

Around and About

By Sarah Louise Meyer.

When somebody or other said there were three things—politics, religion, and sex—about which he never argued, he should have included popular dance bands. The current Esquire discusses the situation in the jargon characteristic of such articles.

It is pointed out, in the article, that many composers of classical music were really exponents of jazz as we know it. That is, parts of their works are scored so that they can only be played properly by a distinctly "hot" trumpet, trombone, or whatever.

Further, a recent movement among devotees of "hot" music (Attention, Poppa!) to band together for so-called "jam" sessions in which a bunch of "hot" musicians congregate and have orgies of "hot" music. It is from these sessions that the unknown bands of "hot phonograph recordings are recruited. That is, most all band that record novelties and so-called "race" music, are pickup organizations of the outstanding "hot" musicians available, regardless of the straight music they may regularly play with their own bands.

The author declares that there is less professional jealousy among "hot" musicians than among any other class of performers. For instance, Jack Teagarden has a regular army of trombone proteges, all of whom he plugs as often as possible. And so on down the line. In conclusion, the writer says that "hot" musicians are the truest crusaders for the jazz cause, and will keep it alive.

Add things we would like to see: Somebody putting on the Thames. Not to be confused with Sam Francis' punting Memorial stadium.)

Add people we would like to have been: The young reporter who thought he was drunk when he saw a bunch of fairies coming up out of a coal hole in the sidewalk, and then discovered that he was beating the world on the famous Iroquois theater fire in Chicago. He found out from the refugees what was going on, commandeered the phone in a nearby cafe for the next few hours, and beat the world by more than a half an hour.

The palm for classroom politeness thus far this year goes to Prof. Karl M. Arndt, to whom so many palms for different kinds of classroom conduct are given at one time and another. In a recent class he asked one student a question, and the lad didn't know the answer. In a rush of contribution, "Oh, so sorry to have disturbed you."

Crowd Enjoys First W.A.A. Heyday Sports Party in Gym

Prizes Given for Women's, Men's, Mixed Couples Competition.

A large crowd of university students attended the university's first indoor sport party last night from 7 to 8:30 o'clock in Grant Memorial. Prizes to the couples winning and participating in the largest number of sports went to Mildred Mansky and Lorraine McCauley for the girls' couple, Frances Knudtzen and Fred Gund, mixed couple; and Bob Holland and Bert Brian, men entrants.

The Heyday sports party, planned by the W. A. A. council attracted the students and several faculty members thru its program of indoor sports, including ping pong, shuffle board, archer, quoits, deck tennis, badminton, and bull board. Ping pong and shuffle board, proved to be the evening's most popular games. Members of the sports board explained the rules of the games.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Corey were special faculty guests at the affair. Members of the W. A. A. council and intramural representatives acted as hostesses during the evening. The women's gymnasium provided adequate space for the variety of games offered.

"We are proud of the success of our first attempt at a mixed recreational party," commented Elizabeth Bushue, W. A. A. president. "We strove to provide a new type of entertainment which everyone would enjoy, and I believe we did."

Mary Priscilla Stewart was in charge of making the arrangements for the party. She was assisted by Elizabeth Bushue, Eleanor Neale, Sarah Meyer, Doris Rishness, Faith Arnold, George Anna Lehr, and Ruth Fulton.

DEAN LEROSSIGNOL PLANS TO WORK ON BOOK DURING LEAVE

New Text Includes Present Points of View on Socialism.

Recently granted a leave of absence by the board of regents for the first semester of next year, Dr. J. E. LeRossignol, dean of the college of business administration is making plans to continue work on a new book during the coming summer and fall months. The subject of the books which Dean LeRossignol is writing will deal with certain phases of socialism.

According to present plans, Dr. LeRossignol is going to spend the summer near Quebec and in the fall he will go either to New York City or Cambridge in order to work in the libraries of Columbia or Harvard. If present preparations are followed he will probably go to the library at Columbia first.

The new book will include in its discussions, more recent points of view on the subject of socialism and will take up such topics as the soviet experiment in Russia. If possible, Dr. LeRossignol plans to have the writing ready for publication sometime during the next year.

