From 15th and O the parade will move west to 9th, thence north to P, east to 12th and north to the mall east of the stadium where the regiment will be reviewed.

Cadet Colonel Eager and his staff will march at the head of the column which will move from the mall to the point where the parade will be formed.

In the first section of the cadet corps will be the university colors, the first half of the varsity band, Pershing Rifles, Tassels carrying the huge service flag of the university, junior and engineer battalions.

Bradley Leads Second Unit.
Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Bradley and his staff will lead the second unit of the corps which will be composed of the second half of the varsity band, first infantry battalion, regimental colors, second infantry battalion, freshman band, third infantry battalion, Lincoln high school band, and artillery battalion. A motorized artillery battalion will bring up the rear of the column.

The order of the parade:
First division: P. H. Bartholomew, aide; motorcycle officers, American Legion.

TASSELS APPOINTED TO CARRY MEMORIAL FLAG

Pepsters in Parade Today Bear Stars, Stripes in Behalf University.

Tassels, women's pep organization, will carry the University of Nebraska memorial flag in the Armistice day parade today. It was announced at the meeting of Tassels in Social Science, Tuesday evening.

Kathryn Winquist was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee for the Purple Pepsters, Kansas State women's pep organization, when they arrive in Lincoln for the Nebraska-Kansas State game, Nov. 21.

Louise Magee was chosen to serve as chairman of the senior recognition scroll committee. Tassels will make speeches Friday night at all fraternity and sorority houses urging all students to attend the rally that night.

Margaret Phillippe presided at the meeting. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 17, in Social Science, room 105.

MISS CARLSON TO SERVE AS LUTHERAN SECRETARY

Midwest Region Association Names Uni Sophomore For Office.

Evelyn Carlson, university sophomore, was selected secretary of the Midwest Region of the Lutheran Student Association of America by the conference of this region which was held Nov. 6-8 at Luther college in Wahoo, Neb.

The following students from the University of Nebraska attended: Beatrice Ekblad, Loise Maus, Eva Nelson, Willard Strangman, Evelyn Carlson, Esther Schoenlever, Melinda Anderson, Paul Waldschmidt, Carl Bruce.

Other officers elected are: President, Melvin Ostlin, Bethany college; vice president, Omer Voss, Kansas university; treasurer, Doris Quarnstrom, Bethany college.

HEAVY BALLOTING FOR 'MISS CORNHUSKER' IS EVIDENT STATE BARBS

Identity of Honored Coed Is Secret Until Dance After Pitt Game.

Heavy and filled ballot boxes marked the first two days of the initial "Miss Cornhusker" election being sponsored jointly by the Barbs Council, the Interclub Council, and the Nebraskaan. The coed elected to the honor will be presented at the intermission of the Cornhusker Hop, Saturday evening following the Pitt game.

Featuring Red Perkins and his famous colored orchestra, the affair promises to be one of the best of the year. Perkins' orchestra appeared on the campus last spring and proved to be one of the most popular of the season. Beautiful decorations, public address system and a good floor will mark the affair to be one of the most remembered of the year.

Presentation is Novel.
"This orchestra is one of the most popular on the campus and because of the indicated large attendance we are making special arrangements for refreshments and checking." Austin Moritz, president of the Interclub Council, said. "We are expecting already an attendance of over 350 couples."

"So surprising and completely different will be the presentation of 'Miss Cornhusker' that everyone will want to attend," Victor Schwarting, in charge of orchestra arrangements, said enthusiastically. The method of presenting "Miss Husker" originated by Lee Nims, has been held secret and no one will know her identity or how she will be presented until the intermission of the gay dance Saturday evening.

From 9:45 to 10:15 o'clock the orchestra will broadcast over K.F.O.R. Thru the efforts of Bert Hartzell, also in charge of arrangements for the affair, a special announcer from the radio station staff will be present to describe the awarded honor which will go to Nebraska's first "Miss Cornhusker".

Tickets for the dance are seventy-five cents a couple.

FINAL JUDGING OF 12 KOSMET SKITS SET FOR TONIGHT

Remaining Nine Entrants To Give Presentations Thursday Evening.

Final judging of fraternity and sorority skits for the Kosmet Klub Fall review will begin tonight and continue thru tomorrow night when the fourteen best will be selected for production.

At a meeting of the Klub last night the 1937 Prince Kosmet who acts as prince in the court of King Kosmet and introduces the Nebraska Sweetheart on the morning of the annual review which will be held Saturday morning, Nov. 21 at the Stuart theater, was elected from a list of eligibles. Prince Kosmet is traditionally the outstanding man on the campus who is not a member of the dramatics organization. This year's honored student will not be announced until the morning of the show. Bob Shellenberg, president, announced that the presentation planned for the Sweetheart ceremony will be entirely different from any ever staged, and will undoubtedly be the most outstanding.

