SEEN ON THE CAMPUS.

Once he had three Virginia's, now he has one—maybe; Jimmy Beltzer lost two of his loves in one evening when he had a date with one and double-dated the other. Professor Stoke was so sure that no one could name three ambassadors that he offered a double-decker sandwich as bait, and was fooled for the second time in five years when some smart miss listed four. The Inquiring Reporter dumfounded to find someone taking him seriously and delightedly listening to Sam Swenson expound his opinion of convocations. Jean Wait efficiently shushing would-be politicians at the A. W. S. polls. We never quite approved of a tux in the daytime but Jack Cady didn't have much to say about it when the Kappa Sigs asked him to wear one to school. The Alpha Sig lets bids are clever all right, but Mary Yoder looked a little conspicuous when she burst into the Tasty the other night with one drooped around her neck. It looked like one good Irish woman was left when Marty Morrow came decked out in kelly green twin sweaters. At least the passerby got some entertainment out of watching the Sigma Nu's entering their rooms via the fire escapes.

vocate in carrying out to their full extent, the various innovations required for the smooth-running of the unicameral.
"Senator Gantz is one of the most eloquent and able members of the present legislature," Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the business administration college declared, "and we can be sure that he will give a fine account of how the new system is working."
Substitution of the unicameral legislature for the two house system of preceding years, marked the climax of 25 years of preparation. Proposed by Senator Norris, it was finally put before the people of the state for sanction in 1935.
Opens in January.
First session of the unicameral officially opened amid much ceremony in January of this year.

WHEN Hollywood wants to film a scene requiring hundreds of "extras," it makes a telephone call—and gets them.
This is made possible by a central casting bureau, whose amazingly fast service is based on systematic use of the telephone. This organization has a telephone switchboard where as many as 30,000 calls a day are handled in bringing actors and producers together.
Another example of the value of telephone service to business and social America. It is the constant aim of Bell System men and women to make it ever more useful—constantly better.
Keep in closer touch with home—by telephone. Rates to most points are lowest after 7 P. M. and all day Sunday.

interest to students and faculty members here.
Humorous Program.
The gridiron dinner held yearly in Lincoln by business and professional men has provoked a large amount of campus comment and interest. The members of the two journalism fraternities are endeavoring to give students and faculty the same general type of program which other gridiron dinners follow, localized by imitating humorously the university-senate meetings.
Committees working with Miss Meyer include: Willard Burney, tickets; Dorothea Fulton and Eleanor Clizbe, dinner arrangements; Dorothy Bentz, invitations; George Pipal, Ed Murray, Mary Lu Petersen, Arnold Levin and Johnson Snipes, program.
Tickets will be issued Saturday afternoon to the ticket captains, whose names will be announced in the March 19 issue of the Daily Nebraskan.

is the title of the first address to be given by Professor Kirsch, chairman of the fine arts department. He will illustrate his lecture with many famous natural color slides of Nebraska taken by the lecturer.
Professor Edison, associate professor of electrical engineering, will close the evening's activities with an address and practical demonstration of the mysteries of the photo-electric cell. He has entitled his address, "Audible Light."
Puppeteers Entertain.
At Friday morning's program for elementary and junior high school students, the Museum Puppeteers will present "Little Black Sambo" with an educational introduction by Miss Shanafelt. At 10:30 students of senior high school will hear "The Red Pioneers of Nebraska," an address by Professor Bell of the anthropology department. He will illustrate his lecture which relates his recent discoveries concerning primitive men who lived in northern Nebraska.
Chancellor Burnett will be the principal speaker at the luncheon in the Norfolk hotel ballroom at noon. His topic for discussion is "The University and the People." All visiting members of the university faculty will be guests at the luncheon.
Adult Program.
The afternoon "Adult Education program" will be opened by another violin recital by Professor Steckelberg. Professor Reinhardt of the sociology department will address the group on "Changing America" followed by Professor Pfeiler of the Germanic languages department speaking on "Understanding Modern Germany."
