

ENGINEERS' COLLEGE ENROLLMENT LIMITED

Only 300 Freshmen to be Admitted Beginning Next September.

Because of the limited classroom and laboratory facilities, more noticeable with the great increase in enrollment of recent years, Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering announced an administrative order establishing a maximum freshmen enrollment in the college of engineering of 300 beginning next September. The facilities available and the number of instructors make it impossible adequately to handle a larger number, according to the dean. Since sophomore engineers now have drawing classes as well as first year students, in definitely limited room space, officials concluded that the only way out was to restrict the size of the freshman class.

Freshmen desiring to enter the college of engineering will be selected according to their high school scholastic ratings. Students ranking in the upper three-fourths of their class will find no difficulty in entering. Applicants from the lowest quarter will be accepted within the established limit only as they present a promising outlook based upon the following considerations:

1. Adequacy of entrance requirements.
2. Results of classification tests in English and mathematics.
3. Results of psychological test.

Students who rank in the upper three-quarters of their high school class will be registered Sept. 14 and 15, while those in the lowest quartile will wait until Sept. 15.

This new ruling does not inhibit a student from enrolling in another college of the university for which he may be qualified. It does, however, restrict him from registering for any of the freshman engineering courses.

The dean said there are already registered between 30 and 40 students, including those who have been taking part time work and those who registered the second semester, who will be classed as freshmen next fall. This number will be a part of the total of 300.

trude Leavitt, who added that those who do not know how to play should not be excluded. They are invited to the practices whether they can play or not.

In connection with the tennis and golf Howard Hill has been secured to be in charge of the competitive flight tournaments.

Those who are interested in entering the tennis tournaments should turn in their names to the office of Professor Lantz in the Teachers college as soon as possible. Those who wish to play doubles should also turn in the name of the partner whom they wish to have. Those signing up should indicate whether they will participate in the men's singles, men's doubles, girls' singles, girls' doubles, or mixed doubles.

Those interested in golf should play individually and turn in their qualifying scores, preferably on the regular course blanks at the office of Mr. Lantz. Further announcements will be put on the bulletin boards, so that those interested may be informed of the progress made.

All university mixers, the first of which was held last Friday evening and which attracted about 600 students, will continue thruout the summer.

Next Tuesday evening, the group of students will enjoy a skating party at Capitol Beach. Wednesday evening, the girls will hold another musicale.

Many other parties are being planned, and sports are included, as the directors realize that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." In addition to the parties and sports, both boys and girls enjoy swimming in the coliseum pool.

Curricula Research Authority Visits Here

J. A. Randall, noted authority on school curricula, now in charge of research on curriculum for the NYA, headquarters at Washington, D. C., visited Dr. A. A. Reed's office in the extension division of the university recently. Randall, who for many years was president of the Rochester Mechanics institute, was interested in studying the university's extension division's high school and elementary adult courses from the guidance angle.