Requirements Set Up.
"In order to make this year's presentation a perfect success, no skit will even be considered unless every one of its participants can sing. 'Sweet Nebraska Sweetheart,'" declared Shellenberg.

Judges for the skits will be the seven senior members of the Klub, Shellenberg, George Pipal, Bob Funk, Bill Marsh, Floyd Baker, Vance Leininger, and Ross Martin. Judging will be based upon originality, cleverness, talent, presentation, and work done on the skit so far.

Practice Essential.
"Acts which do not show a reasonable amount of practice and rehearsal, positively will not be included in the show as we cannot afford to take chances with a group that is likely to produce a poor quality skit," asserted Shellenberg. "The preliminary viewings showed us that we have so

MILITARY BALL TICKET SALE TO OPEN, NOV. 12

Inter-Company Competition Features Plans for Annual Drive.

Announcing that tickets for the Military Ball will go on sale Thursday, Nov. 12, Cadet Lieutenant John Jarmin, chairman of the ticket committee, outlined plans for an intensive sales drive.

Inter-company competition will be a feature of the drive, Jarmin declared that "it is essential that company commanders check out tickets Thursday in order that all companies have an even start in the contest. Tickets will be issued by Miss Liffrell at the departmental office."

As an incentive to greater sales, suitable recognition is promised to the company compiling the highest sales record, and a bonus of one $2.00 ticket is offered to individual salesmen for each $20.00 worth of tickets sold. The progress of the drive will be determined by a weekly check on the sales by each company.

The tickets, priced at $2.00 for dancers and 35c for spectators, will also be available at Gold's, Magee's and Ben Simon and Son's.

LET'S GO BEHIND SCENE OF PLAYERS' LATEST OFFERING

When the curtain comes down on the first scene of the University Players production "Three Men on a Horse", it takes the place of a starting gun for action backstage.

Standing on a balcony on the skeleton staircase, the Nebraskan reporter Tuesday night watched the entire stage rise and shake itself. Walls of the set wavered and went down, guided by the property men, while other walls took their places. Chairs, tables, lamps, were whisked into the wings. Rugs were rolled, a telephone uprooted, an elevator planted to the right and a phone booth rolled into place at the left.

Eleanor Compton, leading feminine role in the comedy, disappeared up the stairs into her

COUNCIL REJECTS CHARTER OF NEW PLEDGE SOCIETY

Legislators Hear of Fight Of Social Chairmen For Better Music.

Rejection of the freshmen Interclub council constitution, suggested future legislation of the social chairmen's "four party" rule, and acceptance of the committee's proposed plan for Student Union building organization, constituted the accomplishments of the Student Council at its special meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Appearing on behalf of the social chairmen's organization, Bill Hollister recounted a complete history of the group, and explained the significance of its existence and accomplishments, since its institution last November. Forbidden by law to legislate at yesterday's meeting, the council offered a last vote of probable acceptance for Hollister to report to the union and also decided to hold a special meeting to consider the proposal on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Frankly stating that the reason for the group's existence was that the prices of the orchestras were out of proportion to the quality of music, Hollister outlined his committee's negotiations with the local musicians union to improve conditions.

PLEDGES RECOGNIZED BY KAPPA PHI TONIGHT

Drew Addresses Methodist Sorority at Meeting in Ellen Smith.

Actives, pledges and prospective pledges of Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' sorority, will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in Ellen Smith's hall to hear an address by Rev. E. Drew, student pastor of the Wesley Foundation.

Following the regular business and program of the meeting this evening a pledging service will be held, with all pledges and actives in attendance.

18 YEARS AGO TODAY

Colonel Oury Speculates on Future War; Sees Colonial Possessions Threat to Peace

"The next war? When it comes, it will probably originate in Central Europe. Perhaps the Spanish revolution will be the match which will start another world conflagration." The speaker is Colonel Oury, head of the University R. O. T. C. Regiment. In a timely interview on the subject which seems to be foremost in the minds of the people of the world, the Colonel frankly expressed his opinions of the war situation on the anniversary of the day which preceded the cessation of hostilities in 1918.

Begin in Russia.
He believes that the clash will probably begin in Russia, as a climax of the undercover warfare between the fascists and communists. With Europe an armed camp, and the dictatorships of Germany and Italy ready to fight at the drop of a hat, the flames of war will quickly envelop the Continent.

The question is thus aroused, can the United States remain neutral under such circumstances? According to the Colonel, it is quite possible. There are some communists and a few fascists in the U. S. at present, but they are not organized and can be easily overcome.

There are, however, two major assurances of the neutrality of this country, and perhaps of Great Britain. Both countries are removed from the Continent. The people learned a terrible lesson from the World War, and this psychology will undoubtedly prevail. Then, too, the recent debt repudiations will also have an im-

EDUCATORS MUST ECLIPSE FASCISM DECLARES BARNES

Eminent Historian Believes Dictatorship Creeping Into United States.

