PRICE 5 CENTS

FUND FOR UNION GROWS; REGENTS TO DECIDE FATE

Women's Sports Association $100 Contribution Sends Total to $490.

BOARD TO MEET JAN. 11

Committee Representatives To Solicit All Groups This Week.

Renewing their efforts to obtain funds for a proposed student union building, the cotrail building committee met Monday and mapped out a campaign for the next two weeks. With W. A. A. pledging $100, the amount promised mounted to $490 and the number of organizations on the honor roll rose to eight.

The committee decided to continue the drive among campus organizations this week and to launch their campaign among social groups next week. All organizations meeting during the week will be approached by committee members and asked to give their financial support to the project. Pledges blanks will be furnished and amounts pledged may be paid in a lump sum or in four installments.

Pledges Returnable. It is believed that the Regents will give their final approval of the union building proposal which has been before student eyes since early last spring at the board's meeting Jan. 11. With official sanction of the proposal the drive will gather impetus. If, however, approval is withheld, pledges already made will not be collected.

Committee members expressed the hope that all groups contacted during the coming week will contribute as much as they possibly can.

The proposed structure would contain two ballrooms, lounges, a restaurant and offices for all publications and activities. The structure would be paid for by student and alumni donations, and a federal loan which would be paid back by a student tax not to exceed one dollar per person.

CLASS SECTIONS IN YEARBOOK REOPENED FOR LATE STUDENTS

Deadline Moved to Jan. 13; Greek Panels Show Large Increase.

In response to many requests that the Cornhuskers grant more time for the taking of junior and senior pictures, sections have been reopened until Monday, Jan. 13, Faith Arnold, yearbook editor has announced.

The Christmas rush and the many activities that preceded the holiday vacation have prevented many juniors and seniors from having their photographs taken, it was pointed out. A large number asked for an extension of the time limit and it became necessary to move that section deadline to next Monday, the editor stated.

Students who have been photographed for the fraternity and sorority groups may also appear in the junior and senior section by filling out a card at the Rinehart-Marsden studio.

The Cornhusker will present Nebraska students with a large number of photographs this year as a 20 percent increase in the number of fraternity and sorority pictures has been made. A similar increase is expected in the number of junior and senior groups.

TRI-K'S PLAN NOVEL PARTY ARRANGEMENT

Orchestra for Ag College Entertainment Moved to Dance Floor.

A novelty dance will be the first party of the new year to be held on the Ag college campus in the student activities building Saturday, Jan. 11.

Mei Pester and his eleven piece band will provide music for the dance. Students have requested that the orchestra be located on the floor instead of on the stage and tentative arrangements have been made to meet the desires of the students.

Favors will be given at the dance which is sponsored by the Tri-K Club, organization of Agronomy students. Whiskies and merriments will also be distributed for the enjoyment of those attending.

Chaperones for the party are Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Keim, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frolk.

The committee in charge of the party includes Darrell Bauder, chairman, Dale Smith, and Dayton Klingman.

PROM DIRECTORS RATIFY $15 PRIZE FOR WINNING IDEA

Sub-Committees Announced; Expense Budget Ready For Approval.

Active preparation for the 1936 Junior-Senior Prom, begun a full month earlier this year, centered on presentation ideas at the prom committee's second meeting, held Monday noon in University hall. The committee approved a $15 prize award for the best Prom girl presentation idea submitted by any student, to be awarded by a committee of outside judges. Expenses for carrying out the prizes should be held between $35 and $50, according to Arnold Levin, in charge of presentation. Tradition includes the junior and senior class presidents in the ceremony, he advised contestants.

Band Negotiations Started. Sub-committee assignments, announced today by Bill Marsh and Marylu Peterson, co-chairmen of the sponsoring group, are as follows: Presentation, June Waggeners and Arnold Levin; orchestra, Jean Walt and George Pipal; publicity, Dorothy Bentz and Sidney Baker; chaperones, Jeanne Palmer and Clyde White; tickets, Eleanor Clizbe and Roy Kennedy. Negotiations have been started to secure an orchestra, with an increased appropriation for music in the budget submitted to the faculty committee. Due to the additional time, committee members hope to have the band contracted at least a month before the Prom, which is scheduled for March 6.

Estimated budgets for each sub-committee were reported to the co-chairmen, to be included in the report to the faculty committee. Expenses for the party will be underwritten by members of the prom committee.

Cathedral Choir Completes Triumphant Eastern Sojourn

Returning from a Christmas tour which included in its itinerary New York City and other eastern metropolitan cities, members of the Great Cathedral choir, under the direction of John Rosborough, bring back to their Lincoln friends glowing accounts of their triumphant debut.

