

CAMPUSOCIETY

AND CONSPICUOUS BY ITS AB- sence is the slump in campus activity which usually occurs in the middle of the week. With vacation only three days distant, everyone has assumed an air of "busyness" that is almost overwhelming in its industry! Our scheduled lives have been disrupted by Christmas parties and shopping that simply has to be done, and in addition to the regular full time duties of eating and sleeping, some time must be devoted to that for which we are in college . . . oh, why do all tests come at once, on the days before vacation? And to make things even more difficult . . . it becomes increasingly harder to concentrate on due papers and biology quarantines when our minds insist upon wandering to thoughts of mistletoe, sleighbells and Christmas turkeys.

SEEN on the campus: Gene Pester sitting outside the Cornhusker office with his keys and his coat locked inside. . . at least seven little boys selling candy, following each other in rapid succession thru the "Rag" office. . . Bob Mehning trying to remove a shorthand notebook which became attached to his brushed wool sweater. . . Leah Carlson distributing Political Science test papers. . . all the Chi Phis on the way to the train to meet Frank Crabbil, the mistletoe scoreboard in the Awgwan office. . . another three quarter length military overcoat, this time with George Eager under it. . . Bernie Scherer and Jerry LaNoue bustling about just before heading toward sunny California and the East-West game. . . dodging fond farewells from feminine admirers. . . and the Drug and the Moon practically uninhabited Tuesday morning.

PHI MU activities entertained the children of the alumnae at a Christmas party at the chapter house Saturday afternoon. Gifts were distributed by a Santa Claus and the refreshment table was decorated in red and green. The committee in charge of the party consisted of Peggy Heald, Doris Cochran and Mary Laura Beavers.

HELEN MASHEK of Norfolk has been a guest at the Kappa Delta house of the past two weeks.

SUNDAY evening at the home of Janet Youngblut, the pledges of Sigma Eta Chi entertained the active chapter at a Christmas doll party. A program was presented during the evening; Molly Wyland played a piano solo and Margaret McMaster gave a reading. Gifts were exchanged and the committee in charge of the party included Eleanor Pabst, Eleanor Greusel, Leona Brandes, Naomi Mendenhall, Ruth Williams and Margaret Funberg, who directed the games.

A NEW pledge of Sigma Kappa is Mary White of Lincoln.

ANNOUNCED Monday night by letter, was the engagement of Joan Gramlich, Delta Delta Delta, and Gene Allen, Alpha.

THURSDAY evening the Kappa Deltas will hold a Christmas party at the chapter house. Several children of needy Lincoln families will be entertained at dinner preceding the party. Gifts will be exchanged and June Butler, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the party.

SOMETHING different along the party line. . . occurred Sunday night when the Phi Mu chapter and their dates went for a hay rack ride and then returned to the chapter house for chili and coffee. . . we can use originality on this campus, as far as parties are concerned!

PHI PHI plans for Christmas festivities include a party for the children of the alumnae Thursday evening and a party for the active chapter afterwards. Bud Moss will play Santa Claus and distribute gifts to the children.

PLEDGES of Alpha Chi Omega entertained the active chapter with a skit presented at the Christmas party at the chapter house on Monday night. Gifts were exchanged and candied apples were served at the conclusion of the entertainment.

TONIGHT the Alpha Gamma Rho active chapter will entertain the alumnae at a Christmas banquet and party at the chapter house. Earl Heady is in charge of arrangements for the affair.

THIS AFTERNOON, at the Gamma Phi Beta house the active chapter will entertain the alumnae's children at a Christmas party. Gifts will be given to the children by a Santa Claus and refreshments will be served late in the afternoon. Mrs. E. P. Hoffman, is in charge of the party.

PHOG ALLEN IS WORRYING.

Just Because He Doesn't Have A Stretchy Center.