Displaying the ready knowledge that cause many to consider him one of the most brilliant historians and sociologists of the present day, Harry Elmer Barnes addressed a large audience of instructors and students in Social Science auditorium yesterday afternoon. His subject, which was followed by an open forum discussion, was "The Raid on Education."

Fittingly introduced by Professor Harold Stoke as a "troubler of people's minds," Stoke commented "Every generation has its leaders who go around making questions in the minds of their listeners." Such was the case with Harry Elmer Barnes.

Real Danger—Fascism.

"The real danger to the teachers of America lies in the coming of fascism," Prof. Barnes pointed out. Explaining the financial raid which education has been subjected to, the speaker declared that the depression proved that bankers and politicians could not be trusted to protect education. He explained the "loping off" of the financiers when it came to aiding education.

"Another crime has been the intellectual raid on education. There has been an attempt to suppress honesty, realism and freedom in the teaching profession. Compulsory R. O. T. C. training is deplorable and should not occupy any institution," he said. "I feel that even optional R. O. T. C. training in any institution does not meet the demands for which it is proposed."

Must Present United Front.

Dr. Barnes pointed out that because of actions taken against one instructor in some eastern schools, 99 others are scared into "shutting up." Because of this fear he said material which should be presented never reaches the class room. He urged that the teachers of America present a "united front."

J. A. M'CONNELL TALKS AT ARMISTICE VESPER

Pastor Explains Discipline Of Gratitude at Y. W. Services.

Rev. J. A. McConnell, of the First Plymouth Congregational church, spoke on "The Discipline of Gratitude" at the annual Armistice vesper service Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. vesper in Ellen Smith hall.

"We have two choices: To discipline ourselves into gratification to God and for what He has done for us, or either we will have to accept the discipline of some ruler, we will all have to go thru more suffering during our lives than any of the soldiers who gave their lives in the last war. There is no alternative," stated Rev. McConnell.

Winifred Nelson, chairman of the International Relations staff, read "The Unknown" by Bruce Barton. She also introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Kathryn Werner lead the group in a responsive reading.

The vesper choir, under the direction of Margaret Phillippe, sang a special number.

ARMISTICE PROGRAMS TO FEATURE FACULTY TALKS

Professors Ennis, Lancaster, Stoke to Discuss Peace Subjects Today.

Armistice day speeches will be given today by three university faculty members, J. H. Ennis, economics professor, and Professors W. H. Stoke and L. W. Lancaster, political science.

Professor Ennis will speak at the Peru Teachers college on the subject, "A Neglected Aspect of Armistice Day Thinking," stressing particularly the importance of the United States in world affairs since the armistice and the increasing tendency toward using might to make right.

Professor Stoke will address an audience at the Vine Congregational church at 2:30 on the subject, "Peace and Its Present Day Status." He will emphasize the meaning of peace today and the kind of a peace the world really has.

Professor Lancaster will talk at the Sheridan school to a PTA group, on the subject of "Prospects of Peace for Our Children." His address will be concerned with the probability of war in the future.

CASS LEAVES TODAY FOR TEXAS CONCLAVE OF SIGMA DELTA CHI

Local President to Attend National Journalism Assembly.

Lewis Cass, president of the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, will leave this afternoon for the Sigma Delta Chi national convention to be held at Dallas, Tex., over the weekend. This session of collegiate journalists from all over the country will have its headquarters in the Baker hotel and extend from Thursday thru Sunday.

According to Cass the initial meeting of the convention will be held in the Chrysler building penthouse on the Texas Centennial grounds. The address of welcome Thursday afternoon will be given by a journalist of national repute. An impressive array of speakers has also been secured to entertain and inform the delegates throughout the conclave.

Taking with him the national convention exhibit of the local chapter consisting of representative work from each of the projects carried on by Sigma Delta Chi during the past year, Cass goes to the convention as the champion of a proposal to reduce the initiation fee which must now be met by men joining the organization. Other business occupying the delegates will be the consideration of grants of charters to new chapters throughout the United States and its provinces.

The Rho Gamma Phi organization, a local journalists' group on the South Dakota university campus is applying for a charter from Sigma Delta Chi.

WADSWORTH TO SPEAK AT FRENCH LUNCHEON

Le Cercle Francais Gives Bi-Monthly Affairs Thursday.

Sponsored by Le Cercle Francais the bimonthly French luncheon will be held Thursday noon in the Capital hotel. Prof. J. R. Wadsworth, assistant professor of romance languages, will give a short talk.

Because in some of the previous luncheons students have not been served promptly, arrangements have been made for a banquet style table and also for prompt serving of the meal.

