

CAMPUSOCIETY

KEEPING WARM IS OUR PROBLEM for this week and what a job it has turned out to be. This collegiate fuss we make over everything in general has culminated the last few days into a real out and out grouch about the weather. If all one had to do was to sit at home by the fire or the radiator and never venture without . . . the temperature would be a matter of little importance . . . but with rushing hither, and to eight o'clocks and home from formals when the thermometer has sneaked down to 16 below . . . the keeping warm business has boomed. Ways and means have been discussed and tried . . . with varying "degrees" of success, but most of us, with chattering teeth, say bravely, "Oh, do you think it's cold?" and go shivering on our way, wishing fervently that we were in Bermuda or Florida . . . trying to keep cool!

SEEN on the campus: Al Clark "Thumbing" his way to school . . . the new Agwan all dressed up in blue and white, this time . . . Bill Sawelle remarking that he saw nothing "fungal" about fungi, as he walked out of Bessie Hall . . . Harry Haynie escorting Leah Carlson somewhere or other . . . three employe engineers in a heated discussion about a formula, at least six inches long . . . One ten gallon hat, a pipe, with a buffalo's head carved on the bowl and an enormous black bearskin coat, walking down the street on Chuck Wheeler . . . What no boots? . . . Burr Ross visiting the rag office . . . Flora Mae Rimmerman seated on the Agwan sales table in "Sosh" at 5 o'clock . . . Four men diligently scraping the ice from the sidewalk beside the girls gym . . . and the library chock full of these last minute paper writers and text book readers.

AND MUCH to the great relief of the long hopeful Chi Omegas and Delts . . . Jean Walker and Bob Zimmerman notified the public of their very evident interest in one another . . . by passing the candy and cigars, Monday night.

JAN. 13. Mary Katherine McHugh of Muroc was married to Dr. Otis R. Platt of North Platte. Miss McHugh is a graduate of the University of Nebraska school of nursing at Omaha. The couple will live in North Platte.

ANNOUNCED Sunday was the engagement and approaching marriage of Gladys Alvord and Myron Barber. Both are former students of the University of Nebraska.

CHI Omega alumnae will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Edgar A. Cole. A business meeting will be held and refreshments will be served. Assisting Mrs. Cole as hostess are Mrs. Paul C. Poppe, Mrs. Wilbur E. Deacon and Miss Dorothy Jackson.

ALUMNAE of Delta Gamma will be entertained tonight at the home of Miss Ruth Hovland. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and a short business meeting will be held. Hostesses assisting Miss Hovland are Mrs. Clarence Swanson, Miss Mariel Jones and Miss Genevieve Wilson.

DELTA Delta Delta alliance will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. C. K. Ward for a pot supper. Mrs. J. Knox Jones will give a book review and the assisting hostesses are Mrs. A. P. Cowgill, Mrs. Earnest Harrison, Mrs. C. W. Hyland, Mrs. M. L. Menthorne, Mrs. H. S. Yost, Miss Valeria Bonnell, and Miss Jane Boos.

ANOTHER alumnae meeting will be held at the home of Miss Janet Smith, who is entertaining the Sigma Kappa group. Twenty members are expected to attend and the business meeting will be followed by bridge. Assisting hostesses are Mrs. Guy Phillips and Mrs. Mervyn Downs.

MONDAY noon the Chi Phi auxiliary met for a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Thorne Brown. A business meeting was held after the luncheon and plans for the coming semester were made. Assisting Mrs. Brown as hostess was Mrs. Herbert Potter.

AND Monday noon the Delta Upsilon mothers club met for luncheon at the Edith tea room. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. L. H. Pauley, Mrs. H. H. Ulrich, Mrs. C. L. Stanley and Mrs. E. R. Jarmin.

KAPPA Phi alumnae will meet tonight at the home of Miss Margaret Wiener. Dr. O. H. Werner will speak to the group on "The Temporary Challenge to Intelligence." Devotions will be led by Miss Alice Williams.

KAPPA Sigma braved the icy winds last night to invade the portals of the Pi Phi house when Ruth Brown and Carl Earnst . . . passed the candy and cigars, respectively. And tis rumored that the wowie thing was a complete surprise.