By Arnold Levin.
Dr. Forrest "Phog" Allen is worrying. Just what he is worrying about aside from the fact that he has seven lettermen on whom to build for his 1936 Kansas basketball team, I don't know. Maybe that's it. Maybe he's worried because he has too many lettermen. That happens sometimes — not enough positions on a team and too many men to fill those. If that's what he's worried about, I'd say "worra, worra Mr. Allen" and leave, but it so turns out, when you've looked at the matter with discriminatory belief, that Mr. Allen is worried because he can't in all his kingdom find a nice long-legged, stretchy boy to play center.

How Too, Too Bad.
Now this is really very unfortunate. The good doctor has seldom been faced with the necessity of scratching around to find a good center. Usually they are as much a part of Kansas as is the Jayhawk. So when there isn't one handy, that's just too bad. However, I don't doubt Dr. Allen's ability to find a center — even if he has to convert the water boy. And when he does, it's going to be too bad for the rest of the conference, for his K. U.'s have every thing else they need — including Ray Ebling, averaging 11 points per game in 1935 and heading for his greatest season.

You don't hear much from Louis Menze at Iowa State. His champion quint is sort of laying low and waiting — a Cyclone that spreads its own calm. And this seeming lack of activity at the Hawkeye state's A. and M. might be just that — the little calm that precedes a gathering storm. If it breaks like it did last year, what a jolt Kansas is going to get.

Some excellent advice to the team going to win the Big Six hoop championship: Get licked by Nebraska early in the conference season. Two years ago the Jays dropped a close one to the Huskers here. They went right on to the crown. Last year the same thing happened to Iowa State. There's only one thing wrong — there's a mighty blue feeling in the Husker camp after they've knocked off one of the big ones and then drop the next four in a row.

Maybe Shavetail Browne's quint won't do this year what it has for the past two. It might not win the first league game. Or, on the other hand, it might come thru in the follow-up contests. If the Scarlet hit what promises to be their stride, it's Big Six look out! But folks around here have grown sort of skeptical about our hoopers hitting a sizzling conference pace. It's been years and years now. But then, such things can't last forever. If they can, however, there might be another step. Jerry LaNoue and Bernard Scherer won't be without supporters at the annual East-West Shrine charity grid contest in San

OKLAHOMANS CHOOSE FOUR HUSKER STARS

Scherer, Heldt, Cardwell, Francis Named to All-Opponent Eleven.

Four Nebraska football players were selected by the University of Oklahoma gridgers for their all-opponent eleven. The quartet includes Bernie Scherer, Jim Heldt, Lloyd Cardwell, and Sam Francis. The complete all-opponent eleven listed Scherer and Rutherford Hayes, Kansas, ends; Heldt and Don Flenstrop, Kansas State, tackles; Dick Sklar, Kansas, and Ike Hayes, Iowa State, guards; Houston Betty, Missouri, center; Kayo Lam, Colorado, quarterback; Cardwell and Morris Sands, Texas, halfbacks, and Francis, fullback.

CHICAGO TUMBLERS TAKE CORNHUSKERS

Windy City Gymnasts Pile Up 758.5 Points to Scarlet's 635.5.

University of Nebraska tumblers were defeated by the University of Chicago gymnasts in Chicago on Monday night, by a score of 758.5 to 635.5. Emory Fair, Chicago, co-captain, scored first place in the flying rings, parallel bars, horizontal bar and tumbling. Bignell was second in the tumbling division; Reynolds was third on the sidehorse and tied for third on the parallel bars, while Green tied for third on the rings to make the Cornhusker points.

Three Professors Attend National Poli Sci Meet

The American Political Science association will hold its annual convention Dec. 26, 27, and 28 at Atlanta, Georgia, and Knoxville and Chattanooga, Tenn. Those attending from Nebraska are Prof. and Mrs. J. P. Senning, who are driving down to spend Christmas with friends at Birmingham; Prof. and Mrs. L. W. Lancaster and family who will be accompanied by Dr. David Feilman.

Chenoweth Plays Original Compositions at Recital

Wilbur Chenoweth, professor of music, will present his program of original compositions before the Thursday morning lecture circle at the First Plymouth Congregational church Thursday morning. Mrs. Joseph Grainger's poems, as set to music by Mr. Chenoweth, will be presented with Sydney Pepple, tenor, singing.

