TOUCH-FOOTBALL TO START GREEK SPORTS MONDAY

Five Leagues Compete in Round-Robin Schedule; Rules Sent Out.

Schedule and rules for the coming touch football season have been mailed to Greek athletic managers. As the season opens Monday, Sept. 28, with six games scheduled for that date, players are urged to contact their athletic directors and make themselves familiar with the rules as soon as possible.

Five leagues of five teams each have been organized with games to proceed as a round-robin within each league. At the close of the season, the winners of each league will meet in the finals to determine the grand champion. The title is worth 150 points toward the intramural championship.

Play on "Russian Flats."

"Russian Flats," located north of the Tenth street viaduct, will, as usual, be the site of the games. Goal posts have been erected and will be used in the try for extra point.

"Be sure that your men have all had their physical examinations," warned Harold Peto, head of the intramural department. "This must be taken care of in order for them to be eligible for Monday's games."

BRYAN BIOGRAPHER TO HEAD SERIES OF ASSEMBLY TALKERS

Wayne Williams Speaks on Great Commoner at Convocation.

Wayne C. Williams, the man who critics say has written the best and latest biography of William Jennings Bryan, will speak at the university's first convocation Tuesday morning at 11 in the Temple. Williams is assistant attorney-general of the United States, a nationally known lawyer and an author of note. His address here on the Great Commoner will be open to the public. Dr. Harold W. Stoke, associate professor of political science, chairman of the convocation committee, says an attempt will be made this year to bring a series of interesting speakers and artists to the campus, many of them of international fame.

"The committee is planning to include not only discussions of public affairs, but addresses on art and literature," says Chairman Stoke. "We hope to schedule a convocation once each month." Assistant Attorney-General Williams is expected to arrive here sometime Sunday evening, and will be the guest of Tom Allen for several days. The speaker has been attorney general of Colorado and a lecturer on legal and business problems at the University of Denver. Since 1933 he has been a special assistant in the department of justice at Washington.

New members of the convocation committee this year are Prof. Stoke, chairman; Miss Florence McGahey, registrar; and Professors Karl Arndt of the business administration college; K. O. Broady, teachers college; Howard Kirkpatrick, school of music and Harry Kurz of the Romance languages department.

Oliver Collins, who instructed in mathematics and astronomy here and is now on leave of absence to carry on research at the Yerkes observatory, presented a paper at the tercentenary program of Harvard university. The paper dealt with one phase of the subject on which he is working for his Ph. D. degree. Mr. Collins will continue his research at Yerkes for another year.