Preceding this time, Dr. LeRossignol has written three other volumes on the subject of socialism. "Orthodox Socialism" was the subject of the book published in 1907, and another publication appeared in 1910, on the topic of "State Socialism in New Zealand." The third book, entitled "What is Socialism?" appeared in 1921.

BIZAD PROFESSORS HAVE BOOK REVIEWS IN PRINT

Articles by Kirshman, Arnt, McNeill, Appear in Economic Issue.

Three members of the faculty of the Bizad college have book reviews printed in the March issue of the American Economic Review, a quarterly magazine to which leading economists contribute.

Prof. J. E. Kirshman has a review of "Organizing and Financing Business," written by Bonnevill and Dewey; Prof. C. E. McNeill on a book, Hendricks; "The Public Utility Question" and Prof. K. M. Arnt reviews a book on "Money" by Kemmerer. Another of the reviews printed in the March issue is one by E. T. Greter, acting dean of the school of commerce of the University of California, a graduate of the university in 1922, and an instructor in the Bizad college for the year 1925-26. The review is on Elder: "Fundamentals of Industrial Marketing."

SIGMA XI TO HEAR HISTORY OF MOLECULAR DIMENSION

Dr. Washburn to Present Chemical Discussion Tuesday.

Sigma Xi, honorary scientific organization, will hold its regular monthly meeting in the auditorium of Morrill hall, Tuesday, March 24 at 7:30. Dr. E. R. Washburn, professor of chemistry, will be the speaker of the evening.

Washburn's topic will be "The Dimensions of a Molecule of Soap." He will discuss a simple but novel method of determining some molecular dimensions based upon measurements of surface tension of dilute aqueous solutions. The discussion will be illustrated by lantern slides.

INTRAMURAL DEBATE TOURNAMENT OPENS THURSDAY, MARCH 26

14 Teams Enter Competition, Sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho.

First round of the intramural debate tourney, sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, is scheduled for Thursday evening, March 26. According to a report of Prof. H. A. White, varsity debate coach, 14 teams have entered the competition. Of this number nine are fraternity teams and the remainder are barb.

To avoid one team receiving a bye in the first round because of the uneven number of teams, one preliminary debate will be held between the Delta Upsilon and the Alpha Tau Omega teams on Tuesday evening, March 24. The D. U. team will uphold the affirmative.

The winner of this bracket will debate the negative side against the Sigma Alpha Mu team at the regular time designated for the first round.

The remaining contestants in the first round will be Sigma Chi, affirmative, against Phi Alpha Delta; Zeta Beta Tau, affirmative vs. Beta Sigma Psi; and Pi Kappa Alpha, affirmative, vs. Delta Theta Phi.

In the first round of the barb section, the Puckett club will debate the affirmative against the Palladian society, and the Delian union will take the affirmative against the P. H. D. club.

All fraternity debates will be held at the chapter houses of one of the fraternities taking part. The barb competitions will be heard in the club rooms of the Palladian society and the Delian union in Temple building.

Drawings for the second round will be announced after the results of the first round are ascertained. All teams must debate both sides of the question before the close of the tournament.

BIBLE SCHEDULES NEXT FOOTBALL GAME SATURDAY

2nd Condensed Scrimmage Occupies Attention of Gridsters.

With all the accessories save the howling pack in the stands, Coach D. X. Bible will trot out his forces once again Saturday afternoon for one of those condensed scrimmages. Last week the prep coaches of the state witnessed such a get-together in which the first eleven gave a glazy performance and came thru with a 24-0 win.

Tho at times all three of the lineups used gave feeble impressions, at others the mentors were found with bread grins spread over their countenances. Fleet feet dominated the play as Andrews, Doid, and Ball swept the ends consistently. A new find as a ball carrier gave about as much satisfaction as any thing. The discovery was Bill Anderson, who carried over for the first score and who did right well in all other phases of the game. All (Continued on Page 3).

Woman Opposes Debators at Men's Forum Contest Sunday

Creighton's Team Includes One Girl; First Ever to Meet Nebraska.

It will be an innovation upon the Nebraska campus when a young woman opposes the varsity debate team at the Men's Forum in the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon.

