NEWS PARADE

by Marjorie Churchill

Anti-New Deal Bull Session
 A free-for-all anti-new deal convention, a bull session of all those who seek to side track the administration's march toward dictatorship—such is the latest maneuver of new deal opponents of the conservative East.

The conference as suggested by former Senator Edge of New Jersey, will supplant the proposed republican convention tentatively scheduled for next spring. Disgruntled democrats, dissatisfied representatives of labor, industry, agriculture, the American Legion, and "practically all permanent phases of American life" are to be in the huddle.

Anti-new deal forces are assuming definite proportions, and organized effectual campaign opposition may be expected in the 1938 elections.

Franco Tightens Grip
 Franco's army forges another link in the fast increasing chain of control which he is gaining over Spain. Surrender of Gijon marks the fall of the last government stronghold on the north-western coast.

Triumph of fascism seems probable. Nearly two-thirds of Spain is now under control of nationalist forces. Franco names a new national council modeled after Italy's fascist grand council to help him govern. Italian troops, though they are removed now, have rendered the nationalist leader a big service, and much may be accomplished before the slow moving process of removing the troops can be put through.

Britain Definitely in Spanish Picture

A minor crisis in Spanish waters is averted when Spanish nationalists release the British steamship Stangrove, captured as it was leaving Gijon with nearly 600 refugees aboard. Release of the captured vessel followed upon demand of the cruiser Southampton, which steamed to its aid.

Meanwhile, removal of foreign troops from Spain is proceeding at as fast a rate as British officials can push it through. Plans for the international commission on removal will be submitted to the Spanish neutrality subcommittee Friday. Satisfaction at Italy's sudden change of policy is expressed, but at the same time Britain is keeping a wary eye on the Mediterranean, and will watch for any side tracking from the straight and narrow path which Italy professes to be following.

Singing Track Star Preaches at Own Parish; Will Get A. B.

 "I went into the ministry because I like to work with people and I see the greatest opportunity to do good among people through the ministry. I'm very interested in human nature," declared the dark haired, brown eyed youth.

Roland's parish is the Immanuel church which is primarily a young people's religious group. He finds conducting worship services with a large group of young people in the audience very interesting. His main objective is to reach young people's lives, for the future life in young people.

National Chaplain of Fraternity.
 In Phi Tau Theta, Methodist fraternity, Roland is national chaplain, and also chaplain of the Beta chapter in Lincoln. The Phi section of the United States. To witness his demonstration-lecture has been compared to a trip thru a million dollar laboratory, and advance interest in his appearance on the campus indicates that a large crowd will be present at the convocation tonight.

OFFICIALS CHANGE LEAVING TIME OF MIZZOU SPECIAL

 tioned steel coach has been provided which will go thru Kansas City without change. The coach car holds 65 passengers and a second car is being held by train officials in the event of a last-minute rush.

Reservations Still Taken.
 The Missouri Pacific line will, as previously announced and arranged, serve the 33c breakfasts to the students and the round trip fare of $10.05 stands, Warner said.

Reservations for the student special train can still be made today at the office of John K. Seleck, director of student activities, in the coliseum until five o'clock. The rate of $10.05 is special to students and identification cards must be presented along with the ticket money in order to secure a receipt, redeemable at the train for the round trip ticket. If a student wishes to return to Lincoln at a different time from the returning special, arrangements will be made upon request.

uncomfortable words of the administration, not that they are not usually good advice, we remind "rowdiness is not enthusiasm."

In regard to the actual traveling from Lincoln to Columbia, a similar expedition on the west coast two years ago recalls the danger of driving, of student driving, of student driving without sufficient sleep, and of student driving under the handicap of inebriation. In 1935 several students were killed on the trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco. Altho the band will go to Missouri by bus, and approximately 50 students will go by train, the majority of those following the team will go in cars. We sermonize only in the hope that all traveling by the latter method return intact.

Student Government Stinks

The lack of organization of the Missouri migration nets the Student Council committee on the job the proverbial onion corsage. The committee after its appointment adopted in toto the "leave it to the president" attitude. The band was not contacted until too late for a number of the members to evade the ineligibility knife. The arrangements for the student special were carelessly and belatedly attended to.

The publicity was so sloppily handled that students had few details on the number going and the cheapest way to get there. Consequently, the migration scarcely deserves the name, because so few are going by train and because so few are going. The Nebraskan does not feel that a student migration is sufficiently important to ruffle any fur in itself. But since the work on this project is so typical of the activity of council committees, we take the occasion to point out the inefficiency of student government.

Such a reminder is perhaps futile in view of the traditional outlook on the part of politicians: It does no good to talk about the work to be done by student representatives before an election because everybody is working on the election; it does no good to rant about the work to be done after the election because nobody cares.

Other appointed and inactive council committees at the present time are those on the student book store and forums.

Sober Driving Is Smart

The student migration to Missouri this week end for the football game suggests a few remarks on two of its phases. The first concerns the somewhat grandmotherish topic of the department of students making the trip.

At best a student football migration is a bastard offspring of an educational institution. It is true that football serves as an understanding link between a university and one portion of the tax supporting public. But it is also true that a large part of the public looks askance at the emphasis on football. The university patrons who are inclined to think college is pretty much a joke, because all the students do is play, must be especially remembered by the some 300 students who trek to Columbia over Saturday and Sunday. If we must echo the somewhat

KOSMET NAMES WINNING SKITS IN FALL REVIEW

 Alpha Sigma Phi, "Down on the Farm."
 Beta Sigma Psi, "Accordion Charlie."
 Sigma Alpha Mu, "Grunts and Groans."

In announcing the Klub's selections, Winfield "Doc" Elias, president of the group, stated, "This year the judges have given no factors preference over merit. Altho decisions were rather close in some cases, we honestly feel that those acts given final approval represent the cream of the large number of groups entering the competition, and that they will make this year's show far superior to the one presented last fall."

Fewer acts have been chosen this year than last in order that the revue may be insured against running too long and thus inconveniencing those planning to attend the Homecoming Nebraska-Kansas football game in the afternoon. All skits selected will be contacted by the Klub sometime before next Tuesday to check on the complete list of properties to be required for each act, the final personnel, and to make sure of the eligibility of every participant.

Elias explained that every act will be expected to continue regular rehearsals and perfect itself in every way possible up until the time of the show. If any act fails to show proper progress, it may be

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy and little change in temperature was predicted for last night and today. Yesterday the lowest temperature was 37 degrees at 7 a. m. Thirty-five degrees was forecast as "the lowest this morning."

ENGINEERS HEAR PHILIPS THOMAS LECTURE TONIGHT

 of this kind will lift a 20 pound steel bar.

An electrostatic air filter will be demonstrated, showing how particles suspended in the air may be electrically charged and made to cling to magnetized plates. Air thus cleared is almost 100 percent pure, even cigaret smoke being dissipated. In a demonstration of the transmission line vibration, it will be shown how thru the solution of an obtuse mechanical problem, protection has been given power lines against breakage during storms.

Applied Engineering.
 Several other demonstrations will be presented by Dr. Thomas all fitting into his lecture to show how modern engineering puts to practical use for mankind's benefit some of the important discoveries made thru research activities. He is said to make thoroly comprehensible to the layman the outlook of the modern engineer, while at the same time demonstrating the important progress made in a wide range of technical field.

Dr. Thomas will travel more than 100,000 miles with his exhibit this year as he has been scheduled for appearances in almost every
