

KANSAS, UTAH STATE BASKETEERS BATTLE FOR OLYMPIC HONORS

Big Six Champions to Pit Ball-Handling Against Utahans Fast Play.

LAWRENCE, Kan., March 26.—All the glamor of campus basketball games will move into Convention hall, Kansas City, Mo., next Wednesday and Thursday, and perhaps Saturday, when the University of Kansas and Utah State play in the inter-sectional Olympic playoff.

Because Rocky Mountain basketball officials had designated Utah State, winner of conference title, as the Olympic representative, and there was no Olympic regional tournament, national Olympic officials ruled Utah State was not entitled to receive expense money for coming to the inter-regional tournament at Kansas City.

Financial Difficulty.

Utah state was unable to undertake the entire cost, and could look for some assistance from neighboring schools, but Dr. J. A. Reilly, manager of Olympic games in Kansas City, agreed to supply $500 from revenues of the tournament at Kansas City. This insures the holding of the tournament.

In preparation for the event, the Kansas players resumed brisk practice Friday afternoon, immediately upon the return of Dr. F. C. Allen, athletic director and basketball coach, from Denver, where he had seen the A. A. U. teams in action, and had heard of the prowess of the Utah State team.

Play Fast Game.

The Utah players, he was told, play a fast game, passing the ball rather than dribbling, and making many long, spectacular shots at the basket. "We will be pitting our ball handling against their fast play," said Dr. Allen. "Because the games promise to be fast ones, I am putting the Kansas team thru full 40 minute scrimmages, and will continue practice until Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday afternoon the team will go to Kansas City, and rest until game time. The players will return to Lawrence Friday morning, and go again to Kansas City if the Saturday night game is necessary.

"The games are to start at 8:45, thus giving Lawrence people a chance to drive to Kansas City after dinner. The games will be over by 10 p. m."

Quigley to Referee.

When Dr. Allen was in Denver he conferred by telephone with E. L. Romney, Utah State coach, on officials, and it was agreed that E. C. Quigley of St. Marys and Louis Vidal of Denver should officiate. Preliminary games may be arranged, but the floor will be cleared in ample time for Kansas and Utah State to practice, and for the formal opening, with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" at exactly 8:45.

Lawrence merchants are arranging to take the K. U. band to Kansas City, at least for the first two games, and this band, under Director Russell Wiley, will play Kansas and Utah State songs.

'STEPS' DIFFERENCE IN EUROPEAN HOOP GAME

Basketball Officials Confer in Berlin to Agree on Olympic Rules.

LAWRENCE, Kas. March 26.—Additional light on the conditions under which the American basketball team will compete in the Berlin Olympics is contained in a recent letter to Dr. Forrest C. Allen, director of the American team, from V. Bouryschikine, director of athletics at the American School of Paris. He writes that a meeting, especially of European basketball officials, was scheduled to be held in Berlin this week to agree on rules for the Olympics. Information as to results of this conference are not yet at hand.

One of the main differences between American practice, and that of European teams, M. Bouryschikine writes, is in the calling of "steps." For example, if a player catches the ball, and lands on both feet, and draws them together before shooting, it is ruled "steps." On the other hand, a player with the ball and both feet on the ground (note that it is not a maple floor) makes a step, and then leaps into the air while shooting, has played legally. A person dribbling must steer clear of all opposition, and if contact results, he is at fault, and the person bumped gets a free throw.

aroma... it's as much a part of Chesterfield as the taste

Did you ever notice the difference in the aroma of Chesterfield tobacco?

Every person who knows about tobacco will understand this... for to get a pleasing aroma is just like getting a pleasing taste from fruit.

Mild ripe tobaccos, home-grown, and welded with the right kind of tobacco from far-off Greece and Turkey (Samsoun, Smyrna, Xanthi and Cavalla)...

... that's why Chesterfield has a more pleasing aroma.

... with that pleasing aroma
