BIZAD STUDENTS TO ASSEMBLE AT 11 O'CLOCK TODAY

C. C. Newmann to Address Assembly on Country Banking Topic.

Biography of a Country Bank involving its relations to local and national business is the subject of the address which C. C. Newmann, cashier of the Ashland Farmers and Merchants National bank, will give before members of the Bizad college at a professional meeting in social sciences auditorium at 11 o'clock this morning.

"Mr. Newmann is truly an able man," declared Prof. Arndt of the economics department. "He has given this talk frequently at banker conventions and it has been very enthusiastically received because of its pertinent Nebraska interest. I sincerely believe that it is the best study of its kind compiled in the middle west."

Talk Based on Careful Analysis.

Newmann's topic includes the results of 50 years of careful investigation and analysis of the small banks' relations to the local and national status of business. His deductions do not pertain merely to any individual bank or case but rather to national economic conditions as a whole.

"Because of its general character, this speech will be of utmost interest not only to students making a professional study of banking, but to all interested in economics as well," Arndt advised. "This will not be just another talk; Mr. Newmann has been brought here because of his fine recommendations by many who have heard him."

Charts Illustrate Bank History.

Newmann will illustrate many of his facts with charts which he began making several years ago and which depict the history of his own bank. He began his chart making because of personal curiosity.

WOMEN LEADERS FOR COUNTIES TO RECEIVE RECOGNITION AWARDS

Ag College Plans Meet of Organized Agriculture For Jan. 5-7.

Several score of Nebraska farm women will be honored for their rural leadership during the organized Agriculture session at the University college of agriculture the fore part of January, it was announced late Saturday. Chairmen of the county women's project work, they will be presented with recognition pins on the home economics sectional program on Thursday, January 7.

Miss Mary Ellen Brown, in charge of women's extension work in Nebraska, made the announcement. W. H. Brokaw, director of the agricultural college extension service, will make the presentation of awards.

Nearly 1,000 Nebraska farm and town women are expected to attend the Home Economics program of Organized Agriculture on January 5 and 6. Mrs. E. E. Hartz, Roca who is president of the women's organization, will preside.

SATURNALIA FEATURES ROMAN STYLE BANQUET

Classicists Will Appear at Annual Club Feast in 'Togas,' 'Stalias.'

Members of the Classics club, Latin and Greek language society, will "feast in true Roman style" at their annual Saturnalia banquet in the party room of the Ambassador apartments, 14th and J streets, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 16, at 6:15 o'clock, according to Margaret Saxton, secretary of the organization.

Saturnalia party is held each year in remembrance of the ancient Roman festival which was celebrated with three days of revelry around the middle of December. Men attending the banquet will bring sheets from which they will fashion Roman costumes known as "togas" while the women will make the ancient apparel called "stalias."

Dr. Michael S. Ginsburg, associate professor of the Classics, will serve as Magister Bibendi, Latin for "Master of the punch bowl." Other entertainment for the affair will be singing, several short skits, and individual musical numbers. Final arrangements for this portion of the banquet have not been settled.

GREAT CATHEDRAL CHOIR GOES EAST FOR HOLIDAY CONCERTS

Rosborough Directs Popular Group of 50 Musicians, Composed Largely of N. U. Students, Who Will Sing on Famous Programs.

Making its second bid for eastern recognition, Lincoln's Great Cathedral Choir, under the direction of John M. Rosborough, will leave next Monday evening for New York City and a series of appearances that will bring it before some of the finest audiences in the east.

The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel will once more be host to this great musical group of the Midwest. Last year the choir stayed at the Waldorf-Astoria for two days, singing daily and gaining the acclamation of the music loving New Yorkers. As "the Christmas gift to the city of New York," the Waldorf-Astoria will present the Lincoln choir on Christmas Day. The choir will be guests of the hotel for eight days.

A series of engagements has been arranged for the choir which is at last receiving national recognition as one of the fine choirs in the United States. There will be a concert at Rockefeller Center at dusk Dec. 23 and the choir will offer a program at Wanamaker's department store. The series of concerts of which this appearance will be one was opened this

PANHELLENIC OFFERS SCHOLASTIC AWARDS TO SORORITY WOMEN

Four Winning Applicants To Get $35 Each for Next Semester.

