Intellect Out of Place On Dance Floors.

Not so long ago a girl told us that she thought the crime of all crimes was to talk classes at a university party. The postman's holiday idea she thought all wrong. And we loudly agree—parties should be for relaxation and vacationing from the more serious phases of campus life. Long-faced sour pussies are out of place on the be-humped fringe of the dance floor. Check your brains with your wraps and enjoy yourself.

The stuffy faces who look askance at the healthy animals having a wonderful time are, we feel, to be pitied. With their everlasting analyzing and rationalizing they are so taken with the seriousness of the world and themselves that they can't enter into the party spirit of light-heartedness. Needing the most of all student to unbend, they are least capable thereof. And so they think dances and those who enjoy them very stupid.

Of course there is the equally deplorable extreme of effortful dancing. They are so absorbed in pulling some fast and fancy ones that they forget to smile or excuse themselves to those they step on. The dance floor to them calls for a strenuous workout of extravagant showmanship. It is the facial contortions of this group of "experts" that are satirized so tellingly by the Hartmans, popular New York dance team. And this form of athletic concentration is as alien to the frivolity of a party as the stuffed-shir philosopher.

So, if a-partying you go, for heck's sake be gay about it. Leave your musings on "Why are we here?" till the morning after. Civilization is only skin deep. Enjoy while you may a socially acceptable outlet for the yearnings of subcutaneous tissues. Leave your grey matter to home—you'll last longer.

A Romeoed Shark.

In one of those much-cussed pre-med Saturday morning labs sat little Dicky Paul, delving for the inner ear of a shark. Extraction of these semi-circular canals is a delicate process, and Mr. Paul was holding his fish very close to his eyes for a better job. The specimen happened to be a peculiarly decaying and disintegrating one, with skin coming off and internal workings spilling out in several pieces. Suddenly, as he was working along earnestly Dick began to croon softly to his pretty playmate, "Let's seal it with a kiss."

Needed: A New Library. The powers that be have grossly neglected one of the major points of need in their campaign for a library-topped building program. Portia Boynton, who is adept at reducing the most complex problem to its basic simplicity, called the situation to our attention. Reminded by the heavy Temple doors of the even weightier ones in the library, she remarked that after she had struggled her way into the latter edifice she was too tired to study therein. Surely the legislators will see that this is the final straw.

SIGMA DELTA EPSILON HOLDS INITIATE DINNER

Science Fraternity Honors Five New Members at Banquet Saturday.

Iota chapter of Sigma Delta Epsilon, women's national scientific fraternity, held an initiation banquet for five new graduate members Saturday evening, March 20, at the Cornhusker.

The following are the graduate students of the university who were initiated: Lucile Mills, Lincoln, pharmacy department; Irene M. Mueller, Central City, botany department; Mrs. Anne S. Dunn, Lincoln; Virginia Stauffer, Beres, O., and Mrs. Frank L. Marsh, Lincoln, all of the home economics department.

Mrs. Lulu Runge, president of the organization, and Miss Viola Jelenek, vice president, were in charge of the initiation.

The banquet ceremonies were under the supervision of women members of the geology and geography departments. Dr. Eula McEvans of the geology department presided as toastmistress.

She presented Dr. Esther Anderson, who gave a history of the organization; Dr. Vera Rigdon, who welcomed the initiates; Lucile Mills, who responded for the new members, and Dr. Anne Stafford, who gave the address of the evening on the subject, "A Summer in Europe." Miss Carrie Barbow of the geology department was social chairman.

The Weather
Wear your overcoats today says Prof. T. A. Blair. The rain that has been hovering over the midwestern part of the country may drop in here. Not much change in temperature though.

JUNIORS, SENIORS NAME MAY QUEEN IN VOTE MARCH 24

Upperclasswomen to Elect Mortar Board Nominees In Same Poll.

Selection of the 1937 May queen and 30 Mortar Board candidates will take place on Wednesday, March 24, when junior and senior women go to the polls from 9 to 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall and in Dean Burr's office in Ag hall.

Eighteen senior women make up the May queen candidacy list, one of whom will be chosen to rule over Ivy day activities on May 6. Names of those eligible for election will be published on posters at the polls, Marylu Petersen, election chairman, announced. The senior girl receiving the second highest number of votes in the ballot will serve as maid of honor in the Ivy day ceremonies.

Juniors, Seniors Vote.

In the election of Mortar Board candidates, junior and senior women may cast their ballot for not less than five eligible junior women and not more than 20. From the 30 receiving the highest number of votes, Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will choose its new membership for the coming year. This is the first time in the history of Mortar Board candidate elections that junior women have been allowed to voice an opinion and take part in the ballot.

Reaffirming the stand on policies which Mortar Board took at the opening of the school year, Jean Walt, president of the honorary, commented on the coming election, "Because of the importance of the honors which are at stake in the election on Wednesday.

