By ELWOOD RANDALL.
Lloyd Cardwell defeated Rohn Boscholt last night at the coliseum to become the heavyweight champion of the university while nearly a thousand persons hooded the contestants in the feature bout of the evening. Both men seemed to pull their punches until the third round when a few blows landed by accident.

The bouts were three rounds of two minutes each with Harold Mathews serving as referee. The men used 18 ounce gloves for the fights. Several knock downs and one knockout featured the dozen bouts on the evening card. Tom Bodie put the lights out for James Allety after one minute and 31 seconds of the second round had elapsed.

Bodie Kayoes Allety In Second.
Allety seemed to be getting the best of the fight in the first round getting across numerous blows to Bodie's head and when the bell rang closing the stanza Bodie seemed very tired. Bodie came back strong in the second period and proceeded to get the upper edge of the fight. Allety tried to rally but when he clinched with Bodie, Allety didn't fare well. Bodie got his opponent in the corner and rained blows to the head finishing with a right uppercut which sent Allety to the floor. Allety hit the canvas with such force that he struck his head a sharp blow which helped to put him out. Allety was helped to the dressing room still out on his feet. Mehring Knocks Out Herrmann.

Another highlight of the evening's card was the Mehring-Herrmann bout. The boys came out to the center of the ring. Herrmann started to blast his way in but Mehring kept covered. Mehring's guard was catching all of the blows which were intended for the head. Mehring waited for an opening, then, when he saw it, belted Herrmann a stiff right to the head and he went down for the count. Herrmann was saved by the bell when the count had reached seven.

In the second round Herrmann came out fast and for-od Mehring to the ropes, but Bob went into his shell again and waited until the storm had passed. Then, quick as a flash, Bob delivered three more hard rights to the head and Herrmann went to the canvas a second time. The referee called it off and raised Mehring's hand after fifty-three seconds of the second round had passed.

Judges for the bouts were Earl Trenholm and Ed Reynolds.

WHITE GIVES LAST CALLS FOR ANNUAL DEBATE CONTEST

may enter the contest in the non-fraternity section.
Competition will be divided into the fraternity and nonfraternity groups as has been the custom in past years. At the end of all the debates the champions of the bar group generally challenge the winners of the fraternity groups. Teams will be composed of two men and the speeches will be of the same type as any intercollegiate debate. No debater that has participated in varsity debates, either here or on some other campus, is eligible in the competition. The contest will begin early in March and will be completed before the Easter vacation.

NEBRASKA GYM TEAM TO COMPETE AGAINST MINNESOTA TONIGHT

Reynolds, Bignell, Belders, Belka, Kreisler to Perform.

Gymnastic teams of Nebraska and Minnesota will compete in a dual meet this evening at 7:30 in the coliseum. There will be no charge for admission.

The Husker squad lost their first of seven scheduled dual meets to the Iowa outfit last Saturday in Iowa City. This evening's meet will be the first, last, and only home appearance of the Nebraska gymnasts. Five other dual meets remain on the schedule.

Minnesota will present a strong and well-rounded team. The Vikings have one victory at the expense of Chicago and one loss to Illinois chalked up on their 1937 slate. Nebraska dropped two meets to those same two schools during the 1936 season.

The two Eddies, Reynolds and Bignell, are the mainstays of the Cornhusker squad. Other Nebraskans who will pit their wares against the Vikings are Bob Belka, George Belders and Peter Kreisler.

The figures cut by the twist-and-tumble athletes on the parallel bars, horizontal bar and mats have been a popular feature between halves of the basketball games. Due to the fact that competition forces better performance and fancier gymnastic tricks, the public will undoubtedly be treated to more thrilling and enjoyable stunts at the Husker-Viking meet.

THIS WEEK
Friday.
Beta Theta Pi dinner dance at the Lincoln.
Delta Delta Delta formal at the Cornhusker.
Saturday.
Chi Omega formal at the Cornhusker.