Four Panhellenic scholarships of thirty-five dollars each will be awarded this year to two junior and two senior girls of the university, according to announcement made today by the city Panhellenic association. Plans for making the awards state that the scholarships will be given preceding the opening of the second semester and the final deadline for application for the awards has been set as Jan. 10.

Following the custom of many years past the city Panhellenic society will award the scholarships to four sorority women who have superior personal and scholastic qualifications and need financial aid. In former years the association has offered only twenty dollars awards, but due to the success and increased attendance of the Panhellenic tea, it has been possible for the committee in charge to increase the scholarships to thirty-five dollars, the announcement stated.

Petition Effects Change in Distribution Centers

Daily Nebraska will hereafter be distributed in Temple building and the Awgwan in Temple and in Andrews hall.

Awgwan did not appear in Social Sciences yesterday morning as scheduled because of petition signed by instructors in that building protesting that the sale caused too much disturbance in the halls.

NEWS STUDENTS TO HEAR ADVICE ON JOURNALISM

Walker, Lawrence Address Convocation Tonight In Social Science.

Director Gayle C. Walker of the journalism school and James E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star and instructor in journalism, will be the featured speakers at the departmental convocation for all students interested in journalistic work which will be held in social sciences auditorium at 7:30 this evening.

"Journalism Rewards and Punishments" is the topic chosen by Walker, while Lawrence will conclude the short program with an address entitled "The Newspaper."

"All students enrolled in the various journalism courses in the department are expected to attend the meeting unless prevented by some definite engagement," Walker stated. "However, all members of the school including freshmen are invited."

Director Walker announced that members of Lawrence's Journalism 187 course entitled "Community Newspaper" will be excused from their regular Wednesday evening class for attending the convocation. He also advised that students enrolled in Lawrence's "Newspaper Editing" course, Journalism 181, will meet in the classroom at the regular time and will then adjourn to the auditorium.

"We are holding this convocation as we feel that it is our only opportunity to bring all the members of the journalism school together," Walker declared.

Pershing Rifles Meet For Pictures at 5 Today

All Pershing Riflemen are ordered to report in the regular meeting room at 5 this afternoon for Cornhusker pictures. Every man must be in white uniform with black shoes, white gloves and caps, promptly at 5:00, Captain Bernstein stated.

The man with a beaming bald pate today can be thankful he is living in the 20th century. Take Dr. Harold G. O. Holek's word for it—the man or woman who suffered from lack of hair during the "dark ages" treated their scalps with a tonic composed of a mixture of fat from the horse, crocodile, rhinoceros, cat, worm and mountain goat—the resulting "oil" to be applied freely. Perhaps this cure-all was as effective as our modern hair tonics and was a good deal harder to procure.

NEBRASKAN STAFF LOSES THIRD MAN TO LINCOLN PAPER

By The Bereaved. The way of all good columnists...

Old-timers who read the Nebraska last year remember a column of campus comment under the heading "Around and About", and under the by-line of Howard Dobson. Dobson performed his duties faithfully and with a degree of excellence that delighted the managing editors.

But anything was better than the salary Howard was getting, so he took a job on the night sports desk of the Lincoln State Journal. "Around and About" forged ahead under the equally guidance of Dobby's very good friend, Sarah Louise Meyer.

Then came Dick Kunzman, Daily Nebraskan sports editor who turned out a whale of a column before he, too, was proselyted. But Dick took a job on the night sports desk of the Lincoln State Journal and the Nebraska struggled on.

This week, the Nebraska stipend-slavers thought they had found vindication. News wound its way to the cavernous depths of university hall that Dobson, now night sports editor, was leaving the Journal for a job on the Omaha Bee-News. Voila! The Journal was taking some of its own medicine.

Then, in the midst of their hi-

DISTRICT HAZARD FACES ASPIRANTS TO OXFORD DEC. 19

Judges to Pick Two from List of Ten; Five N. U. Entries.

Four students at the university, and one former student are included in the list of ten young Nebraskans announced as this year's Rhodes scholarship candidates, who will compete here Saturday before the state selection committee for two places in the district competition at Des Moines. A scholarship amounting to approximately $2,000 a year for two years' study at Oxford university, England, will be given by the district committee.