Everyone who has not yet made reservations, is requested to report to Catherine Piazza in the Romance Language library. Tickets are 35 cents.

GHANDI STILL GREAT FORCE IN INDIA SAYS PROF. CHAVAN

YMCA Panel Discussion to Be Held on 'India and Great Britain.'

"Mahatma Gandhi is the force that quietes India today," states Appasaheb Chavan, of Boroda, India.

Chavan, young professor of botany at Boroda college, is doing graduate research at Nebraska. He will participate this Wednesday evening in a panel discussion sponsored by the university Y. M. C. A. on the subject "India and Great Britain."

Mr. Paul M. Zeis, recently of Princeton, and appointed this year as instructor in political science

NO MAN FIT TO BE PRESIDENT IN U. S. COMPLEX SYSTEM

Historian Explains World Crisis to Capacity Crowd in Temple.

There is no longer any man fit to be president of the United States, Harry Elmer Barnes, historian, sociologist, criminologist, and newspaperman told students at the third all-university convocation Thursday morning. Speaking on "The Crisis in World History," he outlined the failure of democracy to keep pace with present day economic problems, and saw ultimate fascism for America.

"Roosevelt is primarily a naval expert," he declared, "but he knows more about our social problems than the house-painter dictator in Germany and the stone-mason minister in Italy."

Right at hand, Barnes stated, we have every potential resource for an economy of abundance and world peace. "If we had devoted the same degree of intelligence to developing our systems of distribution that we devote to production, we would not be menaced by the past or future depressions."

See Historical Change.
He likened present day culture to an antiquated cab driver, capable of handling only a hansom carriage, behind the wheel of a 1937 super model car.

"A man who would be ashamed to drive a 1921 Dodge down the street is proud of his social concepts that antedate Aristotle," he asserted.

Tracing what he called the four periods of world history, he described typical medieval institutions, the trend to a national state, private enterprise, and the new capitalism. These were accompanied by the breakup of Christendom, abandonment of scholasticism for the so-called liberal education, all coming in the fourth period of transition.

The crisis is reached, due to outmoded economic and social machinery, he believes, when we must again adjust ourselves to the scientific and mechanical advances. "We must turn to some Utopia rapidly" he declared "before the collapse comes."

"There is much ruin in any capitalist system, and more ruin in the American system than anywhere else."

Capitalism Doomed.

One thing, he asserted, historians can afford to be dogmatic about was the fact that it is im-

SOUTHWICK HONORED BY CHEMISTRY CLUB

Phi Lambda Upsilon Awards Scholarship for 94.67 Average.

Philip Southwick, chemical engineering sophomore, was awarded the Phi Lambda Upsilon scholarship at the honorary chemistry's banquet in the Lindell hotel last evening. Southwick, who had the highest average of any freshman last year, was graded with a 94.67 per cent in chemistry. His average of all classes was 94.62. Besides being awarded the scholarship, he will receive a "handbook of Chemistry" with his name and average engraved upon it, and his name will also be engraved on the cup displayed in Chem hall.

The banquet was also a farewell party for Mrs. Thompson, secretary in the chemistry department. Dr. F. W. Upson, professor of chemistry, gave a farewell talk for Mrs. Thompson. She was presented with a gift by Phi Lambda Upsilon. Mrs. Thompson will leave early in December to join her husband who has just received his Ph. D. degree and will teach at Michigan State college.

In this university, will act as referee for the panel.

Lazaro Gomez, and Condo C. Sorvida will sit upon the panel as representative Filipino students, while Rex Aman and Howard Wright will speak the part of American students.

In contrast with Chavan, Gordon Williams, whose qualifications are a Welsh birthplace and recent travels in England, will take the side of Great Britain.

A similar session will follow one week from tonight, with Mr. Zeis again acting as referee. The same speakers will participate, but the Filipinos will hold chief interest. All students of international problems are invited to attend both affairs.

THE CORNHUSKER.

(It is a Nebraska custom to stand with heads bared during the singing of the Cornhusker.)
Come a running, boys. Don't you hear that noise
Like thunder in the sky.
How it rolls along, in the good old song,
For the sons of Ne-bras-ki.
Now it's coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So with all our vim, we are bound to win,
And we're going to win today—

Chorus.

For Nebraska and the Scarlet, for Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho' they go thru many a battle, our colors still are seen.
So in contest and in victory we will wave them for the team.
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker—
The old Scarlet and the Cream.

NEBRASKA FIELD SONG.

Fight, fight, fight, for the Scarlet and Cream,
We'll all fight like mad for the team,
Smash thru that line, We're with you all the time,
Touchdown! Nebraska U! Rah, Rah, Rah,
Go, Nebraska, Pile up that score,
We've got to take this game!
We're going to win, we'll never give in,
Fight, Nebraska, Fight.
