Howard Reynolds quoting Webster in chemistry class... a saucy "off the face" rust hat on the back of Ruth Bauder's head... Trying to discover the writer of this column is Jeff Broady, who stated that he will pay him off to keep the name "Jeff Broady" out of it... Harold Schulte singing a solo for chorus students... Neva Webster wearing brown buck moccasins with white interlacings and heels... Sally White rushing to school with a coat hanger on the back of her coat... A student forgetting to take his rubber apron off after lab... Favors, place cards and decorations being made for the Ellen H. Richard's dinner Tuesday... The result of betting on the Nebraska-Pittsburgh game—Earl Heady must bake a chocolate cake for Marian Hoppert and Grace Pitcaithley had to send Frank Shipman a dozen roses... Frank wore six of them at the A. G. R. house party... People speculating on just who will be the lucky three selected to judge down at Kansas City... Wes Lipp preferring a plain egg nog as his stimulant... Thane Davis the proud possessor of a 1937 cream trimmed with scarlet Chevrolet... Agnese Novacek happy that the attendance for Ellen H. Richard's dinner is to be larger than ever... Sign reading that Mel Pester is to play for Alpha Zeta mixer Friday... One girl informing all who were interested about the simplest way of getting into bed without waking the mater and pater... All wishing there would be more eleven o'clock rallies.

Chi O's Have Open House Saturday

Chi Omega's will do double entertaining this week end when they play hostess Saturday after the game with an open house dance and again Sunday evening at a buffet supper. About 40 couples are expected to attend. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Karl Arndt and Mrs. Carol Fawcett.

Kappa Sigs Decorate for Barn Dance Tonight

Kappa Sig pledges are busy today transforming the downstairs rooms of the house into semblance of a barn for the old fashioned barn dance they are giving to honor the active chapter tonight. In addition to several surprise features, the living room will be "alive" with barnyard fowls and the orchestra will play for a square dance. Appropriate costumes will be donated by Kappa Sig farmers and their dates. Dean and Mrs. W. C. Harper and Mrs. Palmer Smith will chaperone the party.

A.T.O.'s and Innocents Hear New Nebraska Song

Wednesday night Alpha Tau Omega entertained alumnus Wilbur Chenoweth and members of the Innocents society at dinner at the chapter house. Mr. Chenoweth played "Hail Varsity" the

Phi Psi's Describe Party Plans as Weird

Indefinite information on the Phi Psi house party tonight includes the use of colored lights to create a "weird" impression. Pledge class president, Lewis Ball, is in charge of the arrangements and in the midst of arranging, allowed himself to be quoted as saying "We have nothing to say except that the party will be good." Chaperons are Major and Mrs. W. R. Philp and Mrs. Gladys Gatter.

Gamma Phi Beta Announces Pledge

Georgiana Aultz of Cortland is a new pledge of Gamma Phi Beta.

Chi Phi to Celebrate Forty-second Anniversary

Saturday evening the active chapter of Chi Phi will entertain the alumni at their forty-second anniversary dinner at the Lincoln hotel. After the dinner the chapter will hold an open house party at the chapter house. Chaperons for the party will be Mrs. M. B. Daniels and Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Pool.

Theta Chi to Entertain at Thanksgiving Party

With decorations in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, Theta Chi will entertain at a party at the chapter house tonight, honoring the pledge class. Chaperons will be Prof. and Mrs. Karl W. Arndt, D. H. Harkness and Mrs. Anna Knapp. The party is closed.

Ag College Boarding Club Boys to Give Party

Saturday evening members of the Ag College Boarding club will entertain at a fall party at the Lincoln hotel. About sixty couples are expected to attend and the chaperons for the party are Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Crowe and Mr. F. H. Gooding.

Doors Are Open at Pi Phi House Saturday

Pi Phi's invite one and all to cut capers at their Thanksgiving party at the chapter house Saturday night. Cornstaks, turkeys and other vacation suggesting decorations will be used. Chaperons for the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wait and Mrs. Petermichael.

Sigma Kappa Pledges to Give Swing Party

Student steppers are invited to Swing Inn (Sigma Kappa house) for a swing party to be given by the pledge class for the active chapter, Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. John Nesbit and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Schmidt will chaperone the swing party.

