid the formation of any political agreements. 2. To see that girls are elected on merit only, and not as a result of alliances, by asking women's organizations to cooperate. 3. To forbid organized groups to draw up slates or force girls to support certain candidates. (a) Announcement of candidates desiring the support of a group may be impartially made. (b) All candidates have the privilege to call and request such announcements. (c) No promise of a group support is allowed. 4. To request interested alumnae not to interfere with campus activities and elections. 5. To do all in our power to prevent men and women's alliances insofar as it concerns women's elections. 6. To announce to the campus our stand on the question. 7. To see that all infringements are immediately penalized and exposed.

(Signed) Alaire Barkes, president. Mary Edith Hendricks, vice president. Anne Pickett, secretary. Gladys Kiopp, treasurer. Lois Rathburn, historian. Virginia Selleck.

SOCIETY ASKS FOR CAMPUS SUPPORT

Pledge Given by Organized House Presidents Last Year Remains Unviolated—Honorary Continues Drive Against Coalitions.

ORGANIZATION LEADERS TO MEET MONDAY

Resolution Forbids Election Slates; Requests Alumni Not to Interfere; Asks Group Work to Prevent Women's Voting Alliances.

Continuing their crusade against politics in women's organizations, Mortar Board members today reaffirmed their stand in condemnation of campus coalitions, taken for the first time Oct. 23 of last year.

Although there have been no violations of the pledge given by all organized house presidents last year, members of the senior honorary feel that this is an auspicious time to again ask all women to keep activities free of politics.

In order to insure against the formation of alliances which might be contemplated for the coming election, the honorary has called a meeting of all sorority and organized house presidents for Monday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. Members will explain the resolution adopted last year and ask every president to endorse this effort to keep campus politics clean.

Coalitions Dissolved. The step taken last year to exterminate several alliances then existing between sororities, resulted in the immediate dissolving of all such coalitions. By again forbidding any political agreements, it is hoped that girls will be elected on merit only and not because of political alliances.

The resolution forbids organized groups to draw up slates or force girls to support certain candidates; requests interested alumnae not to interfere with campus activities and elections; asks groups to work to prevent men and women's alliances insofar as they concern women's elections; and pledges the honorary to see that all infringements are immediately penalized and exposed.

No Trouble Anticipated. "We are very pleased that there has been no trouble about alliance," stated Virginia Selleck, Mortar Board member. "Although we anticipate no trouble this year, we think it important to announce that Mortar Board takes the same stand as last year."

"It is only through the cooperation of all women students on the campus that Mortar Board can accomplish that which they have set out to do in their stand against political alliances," affirmed Alaire Barkes, Mortar Board president. "We hope the splendid co-operation of sororities last year will be continued as Mortar Board is most anxious that the re-enforced resolution will be even more beneficial than last year."

Members who worked on the committee for the resolution are Virginia Selleck, Lois Rathburn, and Mary Edith Hendricks.

SENIOR WOMEN MUST APPLY FOR FARMERS' FORMAL QUEEN TODAY

500 Students Expected for Annual Ag Party Friday Evening.

Senior women on ag campus are urged to file today in Dean W. W. Burr's office for the highest social honor on their campus, Farmer's Formal Queen. The filing deadline has been set at 4 o'clock, Thursday Oct. 24 by the presentation committee, headed by Elsie Buxman.

In order to file, women must be enrolled in ag college and must be seniors, graduating either in mid-year or next spring. Plans for the formal are nearing completion and indications point to a crowd of at least 500 in attendance at the formal which is the highlight of all the season Friday, stated Ogden Riddle, chairman of the publicity committee. Favors should be secured Thursday or Friday in Dean Burr's office, Riddle announced.

CATHEDRAL CHOIR TO TOUR EASTERN CITIES

Rosborough Takes Singers on Extensive Trip of Concert Appearances.

Visiting several eastern cities, including New York, the Great Cathedral choir will leave Dec. 21 for a concert tour that will last through the holiday season. The choir, under the direction of John Rosborough and composed of university students, has just completed its fifteenth year of singing at the Westminster church.

They will give two performances in Chicago, Dec. 22, one at the noted St. Luke's church where Mr. Hyde, a classmate of Mr. Rosborough, is the organist. This service will be in memory of Dean Lutkin. At Cleveland, the choir will appear in the Trinity cathedral where Edwin Arthur Kraft is the organist. From there, it goes to New York City for three days. The exact time and place of the debut there will be announced in the near future.

In Washington, D. C., the group will sing at the National cathedral, and in Pittsburgh at the Carnegie institute, where they will be guests of Marshall Bidwell who is organist and director of music there. They are also scheduled to appear at the beautiful new Mellon cathedral in Pittsburgh.

Walter Anderson, of New York City, one of the well known improvisers of America, has been taken on as eastern representative for the choir.

"I am confident," declared Mr. Rosborough, "that this tour of the Great Cathedral choir will mean a great deal not only to the university, but also to the state of Nebraska."

They expect to return from the trip on New Year's day.