JUNIOR BOARD HOLDS RALLY TONIGHT AT AG FOR FARMER'S FAIR

Peep Meeting Will Create Enthusiasm for May 8 Event Says Hedlund.

To create enthusiasm for the Farmers' Fair, May 8, a preview rally will be held tonight in Ag hall at 7:35 o'clock, Earl Hedlund announced. This will be the second fair rally of the year.

Arranged by the junior fair board, this rally will include some comical features with the senior fair board members as the cast.

According to Hedlund, there is an old tradition on ag campus that the juniors take a few "digs" at the seniors, and this particular rally promises to be no exception.

After the entertainment of the evening the lists of all fair committees will be read and posted. All ag college students are urged to attend and get their placards, stickers and bumper signs which will be distributed at the close of the rally.

at the national convention held at Savannah, Ga., last week.

Although Dr. Pound was unable to attend the A. A. U. W. convention, Lincoln was represented by Miss Louise Van Sickle who returned Monday.

A former Lincoln man, Charles Wiedman, and Miss Dora Humphrey presented their troupe of dancers in a sketch of modern dancing as part of the program. Miss Van Sickle reported.

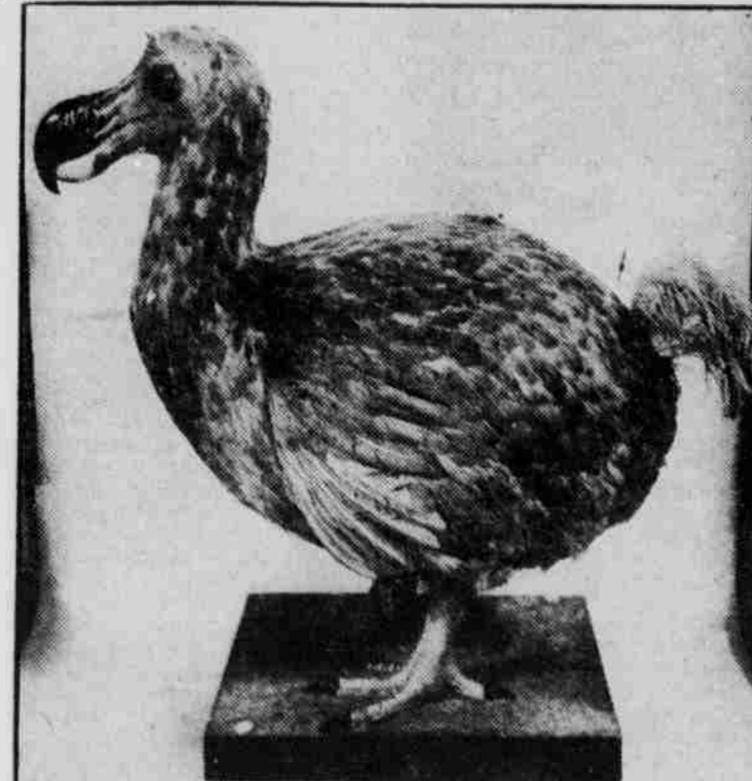

Dr. Pound's election came as the result of her outstanding contributions in the fields of philology and literature.

do is the product of folklore or imagination, but on the contrary it has a most genuine history.

The dodo, from the Portuguese, meaning simplification, was exterminated so completely in the 16th and 17th centuries that it passed completely from the face of earth. One skeleton was preserved and is the only mount in the world, altho several models have been constructed from contemporary pictures and drawings of this

RUST DISCUSSES COMPLEXITY, ENORMOUSNESS OF UNIVERSE

Astronomer Tells Secrets Of Galactic System To Sigma Xi.

Some conception of the enormity and complexity of the universe was emphatically expressed by Carl F. Rust of the University astronomy department in his lecture last night entitled the "Structure of the Galaxy." Rust made his address to members of Sigma Xi and to others interested in his topic, in the Morrill hall auditorium.

Rust, who is in charge of the university observatory, traced the development of the present theories regarding the structure and extent of the galaxy. He explained the bases and provisions of the various hypotheses which were proposed previous to the one which is generally recognized at the present time.

Aggregation of Stars.
The galaxy is a great aggregation of stars," Rust explained. "It is a disc-like system composed of approximately 100,000 million stars. Proof of its being a homogeneous unit is definitely shown by the uniformity of matter diffused throughout the system."

Size of the galaxy is widely accepted by authorities to be 100,000 light years in extent and 5,000 light years in width. (A light year is the distance that

YW PLANS PRE-EASTER CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

Vesper Choir to Present Musical Program At 5 Today.

As a pre-Easter program, the Y. W. Vespers staff will present the traditional choir candlelight service this afternoon at 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith hall.

In charge of the service is Bernice Nelleman, accompanist, who will read the Easter Scripture and give the benediction. She will play the prelude, "Rosary."