Beta Sig's to Give Fall Party Saturday

Annual fall party of Beta Sigma Psi will be held at the Cornhusker hotel, Saturday night. Chaperons for the party will be Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Stoke and Prof. and Mrs. Lane W. Lancaster.

KOSMET SHOW PREVUES

To Nebraska Sweetheart candidates, we believe, in the way for the KOSMET broadcast came about. After a Kosmet Klub member had spent two days chasing program director Lyle De Moss all over the country towns where he picks up "man in the street" broadcasts to arrange their annual radio pre-arrange and had almost given up, he got a telephone call from Announcer Jack Hanson, who had seen the Sweethearts' pictures in the downtown papers. "Could we possibly arrange a radio interview with those girls?" he queried. "Such beauty is also gracious," he was told. "Possibly you can tell by their voice inflections over the air which one feels like the Queen of the May."

Another song—no best seller, but plenty cute—that deserves mention here is the ditty "Under the Clock at Soak," which will be featured in the Theta skit. Think Ed Farrell had something to do with writing it.
Much discussion was created when the final skit selections were announced without either of last year's winners included. The sorority, Alpha Phi, was rumored to have become discouraged on seeing the smooth Alpha O act. The fraternity, Chi Phi, entered, but was eliminated because of insufficient preparation. But they practiced over the week end, got the judges out for reconsideration, and now, voo unto you, they will go on the stage. Not that the act is a lemon—the contrary.

Tailored Top Wraps Displace Long, Flowing Capes Say Fashion Sages; Humble Parisian Tweed Is in Vogue

When you start out to a party this winter, be sure you sweep out the door in one of the stately evening wraps Parisian designers have created. Gone are the long, flowing capes of last winter and in are the very tailored wraps which emphasize the luxury of your glittering formal.
The newest thing from Paris, is the tweed evening coat. This humble material now appears for the most glamorous occasions and is fashioned into a simple coat of princess lines. Wear the coat tight at the neck when you choose to move through the streets but when you are inside, unbutton it and show the bright colored beaded reverse. Bright colored velvet is used to face the lapels if you find beads not to your liking.
If you are not such a radical in your fashion beliefs, choose for your important evenings an evening coat of velvet, or of a new, heavy grosgrain. Sleeves are big at the shoulders (to fit over the new sleeved formalis you know) and waists are fitted and flow into full, graceful skirts. Wraps no longer are left to fly open in the wind but are buttoned tight all the way up.
And the lust for lame does not stop when we come to evening wraps. You will possess the mystery of the orient if you choose a lame wrap cut like one of the royal robes of a shah of Persia.
Or if you prefer a quaint look, wear a coat of brocaded velvet with a tight-fitting bodice and a flaring skirt. It will make you look like a page from the past and is breath-taking in its loveliness.

But if you don't have a first class case of jitters after you see their coffin scene, accompanied by their wood wind trio playing "Gloomy Sunday", then you're a spook show addict. It will take more than two Beta puns to remove the glacier from the audience.

For plain, downright presentation of a song, don't miss Janet Caldwell's number in the Pi Phi act. First time we heard it, we lost our breath gasping, and on regaining it, lost it all laughing. Helen Morgan doesn't stand a chance.

Last two years, Kosmet Klub shows fairly overflowed with tap dancers. This year, we've discovered only one, and he's good enough for anyone's musical revue. The boy is Irving Kuklin, Zeta Beta Tau, and the name sounds familiarly like the freshman boy who was teaching Carlwell, Francis, MacDonald and Shirley how to hot foot it last year.

But if we're going to pick out any academy awards for personal performance, we can't overlook Flora Albin. Last year, she hit the newspaper often as a star in whatever Northwestern calls their University Players. This year, she's a roottin' tootin' "Bovary Nell" in the Tri-Delt skit, and when I say she swings it, I really mean she swings it.

Our personal nominations for something to look for in the troupy at the annual competition held last May.

Sophomore companies are taking up the use and the qualities of the automatic rifle. Each man learns how to strip and assemble the piece. The automatic rifle is not used on the range at Andrews but is used when the advanced men go to camp in the summer.
Averages compiled for the first three weeks of company inspection shows that the score of the infantry is slightly better than the score of the engineers and the artillery. The infantry percentage was 68.35, artillery 67.07, and the engineers 67.8.