Creighton university of Omaha will have the first team composed of a young man and a young lady ever to debate against a Nebraska university team. The official wording of the subject to be discussed is "Resolved: That Congress should be enabled, by a two-thirds vote, to override decisions of the supreme court declaring legislation unconstitutional."

Nebraska debaters, who will uphold the affirmative, are James E. Murray of Lead, S. D., and Aaron J. Finkelstein of Lincoln. Murray was a debater at Lead for three years, and represented his city in the state tournament in 1933. He is a sophomore in the arts and sciences school, a writer for the Daily Nebraskan, and a member of the university band.

Finkelstein, who is also a sophomore in the arts school, is a graduate of Lincoln high school where he was a member of the advanced debate class. Last year he participated in the Long freshmen de-

MISS CLIZBE NAMED TO PUBLICITY GROUP

Student Council Committee Position Left Vacant By Bulger.

Eleanor Clizbe was appointed to membership on the publicity committee of the Student Council Thursday by Irving Hill, president, to fill the vacancy created by Bob Bulger who resigned recently.

The publicity committee was formed to aid in putting the name of the university before the student population of the United States by distributing pictures and articles to college magazines and press services.

Preparations are being made for a great deal of publicity on the newly opened book store according to a report of Marjorie Bannister, member of the committee. She added that articles will be printed on the interfraternity athletic standings, and mode of playing.

500 Attend Farmers' Fair Rally; Enthusiasm Is High

Jungbluth - Beck Play for Ag Campus 'Pep' Dance Tonight.

Over 500 students gathered on Ag campus Thursday night to arouse enthusiasm for Farmer's Fair, their main all-student project held annually in May. Burr Ross, manager of the Fair Board, gave a short pep talk, followed by the main speech of the evening given by Prof. J. W. Haneey of the engineering department.

"We had the biggest crowd ever to assemble for a rally, indicating enthusiasm which we hope will make the Fair one of the best in its history," declared Ross. "Relating the many benefits students derive from working on the project, Ross urged everyone to co-operate to the best of his ability. Prof. L. K. Crowe provided the

60 HUSKER ALUMNI INSTITUTE FIRST 'N' CLUB FOR OMAHANS

University Coaching Staff, Students Cooperate With Chapter.

More than sixty University of Nebraska graduates, now residents of Douglas county, formally instituted the university "N" club, athletic organization, under direction of the Cornhusker coaching staff and undergraduate members of the campus chapter Wednesday night.

All of the group who have won varsity letters in athletic competition ranging from 1894 to 1935 were initiated in Omaha by Fred Chambers, president of the campus chapter.

Formation of the Omaha Alumni "N" club was accomplished under a plan suggested by Jim Gilbert, Steve Weststrand, Ross McGlasson, and Harold Hutchison. A constitution pledging the members of the group to work for the prosperity of the university and its athletics was adopted.

Athletic Director Dana X. Bible declared that the Omaha Alumni "N" club is a "grand organization," and added that Nebraska City is preparing to form a chapter.

The Cornhuskers next fall will be as good as any Nebraska team since 1929," Bible stated. He added that "middle of the line troubles are easing, principally because some of the last year's hands have increased their speed through winter time track work under Pa Schulte."

Business manager of athletics, John K. Sellen, announced that in twenty-four months the athletic department would be out of debt and free to incur more obligations, which he said will be in order thru the purchase of ground for practice fields and making of stadium a horseshoe by completing the north end.

COUNTY COMMISSION WON'T ALLOW SURVEY

Senning Says Agreement May Be Reached With Officials.

As the result of the decision made by Lancaster county commissioners not to allow WPA research workers immediate access to county records, County Clerk J. B. Morgan said Thursday morning that it would be some time before he would be able to supervise the work, which is being done as a survey of county governments under the direction of Prof. J. P. Senning, head of the university department of political science.

According to the report which he issued, Morgan said that it would probably be the middle of May before he would be free of primary election duties so that the work could be begun.

After hearing the report, Professor Senning said that no action would be taken for a few days, and that he thought an agreement could be reached with the county officials.
