CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS SET STAGE FOR WEEKEND OF HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

25 GREEK HOUSES FILE ENTRIES FOR DISPLAYS, OCT. 31

Judges to Reveal Winner At Innocents' Party Saturday.

With plans and designs being secretly formed in 25 fraternity and sorority houses for the second post-depression year of Homecoming day, house decorations, and with other Greek houses declaring their intention to join in the contest before the deadline, October 30, the annual contest revived last year by the Innocents society promises to be one of the greatest ever held. Last year 30 houses entered the contest, which was won by Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Delta Sigma Lambda and Delta Upsilon receiving honorable mention.

Winner Announced Saturday. Winner of the contest, which is primarily held in order to increase both campus and out-of-town interest for the Nebraska-Missouri game and the annual Homecoming day, will be announced at the highlight of the Innocents dance in the coliseum, Saturday night. The silver cup awarded to the winning house this year will be engraved with the names of winners, Richard Ernest Miller & Paine's, Ray Ramsay, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni organization, and Morris Gordon, instructor in the school of fine arts, will judge the entries early Friday evening.

International Observer Claims Candidate Browder Wouldn't Be Mistreated in Liberal England

By Ed Murray. The backwoods tactics, smacking of pre-law eras, which have been employed against Communist Candidate Browder at Terre Haute and Tampa during the past few weeks would not be possible in England today, because that country still has too much liberalism for such antiquated action—was the opinion expressed by Dr. R. C. Dexter usually those who belong to the lower classes and are suffering under the present set-up whether it be dictatorship, communism, or democracy and secondly, those in the "educated" classes with sufficient imagination and intelligence to sympathize with the oppressed. "Senator George Norris personifies the best in the liberal movement," Dexter commented. In emphasizing his belief that England is more liberal than America, Dr. Dexter mentioned the fact that clergymen of all degrees of radicalism as well as conservatism participate freely in English politics. Besides his comments (Continued on Page 3.)

'NO PITT TICKETS HELD OUT'—SAYS JOHN K. SELLECK

Director Spikes Rumors Of Bloc Kept Back to Scalp Scalpers. "Rumors that the university is holding back a block of tickets for the Pittsburgh game to dump on the market at the last minute have no truthful basis whatever," John K. Selleck, student activities director told the Nebraskan Tuesday.

Discuss 4 Story Building Between Teachers and Social Science.

With the location and plans of construction for the new student union building already troubling the student mind and arousing public sentiment, another issue enters into the picture with the announcement by the library planning committee that they have agreed on the erection of the tentative new library between Social Science building and Teachers college. After planning and deliberating for more than two years, the committee has decided upon its course and is now ready to present its plans before the university senate.

VARSIITY DEBATE TO CLOSE FILING NOV. 1

According to Dean C. H. Oldfather of the college of arts and sciences and chairman of the committee, the proposed new four-story structure is yet only a dream, but when funds are made available, the university will be caught napping without a definite set of ideas. "The next step in the program," said the dean, "will be to call a general meeting of the senate probably early in November at which time the instructions staff will be given an opportunity to discuss the temporary proposals. Slides will be made of the plans for each floor and thrown on the screen. The floor space will be explained in detail and copies of the plans will be distributed.