ENTRIES IN WOMEN'S ANNUAL RIFLE SHOOT TO CLOSE TOMORROW

Military Department Opens Range for Practice During Holidays.

Women's intramural department is sponsoring a Rifle Marksmanship tournament beginning Feb. 15 and closing about March 15. The names of all girls who wish to enter the tournament should be handed into the Intramural office, Room 200, Grant Memorial hall on or before Dec. 18. Practice periods have already started and will continue until Feb. 3 from 4 to 6 p. m. daily except Friday and Saturday.

Eight practices are required in order to be eligible for team tryouts which will take place the first week of the second semester stated Clara Rieder, student chairman of rifle marksmanship. Arrange Practice.

The military department is offering to open the range during the Christmas holidays and between semesters provided that there are six girls who desire to practice. Anyone wishing to practice during these different times should get in touch with Miss Rieder, B4569, who will make arrangements to open the range. After the practice period, girls will be placed on teams. If a sufficient number qualify from each organized group, group competition will be possible. However, teams will be formed for team competition and varsity telegraph competition scheduled for Feb. 15.

Two Nebraska Aces Will 'Do Darndest' In East-West Game

Jerry LaNoue, Wisner, and Bernie Scherer, Dallas, S. D., Nebraska's representatives in the East-West gridiron tilt New Years day, left Lincoln this morning at 1:15 for the west coast. The two Husker athletes, who earned a place on the All Big Six team as a matter of course and were listed on several All-American selections, will hold down end and halfback positions on the West team. They will have an enthusiastic rooting section in the Cornhusker basketball team, which will witness the game on their holiday maples tour.

"We're mighty thrilled over the trip," said Jerry and Bernie Tuesday evening. "We're mighty glad to go, and we'll do our darndest."

CRABILL CHOSEN RHODES SCHOLAR AT IOWA FINALS

aminations, Crabbil explained that questions dealt chiefly with literary topics, recent political and governmental development, and his individual plans for the future. The interviews were conducted informally before five judges, four of them former Rhodes scholars, and lasted nearly one hour. Results were announced to the candidates at 1:30 Tuesday morning. In his undergraduate years, Crabbil majored in political science, won a position on the honor roll eight semesters, edited the Cornhusker his senior year, was vice president of Innocents, member of Kismet Club, Pi Sigma Alpha, and Gamma Lambda. He is a member of Chi Phi fraternity. Two older brothers, William and James, are graduates of the university, and his sister Marjorie is enrolled as a freshman.

MAT SQUAD CAPABLE IN WORKOUTS THOUGH HAMPERED BY HURTS

Husker Wrestlers to Meet Missouri Jan. 31 in Big Six Opener.

Prospects for varsity wrestling this year are bright, according to Coach Jerry Adam. Tho hampered by injuries, the squad looked very capable in its recent workouts.

Missouri, the only definite meet on the Cornhusker schedule, has been carded for Jan. 31, and the opening of the Big Six season for the Cornhuskers. Arrangements are being made for meets with Iowa university, Cornell college, Iowa State Teachers college, and Indiana and Minnesota universities.

The best prospects in each class at the present time are: El McDaniel, 118 lb. veteran of several years ago; Cleo Smiley, last year's 136 lb. letterman; Julius Wittman, 153 pounds; Fred Mallon and Chub Manory in the 155 lb. class; Jim Hunt, 165 pounds; Dutch Simons, National A. A. U. champion, in the 175, and Benno Funken, heavyweight.

Besides these men, several of the football athletes have not fully recuperated from gridiron injuries, but can be expected to give the favorites a fight for their positions. Lyle Rolofson is coming back to school and Bob Schrickler will be eligible. They are both in the 165 pound division and will be in there to give Hunt a fight for his money. The squad will continue its practice thru Christmas vacation, Coach Adam announced Tuesday.