For the procession, the robed choir carrying lighted candles will sing "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Into the Wood My Master Went." The choir will also sing "Fairest Lord Jesus," with the descant, "O Joyous Easter Morning" and "Christ the Lord is Arisen Today."

Frances Burnham will read "The Christies." This is the story of a Belgian soldier who during the World War took the place of a German soldier who was to be nailed to the door of a German cathedral. As a method of discipline, troops were forced to march in front of the "Christies" on Good Friday. So vivid was the likeness of this Belgian soldier to the pictures of Christ that the troops had seen, that they rebelled against their leaders.

Women students are urged to attend this meeting.

All debaters interested in trying out for the four man squad which will compete at the Iowa State college legislative assembly on April 23 and 24 are requested by Prof. H. A. White, debate coach, to hand in their names at his office not later than April 5.

With the exception of those who made the trips to Chicago and St. Louis, all men in the university, above freshman standing, are eligible to compete for this trip under regular eligibility rules.

No definite debate question is at this time to be set forth but all subject matter is relative to the sales tax for Iowa, and will be found on reserve in the university library. Professor White stated that the four men selected to attend the Iowa assembly, which will have in attendance representatives from more than 20 colleges, travel as guests of the university with all expenses paid.

TRI-K CLUB SPONSORS ANNUAL CROP JUDGING

Ag Group to Hold Contest
Saturday, April 17.
Says Bauder.

The annual Crops Judging and Identification contest sponsored by the Tri-K club, will be held on the ag campus Saturday, April 17. According to Darrell Bauder, president of the club, features of the competition will include judging of cereal and forage crops and identification of common weeds and crops.

In charge of arrangements for the contest will be the Nebraska Crops Judging team, winners of the Intercollegiate Crops Judging competition in Chicago last fall. Frank Svoboda is chairman, assisted by Ralph Bruse, Ward Henderson, and Dale Smith.

Ag Students Eligible.

All ag college students are eligible to participate in the contest. Following are the rules:

Members and alternates of agronomy judging teams and the highest ranking individual in each of the previous contests are not eligible for competition.

PALLADIANS INITIATE 13

Literary Society Welcomes New Members Friday.

Thirteen members were initiated into the Palladian Literary society at their meeting last Friday night. Following the ceremony, a short business meeting was held. It was announced that election of officers would be held at the Monday night meeting.

The initiates are: John Stuart, Don Rice, Faith Medlar, Robert McDermott, Orlyn McCartney, Paul Linstedt, Gertrude Leavitt, Wyona Keim, Ruth Green, Evelyn Carlson, Elinor Ackerman, Beatrice Ekblad, and Elaine Holcomb. A recent pledge of the society is Joy Pestal.

RED TAPE DELAYS IMMEDIATE WORK ON UNION BUILDING

Slowness in Plan Approval Retards Construction, Says Seaton.

"Red tape" is the factor to which Operating Supt. R. L. Seaton attributes the current delay in construction work on the Student Union building.

Because of the failure of Public Works administration officials in Omaha to approve the building plans more promptly, Superintendent Seaton and Architect Walter F. Wilson, agreed that the building cannot be ready for occupation before January, 1938.

Blueprints Satisfactory.

At the time the grant was approved by the government, Seaton estimated that the structure would be completed by the opening of the fall semester this year.

"The blueprints are all satisfactory," Seaton remarked. "It is merely the usual 'red tape' which is always connected with government projects that is holding up the work."

Wilson estimated that the delay would last about a month. He is expecting to receive the approved plans by the end of this week, at which time he will begin advertising for bids. An additional three weeks was the time he approximated to be necessary for the letting of the construction contracts.

To Lay Foundation.

No work has been done on the plot since the excavation work was taken early in January, when the seven buildings occupying the northeast corner of 14th and R sts. were razed.

Last Wednesday a sub-committee of the Student Council submitted its proposed constitution of the union building to the council for approval. Altho at that time it received a satisfactory test vote, it cannot be formally approved until another ballot is taken at the next meeting of the council.

Make Midwest Tour.

Making a two week tour of the middle west, Neill and Cross will have debated in Chicago, Madison Wis., and Omaha. Following the debate here they will journey to Denver and Colorado Springs in Colorado, and will then turn back and hold their last debate in Kansas City.

Neill is a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences. He is a member of the St. Louis university honor forensic society and of Alpha Sigma Nu, Jesuit national honorary fraternity. Last year he was runner up in the extemporaneous speaking contest. Most of Neill's activities have been in the journalistic field. Last year he won the intercollegiate English contest and the Leo McCarthy literary medal at St. Louis. He is also holder of the Gilman Catholic medal.

Cross is student manager of the university radio station, WEW, where he is head announcer. He is a junior in the school of law and is an honor student. A member of the debating squad for four years, this is his second year in intercollegiate debates.