University students named: John Milton Roberts, Jr., 20, Lincoln, senior; Arnold J. Levin, 19, of Rosalie, senior; Howard S. Kaltenborn, 19, Waco, senior; Earl Edgar, 22, Lincoln graduate.

The former Nebraskan is Irving Hill, 21 of Lincoln, graduate and now a student at Harvard law school.

COLLEGE POETRY CONTEST BEGUN BY TED MALONE

Who is the most outstanding poet among the college and university students of Nebraska?

To find the answer to this question, a poetry contest is to be conducted by Ted Malone, Columbia Broadcasting system commentator. This is a part of a nationwide contest conducted in every state by Mr. Malone.

Each contestant may submit three poems, each typed on separate sheets of paper bearing the name and address of the author. The poems must be sent to Dr. L. C. Wimberly, Andrews 121 before January 8. The poems will be turned over to judges to decide the winning poem in each state.

The winning poems will be read over a nationwide CBS hook-up by Ted Malone during the week of Jan. 24th. Judges for the contest are Audrey Wurdemann, Pulitzer prize poetry winner for 1934, and Joseph Auslander, associate editor of the North American Review.

FOUR CANDIDATES IN INTRA-COLLEGE CHAIRMAN BATTLE

Ostendorf, Parker, Burns, Wallace in Race for Exposition Head.

Committee chairmen for Engineers' Week, annual engineering college exposition, will be elected today. Balloting by members of the college will be held from 8 o'clock until 5 on the first floor of mechanical arts hall.

Candidates and organizations from which they were nominated are as follows: John Parker, American Chemical Engineering Society; Roger Wallace, American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Pete Burns, American Society of Agricultural Engineers; and Earl Ostendorf, American Institute of Electrical Engineers. All are seniors except Burns who is in his junior year.

In determining candidates, each of the six principal engineering societies propose two men from whom the college executive board selects the four who compete in the final election. The candidate receiving the most votes is declared chairman while the student who receives the second largest following is declared secretary-treasurer.

Chairman Chooses Helpers. Membership on the committee is placed in the hands of the popularly elected chairman. The committee takes complete charge of preparations for the "Week" which is customarily concluded on the same day as the traditional Ivy ceremonies.

Parker is a member of Beta Theta Pi; Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity; Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity; Phi Mu Epsilon, athletic fraternity; American Society of Chemical Engineers, Scabbard and Blade, and council of engineers executive board.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE FOR AG PUBLICATION REACHES 350 MARK

Student Board in Charge of Monthly Magazine Meets Today.

Members of the ag student board, that has effected the recent campaign for a monthly publication on the ag campus, will meet for an important session in room 305, Ag hall, at 5 this afternoon to discuss the results of their subscription drive with members of the faculty staff. The drive, which was initiated by members of the student body, under the leadership of Don Magdanz, was intended to reach a goal of 350 subscriptions, and, according to a report from Chairman Magdanz, had in all probability reached that point Monday.

To find the answer to this question, a poetry contest is to be conducted by Ted Malone, Columbia Broadcasting system commentator. This is a part of a nationwide contest conducted in every state by Mr. Malone.

THIEF TAKES PICTURE OF FORMER LIBRARIAN

Doane Asks for Return of Photo, Valuable to Library Series.

A framed picture of Walter K. Jewett, librarian of the university library from 1906-1913, has been stolen from the group of pictures of former librarians in the second floor hall of the library.

"I can't imagine why anyone would go to the trouble to steal such a picture, which is of value only to the library or to friends of Dr. Jewett," stated Gilbert Doane, head librarian.

"It was necessary to have a picture taken from a group photo, and enlarged at the cost of the library. It will cost the library an amount to replace the picture. There are no individual photographs of Dr. Jewett available." The picture was approximately 12x9 in size, in a plain, black frame. Dr. Jewett was a distinguished looking gentleman with a Van Dyke beard.

"If the person who took the picture will please return the photograph, even without the frame, no questions will be asked" stated Mr. Doane. "The frame can be easily replaced, but the photograph itself cannot be easily duplicated."