CONNING THE CAMPI

By Arlen Crenshaw

The news that the high moguls of the Pacific coast conference have dropped some of the private universities from football competition is both welcome and unwelcome.

It is unwelcome because it shows poor sportsmanship for the "big schools" to refuse to play the smaller universities, when the latter have for so long a time furnished such keen competition. It can not help but create ill feeling between the various educational institutions of the state, which is bad for both the schools and the state.

However, the news has its welcome side also. The colleges that have been left high, wide and open can now get together and form a league of their own, as has been proposed. This move certainly would be a fine one especially if the ideas of some of our legislators were considered and colleges such as Fresno State and San Jose could be placed in such a league.

Such a conference, called what it may, can have just as fine a football schedule as was possible to obtain under the present setup. The private institutions, together with the state colleges, some of the latter of which have teams that rank among the best, would have all the football that they could handle.

More than that, the state colleges can now come into their own and demand recognition as universities, as they logically should be. It is high time that this state have more than one "university".

and if the sentiment of some of the lawmakers who have been "fed up" on the game that is being played by the University of California means anything, it may not be very long before we will have several more adequate institutions of higher learning. Fresno state college is singularly fortunate in being situated as it is, in the center of the state, and should unhesitatingly be made into a university. The stage is set for such a move.

SEATON MAKING PLANS TO SET UP NEW BOOK STORE

50 percent of the original cost and will be resold at a 25 percent increase. The store will be a second-hand exchange and is to be operated on a non-profit basis, the operating superintendent declared. Only books to be purchased, however, are those that are to be used the following semester.

Support of the whole student body in the new book store is being sought by the student council book store committee. A house-to-house canvass seeking the co-operation of all organized houses was opened Monday evening. A publicity campaign will also be commenced soon.

the book store will be under the supervision of the student governing body. A paid manager will be in charge of the store and Operating Superintendent Seaton of the university will co-operate with the student council in its management.

COLLEGE WORLD

From Vallapin, Spain, comes the announcement that 50 students locked two professors in a room until they had promised to pass the entire class in their respective subjects. No sequel has as yet been reported—but it is an idea.

In the opinion of the Princeton-minded class of 1939 at Princeton, things to be desired at that university are music with dinner and dinner without scrambled eggs, larger cream pitchers at all times, the addition of coeds, and the abolition of classes. Otherwise, say the frosh, the place is all right.

Students at San Diego State college voted for an increase in armaments in a recent Scripps Howard poll and in the same poll voted not to bear arms in case the United States declared war.

In answer to a question in the above mentioned poll asking whether or not the student would bear arms in the event that the U. S. declared war, a State Arztec columnist replied, "Wouldn't you if a couple of top sergeants grabbed you by the neck?"

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION MAKES OXFORD PLEDGE

Students Endorse Sentiment Refusing to Support U. S. in War.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (ACP). Despite heated opposition from within its own ranks, and in the face of "communistic" and "revolutionary" charges from the American Legion, the American student union endorsed the "Oxford pledge," refusing to support the United States in any war it might conduct, at its convention here.

The union, recently formed by a merger of the national student league and the student league for industrial democracy, adopted the endorsement resolution by a 244 to 49 vote. Meanwhile, meeting at Kansas City, the national student federation voted, by 49 to 13, not to bear arms outside the United States.

Ed Kinney, member of the officers club of the R. O. T. C., CCNY, and a member of the resolutions committee of the student union, asserted that "passage of this resolution definitely labels the student union as a 'radical' organization."

Kinney and others fought the resolution on the grounds that the "Oxford pledge" should be optional with the individual members, and that its endorsement would keep prospective members from enrolling.

TWO POSTS OPEN ON STAFF OF BLUE PRINT

Engineers May Apply for Positions During This Week.

Applications for two positions on the Blue Print staff will be received this week by Fred Chambers, editor-in-chief of the student engineering publication. Positions open are assistant circulation manager and assistant business manager.

The Blue Print office has been moved to new headquarters in 103 Nebraska hall. The former location was on the fourth floor of the MA building.

Correction.
Stanley J. Slosburg was the winner of the collegiate car last Friday night. His name was incorrectly spelled in Sunday's Daily Nebraskan.