Success of the enterprise is shown not only in that it accomplished the choir's mission of goodwill and made the organization well known in the east but also in the fact that a group of leading musicians and artists in New York have formulated plans to bring the choir back to the east for a second tour during spring vacation. As yet none of the invitations have been accepted, and definite plans will not be completed until the first of February.

Goodwill Tour. "The tour was unique in many ways," according to Director Rosborough. "But probably the most unusual thing about it was that it was carried on to extend goodwill from the mid-west to the east. A concert tour will no doubt be taken in the future but this tour included participation in beautiful cathedrals, a group of songs on President Roosevelt's Christmas program in Washington, D. C., a concert in the hall of the world's most beautiful hotel, the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, and a formidable concert in Carnegie

JANUARY BLUE PRINT OBSERVES 35 YEARS OF PUBLISHING HERE

Member of U. S. Agriculture Department Writes for Anniversary Issue.

With an anniversary issue in honor of its thirty-fifth year as a student engineering publication on the university campus, the Nebraska Blue Print will present its January number on Friday, Jan. 10, Ted Schroeder, editor, announced.

An article, "Cotton Ginning," by Charles A. Bennett, engineer in charge of cotton ginning investigations of the U. S. department of agriculture, features the issue. The author goes into the technical aspects of cotton ginning and presents pictures to point out various details of the process.

Don Gutleben, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, discussed the life of a plant engineer with the article, "This and That." Dean O. J. Ferguson of the engineering college in his column writes on "A Transportation Problem for Engineers." Discussing the advantages of various forms of transportation, Dean Ferguson tells of what a problem would face the engineer if the present methods of transportation did not exist.

A new feature, entitled "Engine Chatter," will appear in the issue, the editor stated. This will be in the form of an editorial page containing articles contributed by engineering students.

Sledge, jr., will this month present his humor on a full page, Schroeder said. Franklin Meier edits this column. The regular alumni news and engineers will also be presented.

Students Faced With Keeping Democracy, Academic Liberty

Maintenance of academic freedom and preservation of democracy are the two principal worries of the American student if the convention of the National Student Federation of America is any indication of present day sentiment. Such was the opinion of Irving Hill, who attended the meeting in Kansas City Dec. 27-31.

"Eastern colleges are greatly agitated over the attempt to suppress college newspapers, the attempt to subject teachers and students to all kinds of oaths and promises, and the attempt to stifle free discussion and criticism by left wing students, explained Hill.

No Radicalism. Student leaders insisted that colleges are not hotbeds of radicalism and demanded a complete freedom of expression. Delegates at the convention continually charged that regimentation of thought defeats the very purposes of an educational institution.

In following out these beliefs, the convention passed vigorously worded resolutions roundly berating William Randolph Hearst, the American Liberty league and other groups which would indoctrinate colleges with their own beliefs, reported Hill.

The convention deplored the lack of toleration, the suppression of women and the stifling of critical opposition which have become ap-

GROUP COOPERATES WITH SISTER STATES

Resolution Declaring Necessity of Protection Will Be Submitted to Secretary Wallace for Approval; Demands Congressional Support.

Striking back at the Supreme Court decision of invalidating the AAA, militant Nebraska farmers, assembled in Lincoln for their annual convention, resolved Monday to cooperate with sister states in formulating a constitutional program of agriculture to present to Secretary Wallace for approval.

The resolution passed unanimously by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation follows: "Whereas the AAA has been held unconstitutional by the supreme court of the nation and whereas such decision is disastrous to agriculture and whereas agriculture must have protection or a condition of chaos will return to all industry, therefore:

Resolution Submitted. "Be it resolved, that the delegates of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation in annual convention do direct the trustees of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation to co-operate with similar officers in sister states, the officers of the American Farm Bureau Federation and other farm organizations to immediately formulate a program for agriculture that will be constitutional and that such program be presented to Secretary Wallace for approval; and that we demand that our senators and congressmen support the program without equivocation."

Activities of the thirty-first annual Organized Agriculture week will continue Tuesday, Jan. 7, with talks by A. C. Tilley, state engineer, and W. H. Brokaw, head of the agricultural extension department. The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, which is holding its convention, opened the sessions with their annual banquet Monday night.

Meet for 4 Days. For four days Nebraska farm men and women will be at the college for these gatherings, sponsored by ten Nebraska agricultural associations. Due to the drop in temperature Monday, the crop are expected to be present on each of the remaining three days.

J. E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, closed the first day's meetings, with his speech on "Resources of Nebraska." C. Y. Thompson, president of the farm group, denounced critics of the AAA and spoke of the policies of the NBF in furthering the "Farmer's Cause" in his opening speech Monday morning.

Thompson enthusiastically defended the AAA, although admitting it has some imperfections. The West Pointer spoke optimistically about the present farm situation (Continued on Page 2).
